Latest scam involves perpetrators posing as representatives of Sheriff's Office

The Dutchess County Sheriff's Office would like to take this opportunity to warn the residents of Dutchess County and surrounding areas about scams that once again seem to be on the rise.

Scams are ways in which criminals will attempt to get money from people by contacting them and making up elaborate stories. In some cases the perpetrators have tried, sometimes successfully, to use the victim's emotions about a loved one in trouble to get money. It's common for the perpetrators of these scams to try to get money by telling people that one of their relatives has been seriously hurt or is in jail, and that they need money right away. In many cases they will pose as a law enforcement official or another relative to try and convince the victim that it's legitimate.

The latest scam involves the perpetrators posing as representatives of the Dutchess County Sheriff's Office. To make the scam seem legitimate the perpetrators somehow duplicate the Sheriff's Office main number of 845-486-3800, and then identify themselves as "Sgt. Diaz" or another Sergeant before asking suspicious questions. These calls are scams designed to elicit money or information from the victim, and if you receive one please hang up immediately and call the Sheriff's Office to report it. This type of scam using duplicated phone numbers is known as a form of "spoofing."

The Sheriff's Office would like to offer the following tips to help people avoid these scams:

- Legitimate law enforcement would not attempt to satisfy a warrant or make promises to avoid prosecution by soliciting money.
- If you receive an email about an order you didn't place or asking you to send money call the company using a legitimate number. DO NOT follow the instructions in the email, click on any links in the email, or call the number provided in the email.
- If someone asks you to purchase merchandise, transfer money, provide bank information, or enter a code given to you by them use caution as it is likely a scam.
- Do not meet up with someone that you don't know; if you're asked to do this it is surely a scam, and it is very dangerous as well.
- If you're contacted by someone you don't know asking for money, for any reason, that's a signal that it's most likely a scam.
- If someone calls you and tells you that a relative has been hurt or is in jail, confirm it first before sending any money. Call other relatives or a legitimate law enforcement agency for confirmation before any money is sent. If they're posing as a relative, try and contact that relative for confirmation.
- Sending money overseas is especially risky; use extreme caution.
- Ask the person for their call back

"As a community band, our main purpose is to serve the community. We have openings in all instrumentation. We especially need lower brass instruments and in woodwinds, we need saxophones. In percussion, we need a full drum line," said Vincent "Vinny" Richards, who is the bandmaster.

Althea Richards, Vinny's wife, is also part of the band.

"There are 30 musicians in the band," stated Althea.

According to Althea and Vinny, eligible musicians range from age 14 through adulthood.

"Keep up your musical skills, enhance some skills you may have lost over the years, improve your sight-reading ability; enjoy the camaraderie of being with other musicians," Vinny remarked.

Adam Wiley is one of the musicians in the band.

"I joined the band back when I was in high school [around 2015]," said Wiley via email. Wiley plays the flute.

The Friends of Carnwath is holding its first 2023 meeting on Jan. 28 at 10 a.m. in the Administration Building at Carnwath Farms, which is off of Wheeler Hill Road in Wappinger.

So, who may join the group?

"Anyone interested in Carnwath and wanting to help the community should join," replied Todd Bowen, secretary for the Friends of Carnwath. Donna Lenhart is the president of the committee.

Asked what the goals of the committee are, Bowen responded, the following:

- To become an official 501c3 non-profit organization
  - To actively engage with the Wappinger Town Board as it determines the next steps for infrastructure and capital improvements. This will help inform any future aesthetic and/or repairs the organization may undertake
  - To create a new website
  - To grow the organization through community outreach and new, active members
  - To schedule work days where volunteers do cleanup of the buildings and grounds
- "Carnwath Farms Historic Site & Park is truly the gem of Wappinger. With 99.7 acres, the potential for this park is tremendous and through the creation of public-private partnerships (in addition to Wappinger Town Supervisor Richard Thurston stated, "It never was perfected as a 501c3 organization. The current revival group will do this task."

