Judge issues ruling that upholds legal rationale for Danskammer denial

By Kristine Coulter

Earlier this month, New York State Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) Michael S. Caruso, who is presiding over the appeal issued by Danskammer Energy LLC, issued a ruling that upholds the legal rationale over the denial of the proposed new methane gas plant in Newburgh, Orange County. The state Department of Conservation (DEC) denied Danskammer a Title V air pollution permit in 2021.

Melissa Legge, Senior Associate Attorney at Earthjustice, which represents the Sierra Club and Orange RAPP in the proceeding, stated in a press release: "Judge Caruso's ruling rightly recognizes that DEC was acting within its authority when it denied the plant's permit and that approving Danskammer's plant would hinder progress toward meeting New York's climate goals at this critical moment. The judge recognized that the impacts to New York's disadvantaged communities from Danskammer's proposed gas plant must be considered. We will continue to fight this plant in court so that nearby communities that already bear a disproportionate burden of toxic pollution won't suffer significant dangerous air and climate pollution from an entirely unnecessary new gas plant."

Zenaida Tonkin, Project Administrator & Document Control Specialist for Danskammer Energy, LLC, stated via email, the company had no comment at this time.

Manna Jo Greene, Environmental Action Director, Hudson River Sloop Clearwater, stated in the release: "The Danskammer expansion would burn fossil fuel for years to come, in direct contradiction to the goals of New York's urgently needed Climate Act. A much better use of this site would be to install a battery storage facility to promote the change to a renewable energy economy and to ensure a just transition."

In June 2022, state court Judge Robert Onofry, found that the state's Climate Law authorized DEC to deny Danskammer's Title V Air Permit on the grounds that it interfered with attainment of the mandatory emissions reduction targets in the law, according to the release.

In his ruling, Caruso, wrote, in part, "I conclude as a matter of law that DEC has the authority to determine whether the grant of a federally delegated Title V permit will disproportionately burden disadvantaged communities..."

He further wrote: "On March 27, 2023, the CJWG finalized the criteria for identifying disadvantaged communities and published a list of disadvantaged communities along with preliminary maps. The parties must also address the CJWG's criteria and maps in support of their respective positions on this issue. This issue will advance to adjudication. I have considered the parties' and petitioners' remaining arguments related to the issues addressed above and conclude that those arguments are unpersuasive or have been rendered academic by this ruling."

The Sports Museum of Dutchess County, in the town of Wappinger at 72 Carnwath Lane, will open on April 29. There will be a ribbon-cutting ceremony at noon for the new Ralph Holt Learning Center located at the museum.

"The center will feature access to archives and newspaper articles, sports related games and access to educational databases," said William "Bill" Ponte, who is a president of the Sports Museum of Dutchess County Board.

"We are grateful that Dutchess County provided support for this endeavor through its Learn, Play, and Create grant. We believe that the center will be a unique resource for children and teens interested in local sports history," said Ponte.

Holt was a well-known resident in Wappinger. He died at the age of 93 in September 2022.

"Throughout his life of dedication to Wappinger's youth, Ralph Holt was a living treasure of our community. On Saturday April 29th, the Sports Museum of Dutchess County will honor Ralph by dedicating a learning center in his name

Renegades start successful 12-game road trip

By Rich Thomaselli

ROME, GA. — The Hudson Valley Renegades started a 12-game road trip this week. But being away from the cozy confines of Heritage Financial Park didn't seem to bother them. Hudson Valley won the first three games in Rome against the Braves before finally losing and then picked right back up again to take four of the first five games in the series.

Hudson Valley won 8-2, 8-4 and 10-4 before losing 8-0 on Friday night, and then won again on Saturday, 3-2

Juan Carela turned in his best start as a Renegade on Saturday. The right-hander threw 5.2 innings of no-hit ball, striking out eight and walking three before giving way to Carlos Gomez. In his last two starts, Carela has thrown 10.0 shutout innings while striking out 17 batters and yielding two hits.

In the top of the 10th inning, Hudson Valley's Spencer Jones lifted a sacrifice fly to centerfield off Tyler Owens (0-1) to put the Renegades in front 2-1. Alexander Vargas then tripled and scored on a Caleb Durbin RBI single to run the advantage to 3-1.

