BCSD vote on May 17 for budget, BOE candidates

By Kristine Coulter

Beacon City School District registered voters can go to the polls on May 17 and vote on the 2022-23 budget and for Board of Education candidates. The polls are open from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m.

"I am honored to be the Superintendent of the Beacon City School District and I am thrilled to be finishing my fifth year in the position. I am incredibly proud of the many ways the Beacon City School District community stepped up to help our students during these challenging past two years," commented Beacon City School District Superintendent Dr. Matthew Landahl. Dr. Landahl noted that the budget is "at the tax cap and not exceeding it." He also stated "[t]he tax levy increase is 3.7% and the budget increase is 2.2%."

According to Landahl, the school budgets over the past several years have supported the following:

- Small class sizes at the elementary level
- Instrumental music beginning in the fourth grade
- Expanded Pre-k programs in the district
- A wide range of course offerings at Beacon High School including seven AP (Advanced Placement) courses and seven Dutchess Community College courses
- A strong athletics program with many offerings from modified to the varsity level
- Clubs and extracurriculars at all levels of school
- 1:1 Chromebook initiative for all of the students

"Our proposed 2022-2023 budget maintains all of our past budget accomplishments while adding five teaching positions to further support student mental health, additional coursework at the high school and middle school, and the expansion of a full-time pre-k class at each elementary school. Our budget priorities are developed throughout the year with the BCSD Board of Education with a strong focus on student and community needs," said Landahl.

"If the budget vote does not pass, the district would have to implement a contingency budget. The contingency budget would force us to make approximately $1,700,000 of cuts across all areas of the district and it would have a negative impact on the student experience in our district," said Landahl.

There is also a bus proposition for three 72 passenger buses, three 20 passenger vans for a total of $546,000, which will be financed over five years to match State Aid (58.5%), according to District information.

There are four candidates running for Board of Education. Voters choose to elect four members to the Board of Education as follows:

- Three members to the Board of Education for three-year terms (commencing July 1, and expiring June 30, 2025)
- One member for a two-year and six-week term (commencing May 17 and expiring on June 30, 2024)

The candidates are Yunice Heath, Meredith Heuer (current board member), Alena Kush and Antony Tseng (current board member).

EMS Week event set at Elks Lodge on May 15

By Kristine Coulter

The 6th annual Community Education Safety Day & EMS Week Celebration is set for May 15, from noon to 4 p.m., at the Beacon Elks Lodge, 900 Wolcott Ave. There will be on-site interviews for Beacon Volunteer Ambulance Corps and volunteer opportunities. Attendees can also participate in free activities and giveaways.

"Every year EMS week kicks off in May and always has a theme. This year's theme is "Rising to the Challenge" which says a lot for itself considering what we have been through the past couple of years. In the words of the American College of Emergency Physicians: This theme is particularly meaningful now, to remind people that every day we are faced with so many new challenges in our lives and yet we still rise above them all and continue to respond, support, and care for the needs of our communities," said Deborah Cortes, BVAC.

Asked how can someone who is interested in becoming an EMS worker join? Cortes replied, "Beacon Volunteer Ambulance Corps is always looking for volunteers. You do not have to be an EMT to join but, we are looking for paid and volunteer EMTs. We start recruiting at the age of 15. We will help with training and could always use volunteers to drive ambulances as well (non EMT). Like any business, we have a whole back office. Anyone looking to volunteer with any experience in secretary work, Human Resources anything, we definitely have room you. You could apply at www.beaconvac.org. We will also be performing on-site interviews at the event."

Jennifer Velez, Exalted Ruler with the Beacon Elks Lodge, said via email, "The Elks are steadfast in assuring the important contributions of EMS practitioners in safeguarding the health, safety, and well-being of our communities are fully celebrated and recognized. This year's theme, "Rising to the Challenge," reminds us that EMS professionals are faced with so many challenges today and they still rise above them."

Velez said, "The Elks remain committed to supporting the men and women who respond to public health emergencies safely and effectively, now and in the future."

As for why people should attend the event, Cortes stated, "So many things to do and it's free! This is a great event for people of all ages. It is a group of health-care professionals and first responders from in and out of Dutchess County. Cortes noted, "It gives people the opportunity not only to meet us but to get to

Naming of Lt. Gov. places Delgado, Molinaro in spotlight

By Rich Thomaselli
and Curtis Schmidt

Now what?

After Dutchess County Executive Marc Molinaro announced his intention to run for Congress against incumbent Democrat Antonio Delgado, to represent New York's expansive 19th District in Washington, D.C., it seemed fairly straightforward as to the next steps.

If Molinaro lost to Delgado in November, he would return to Poughkeepsie to serve out his County Exec term until 2023. If he won, Deputy County Executive William O'Neil would take over and complete Molinaro's term as per the Dutchess County Charter.

Rarely do things go as planned, however, as we saw last week.

know us on a personal level and know the resources that are available for them no matter what the situation is. It's educational and informative. It's also a great opportunity for people to receive a free bicycle helmet for their children, get your car seats inspected and if deemed unsafe for your child, it will be replaced for free."

Speaking of free, there will be free face painting, balloons, Teddy bears from the Teddy Bear Clinic, said Cortes.

"There is opportunity to vaccinate ages 12+. Dr. Papish from MidHudson Regional Hospital emergency room will be overlooking the vaccination pod and will answer any questions as well as performing a CME on site. In safe weather conditions, a helicopter will be landing and who doesn't love a helicopter! There is a long list of attendees, and you definitely have to check it out," remarked Cortes.

"I have been coordinating this event for the past six years. Unfortunately, when we started to thrive, we ended up losing two years due to COVID. I just hope that people can come out, have a good time get to know your local first responders. EMS workers, police officers, corrections officers, domestic violence teams, human trafficking teams, Metro-North Railroad safety teams, doctors, nurses, opioid awareness teams you name it," said Cortes.