Thurston explained, "Just before the COVID outbreak I asked several folks to create a new group... My goals and objectives are to: (a) have the group dig into the earlier master plan and to see what is doable today; (b) to put together a group of volunteers; (c) do fund raising beyond what the Town Board should do or is allowed to do by law (similar to our Veterans Advisory Group and the Senior Club); (d) work closely with our Recreation Department and work closely with our Building and Grounds Department on repair and maintenance and new construction; and (e) advise the Town Board on the above and number of other matters."

The Wappinger Town Board "will be considering a number of initiatives this year related to Carnwath including: repair and maintenance of several facilities; the Kolb's Community Garden; recreation activities; working on the new senior center under Dutchess County Grant Funding; etc.," according to the supervisor.

"I am very excited with much positive anticipation of revitalizing a master plan for Carnwath by the Friends of Carnwath involving the continued grounds for our residents to visit throughout 2023," remarked Thurston.

To join the committee, Bowen said one should attend the upcoming meeting or contact himself or Lenhart.

For more information, email Donna Lenhart at dllenhart@verizon.net or Todd Bowen at tcbow14@gmail.com.

number and ask to speak to their supervisor to confirm the info; if it's a scam they will most likely hang up at this point and the number they give you will be bogus.

If the person is telling you that a loved one is in the hospital or jail, find out which one and contact the institution yourself to confirm.

If a loved one has recently passed away be wary; in some cases perpetrators have even preyed on victims by searching through the obituaries and calling surviving loved ones. If you get calls from people you don't know soon after someone passes away, be careful and confirm it before you send any money.

In some cases someone will call and tell the victim that they've won money, but to "process the claim" they need to first send money. Beware this is most definitely a scam and don't send any money - you should never have to pay money to claim a prize. If it seems too good to be true, it most likely is.

If there's any doubt about a phone call or email one has received contact the Sheriff's Office before sending any money.

Scams tend to increase during the holiday season, be especially alert for them during those times.

It is very important to not send any money to anyone that you don't know until you've confirmed the situation through an independent source and feel comfortable with it. If it's a scam once the money is sent it's very difficult, and most times impossible, to get it back. If anyone thinks they may have been the victim of a scam they are encouraged to contact the Sheriff's Office at 845-486-3800 or via the tipline at 845-605-CLUE or dcstips@gmail.com.

Putnam County, according to Althea. She also said band members perform during Flag Day ceremonies.

According to Althea, band members play Broadway selections, military marches, patriotic pieces, such as "God Bless America" and "God Bless the U.S.A."

"The music we use depends on the event or ceremony that we play," explained Althea.

As for why one should join the Hudson Valley Council BSA Community Band, Wiley said, "This band is a great way for high school students to play fun music and improve their skills. It is also a great environment for adults to play music again even if it has been many years since they last picked up the instrument."

Legislators propose 10% exemption on property taxes for EMS, fire personnel

Joined by members of the Dutchess County Legislature at the Roosevelt Fire Station #3 in Hyde Park Jan. 18, Chairman Gregg Pulver announced the introduction of a local law that would allow for a 10 percent county property tax exemption for volunteer firefighter and volunteer ambulance service members.

The proposed local law will be on the agenda for the February Board Meeting where it will be voted on before going to the County Executive's desk for consideration.

"It's an honor to serve as a volunteer firefighter, and I am confident that my fellow members feel the same pride and passion that I do," said Pulver. "There aren't enough ways to fully thank these brave men and women for the services they provide their municipalities, but it is my hope that this measure will help show how incredibly grateful we are for their service and work and serves as a reminder that they will always have our support and backing. I thank my colleagues for joining me in support of this measure and look forward to voting on this during our February Board Meeting."

"It's an honor to be a sponsor of this Resolution that provides us with a small way to say 'thank you' and offer our full appreciation to the men and women who volunteer their time as either a firefighter or ambulance service member in Dutchess County," said Majority Leader Will Truitt (Hyde Park, Town of Poughkeepsie). "Our volunteer members are selfless leaders within our community, and the service they provide is immeasurable. It is my hope that this exemption will help incentivize other individuals to answer the call to serve and protect their communities."