Nick Paciorek allowed the automatic runner to score in the bottom of the 10th, but retired all three batters he faced to close out the 3-2 victory and earn his first save of the season.

The Renegades, the high Class A Farm team of the New York Yankees, were scheduled to play twice more in Rome, and then move on to a six-game series in Greenville, S.C.

Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation celebrated the men and women who work in all weather conditions and at all times of the day and night to keep electricity flowing to power homes and businesses in the Hudson Valley and across the country as part of National Lineman Appreciation Day on April 18.

"A safe and reliable electric system is more important than ever, and maintaining that system depends upon the important work performed by our Power Line Technicians," said Ryan Hawthorne, Vice President of Electric Engineering and Operations at Central Hudson. "These men and women make critical contributions during storms, emergencies, and every day to maintain reliable service for our customers. We are equally proud of their personal dedication and professionalism and thank all lineworkers for their exemplary service, often working under hazardous conditions."

Lineworkers undergo extensive training to master a wide variety of skills necessary to safely perform their jobs. This includes the installation of modern, smart technologies that allow for the integration of clean energy, harden the electrical system, and reduce the duration of outages when they do occur.

"Our utility workers are on the front lines, maintaining vital energy services under all conditions," said Hawthorne. "These professionals continue to work tirelessly for our customers and communities. We owe them a debt of thanks and appreciation for all they do."

Judge issues ruling that upholds legal rationale for Danskammer denial

Caruso said the following issues will advance to adjudication.

- Whether there is an identified grid reliability need for the repowered Danskammer facility that provides justification for the grant of a Title V permit.

- If grid reliability need is identified, whether zero emissions solutions such as storage, transmission upgrades or construction, energy efficiency, demand response, or other zero-emission, dispatchable resources including renewable energy sources and RNG and green hydrogen fuels will solve that need.

- Whether the grant of a Title V permit will disproportionately burden disadvantaged communities.

A ruling of the ALJ to include or exclude any issue for adjudication, a ruling on the merits of any legal issue made as part of an issues ruling, or a ruling affecting party status may be appealed to the Commissioner on an expedited basis, it was stated. Any appeals must be received by May 5. Replies are authorized, and must be received before May 19.

"In early June 2023, I will contact the parties and inquire whether the parties wish to commence the adjudicatory hearing on the above identified issues. Depending on the response, I will schedule a Webex conference call with the parties and the presiding examiners in the article 10 proceeding to develop a joint hearing schedule," Caruso wrote.

Sports Museum to open new Ralph Holt Learning Center

and memory. What an outstanding way to continue to recognize Ralph's legacy. Hats off to Bill and Barb Ponte and the Sports Museum for dedicating this precious memorial," said Town of Wappinger Supervisor Richard Thurston.

Holt, who had five sons with his wife Sylvia, was a manager and served as president for the Town of Wappinger Little League and the girls' softball league. According to Southern Dutchess News archives information, the teams coached by Holt would go on to win a number of championships, including the All-Star team in the 1970s that he managed.

Holt, who was a U.S. Navy veteran, was the chairman for the Town of Wappinger Recreation Department.

Dutchess County Executive William F.X. O'Neil said, "Ralph Holt was a Town of Wappinger icon who meant so much to the local athletic community – not only in his beloved town, but throughout Dutchess County." The county executive noted, "I'm proud that a grant from Dutchess County's successful Learn, Play, Create: Supporting Our Kids program has helped make the Ralph Holt Research Center at the Sports Museum of Dutchess County a reality. May future generations of fans learn of our County's rich sports history at this new facility and, in the process, keep Ralph's legacy alive."

Joseph Cavaccini, who represents Wappinger in the Dutchess County Legislature, said, "Last year, we lost a pillar of our community. Ralph Holt dedicated five decades of his life to improving the lives of children through sports here in Wappinger and it is only fitting that this new center of learning is dedicated in his memory. I anticipate the center will carry on Ralph's call to service in life, to help our youth through sports and recreation."