Also expected during the event, according to Cortes, the New Hamburg Fire Department with its safe house, which is a trailer filled with smoke so people can practice going through a house in the event there's a fire they know how to get in and out safely.

There will be a "lock gate" for those who lost somebody who is struggling with addiction. Cortes explained that one can bring a lock to lock on the gate that will go back to Grandma's Garden.

"Grandma is a woman whose grandson lost his life due to addiction who has made it her mission to reach out and help others," she explained.

The Elks will be selling food and an ice cream truck will be on site as well.

"I just want to say a huge thank you to the Elks for supporting us and hosting this event for us again. A big thank you to the Dutchess County Sheriff's Office, the City of Beacon police officers, New York State DEC and NYS Police, Family Services of Dutchess County, City of Beacon Fire Department. A big thank you to Westchester Medical Center, Maria Ferrari unit and MidHudson Regional Hospital and Nuvance Health for returning since day one! Welcome newcomers! We hope that everybody is able to have a good time," said Cortes.

Delgado dropped out of the race and will resign his seat in Congress after being named as the new New York State Lieutenant Governor to join Governor Kathy Hochul in Albany. That follows the arrest and resignation of former Lt. Governor Brian Benjamin.

"I need someone by my side who I can rely on for wisdom, guidance, and advice, and that person must be willing to put New Yorkers first and place a high priority on delivering results, rather than playing partisan politics," Hochul said. "They must believe in hard work, be a team player, and treat everyone with respect. And most important, they must be someone that New Yorkers trust and have absolute confidence in. So today, I'm really proud to say, I found that person."

Delgado said that after two years of COVID, New Yorkers need to reconnect and heal together.

"New Yorkers deserve a Lieutenant Governor who's working day and night to make lives better for working people and their families. Upstate, downstate, it does not matter. We all want the same thing: security, family, opportunity," he said.

State Assemblymember Didi Barrett praised Hochul's choice of Delgado.

"I have had the great honor to partner with Congressman Antonio Delgado over the past four years to advocate for our farmers, veterans and other shared constituents," Barrett said. "His thoughtful and compassionate approach to public service will make him an outstanding Lieutenant Governor for the State of New York, and a terrific partner for Governor Kathy Hochul."

NYS Senator Sue Serino said, "The way this process has unfolded was undemocratic and unfortunate, however, it is always a positive for our local community when someone from the Hudson Valley takes on a position where they have the ability to help elevate our concerns and directly address our needs. I hope that the Lt. Governor stays true to his Hudson Valley roots and works with us to help move our community forward."

Democrats' next move

What was left unsaid however, including by Delgado, is the 800-pound gorilla in the room - who will run in Delgado's place as the Democratic candidate for Congressional District 19?

"Since the contours of the new CD-19 are still unknown, we are currently involved in internal discussions. For the moment, I am confident that a strong candidate like Ulster County Executive Pat Ryan, who is considering a run, will step forward and deliver a Democratic victory come November," Julie Shiroishi, Dutchess County Democratic Chair, said in a statement to the Southern and Northern Dutchess News.

Ryan and New York State Sen. Michelle Hinchey - daughter of the late U.S. Congressman Maurice Hinchey of Saugerties - are the two names that have run through the rumor mill as potential opponents for Molinaro for the 19th District. Neither has confirmed a possible run. But neither has denied it either publicly.

In fact, Ryan went so far as to post on his Twitter feed that "I am now seriously considering how best to continue serving my community and constituents."

Not only are Democrats scrambling to find a viable opponent to run against Molinaro for the Congressional seat, but the succession plan for Dutchess County Executive is not so clear-cut any longer.

Hochul indicated last week she will call for a special election (Aug. 23) for the 19th District given the circumstances. And Molinaro is on something of a deadline now - if he resigns as Dutchess County Executive before August 8, it's possible voters could be going to the polls this coming November to elect his replacement instead of in November of 2023. State Elections law calls for any vacancy occurring three months prior to a general election are authorized to be filled at a general election.

That doesn't appear likely, however.

In all likelihood, Molinaro will not resign prior to August 8 and O'Neil will take over through the 2023 election cycle. O'Neil is a former businessman, but does have background in county politics. He was an assistant to former Dutchess County Executive William Steinhaus and later became Molinaro's chief of staff before becoming Deputy County Executive in 2012.

In the meantime, Molinaro is sitting back suddenly in the driver's seat with the developments in the Congressional race.

"Delgado's decision to resign mid-way through the election cycle shows that he knows he would lose in November because of the incredible momentum our campaign has built. Ultimately, the Congressman knows that he and his party are responsible for the crime wave, out of control inflation, and illegal attempts to draw themselves safe districts," Molinaro said in a statement. "The district lines may change. My opponent may change. But what won't change is why I'm running: For us. For you. ... We were going to win against Delgado and we'll win the special election when it's announced. We aren't changing course, we are full speed ahead."

$43,000 grant to repurpose baseball field in Poughkeepsie for Girls Softball program

By Kristine Coulter

The Town of Poughkeepsie was awarded a $43,000 grant from T-Mobile. Poughkeepsie was one of 25 small towns to receive one of the grants, called Hometown Grants. The grant will be used to repurpose one of the town's baseball fields into a softball field. The repurposing will accommodate the Town of Poughkeepsie Girls Little League Softball program. A ceremony was held on April 23 to acknowledge the award.

"The Town of Poughkeepsie is grateful to receive this grant from T-Mobile," said Poughkeepsie Town Supervisor Jon Jay Baisley, stated in a press release. "This will play an important role in the upgrade to this park and future plans for the town park infrastructure. Thank you for awarding this to the Town of Poughkeepsie."