The local law would offer a ten percent county property tax exemption to volunteer members who have actively served for a minimum of three years and would be offered for each year of service thereafter. Members must reside in the city, town, or village that the incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department, or voluntary ambulance service is located. Individuals who actively served for a total of twenty years would be offered this exemption for the remainder of his or her life as long as their primary residence remains within Dutchess County. The application process would be coordinated by the local municipalities assessor's offices. This proposed legislation comes after New York State recently signed into law a bill that allows all local governments with the option to provide a property tax exemption to the aforementioned groups mentioned above.

Legislature, the proposed local law was laid at the Legislator's Desks at the Board Meeting on Tuesday, January 17, 2023. It will now go to a committee vote before being heard at the full board meeting on Tuesday, February 14, 2023. This measure would go into effect for the 2025 tax rolls.

Legislature approves resolution to renew County tax rate despite Democratic opposition

During its January Board Meeting, the Dutchess County Legislature approved a Resolution to renew the Dutchess County Sales Tax at its current rate of 3.75 percent.

The resolution is a necessary measure required to be passed every two years by the County Legislature before being approved by the State Legislature. This annual tax rate is predicted to generate $250 million for Dutchess County, which is used to provide programs and services residents rely on. Dutchess County also shares over 17 percent of sales tax collected with the City of Poughkeepsie, the City of Beacon and all Towns and Villages.

The Resolution was passed with unanimous Republican support and no Democratic votes.

The 3.75 percent figure is only the County portion of Sales Tax. The total sales percentage, which includes County and State Sales Tax, and the MTA tax is 8.125 percent.

During the Board meeting, an amendment was made by the Democratic Caucus to modify the tax rate to 3.625 percent - despite the 3.75 percent being approved with bipartisan, unanimous support during Committee Meetings the week prior.

"While I agree with my Democratic Colleagues about the need to provide meaningful relief to the residents of Dutchess County, I do not agree with a rushed sales tax deduction that would leave $7 million -$10 million unaccounted for," said Legislature Chairman Gregg Pulver. "The Dutchess County Legislature has a proven history of reducing taxes and working on behalf of the tax-payers - just last year we eliminated county sales taxes for clothing and footwear purchases under $110. We have offered property tax cuts year after year which notably the Democratic Caucus continues to vote against. We will continue to work tirelessly on behalf of Dutchess County residents so they can thrive. I also don't think this is a good time to take important funding away from the City of Poughkeepsie, City of Beacon and municipalities who also have increased costs for the services they are providing."

Minority Leader Yvette Valdés Smith said, "Our Democratic Caucus put forth an amendment to lower our sales tax rate and we did this after careful examination and research as to how best we could help Dutchess County residents and businesses. Sales tax receipts have outpaced estimates by tens of millions of dollars over the past decade, money that the Republicans have squirreled away and then doled out for pet projects like the $25M for luxury improvements at the baseball stadium (Dutchess Stadium)."

She added, "Consumers are paying 8.125 percent in Dutchess. They pay 8 percent in Ulster and Columbia. Struggling families and seniors need this money now. We need and deserve relief. Our amendment to lower sales tax would have put more money in the pockets of county residents and small businesses. We collected $45M more than expected in 2021 alone. We can absolutely cut sales tax by 1/8 percent to help our residents. This decrease in sales tax would have brought much needed relief at a time when everything Representatives of the Republican caucus said Democratic legislators misrepresented regional sales tax rates as they tried compare Dutchess County's sales tax rate with neighboring Counties of Ulster and Columbia, noting each of those counties have a lower total sales tax rate of 8 percent. They noted that Dutchess County's total sales tax rate includes the New York State mandated MTA sales tax rate of 0.375 percent, which neither Ulster nor Columbia is required to collect. They further noted that the county portion of Dutchess County's sales tax is actually lower at 3.75 percent compared to Ulster and Columbia, County, both of which have a 4 percent County sales tax rate, 0.25 percent higher than Dutchess.

Closeness of two brothers half a world away recalled 140 years later

DCHS Collections

Introduction by Bill Jeffway

Brothers Alfred Brown (1823-1897) and Alonzo Brown (1835-1908) were likely born as Free Blacks in the Quaker stronghold south of today's Millbrook. Both seem to have found work in Poughkeepsie as young men or teenagers. While Alonzo spent the rest of his life in Poughkeepsie, around the late 1840s Alfred took the extraordinary step of moving to Australia. The half-century they shared into old age was filled with affection, and most importantly for us, filled with letters. Some of those letters, as well as photographs, have been carefully curated for many years by Alfred's great-granddaughter, Jan Green, of New Zealand.

