MEMORIAL DAY 2022

Remembering those who made the ultimate sacrifice

By Kristine Coulter

Memorial Day gives one time to reflect on the sacrifices made by veterans who made the ultimate sacrifice. It is also a time to remember the Gold Star Families and what they have sacrificed for this country.

"Memorial Day is important to all of us because we all make sacrifices, but some more than others. And we all need to be cognizant of that," remarked Kevin Hathorn, president of the Wappinger Town Veterans Advisory Group.

Hathorn served in the U.S. Navy from Jan. 1968 to April 1972. He was in the Aviation Navy, in VA37 attached to the USS Saratoga, aircraft carrier.

"I was a plane captain, reaching the rank of E5," said Hathorn. He noted that the Wappinger Veterans Advisory Group is celebrating the day with the Town of Wappinger family at Schlathaus Park.

"Memorial Day is important for the community to gather to remember the ultimate sacrifices made by our Veterans and not to celebrate the 'Memorial Day Sales Event.' Veterans take an oath to protect and serve our great Country from all her enemies whomsoever. The oath sometimes means giving one's life to ensure that freedom," remarked Harold Delamater, commander of the VFW Post 666 in Beacon.

Delamater stated, "I proudly served in the United States Marine Corps from 1970-1974 and was stationed in Nam

Hathorn remarked, "Not only younger generations, but older Americans need to understand the meaning of the word "sacrifice" when a person agrees to defend our country whenever told to." He will be reading the names of veterans buried in the Town of Wappinger cemeteries during the Ceremony at Schlathaus.

Honoring those who made the ultimate sacrifice

VFW Post 666 will join with the American Legion Post 203, Marine Corps League Det 861, Nam Knights MC and Guardian Revival on Monday, May 30 for Memorial Day services. The first service will be 10 a.m. at the E. Main St bridge to honor service members lost at sea. There will then be a ceremony at 11 a.m. at the Veterans Memorial Building, 413 Main St. in Beacon.

"The younger generations sometimes have a relative or friend serving in the Armed Forces both past or present. We try to make the conversation personal and tell folks exactly what the service person's job entails and what it is like to travel the world at the government's expense. Depending on the person's age we will show photos and personal gear of service members. We stress the sacrifices made and the rewards gleaned – freedom," said Delamater.

"This Memorial Day I will remember the air crews lost (KIA/MIA) while flying combat missions from the Rose Garden during the Vietnam War. They are never forgotten," said Delamater.

Dutchess to participate in statewide STOP-DWI Memorial Day crackdown

Dutchess County Executive Marc Molinaro announced police agencies throughout Dutchess County will participate in a special enforcement effort to crack down on impaired driving during Memorial Day weekend. The special enforcement began on Friday, May 27, and will conclude on Tuesday, May 31. The Dutchess County Sheriff's Office, New York State Police and municipal law enforcement agencies will join agencies across the state and will be out in force in this coordinated effort to aggressively target those who put lives in danger.

Research shows high visibility community engagement campaigns can reduce impaired driving fatalities by as much as 20 percent. Sobriety checkpoints play a key part in raising awareness about the problem. Law enforcement agencies throughout Dutchess County and the state will be out in force in this coordinated effort to reduce the number of alcohol-related injuries and deaths.

The Memorial Day crackdown is one of many statewide high visibility community engagement campaigns promoted by the New York State STOP-DWI Association. The statewide STOP-DWI engagement campaigns also target Labor Day, the Super Bowl, St. Patrick's Day, Halloween, Thanksgiving and the national holiday season in December.

While STOP-DWI efforts across New York have led to significant reductions in the numbers of alcohol and drug related fatalities, still too many lives are being lost because of crashes caused by drunk or impaired drivers. Highly visible, highly publicized efforts like the STOP-DWI High Visibility Community Engagement Campaign aim to further reduce the incidence of drunk and impaired driving.

Drivers can help to make a difference by having a sober plan! Motorists can download the mobile app, "Have a Plan," and be able to find a safe ride home www.stopdwi.org/mobileapp.