"We are delighted to receive the T-Mobile Hometown Grant. The grant is focused on revitalizing community spaces and we are the only project in the state of NY to receive the grant this year. The grant funding will be used at Stanley Still Park on Jackson Rd. to construct a new softball field for the primary use of Girls Softball. The Girls Softball program is vital to the health and well-being of the youth population in Poughkeepsie and we are committed to improving the opportunities afforded to the youth in our community," said Janet McHugh, Town of Poughkeepsie Recreation Director. "Research shows that by the age of 14, girls are dropping out of sports at twice the rate of boys which is an alarming statistic. This project will allow the program to grow and offer more young girls the opportunity to remain in the program. The project will also include expansion of a walking path in order to make the new field fully accessible. The fields at Stanley Still are not solely used by Girls Softball however, but also by local Senior Citizen Softball Leagues and as an overflow facility for the local baseball leagues. So, the park and this project have dual purpose."

"With the proposed revisions planned for the fields at Poughkeepsie's Stanley Still Park, we foresee positive experiences, enjoyment and smiles from all the young athletes in the local community. T-Mobile's excited to support the town of Poughkeepsie with this Hometown Grant, and looking forward to seeing how this project impacts children throughout the community in the future," Shante Newman, with T-Mobile, told Beacon Free Press.

Brian Ricks, Girls Softball League President, said, "Our vision is to make Stanley Still an all-softball park where girls will have a quality place to play in the future. We're excited that the town has received the T-Mobile Hometown Grant."

The Town of Poughkeepsie was awarded a $43,000 grant from T-Mobile recently at Stanley Still Park.

DISPATCHES FROM THE VFW

by Tom Zurhellen

Creation of NYS cabinet-level veterans agency a 'huge step forward'

Recently, much of the water cooler conversation (or "scuttlebutt" to all my sailors out there) among our local veterans has focused on the potential closure of the VA Hospital at Castle Point, so it's easy to overlook other newsworthy items that might impact the lives of our heroes. For example, after a long debate in Albany, our Assemblymember Didi Barrett (D-Dutchess/Columbia) reports that her legislation to create a new Department of Veterans Services for New York State was included in the 2022-23 state budget. Now, this might not sound very important to the casual observer, but for the veteran community in New York, this is a huge step forward.

"I fought to include this legislation to create a one-stop Department of Veterans' Services because I know New York State can and should do better for our servicemen and women," said Barrett, who is the Chair of the Veterans Affairs Committee in the New York State Assembly.

This is much more than a simple name change. The old Division of Veterans Services was established in 1945 to help World War II veterans make the transition home. But it's never been a cabinet-level agency. Surprised? I was too! I think we can all agree that veterans should be represented at the highest level of our state government; but unfortunately, that has not been the case until now. Having a cabinet-level official fighting for our veterans is welcome news, for sure.

This change sure sounds like a "no-brainer," doesn't it? But I know how long a battle it has been to get this legislation into the state budget, because it was more than two years ago when Assemblymember Barrett asked me to address her colleagues in the Assembly on how much this change could truly help our veterans. It was a great experience for me, discussing real issues like veteran mental health and homelessness with our elected leaders in the halls of justice, but at the time, I had no idea how long it would take to make this wonderful idea a reality.

"The establishment of this new department is a critical next step to ensuring our veterans and their families receive the benefits and services they have earned in the most effective and accessible way possible," continued Barrett. I couldn't agree more, and it's a shame that it has taken this long for such a meaningful change to occur for our heroes in New York State. This is the first time in more than 50 years that New York State has created a new state agency, the last being when the Department of Environmental Conservation was established way back in 1970.

Furthermore, Barrett's office reports that only 17% of New York's veteran population are accessing their earned benefits, in part due to the decentralized distribution of these resources. According to Assemblymember Barrett, this new legislation will centralize the benefits and programs meant to support veterans under the newly created Department of Veterans' Services, making them more readily accessible. That's certainly good news for veterans and their families!

I want to thank Assemblymember Barrett for sharing this positive news, and I would also like to thank her and all those elected leaders in Dutchess County who always try to put our veterans first. This change to a full-fledged Department of Veterans Services might not seem particularly newsworthy at first, but I think it has the potential to pay big dividends in the years to come.

Thank you for listening! We'll see you next time!

A Navy veteran, Tom Zurhellen has been Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) in Poughkeepsie for the past three years. In the summer of 2019, he walked across America from Portland, Oregon, to Poughkeepsie to raise awareness on veteran suicide and veteran homelessness in our country. He continues to work with local veterans in need through the VetZero Project, in partnership with Hudson River Housing.

Fishkill board gives ok for town police to send vests to Ukraine

By Kristine Coulter

"The people of Ukraine are under constant attack and need as much help as they can get," remarked Rina Bleyzer O'Malley, Director of Communications for DAAR Charitable Foundation, via email.

The Fishkill Town Board passed a resolution donating police vests to Ukrainians.. The donations will be made to DAAR, which is a U.S. 501(c)(3) nonprofit, run by volunteers. The resolution was passed during the April 20 meeting held in the Fishkill Town Hall.

"The Town of Fishkill has a bunch of old vests, police vests, and the police department wants to donate [them] to Ukraine," said Town of Fishkill Supervisor Ozzy Alba. "I think it's a great idea.

Alba noted "even though they're old, they're still effective."

According to the resolution the police department has 30 bullet-proof vests and assorted panel covers which have been taken out of service and deemed obsolete by modern law enforcement standards.

"The Town of Fishkill Police Department has established a collection site at the police department for defensive and medical equipment and supplies. These items will be donated to provide humanitarian aid in defense of the people of Ukraine," said Town of Fishkill Police Chief Keith Dworkin. "Town of Fishkill Police Lieutenant, Patrick Cadden, who initiated the project and is conducting the groundwork, has identified thirty sets of surplus TFPD body armor. With help from the Fishkill Town Board, we were able to turn this surplus equipment, which would have remained in storage, into valuable protective equipment for donation."