We are pleased to share here an excerpt of a narrative recently written by Green that takes the 1884 letter her great-grandfather Alfred received from an Australian-based friend of his named J.M. Wolcott, describing his visit to Alfred's brother Alonzo in Poughkeepsie. The narrative beautifully captures the scene from the foot of Main Street up to what is today the small side street of Crannell Street near Catherine Street where Alonzo was a highly successful tinsmith.

In 2015, Green left research materials in DCHS's research library, which she recently updated. In support of her ongoing effort to continue to locate descendants and information related to the two brothers, or their parents Henry Brown (1788-ca. 1850s) and Judith Talmon (1794-1790), you will find Green's full "Letter to a Friend" and updated family sheets at www.dchsny.org/brown.

Letter to a Friend by Jan Green

Wednesday 16th July 1884

J.M. Wolcott is the name I am known by, but I prefer to be called Jesse. After two weeks, give or take, I boarded a day boat [in Albany] for Poughkeepsie. In recent years the old boats had been replaced with two iron hull ships, the New York, and the Albany. They were about three hundred feet long and could hold several thousand passengers. As I planned to be away for just one night, I had packed my carpet bag. Disembarking at the Main Street Landing it was evident that this was the only landing now operating with the railroad increasingly taking over passenger transport. The docks were a far cry from their glory day when the Upper Landing in North Water Street shared its space with the whaling dock. Alfred and brother George worked on the whaling ship Mogul in the 1840s and it was here that the two whaling companies operating would butcher and process their catch.

I took a tram car and road passed the Exchange Hotel which had seen better days. Built fifty years ago, she was once an impressive establishment that offered visitors to Poughkeepsie quality accommodation. By 1850, proprietor John Grant was known for his innovation in producing ale by using a steam engine and operating an icehouse.

The tramcar made its way up Main Street, now in the 1880s lined with fine buildings and bustling industry.

I held the trade card in my hand that I had carried with me from Australia as I pulled up at my destination on the corner of Eighth Street and Main Road. As I disembarked with my carpet bag I looked up and the man inside, working in the front window of his premises, was watching me. I had, at last, arrived at the business of H. A. Brown. Alonzo, as he was called, was the younger brother by twelve years of my friend Alfred. It had been over thirty years since he had seen his brother but uncannily, Alonzo said that he was thinking of Alfred when the tram car pulled up. Alonzo lived at 4 Eighth Street, a couple of doors away from his workplace with his wife Julia and nineteen-year-old daughter Ella.

Jesse Wolcott (above left) was a friend and neighbor of Alfred Brown (center) in Australia. In 1884, Wolcott left Australia for a trip to New York which included a visit to Alfred's brother, Alonzo, in Poughkeepsie. A letter from Wolcott to Alfred is the basis for the first-person narrative dramatization of the visit published here, written by Alfred's great-granddaughter, Jan Green.

The next day Alonzo and I went up College Hill to see where Alfred used to work. The Collegiate School, opened in 1836, with its Parthenon colonnade was now empty. The grounds and the view were beautiful and with no plans for the building there is talk that the area will become a park within the next few years.

From there we travelled a short distance to 92 Catharine Street where Mrs. Brown lived with her daughter Sarah. Judith Brown, Alfred's mother, was eighty-eight years of age, Sarah almost seventy. Visiting them was a granddaughter Mary Elizabeth, the only daughter of George and Jane Brown who lived in Brooklyn. I was able to talk to them about life in Australia and tell them about their son, brother and uncle, his life and his family. Mary Elizabeth, a lovely young woman, was very interested in life in Ballarat and expressed her desire to meet her uncle and his family one day. I had to impress on them how unlikely that would be, Alfred was no longer a young man and the journey from Australia to America was long and costly. It was with sadness that they realized that Alfred's home is in Australia and that is where he will stay.