Contest to design T-shirt to commemorate 150th anniversary of Howland Public Library

By Kristine Coulter

The Howland Public Library is celebrating its 150th anniversary this year. For the celebration, the staff at the library is holding a T-shirt contest. Library staff are asking youth, ages 5 – 18, to help celebrate this historic milestone by designing an anniversary T-shirt in celebration of the library. Entry forms can be found at the Youth Services Desk. The deadline for entries is Friday, June 3.

"We wanted to give young people in the community a chance to really be a part of the celebration. We thought giving them an opportunity to submit artwork for the design would be a fun way for them to share their voice and creativity. And who doesn't love a free T-shirt?" Michelle Rivas, Howland Public Library, commented.

The library officially turns 150, said Rivas, on "August 5th at 5 p.m."

"We thought having community members share their vision of the library with us would be a great way to emphasize that the library belongs to everyone. It's also a fun way to remind people of the library's long history in the community," she said.

One design will be chosen by a committee of library staff members, according to Rivas.

"With all of the talented youth we have in our community I am very much looking forward to seeing all of the entries," remarked Kristen Salierno, director of the Howland Public Library.

People will be able to get a T-shirt at the library on Aug. 5, said Rivas. More specifics details about getting a T-shirt will come as the date gets closer.

"The Library, the Howland Cultural Center and the Beacon Historical Society are coordinating on a calendar of events for all ages. Some of the library's plans include the Celebration Story Time, a studio visit to Beacon Tintype for teens to learn about photography techniques that existed in 1872, and both art and historical exhibits. More details about our plans will be coming soon," mentioned Rivas.

Salierno said, "We hope the community will enjoy celebrating this wonderful milestone in Howland Library history with us."

The library is at 313 Main St. in Beacon.

A contest is being held to design a T-shirt to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the Howland Public Library. Entries are due June 3.

Thank you to BCSD teachers

To the Editor:

There is a week each year officially designated to honor teachers and school staff. During this week, we recognize the lasting contribution teachers and school staff make to the lives of our children and their families. Eleanor Roosevelt introduced to Congress the idea of a day to appreciate teachers in 1953, and in 1985 "Teacher Appreciation" was officially extended to the first full week in May.

Even with national recognition and the extension from a single day to a whole week, it hardly seems enough in any year, yet alone the past two years, considering the demands delivered by disease and difficult situations. The Beacon High School PTSO (Parent Teacher Student Organization) is grateful to the teachers and staff who have innovated and adjusted above and beyond throughout these past two challenging years. We support you and we thank you for all you have done.

On May 5, the BHS PTSO organized a luncheon in honor of our educators, with in-kind support from local businesses. Thank you for your care in our community: Adams Fairacre Farms, Bazodee Street Food, Glazed Over Donuts, Hannaford's, Key Food, Sam's Club, Trax Coffee Roasters and The Yankee Clipper.

"It takes a village to raise a child" is an African proverb that translates in spirit to mean an entire community of people must interact with children for them to grow in a safe and healthy environment. Every day, our children experience these words in action in the hallways, the classrooms, the buses, the art studio, the cafeteria and gathering spaces, the sports fields, and onstage. Beyond the school building, our "village" of Beacon is also responsible for the safety, health and positive growth of our young citizens. Thank you to all who recognize this and strive to help make our community supportive of our children's education and well-being. But especially to the teachers and staff in the Beacon City School District who go beyond by taking more time to review an especially difficult concept with an individual student, address a parent's concerns,

DISPATCHES FROM THE VFW

Veteran biker events coming up in June

The weather is certainly turning warmer, and it feels like summer is right around the corner, doesn't it? That means we will see a lot more motorcycles on the roads, especially on the weekends. I'm a biker myself, and I know the unique pleasure of getting out on the open road for the first time in a season.

Did you know motorcycle culture in the United States was actually started by veterans? It's true. After World War II ended, thousands of surplus military bikes were shipped back home from Europe. Veterans returning from war took these surplus bikes — some complete, some needing parts — and started their own motorcycle clubs across America, creating custom bikes from all the surplus spare parts available. These clubs came up with colorful names that mimicked the names of different fighter squadrons that became infamous during the war; for example, in 1948, a veteran named Otto Friedli started a club in Fontana, California called the Hell's Angels, whom you may have heard of.