O'Malley said, "DAAR Charitable Foundation is working to get badly-needed protective gear to Ukrainian civilian volunteers and first responders, and we are so grateful to the Town of Fishkill for providing these items."

Dworkin noted, "We are reaching out to all police agencies in the Hudson Valley to donate any equipment and supplies they would like, to aid in this effort."

The resolution stated, "Accordingly, it is proposed that the Town Board declare the used bullet-proof vests and assorted panel and covers surplus and dispose of them by providing them to the DAAR Charitable Foundation program for sending assistance materials to Ukraine."

Discussion held about recommendations in VA report about Castle Point

Memorial Park in Beacon was the recent site of a discussion of the report released earlier this year by the VA, in which the report suggests Castle Point be closed and a new facility be built in Fishkill. Organizer Dennis Pavelock read information from a previous meeting that was held in Poughkeepsie recently during a forum.

The Department of Veterans Affairs released its Asset and Infrastructure Review report March 14. The report recommends possibly closing Castle Point VA Medical Center (VAMC) for the purpose of making upgrades. The AIR Commission will conduct public hearings. It will then submit its own recommendations in 2023 to the president for further review, according to the VA.

Assemblyman Jonathan Jacobson and a representative for NYS Senator Sue Serino were present.

"I've been on top of this issue since it came out," said Jacobson, who noted he rallied outside Castle Point with U.S. Senator Charles Schumer (D-NY) in March. Jacobson said veterans and the community have to "stay vigilant" and keep this issue alive.

Pavelock said, "Castle Point is centrally located" for a lot of veterans in the area.

"There have been no announcements or decisions regarding any VA facilities closing, anywhere including Castle Point. VA was required by law to conduct a series of market assessments under the VA MISSION Act to examine future demand for health care services among the Veteran population, which is projected to change in size and location over the next decade. It is important to note that any recommendations to the upcoming AIR Commission are just recommendations," a spokesperson for Castle Point stated previously.

Rumfield quietly having solid start

By Rich Thomaselli

T.J. Rumfield's name might not have been part of the group touted coming north with the 2022 Hudson Valley Renegades when spring training broke last month, but he has quietly emerged as one of the hottest players on the team.

The left-handed hitter, who shares playing time at first base, nonetheless leads Hudson Valley with a .354 average despite going on the seven-day disabled list.

Rumfield has hit a pair of home runs, five doubles and is tied for the team lead with 11 RBI.

Rumfield was drafted in 2021 out of Virginia Tech in the 12th round, but it wasn't by the Yankees. Rumfield was originally picked by the Philadelphia Phillies and played 21 games for their Class A farm team in Clearwater, Fla. But the Yanks thought highly of him and dealt pitcher Nick Nelson and catcher Donny Sands to Philly for Rumfield and pitcher Jose Valdez in the off-season.

"I got the call from our player development (person) for the Phillies and he told me that I was traded to the Yankees and I kind of just sat there for a second because I really didn't comprehend what was happening," Rumfield, a native of Godley, Texas, told the website Pinstriped Prospects. "He said someone from the Yankees organization will be reaching out to you in a couple of days and he wished me the best of luck."

It hasn't been luck at all.

Rumfield has shown a sweet stroke, hits for power and average, and prides himself on defense. And he's pretty good on the base-paths as well, having stolen three bases in five attempts.

ROUNDUP

Renegades end road trip with doubleheader split

By Rich Thomaselli

The Hudson Valley Renegades ended a two-week road trip by splitting a doubleheader on Sunday with the Jersey Shore BlueClaws at ShoreTown Ballpark.

The Renegades won the opener 2-0, while the BlueClaws took the nightcap 4-0.

In the opener, T.J. Sikkema made his first professional pitching appearance since July 21, 2019 and was perfect in 2.0 innings. The left-hander, who was the 38th overall pick in the 2019 First-Year Player Draft by the Yankees, retired all six batters he faced, striking out three and throwing 26 pitches, 20 for strikes.

The Renegades took the lead in the top of the second after Ben Brown walked the bases loaded and Aldenis Sanchez delivered a two-run single to left. That was one of just two hits in the game for Hudson Valley, but it was all the Renegades would need.

Edgar Barclay (3-2) spun 3.2 shutout innings of relief, striking out five and allowing just one hit. Tanner Myatt closed out the win with 1.1 scoreless innings to earn his first save. Sikkema, Barclay and Myatt combined to one-hit the BlueClaws, the second one-hitter of the year thrown by Hudson Valley.

In the nightcap, the BlueClaws took the lead in the bottom of the first against right-hander Blas Castano. An RBI single for Jared Carr scored Ethan Wilson to give Jersey Shore a 1-0 lead.

The BlueClaws tacked on two more in the second and another in the third off Castao (0-3) to take a 4-0 advantage. Only two of the runs allowed by the right-hander in the game were earned, as he struck out three and walked two.

Hudson Valley threatened throughout the game, mounting a bases-loaded one-out threat in the fourth, and a second-and-third, no-out opportunity in the sixth, but was unable to score both times.

The Renegades combined to steal six bases in the doubleheader, and have now swiped a Minor League Baseball-high 69 bases this season.

The Renegades, now 14-12 overall, were scheduled to return to Dutchess Stadium on Tuesday to begin a series with the Aberdeen IronBirds.

Renegades mascot Rascal the Raccoon will be entertaining fans in the upcoming homestand against the Aberdeen Ironbirds.

GLINER'S KORNER!

Visiting Somerset and getting players settled

Every week, Hudson Valley Renegades President Steve Gliner sits down with reporter Rich Thomaselli to discuss the team in particular, and minor league baseball in general.

So the last few weeks we talked about opening the season, opening the home season, getting Dutchess Stadium ready ... what did you do with these last two weeks with the team on the road?