After bidding a fond farewell, Alonzo took me to the Soldiers War Memorial Fountain that had been unveiled on 4th July 1870 to honor the local veterans of the Civil War, which Alonzo had served in. Instigated by Dr H Eastman, mayor and well-respected businessman, who had donated seventy thousand dollars towards the memorial. Following his death in 1878 the twenty-seven-acre property was left to his wife Mary. We then walked through Widow Eastman's gardens, adjacent to the Memorial Fountain in Montgomery Street.

That evening Ella played the piano for her father and me. Alonzo's home had several pieces of Australian memorabilia that Alfred had sent him over the years, all displayed in pride of place. These included postcards and photos of Australia, an enlarged photo of Alfred's daughter Mary Ann hung above the mantel piece and even a photo of the Victorian Assembly was framed. Alonzo shared the latest letter he had received from Alfred, which was sent to him after I had left Melbourne. He told me he would write to Alfred within the next few days. I also planned to correspond, we thought that our letters may go by the same mail. With that I took my leave, calling into Schuyler Line offices on Broadway to check for mail from Australia and returned to Waterford, Saratoga. On 23rd July I wrote to my friend Alfred and gave him the news of my visit...

So for example a 2-square cage contains the numbers 1 and 2; and a 5-square cage contains the numbers from 1 to 5. Mount Saint Mary College has received a grant for $325,000 from the Mother Cabrini Health Foundation, to be used for the growth of the Desmond Center for Community Engagement and Wellness.

The Desmond Center, overseen by Executive Director Genesis Ramos, provides wellness and educational services for underserved individuals and families. The center offers accessible and equitable educational, health, and wellness services for community members and families in the local area. All services are free of cost and open to the community.

This is the third grant that the Mother Cabrini Health Foundation has provided for the Desmond Center.

The Desmond Center will begin operating out of its new home in Guzman Hall in the Spring 2023 semester. The revitalized Guzman Hall on campus includes new offices and community spaces, perfect for the center's public events.

"The Mother Cabrini Health

Foundation continues to be a massive boon for the Desmond Center for Community Engagement and Wellness," said Dr. Jason N. Adsit, president of Mount Saint Mary College. "We can't thank the foundation enough for its aid and for believing in our vision of service. In the last year, we have seen the Desmond Center establish itself as a resource in our community. That relationship will only grow from here, thanks in great part to the Cabrini Foundation."

The Mother Cabrini Health Foundation is a private, nonprofit organization whose mission is to improve the health and well-being of New Yorkers, bolster the health outcomes of vulnerable communities, eliminate barriers to care, and bridge gaps in health services. Named after a tireless advocate for immigrants, children, and the poor, the Mother Cabrini Health Foundation funds programs and initiatives across New York State that either provide direct healthcare services or address the social determinants of health. For more information, visit <https://www.cabrinihealth.org/>

"As we look back at the compounding crises of the last few years, the health-related needs of vulnerable communities have only grown," said Alfred F. Kelly, Jr., Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Visa and Chair of the Mother Cabrini Health Foundation Board. "Our grantees have demonstrated tremendous resilience, creativity, and dedication to serving those in need, especially as the COVID-19 pandemic continues to have such detrimental impact."

Msgr. Gregory Mustaciuolo, Chief

Executive Officer of the Mother Cabrini Health Foundation, added, "As we begin to recover from a pandemic that has hit vulnerable populations the hardest, we must continue to address the challenges communities across New York State are facing: food and housing insecurity; lack of access to basic healthcare including vaccines; workforce issues; and educational, racial, economic, and health disparities made worse during COVID-19. We must continue to support the full range of services that make for healthy people and communities."

FKC&S attorneys – new year, new moniker, same initials

Prominent Hudson Valley, NY law firm, Feldman, Kleidman, Collins & Sappe LLP (FKC&S) revealed its new name this month, reflecting the leadership of Partner Kathryn C. Collins and underscoring her many contributions. Formerly known as Feldman, Kleidman, Coffey & Sappe LLP, the Fishkill-based law firm will retain its abbreviated form, FKC&S, through this exciting transition. Founded by Jeffrey M. Feldman and Paul S. Kleidman, the firm’s award-winning team of attorneys have successfully tried cases at all levels of state and federal courts for more than 36 years. Specializing in personal injury law and professional liability defense, FKC&S is the only litigation firm between Albany and Westchester to be designated as a “Best Law Firm” by U.S. News & World Report since its First Edition in 2010.