In the learning center there are computers where children, teens and visitors can search for more information on local sports icons like Tyler Adams, a professional soccer player from Wappinger who was the U.S. men's national team captain in the 2022 FIFA World Cup, and Joe Panik, from East Fishkill, who played for Major League Baseball. He played for the San Francisco Giants, New York Mets, Toronto Blue Jays and Miami Marlins. He was an All-Star in 2015.

One can learn about Melio Bettina, a Beacon resident, who was the 1939 Light Heavyweight Champion of the World. His niece, Angela Bettina, is on the Wappinger Town Board.

There is a room highlighting bowlers and baseball players Austin Knickerbocker, Elmer Steele, Wes Westrum and Ricky Horton, said Ponte. The career of former ice skater, and Olympian, Debi Thomas is also showcased. Thomas was born in Poughkeepsie.

Cavaccini noted, "When we were introducing the 'Legends of Dutchess' exhibition at the museum, the mission was to identify those from our County who made it to the professional level and show our youth that legends are born in Dutchess. From baseball's first great slugger, Big Dan Brouthers, to soccer's newest phenomenon, Tyler Adams; the Museum tells the stories of these great individuals for the next generation to appreciate."

Ponte said admission is free, but donations are accepted. One can visit <https://www.sportsmuseumofdutchess-county.org> to find out how to donate and information on becoming a volunteer. The museum is open April – October on Saturdays and Sundays, from 1 – 4 p.m.

County to host 2 forums on Mental Health Services for children and adults

The Dutchess County Department of Community & Behavioral Health (DBCH) invites residents to the two upcoming public forums in May to discuss mental health services offered in Dutchess County for children and adults. These forums will both be held at 230 North Road in Poughkeepsie from 5:30 - 7:30 p.m. Registration is not required, and "walk-ins" are welcome.

Families, caregivers, and local stakeholders are encouraged to attend and share their input and experiences, as all feedback received at the forums will help shape the County's 2024 Local Services Plans.

The forums dates and topics are as scheduled:

- Mental Health Services for Children & Youth

Tuesday, May 2nd

- Mental Health Services for Adults

Tuesday, May 16th

DBCH's Deputy Commissioner Jean-Marie Niebuhr said, "Mental health is a very important topic which affects many of our residents, those either struggling with their own mental health or assisting a loved one who is. The forums are a great way to provide detailed information about available services as well as hear directly from participants on what is working and what may need improvement. We encourage the public to attend and let us know how we can better assist in their mental health journey as we continue our mission of keeping Dutchess County residents healthy and safe."

Each discussion will include 2022 highlights, proposed changes, guest speakers, information on resources available to local families and how they can access them. In addition, there will be a period for those attending to give input, ask questions regarding services, or have time to share their experiences.

For those unable to attend, DBCH welcomes written comments to be read aloud by the forum moderator. Individuals may submit comments online, fax comments to 845-486-2829, or mail to: DBCH Forum Comments, 230 North Rd, Poughkeepsie, NY 12601. Comments received after the forum will also be considered in the 2024 Service Plan.

In the Thursday 10-4 win over the Braves at AdventHealth Stadium, the Renegades were greatly helped by the freebies. 14 of them, in fact. The 14 walks drawn by the Renegades equaled the total from July 10, 2011, when the Lowell Spinners walked 14 'Gades in a game at LeLacheur Park. Three Hudson Valley batters – Grant Richardson, Marcos Cabrera and Luis Santos – walked three times each.

Hudson Valley struck first in the bottom of the first with a two-out rally against J.J. Niekro. Grant Richardson walked and scored when Anthony Garcia slammed a double off the wall in right. The next batter, Aaron Palensky, ripped a two-run home run down the left field line to put the Renegades in front 3-0.

Tyrone Yulie was terrific in his second start of 2023. The right-hander allowed only one run on two hits in six innings of work, walking two and striking out five. Yulie (1-0) didn't allow a hit until the fifth inning, and he became the first Hudson Valley starting pitcher to record a win this season.