(Laughs) I took my first two days off in 37 days. But I quantify that by saying, by definition that just means I'm not going into the office. Because even if I'm not at the Stadium I'm always working. There are always moving parts and we have to be available to do some things. But my wife and I actually took advantage of the weather early in the week and had a chance to go over to Brotherhood Winery in Orange County and it was a pretty relaxing day.

Find anything that you liked?

Yeah, we found a couple of things!

They have this chocolate wine. It's kind of like a Bailey's Irish Cream, it has that consistency to it instead of traditional wine, but it was great. It's my new favorite. And I'll say no more (laughs).

Did you get a chance to get the staff some time off as well?

Oh yeah, we gave everybody a couple of days off during the week as well as last weekend. It was a busy time leading up to the season. I mean, 37 straight days is a long time. You have to pace yourself, and it's important for people to decompress.

I saw that you also had a chance to make the short trip down to Jersey to see the Yankees' Double A franchise in Somerset. What was that like?

Nice. Really, really nice. I've been meaning to get down there and check out their ballpark. It's a great ballpark. Patrick (McVerry), their general manager who I have gotten to know over Zoom, was a great host and I got to see some of the spaces and see some of the things they've done. I think they seat 6,100. Their concourse is open to the seating bowl, kind of like Yankee Stadium, so it's nice.

So a month into the season and we're already seeing quite a bit of roster movement, some guys being promoted and others being sent down. What's that like for you to get everybody settled and squared away?

For me it's like breathing oxygen. There's an internal checklist of things to get ready to do. We work in conjunction with the Yankees, and they play a part in getting these arrangements set up. I think one of the best things to come out of the new agreement was that players no longer have to find, or pay for, housing on their own. The Major League club takes care of that now (the Renegades stay at a local hotel when they are home). It's just one of those things the players no longer have to concern themselves with, one less thing they have to worry about. Then we take care of everything else – the bats, the balls, the uniforms, the other clothing ... we make sure they are integrated into the Renegades family.

RTDC volunteers help three residents with repairs on National Rebuilding Day

Three Dutchess County residents received assistance with home repairs by volunteers with Rebuilding Together Dutchess County (RTDC) on National Rebuilding Day, the last Saturday of April.

RTDC has been serving the community for 30 years. Their mission is to repair homes, revitalize communities, and rebuild lives by performing cost-free critical home repairs for low-income homeowners.

"It is unbelievable that all these things can be done in one day when it's things I've been trying to accomplish for years," says Alice, 82, of Poughkeepsie.

Alice used to wash windows, climb up and down ladders, mow the lawn. Her neighbor called her the "pioneer woman" because she was always out doing stuff around the house. However, "in 2014, I got cancer" she explained, "and my health started to go downhill and my capabilities went with it." Combined with the medical bills and more money going out than coming in, she hasn't been able to keep up with the home repairs as she used to, or would like to.

For Bob, 87, who was also served, these repairs mean he can stay in his home. "I now know I will be here forever. That's what I wanted to do, stay here. When I die, I want to die here. Not in a hospital, not in a home, but here." In addition to other repairs throughout the home, chair-lifts were installed so Bob can navigate the split-level home safely and the bathroom door was turned into a pocket door to make it wider to allow him to walk in safely with his rolling walker.

"The repairs we provide on National Rebuilding Day, and throughout the year, are life-changing, life-saving repairs for our neighbors in need," says Darcy McCourt, the newly appointed Executive Director of RTDC. "Our services ensure homeowners like Alice and Bob can live independently in safe and healthy homes."

This National Rebuilding Day was special to RTDC because it is their 30th year serving Dutchess County homeowners and it was a return to their roots. The day marked the first-time volunteers were out in the community helping their neighbors since the start of the pandemic.

Program Manager, Wyeth Drummond, felt the significance of what it all meant. "The last few years have been hard for everyone, but National Rebuilding Day reminded us how important the work we do is, what it truly means to those we assist and that together we can truly make a difference."

More than 75 volunteers from sponsoring organizations Arlington Teacher's Association, GKontos Roofing Specialists, Poughquag United Methodist Church and United Methodist Church of Hyde Park made these projects possible. They dedicated their time, effort and skill to make a difference in these homeowner's lives.

Other supporters, that contributed in-kind donations and services, include Forrest Green Landscaping, Herring Sanitation, Recycle Depot, and Veith Electric. Additional funding was provided by Central Hudson, Dutchess County, Dyson Foundation, Field Hall

Assemblymember Barrett announces smartboard funding for Abilities First NYS Assemblymember Didi Barrett (D-Dutchess/Columbia) has secured $25,000 in state funding for Abilities First for the acquisition of interactive smartboards.

These smartboards are a classroom tool that allow for students and teachers to interface with images that are projected onto a larger, touch-screen monitor from a computer screen. The smartboards have been installed at the Abilities First campus in Hyde Park, a Universal Pre-Kindergarten program using an integrated classroom approach to early education that includes five children with autism, developmental or learning disabilities along with 15 additional students in each of the five classrooms.

"I have long admired the innovative work of Abilities First to integrate young children with special needs and those without in a shared classroom," said Barrett. "On a recent visit to the Hyde Park campus, I saw first-hand the delight and diversity these new smartboards bring to the learning environment - educational videos, spelling and reading games, even digital art projects. I am happy to support Abilities First, and the important work they do to help our next generation of thinkers, leaders, and neighbors understand and respect differences."

"The addition of these brand new state of the art smartboards with specialized preschool curriculum applications is an invaluable new resource for our program and the children who attend. We are grateful to Assemblymember Didi Barrett and her staff for the way they prioritized the needs of our program and brought these resources to our team and our students," said Dr. Jeffery Fox, President and C.E.O. of Abilities First.

Abilities First, Inc. is a nonprofit education program supporting children and adults with disabilities through a continuum of services including schools and adult programs. They operate several preschool and school age programs in Dutchess and Orange counties. The funds Barrett secured were through the legislative Budget Initiative Program

COVID-19 update

CDC lists Dutchess as medium-risk community

By Kate Goldsmith

With active reported cases rising nearly 50 percent from last week, and other metrics headed in the wrong direction, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is categorizing Dutchess as a county with a medium risk of community transmission. Until this past week, Dutchess was considered a county with a low risk of transmission.