“I am speechless, which truly never happens,” said Collins, who comes from a long line of lawyers. “To have my partners surprise me with this incredible honor, I am just overwhelmed with gratitude that they want to include me in the name of the firm that they have created and grown.”

Born and raised in the Hudson Valley, Collins joined FKC&S in 2015 and became the first woman named as a partner at the firm in 2019. Previously, she spent years as a partner at two well-respected law firms in New York City. Seasoned in the areas of medical malpractice litigation, professional liability litigation and general liability litigation, Collins has provided counsel for physicians, dentists, podiatrists, mental health providers, hospitals, nursing homes and fellow attorneys throughout her career. Earlier this year, she received an AV Preeminent® Peer Rated Attorney designation through Martindale-Hubbell, the most reliable and sought-after peer rating standard in the legal industry for more than 130 years.

Collins graduated cum laude from the State University of New York at Purchase with a BA in English and received a Juris Doctorate from Brooklyn Law School in 2001. She is admitted to practice in the State of New York, the U.S. District Court, Southern, Northern and Eastern District of New York, the U.S. Court of Appeals, Second Circuit and the United States Supreme Court. A member of the New York State Bar Association, New York Medical Defense Bar Association and American Bar Association, Collins has lectured at medical and insurance conferences, as well as at metropolitan medical facilities, about medical malpractice and risk management topics. For several weeks this fall, she shared her time and expertise as an educator through The New York State Judicial Institute, guiding New York State jurists who had little to no experience in presiding over a civil jury trial.

“Aside from being uniquely talented as a lawyer, Kathryn has a great sense of humor, friendly down-to-earth personality and a strong dedication to family,” said Robert R. Sappe, partner at FKC&S. “She is well respected by everyone, including friends, family, colleagues – even her adversaries – in the legal community, the local community and the judiciary.”

Collins resides in East Fishkill with her husband, Jim, their three children and their rescue dog, Pongo. Outside of work, she is vocal on women’s issues, active in her school district and a strong supporter of animal adoptions. She serves on the Hudson Valley Hospice Foundation Board of Trustees and has been an active supporter of the organization since before joining the FKC&S team.

Reiko I. Lemon

BEACON - Reiko I. Lemon, a longtime resident of Beacon, passed away on January 16, 2022, after a two-month illness. She was 70 years old. Reiko was born on May 7, 1952, in Niigata, Japan. She was the daughter of rice farmers, Toyoji and Toi Ikarashi, and grew up living in a thatched-roof house. After graduating in 1971 from Niigata Central High School, where she made many life-long friends, Reiko moved to Tokyo and worked for the Japan Travel Bureau. She then worked as a clerk for Okura & Co., one of Japan's oldest trading houses. While studying English at night school in 1972, she met her future husband, David T. Lemon of Omaha, Nebraska. After their marriage in June 1976, she came to America and taught herself English (mostly by watching children's TV shows and daytime soap operas). Reiko was a working mother, commuting to New York City where she was employed by Nippon Credit Bank beginning in the late 1980s. After that firm closed in the mid-1990s, she enrolled in community college and graduated with honors in accounting from SUNY Orange. She then worked for Tallix in Beacon. She became a proud U.S. citizen in 2001. Through it all, she raised three sons, Andrew, Christopher, and William. Reiko took great pride in her sons and their achievements (college professor, Naval aviator, and Assistant District Attorney), all of which are to her credit and her loving, no-nonsense parenting style. Reiko loved building her life and family in Beacon, where she resided for 43 years. She loved to make quilts and knit scarves, hats, and blankets for family and friends. She enjoyed cooking Japanese food and hosting friends and family from near and far in her home. She loved watching old movies and reading biographies of actors and actresses. She enjoyed hiking, biking, camping, sailing, traveling, gardening, music (especially Japanese enka) and, in later years, audio books on American history. She was an exemplar of determination and strength in the face of adversity. In ill health in recent years, she rarely complained and remained devoted to family and friends. In addition to her husband, Reiko is survived by her sons, Dr. Andrew Lemon of Beacon, NY; Commander Christopher Lemon of Stuttgart, Germany and his wife, Leah and their children, Henry and Mabel; and William Lemon, Esq. of Niskayuna, NY and his wife, Chelsea and their children, Lewis and Conor; her brother, Keiji Ikarashi; her sister, Yoshiko Tamura; her half-sister, Toshiko Tsuchida; and several nieces and nephews. ing to work with your lender during this process.