The Renegades added three runs in the top of the sixth off Peyton Williams, highlighted by RBI singles from Richardson and Rafael Flores. That was part of another big game for Flores, who finished 4-for-6 with an RBI. Antonio Gomez drove a two-run single off Estarlin Rodriguez in the top of the seventh to extend the Renegades' lead to 8-1, and an additional tally came home when Richardson grounded into a double play later in the frame.

One night later, the hits and the walks were gone in the 8-0 loss.

The Braves got on the board first when Adam Zebrowski hit a two-run home run to center off Zach Messinger in the bottom of the fourth. They tacked on another in the fifth on back-to-back doubles from Kadon Morton and Brandon Parker to open up a 3-0 lead.

Rome struck again in the bottom of the sixth when Brandol Mezquita touched up Bailey Dees for a solo home run to grow the lead to 4-0. They broke the game open in the eighth against Dees and Clay Aguilar with four runs, including three on a bases-loaded double by Zebrowski to run the advantage to 8-0.

MLB rehabber Collin McHugh set the tone for Rome, tossing 3.0 innings of shutout ball to start the game. Rolddy Munoz (2-1) followed with 3.2 scoreless innings of relief to get the win. Munoz and Hunter Riggins combined to hold the Renegades without a hit after the fifth inning.

Messinger: 'Some ways... a pivotal year for me'

Zach Messinger, pitcher for the Hudson Valley Renegades, gets ready to throw one over the plate.

By Rich Thomaselli

Even when he is not at his best, Zach Messinger is at his best.

Messinger lost his first start of the season in an 8-0 loss to the Rome Braves. Messinger (0-1) lasted 5.1 innings, allowing three runs on four hits, walking one and matching his season-high by striking out seven. The right-hander has struck out 20 batters in 16.1 innings across three starts this season.

Most importantly, he has bought into the Yankee philosophy that it doesn't matter what his final records are, just that he is throwing well.

So far, so good.

"I try not to look too much at stats," he said. "I have faith in my abilities, and I know when I'm doing well, and I just have to trust that the powers-that-be see it as well."

Messinger feels like he has much to prove though. He wasn't chosen until the 13th round of the 2021 amateur draft, the 393rd pick overall, out of the University of Virginia. At 6-6, he has a perfect pitcher's body, a live fastball, and he continues to work on its breaking stuff.

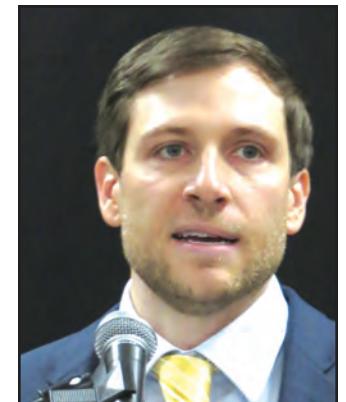

Even with the loss on Friday night, Messinger earned run average is still 2.20. And he's still relatively young, especially having to call. Messinger won't turn 24 until October.

"In some ways, I think this is a pivotal year for me," he said. "I'm young, and I've only been in professional ball for a couple of years. But have to breakthrough."

Messinger is scheduled to start again this week when the Renegades go to Greenville, South Carolina, for another six-game series.

TYSON'S TIDBITS!

Renegades manager's role differs from a Major League GM

Every week, reporter Rich Thomaselli will sit down with Tyson Jeffers, the general manager of the Hudson Valley Renegades. These are his thoughts on the team in particular, and minor league baseball in general.

Please explain to people that just because the team goes on the road for two weeks, you don't. You and your staff still have responsibilities to take care of.

That is 100% true. Yeah, it doesn't just slow down. I like to tell people that we go from 'on' to another mode. On game days and during the offseason, we're a little bit more traditional with the nine to five. And then when we have games during the season, we're kind of on almost 24/7. So, it never stops. Once the team is on the road, it does give us an opportunity to take a little bit of a breather and go home to our families at a normal time. But we're still planning for the next home stand and making sure that we're doing everything we can to build out the experience for the next set of games.

Has anything changed, or will we see anything different when the Renegades come home in a week?