The CDC outlines the following guidelines for medium-risk communities:

- If you are at high risk for severe illness, talk to your healthcare provider about whether you need to wear a mask and take other precautions;
- Stay up to date with COVID-19 vaccines;
- Get tested if you have symptoms.

COVID-19 QUICK FACTS

(Data reported as of May 9)

Active cases: 739 (up from 495 on May 1)

Community transmission: 38.47 per 100,000 (up from 36.77 per 100,000 on May 1)

*Note: The CDC lists Dutchess' community transmission at 213.45 per 100,000; the county dashboard apparently uses information provided by the NYS Dept. of Health on NEW reported cases to get the 38.47 number.

Hospitalizations due to COVID-19: 23 (up from 21 on May 1)

Hospitalizations of individuals with COVID-19: 8 (up from 7 on May 1)

Total deaths: 659 (up from 657 on May 1)

% population 18+ with at least one dose of vaccine: 85.71 (up from 85.6 on May 1)

% of total county population with at least one dose of vaccine: 77.3 (up from 77.21 on May 1)

% of total county population that has completed their vaccine series: 69.67 (up from 69.59 on May 1)

The county dashboard doesn't include data on boosters; however, according to the CDC, the percentage of the fully vaccinated population with a first booster dose in Dutchess is 52%, up from 51.9 on May 1.

Hudson Beach Gallery to present exhibition by Franc Palaia

From May 14 through June 5, Hudson Beach Gallery will present a major exhibition of Wall Works by the multi-disciplinary visual artist Franc Palaia.

As part of Palaia's ongoing 2015-2022 series, more than a dozen large-scale frescoes and photo sculptures will be installed to simulate a contemporary archeological site in the gallery.

Focusing on current Italian walls, this exhibit while photography-based incorporates an abundance of painting, collage, found objects, and mixed media. He transforms visual images culled from the walls of Rome and Naples specifically, into visually simulated 3D fragments of urban architectural masonry covered in colorful street art, graffiti, murals, posters, and other remnants of urban culture. Palaia often says, "walls are the drop cloths of society, whatever happens in a particular country, you can see it on their walls."

For 40 years Palaia, a Rome-Prize-winning artist, has been exploring the merging of painting, photography, sculpture, murals, and architecture influenced by his travels thru China, Italy, France, Berlin, Cuba, and the US. Palaia isolates and captures this in his life-sized wall works.

A full-color Catalogue Raisonné of the exhibition with a foreword by Anthony Haden-Guest will be available at the gallery.

To support emergency and breast cancer services, Northern Dutchess Hospital recently received $30,000 from Ruge's Subaru through the automaker's annual Share the Love campaign.

The donation will be used to enhance the hospital's ability to provide emergency medical care and launch a breast cancer survivorship program.

"Share the Love funds will help with expanding patient rooms in our emergency department, which means we can keep wait times short and provide more privacy," hospital President Denise George said.

"Survivorship is one of the most complicated parts of having cancer," said Dr. Lisa Curcio, a fellowship-trained breast surgeon, who sees patients in Rhinebeck and Kingston. "We're going to use some of these funds to support our cancer patients' well-being long after their last treatment."

During the December Share the Love campaign, anyone who purchases or leases a new Subaru can designate $250 to be given to a national charity or the dealer's local one of choice. Ruge's has selected Northern Dutchess Hospital as its hometown charity recipient for eight consecutive years, awarding $29,575 from this campaign and about $200,000 over time.

Lewis Ruge, whose father founded Ruge's Automotive, has been a member of the hospital's board of directors for 47 years and the hospital's foundation board for 38 years. His daughter and Ruge's CEO, Kristin Hutchins, is co-chairwoman of the foundation board. To learn more about Ruge's Automotive, visit rugesauto.com. Festival of the Arts set Saturday in Village of Wappingers Falls

By Kristine Coulter

Want to see thousands of pieces of art without traveling out of the local area? Stop by the annual Festival of the Arts by Wappingers Central School District students at Mesier Park in Wappingers Falls on May 14 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"I enjoy the sense of community. Whether it is family fun or other teachers from the district getting together and celebrating, especially now...any chance we get to get together is really special," said John Jay High School teacher Robyn Talbot. Talbot was working with one of her photography classes on May 4 getting their artwork prepared to be displayed.

"They chose their artwork [to be displayed]," said Talbot. She said she thinks it is important for them to choose the pieces the community will see.

"It's also interesting to see what they like best," Talbot remarked.

Nicholas, a senior at John Jay, shared one of the photos he will have on display during the festival. It was a photo he took when he was shoveling.

"This is my bus stop. It's super foggy," Nicholas said about another photo he chose. There were two mailboxes opposite each other. "It's like perfect. It just fades into nothing," he said about a portion of the photo.

Asked what he likes about the Festival, Nicholas replied, "That other people get to see my work."

Aidan, a senior at John Jay, said, about the Festival, "For one, it's fun. Second, it's a good experience with good people. Everyone is very welcoming and nice to each other and good work from schools all around."

Aidan will have a photo of Times Square in New York City at the event.

"I like the lights and the view. Really cool picture," said Aidan. It is called "City Lights."

Stop by Zion Episcopal Church that day, 12 Satterlee Place, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. for a tag sale.

"Zion holds its yearly tag sale (except during the pandemic) on the same day as the Festival of the Arts to support our Food Pantry and so that people may see our beautiful church," said Sue Shultis, with Zion Episcopal Church.

WCSD Superintendent Dr. Dwight Bonk said, "We look forward to displaying the exemplary work that our students have done this year in the Fine and Performing Arts."