These clubs started out as a way for war veterans to stay connected and share their experiences with other veterans. Of course, since those early days, motorcycle clubs have sometimes been given a nasty reputation, thanks to movies and TV. But thankfully, there are many veteran motorcycle outfits that serve as positive forces in their communities, including right here in the Hudson Valley. Local veteran motorcycle clubs like the Buffalo

Soldiers MC, Peacekeepers MC, American Cruisers MC and others do so much for our communities, even though we might not see it.

Here's a couple of upcoming veteran biker events right here in Dutchess County you might want to check out.

On Saturday, June 4, my friend Commander Maddie and her crew at the Dover Plains VFW is sponsoring a poker run, with all proceeds benefiting the Post. Kickstands go up at 10am! It's only $20 per bike and that includes a BBQ dinner, live music, and raffles after the run. The Dover Plains VFW is located right on Route 22. For more information, call the Post at (845) 877-6300 or check out their Facebook page.

And on the following Saturday, June 11, the Red Hook VFW along with Peacekeepers MC and American Cruisers MC are sponsoring their Run For A Vet Battling Cancer, which will start at the Red Hook VFW on 30 Elizabeth Street in Red Hook at 10:30am. There's a $20 per biker and $10 per passenger suggested donation, and afterwards around 1pm there will be a BBQ dinner with live music back at the Post. It's a great time for a great cause. For more information, you can call my friend Commander Brian at the Red Hook VFW at (845) 758-6212.

If you are a biker, you will definitely want to check out these upcoming events. But even if you are not, you might want to support one of these events anyway and enjoy some great barbecue and music and get to know these veterans who, like those World War II veterans back in the day, stay connected with their fellow vets through motorcycle clubs. It's an American tradition, for sure.

Well, it's a beautiful day outside as I type this latest Dispatch, so it's probably time for me to find my helmet and get out on the open road myself. Let's take special care this summer to look out for all bikers while we are driving, because often they are hidden when we check our mirrors.

Thank you for listening! We'll see you next time!

A Navy veteran, Tom Zurhellen has been Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) in Poughkeepsie for the past three years. In the summer of 2019, he walked across America from Portland, Oregon, to Poughkeepsie to raise awareness on veteran suicide and veteran homelessness in our country. He continues to work with local veterans in need through the VetZero Project, in partnership with Hudson River Housing.

Residents encouraged to complete Community Health Assessment

The Dutchess County Department of Behavioral and Community Health (DBCH), alongside six other area health departments and Siena College, have launched the 2022 Community Health Assessment, a survey aimed at residents ages 18 and older, to better understand the health status and health-related values of people who live in the community.

The survey helps formulate the Community Health Improvement Plan (CHIP). The survey is available now through June 11th and is available in both English and Spanish can be accessed by visiting tinyurl.com/hvscr.

The anonymous survey includes questions about residents' health and their interaction within their community, the ability to access care, major risk factors and causes of illness, and ideas on how to build upon, or improve, health service delivery. It also seeks information on the impact of COVID-19 and its impact on those living in Dutchess County.

DBCH Commissioner Livia Santiago-Rosado, MD, FACEP, said,

"We encourage all residents to take this survey, as the feedback we receive will help shape how we provide health services in the future. Our mission is to make care in all facets of health accessible and applicable to those who need it. Hearing directly from the community helps us provide quality care to all."

Community Health Assessments are undertaken every three years under the direction of the New York State Department of Health, prior to counties setting their respective Community Health Improvement Plans. DBCH will use the survey results to create its community service agenda for the next three years. For more information on CHIP visit, Community Health Improvement Plan \(dutchessny.gov\).

ROUNDUP

Renegades drop series-ending doubleheader

By Rich Thomaselli

The Hudson Valley Renegades were swept by the Brooklyn Cyclones in a Sunday afternoon doubleheader at Maimonides Park, losing the opener 5-4 and the nightcap 3-1.