I think there's already been some player changes, but that's the Yankees' deal. I don't make any changes or trade or anything like that, and neither did Steve (Gliner). I just concentrate on the business side of things and the operations of the ballpark. But we are thrilled when a player gets called up and is able to continue his career... Like I said, it's about checking all the boxes that were left unchecked. ... People recognize the job title, and they immediately equate it with a major league general manager. It doesn't work that way. It can be confusing, but basically the Yankees take care of the players, and we take care of our fans. So, there is a coordinated effort in all that. But when it comes to the players and the relationships of players, and how players are moving up and moving down, those are all decisions made by the Yankees.

Has anything come up at a league level, like 'Hey, I heard about this, so we should try it.'

Yes, so once a month the Sally League, we get together on a conference call. We talk about a lot of things. Some of those include operations and like, hey, how you dealing with this? How you doing with staffing? How you doing with promotions? But yeah, when we look across the industry, our promotions team and our sales team, they're always looking at different ideas that teams are finding success with and we usually pinpoint those. There's a lot of copycatting in the industry, but the audiences are different. What is working in Oklahoma City, for instance, may also work in Hudson Valley.

Based on your impressions from the first homestand, how has the crowd been, and how has their reaction been?

I think in many ways, we are still educating our fans. Remember, for decades we started this season in the middle of June. They are not used to baseball in April. Luckily, the weather has been cooperating. We will see about that in another week when they come home again. Starting so early can be a shock to some people. But the numbers are up in April compared to last year, and we'll see what happens in our bread-and-butter months of June, July and August.

Obituaries

Elizabeth P. Modesto

CHELSEA AND WAPPINGERS FALLS - Elizabeth "Betty" P. Modesto, a longtime resident of Chelsea and Wappingers Falls, entered into rest on April 13, 2023 at home. She was 88 years old. Betty was born on December 25, 1934 in South Bend, Indiana the daughter of the late Joseph and Elizabeth Vamos Miko. Betty married Walter Modesto who predeceased her in 2018. Office for the Aging to host two bilingual Alzheimer's disease forums

The Dutchess County Office for the Aging (OFA), in partnership with the Dutchess County Alzheimer's Association, Family Services Inc. and the Poughkeepsie Healthy Black & Latinx Coalition, will host a pair of free informational forums about Alzheimer's disease, focused on the disease and its impact on Latinx and Black communities. The events, which each begin at 6 p.m., will be available in both English and Spanish and held on the following dates:

Wednesday, April 26: OFA Friendship Center, 114 Delafield St., Poughkeepsie;

Thursday, April 27: Sun River Health, 3360 Route 343, Amenia. (Masks must be worn to attend this event at Sun River's Health Center)

Seating is limited for these free forums; residents can register by calling Dutchess County Alzheimer's Association at 1-800-272-3900.

The forum will provide information and resources to help the Latinx and Black communities in Dutchess County understand Alzheimer's disease and its impact. Attendees will have the opportunity to learn about the signs and symptoms of Alzheimer's disease, the importance of early detection and the available treatment options. Participants will also learn about the different ways Alzheimer's disease can affect individuals and their families, as well as how to manage its challenges.

Alzheimer's disease is a progressive and irreversible brain disorder that affects millions of people worldwide. It is the most common cause of dementia, and it can have a significant impact on the quality of life of those affected by it and their loved ones.

The prevalence of Alzheimer's disease is particularly high among older adults, and it affects people of all ethnicities and races. However, studies have shown that certain communities, including Latinx and Black communities, are more at risk of developing the disease and experiencing disparities in diagnosis and treatment.

County to offer vaccinations to homebound residents

The Dutchess County Office for the Aging can help homebound Dutchess County older adults obtain necessary vaccinations or boosters against COVID-19 and/or influenza, at no cost for vaccine(s) and administration. Contact OFA at 845-486-2555 during business hours and they will help you make the necessary connections. If unable to contact them during business hours, send a request including the necessary contact information for the homebound individual and their caregivers through its email address: ofa@dutchessny.gov.

"Homebound" is defined as being unable to leave home unassisted. To be homebound means that leaving home takes considerable and taxing effort. A person may leave home for medical treatment or short, infrequent absences for non-medical reasons, such as a trip to the barber or to attend religious service.