Aidan said about art in schools, "I think it gives an outlet" for students. "No one doubts each other when it comes to art."

Rain date is May 15 from noon - 4 p.m.

John Jay High School teacher Robyn Talbot, right, instructs students, Kathleen, Christian and Jack, on how to complete their photography artwork for display in the upcoming Festival of the Arts on May 14. Working to keep the Hudson clean Twenty-five people showed up for the 11th annual sweep at the Riversweep Beacon Waterfront cleanup. Despite the impending forecast of rain, close to 400 pounds of trash was removed from the Beacon shorelines, according to an organizer. This year the Beacon Sloop Club hosted Megan Wolff, PH.D., MPH Policy Director from Beyond Plastics to give a talk with the volunteers prior to the cleanup. As this year was the club's first attempt to do a brand audit in documenting each piece of trash found at the shores of the waterfront, according to a member. A small sample of the many items clean up were candy wrappers, chip bags, plastic bottles and water bottles. The total number of items have not been totally tallied at this point. Riverkeeper's Comprehensive Data sheet and the Break Free From Plastic Brand Audit used the total tally of items are not complete at this time.

Reserve seats now for Adams, Jefferson living-history event at Mount Gulian in June

By Kristine Coulter

Prepaid reservations for the 26th annual History Dinner at Mount Gulian Historic Site are required by May 18. This year the living-history event will present two of the Founding Fathers – John Adams and Thomas Jefferson. The event takes place on June 4 from 4:30 to 9 p.m.

Peyton Dixon will portray John Adams, the second president of the United States. Jefferson, the country’s third president, will be portrayed by actor Steve Edenbo. Dixon and Edenbo are with the American Historical Theater, out of Philadelphia.

The two former president “have an interesting history – not only on their own but as friends,” said Elaine Hayes, Executive Director of Mount Gulian. Hayes said the on and off again friendship of Adams and Jefferson began with the Declaration of Independence.

During the event, a four-course meal will be served to attendees. The dinner will be based on colonial recipes. The Hudson River will be the backdrop for the cocktail hour portion of the evening.

The dinner, prepared by Bridgecreek Catering, will be served in Mount Gulian’s circa 1730s Dutch barn. Tickets are $175 per person.

“It’s (the dinner) our only fundraiser. The proceeds from this help to underwrite educational programs we offer,” Hayes remarked. She noted the event is “going to be a discussion, not a debate.” There will be a question and answer session.

“I like to see out guests and reactions to the actor or actors. It is educational. I’m always impressed with the questions that our guests ask. I like to hear the responses from the actors,” said Hayes.

There will also be a silent and live auction. Some of the items for auction are a weekend at a home in North Carolina, 12 restaurant gift certificates, and a bouquet of fresh flowers – for a year of fresh flowers.

It was noted that Adams and Jefferson died on the same day–July 4, 1826.

For an invitation and/or further information, call 845-831-8172, email at info@mountgulian.org or visit www.mountgulian.org.

Thomas Jefferson (portrayed by Steve Edenbo) and John Adams (played by Peyton Dixon) will be part of the annual living-history event at Mount Gulian Historic Site on June 4. Prepaid reservations are due May 18.

Kurt R. Groll

WAPPINGERS FALLS – Kurt Richard Groll, 86, an area resident for 68 years, passed away on January 13, 2022. He was the son of Max and Clara Groll of Wendlingen, Germany, born on May 15, 1935. As a young child growing up in WWII Germany, he learned to persevere and overcome adversity early on. In 1942, for example, 7-year-old Kurt was hit in the leg by a piece of shrapnel during an aerial assault in his neighborhood. When he turned 18, he emigrated to the United States, and served in the U.S.A.F. from 1955–59. While stationed in Tripoli, Libya in 1956, he spotted a girl and told his buddy, “I’m going to marry that girl.” His initial advance a week later was met with a request that he “Get lost.” Ouch. But he persisted despite the rebuff, and, on October 19, 1960, “the crazy German” did indeed marry the girl. Leila Groll remained the love of Kurt's life for the rest of their 61 years together. Kurt's diverse interests ranged from the adventurous – he was a pilot and raced his Porsche – to the arts and sciences. He loved to raise orchids, and even cross-pollinated an entirely new hybrid. In 1987, Howeara ‘Leila Groll’ was officially recognized by both the International Orchid Register and the American Orchid Society. Professionally, Kurt spent 35 years doing fuel research for Texaco, retiring as an engineering specialist in 1995. Kurt was predeceased by his brother Max. He is survived by his wife Leila, by their two sons Richard and Dieter, and by Richard's son Alex. A memorial service will be held on Saturday, May 14, 2022 at First Evangelical Lutheran Church, 325 Mill Street in Poughkeepsie. In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made in Kurt's name to the Tunnel to Towers Foundation, www.t2t.org. To send a personal condolence, please visit www.straubcatalanohalvey.com.

Sue Ann Redl

PLEASANT VALLEY – It is with deep sorrow that the daughters of Sue Ann Redl announce her peaceful passing at noon on May 5th, on a beautiful spring day surrounded by her adoring family. Missing her Herbie too much, she died of a broken heart. Sue Ann was born in Poughkeepsie NY on December 18, 1930 to William M. Cotter and Margaret {Sleight} Cotter. She was predeceased by her parents, her loving husband Herbert H. Redl, her brother Neil Cotter and wife Barbara, their daughter Alison Cotter, her most dear Aunt Ethel Cotter, as well as several brothers and sisters in laws including her favorite sister-in-law, Joanie. She is survived by her daughters Kim Redl- Lawrence {John}, Kelley Redl-Hardisty {Dave}, Kari Redl Daniels {Alan} and Kristi Redl Deasy {Jim}. She is also survived by her grandchildren Hans Hardisty {Amy}, Kiel Lawrence {Meghan} Ross Hardisty {Melissa}, Jason Daniels {Corrine}, Megan Riley {Ryan}, Kristen Daniels, and Jack and Libby Deasy, as well as her 9 great- grandchildren, William, Leo, Ryan, Brooke, Hudson, Ella, Lachlan, Finnegan, and Penelope. Sue is also survived by many nieces and nephews.