To locate an entity near you, you may call the toll-free helpline maintained by the New York State Banking Department of Financial Services at 1-800-342-3736 or visit the Department's website at www.dfs.ny.gov.

FORECLOSURE RESCUE SCAMS

Be careful of people who approach you with offers to "save" your home. There are individuals who watch for notices of foreclosure actions in order to unfairly profit from a homeowner's distress. You should be extremely careful about any such promises and any suggestions that you pay them a fee or sign over your deed. State law requires anyone offering such services for profit to enter into a contract which fully describes the services they will perform and fees they will charge, and which prohibits them from taking any money from you until they have completed all such promised services.

Marist Women's basketball game to honor breast cancer survivors

The Marist Women's Basketball team will play Canisius on Saturday, Feb. 11, at 7 p.m., in the McCann Arena with a half-time salute to the Miles of Hope Breast Cancer Foundation and local breast cancer survivors.

"This is our ninth Play4Kay game with the Marist Women's Basketball team, and each year brings joy and recognition to breast cancer survivors in our Hudson Valley," said Miles of Hope Executive Director, Pari Forood. "Some of the survivors who join us are in treatment and some are 25 years from their surgery and immediate recovery. We are honored that Marist has chosen our foundation to partner with to showcase these brave and strong women and men. We are also able to bring awareness to the prevalence of this disease to the general public and stress the importance of preventive services like annual mammograms."

Forood noted, "During the height of the pandemic, people were not receiving preventive services like mammograms. As a result, we are now seeing later stage cancer diagnoses which are more problematic to treat. Miles of Hope, helping people in treatment, their families, colleagues and neighbors, is needed now more than ever."

Breast cancer survivors wishing to join the halftime salute should contact Harrison Baker at Marist Athletics at harrison.baker@marist.edu. For more information, call 845-264-2005.

County Players will present "It's Only a Play" beginning Feb. 3 in Wappingers Falls.

County Players, one of the longest running community theatre companies in the area, is proud to present the Terrence McNally comedy, "It's Only a Play." Directed by Kit Colbourn, this Main Stage production opens Friday, February 3, and runs through February 18. Performances are scheduled for Fridays and Saturdays February 3, 4, 10, 11, 17 & 18 at 8pm, with matinees on Sunday, February 12, and Saturday February 18 at 2pm, and held at the County Players Falls Theatre, 2681 W. Main Street in the Village of Wappingers Falls.

The producers, the playwrights, the reviewers, and the stars. A Broadway opening night party in a stylish NYC apartment brings together a cacophony of characters, with an armload of wit, warmth, and winter coats! It's Only a Play is a laugh-out-loud love letter to the resilience of live theatre, and an homage to the people that — even when things seem impossible — believe that the marquee will be lit again, and the show must go on. The production features the local talents of Michael Frohnhoefer, Griffin Stenger, Emily Boone, Ann Citron, Paul Coleman, Matt Fields, Eric Feeney, & Euphemia Olive Sargiani.

Director Colbourn said, "This hilarious and loving sendup of the theatre and its people is a joy. Audiences will recognize many of the names dropped, and the foibles and delicate egos of all who work in this noble artform called 'the theatre.' It's also a testament to the resilience and passion of anyone who loves the theatre, on both sides of the footlights. A perfect midwinter opportunity to laugh."

Please note: This production contains adult language.

COVID-19 Policy Through March 31: Audience members are exempt from having to submit proof of vaccination and are not required to remain masked during a performance, however, masks are strongly encouraged. We ask that any patron who is feeling ill to please stay home and utilize our ticket exchange options.