TOWN OF PLEASANT VALLEY
PROPOSED LOCAL LAW B OF 2023
A LOCAL LAW AMENDING CHAPTER 86, TAXATION, OF THE TOWN OF PLEASANT VALLEY CODE TO ADD A NEW ARTICLE VI TITLED: "TAX EXEMPTION FOR QUALIFIED VOLUNTEER FIREFIGHTERS AND AMBULANCE WORKERS"

BE IT ENACTED by the Town Board of the Town of Pleasant Valley as follows:

SECTION 1. TITLE.

This Local Law shall be titled: "A Local Law Amending Chapter 86, Taxation, of the Town of Pleasant Valley Code to Add a New Article VI titled: 'Tax Exemption for Qualified Volunteer Firefighters and Ambulance Workers'."

SECTION 2.

Chapter 86, Taxation, of the Town Code is hereby amended to add a new Article VI, titled: "Tax Exemption for Qualified Volunteer Firefighters and Ambulance Workers", which shall read as follows:

§86-17 Purpose and Authority.

It is the intent of the Town Board of the Town of Pleasant Valley, County of Dutchess, to provide a real property tax exemption to qualifying volunteer firefighters and ambulance workers as set forth in Real Property Tax Law §466-a.

§86-18 Exemption Granted

A. The Town of Pleasant Valley hereby provides a property tax exemption of ten percent (10%) of the assessed value of real property for individuals who reside in the Town of Pleasant Valley and also meet the following qualifications:

(1) The individual is an enrolled and certified member of an incorporated fire company, fire department or volunteer ambulance service which serves the Town of Pleasant Valley with a minimum of three (3) years of service; and

(2) The individual resides in the Town and the property receiving the benefit is the primary residence of the individual and is used exclusively for residential purposes. However, any portion of the property not used for residential purposes shall not be subject to the exemption.

B. In addition to the exemption provided by subsection "A", the Town of Pleasant Valley hereby grants a lifetime real property tax exemption for certain volunteer firefighters and volunteer ambulance service workers of ten percent (10%) of the assessed value of real property for any individual that shall have been certified by the authority having jurisdiction over an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated volunteer ambulance service as having accrued twenty (20) or more years of service, so long as their primary residence remains within the Town of Pleasant Valley.

C. The Town Board shall determine the procedure for certification as set forth above in conjunction with the authority having jurisdiction over the emergency provider pursuant to this Local Law.

D. Application for such exemption shall be filed with the Town Assessor on or before the taxable status date on a form as provided by the Assessor.

SECTION 3. SEVERABILITY.

If any clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, or part of this local law or the application thereof to any person, firm or corporation, or circumstance, shall be adjusted by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unconstitutional, such order or judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder thereof, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, subdivision, or part of this local law or in its application to the person, individual, firm or corporation or circumstance, directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment or order shall be rendered.

SECTION 4. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This local law shall take effect immediately upon filing in the Office of the New York State Secretary of State in accordance with Section 27 of the Municipal Home Rule Law.

NOTICE OF COMPLETION OF TENTATIVE ASSESSMENT ROLL

Pursuant to §506 & §526 of the Real Property Tax Law:

Imagination and The Machine at Howland through May 28

These twelve sculptures are creative representations of automata from around the world and through time, ranging from a 3,000-year-old Egyptian mummifying machine and an ancient Roman wine server to a Depression Era marionette theater and an insect lure from the Hudson Valley. The exhibit is running at the Howland Cultural Center, 477 Main St., in Beacon, from 1-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday through May 28.

They were created by Roger Phillips and Sara Carbone, two artist-makers from Putnam Valley, NY. Roger, a graphic artist and illustrator, created the schematic sketches and pencil studies also on display. Sara is a professional copywriter and aspiring fiction writer.

Roger and Sara were fascinated by automata's ability to marry creativity and functionality. They believe that "they embody humankind's efforts to imitate life by mechanical means and are proof that what we can imagine has no limits."

Exhibiting Imagination and The Machine at the Howland feels like kismet as the rich vintage flavor of the historic space beautifully complements the weird, whimsical nature of the creations.