Sue cherished her days at Arlington High School as a cheer leader where she met her future husband, Herbie, while cheering him on during those memorable times. Later they would marry and settle in Pleasant Valley NY, where together they raised 4 daughters. While building a warm and loving home, Sue also loved her time volunteering at the Vassar Hospital Mothers Club where she met so many lifelong friends. Sue was quick witted and friendly and at times a bit too direct, but take it or leave it, that was Sue, there was no mincing her words. She was famous for her delicious spaghetti sauce {not gravy} that she would cook on hot summer nights served with her famous ice tea and dished up with the air conditioning turned down so low the windows fogged! She will not however, be forgiven for the fish sticks she served every Friday during lent! Sue also referred to herself as a taxi cab driver, forever driving her children to endless dance lessons, but mostly riding lessons and horse shows where we enjoyed countless weekends as a family and her special birthday celebrations at the Dutchess County Fair. But many of her favorite memories were of she and Dad dancing endless Saturday nights away while she relished singing a song or two with Nick Beni.

Petite in stature, but larger than life, Sue will be remembered with her husband Herb for their generous philanthropic support of the community, including Marist College where she and dad were the recipients of the Marist College Presidents Award for Community Service because of their commitment and support of the college. They also recently donated a treatment room to the Nuvance Emergency Center at Vassar Brothers Hospital. But her most precious endeavor is the establishment of the Herb and Sue Ann Redl Center for Cancer Care at the Westchester Mid-Hudson Regional Hospital which proudly bares their names. Sue and Herb's legacy will live on through the establishment of the Herb Redl Family Foundation which meant so much to both of them.

Special thanks must be given to Hospice of the Hudson Valley and her ever loyal and loving caregivers, Joan, Aimee, Bylinda, Debbie and Kerry Anne. All these women are greatly admired by us for their kindness, patience and professionalism. In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made to the Hudson Valley Hospice Foundation, 80 Washington Street, Poughkeepsie NY, 12601, or to the Herb and Sue Redl Center for Cancer Care, payable to Westchester Medical Center Foundation, Mid-Hudson Regional Hospital, 241 North Road, 5th floor-The Atrium, Poughkeepsie NY 12601. Arrangements are being handled under the care and direction of our dear friend Vinnie Miller, at the Wm. G. Miller & Son Funeral Home Inc., 371 Hooker Ave., Poughkeepsie NY 12603. Visitation will be Wednesday, May 11, 2022, 1-3PM in the Funeral Home. Services will follow at 3PM in the Funeral Home. Entombment will follow in the family mausoleum is St. Peter's Cemetery. If you wish to send an online condolence visit our website at www.wmgmillerfuneralhome.com.

We will miss Sue Ann, {Mom} but find solitude in knowing you are again with her loving Herbie, {Dad} he enjoying a martini and she a glass of wine and dancing another dance to “It had To Be You.” Rest In Peace Mom! You lived a wonderful life and made a difference!

SUPREME COURT : COUNTY OF DUTCHESS

In the Matter of the Foreclosure of Tax Liens by Proceeding In Rem Pursuant to Article Eleven of the Real Property Tax Law by
DUTCHESS COUNTY

PETITION AND NOTICE
OF FORECLOSURE

Index No. 2020-53604

The above-captioned proceeding is hereby commenced to enforce the payment of delinquent taxes or other lawful charges which have accumulated and become liens against certain property. The parcels to which this proceeding applies are identified on Schedule "A" of this Petition, which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof. This document serves both as a Petition of Foreclosure and a Notice of Foreclosure for purposes of this proceeding.

Effect of Filing: All persons having or claiming to have an interest in the real property described in this petition are hereby notified that the filing of this petition constitutes the commencement by the Tax District of a proceeding in the court specified in the caption above to foreclose each of the tax liens described by a foreclosure proceeding in rem.

Nature of Proceeding: This proceeding is brought against the real property only and is to foreclose the tax liens described in this petition. No personal judgment will be entered herein for such taxes or other legal charges or any part thereof.

Persons Affected: This notice is directed to all persons owning or having or claiming to have an interest in the real property described in this petition. Such persons are hereby further notified that a duplicate of this petition has been filed in the office of the Commissioner of Finance, the Enforcing Officer of the Tax District, and will remain open for public inspection up to and including the date specified below as the last day for redemption.

Right of Redemption: Any person having or claiming to have an interest in any such real property and the legal right thereto may on or before said date, redeem the same by paying the amount of all such unpaid tax liens thereon, including all interest and penalties and other legal charges which are included in the lien against such real property, computed to and including the date of redemption. Such payments shall be made to the Dutchess County Commissioner of Finance, 22 Market Street, Poughkeepsie, NY 12601. In the event that such taxes are paid by a person other than the record owner of such real property, the person so paying shall be entitled to have the tax liens affected thereby satisfied of record.

LAST DAY FOR REDEMPTION: THE LAST DAY FOR REDEMPTION IS HEREBY FIXED AS JULY 29, 2022.

Service of Answer: Every person having any right, title or interest in or lien upon any parcel of real property described in this petition may serve a duly verified answer upon the attorney for the Tax District setting forth in detail the nature and amount of his or her interest and any defense or objection to the foreclosure. Such answer must be filed in the Office of the County Clerk and served upon the attorney for the Tax District on or before the date above mentioned as the last day for redemption.

Failure to Redeem or Answer: In the event of failure to redeem or answer by any person having the right to redeem or answer, such person shall be forever barred and foreclosed of all of his or her right, title and interest and equity of redemption in and to the parcel described in this petition and a judgment in foreclosure may be taken by default.