The Renegades are now 17-21 overall. Brooklyn blasted a pair of solo homers against Hudson Valley starter T.J. Sikkema to jump in front in Game 1. Shervyen Newton went deep in the first and Jose Peroza left the park in the second to make it 2-0 Cyclones.

Sikkema (0-1) lasted 2.2 innings, allowing two runs on two hits, striking out three and walking one.

In the bottom of the third, Jose Mena slammed a two-run single off Alex Mauricio to extend the Brooklyn lead to 4-0. The following frame, Jaylen Palmer launched a solo homer to left and plunged the lead to 5-0.

The Renegades responded in the bottom of the fifth against Cyclones starter Junior Santos (1-4). With two outs and two on, Pat DeMarco found the right-center field gap for a two-run double to trim the deficit to 5-2.

In the top of the sixth, Hudson Valley loaded the bases against Justin Courtney.

Aldenis Sanchez stepped to the plate with two outs and laced a two-run single off Grant Hartwig to pull the Renegades within one at 5-4.

Hartwig bounced back and earned his first save, recording the final four outs, including two strikeouts in the seventh, to close out Game 1 for Brooklyn.

In Game 2, Renegades starter Blas Castaño and Cyclones starter Nolan Clenney traded nine-up, nine-down starts before Hudson Valley jumped in front in the fourth.

Everson Pereira tripled and came home on a Cooper Bowman groundout to give the Renegades a 1-0 lead.

Brooklyn responded in the bottom of the fourth on a Newton solo homer down the right field line to level the score at one.

The Cyclones broke ahead in the bottom of the fifth on Palmer's third home run of the series, a towering two-run shot to left to make it 3-1 Brooklyn.

Castaño (0-4) fired six innings in a complete-game loss, allowing three runs on four hits, striking out eight and walking none. It was the first complete game thrown by the Renegades this season.

Everson Pereira tripled and came home on a Cooper Bowman groundout to give the Renegades a 1-0 lead in the second game of a doubleheader on Sunday.

Clenney (2-2) tossed five innings, allowing one run on one hit, striking out eight and walking none. Hunter Parsons earned a six-out save and shut the door for Brooklyn.

Hudson Valley was set to welcome the Rome Braves for a six-game series this week.

GLINER'S KORNER!

An inside look at the variety of staff duties

Every week, Hudson Valley Renegades President Steve Gliner sits down with reporter Rich Thomaselli to discuss the team in particular, and minor league baseball in general.

Steve, are there any issues that you find yourself and the staff needing to address – from a team perspective or even minor league baseball as a whole – when the team goes on the road?

That's a great question. Let's put it this way – even on days when we don't have a home game, from the time I get in until the time I leave, there are some days I don't even go for lunch. To narrow it down, when the team goes on the road it's a lot of catch-up on things that just don't get attended to on game days.

For instance, we have surveys from Major League Baseball that they hit us with that we have to fill out and get back to them. There are a lot of emails, a lot of ticket requests. We have to get information out to the visiting team and the umpiring crew who are coming in for the next homestand. We're looking at marketing strategies and how we can improve and how we can promote the team. For instance, we're starting a big billboard campaign this week. An off-day at the Stadium is when I'm home before 7 o'clock. If we don't have a game at night and I'm home for dinner, that's a triumph (laughs). There's just a lot of moving parts.

So I'm guessing that makes Michelle (Steve's wife) a saint then.

(Laughs) Oh gosh. And you know the interesting things is, she's a teacher, so our schedules are really opposite. She's off during the summer and I work nights. But she loves to be around people so she actually comes to Dutchess Stadium and works the beer garden on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays. Plus the kids are grown now and adults, so it's a little easier from that standpoint as well. She's been incredibly supportive over the years of my career. It's not easy when you work the large number of hours that we do. When I did spring training in Fort Myers (with the Minnesota Twins) and then a full season of minor league baseball right after that, we did that for 13 years when the kids were younger. I'm very lucky that my family has been so supportive of my career.

Especially during the week when the team is on the road, does the staff still meet on a regular basis to discuss what went right and what needs to be addressed?

Oh yeah, we actually circle back quite often. We do production meetings every Tuesday and Friday for homestands. We use that as an opportunity to say we need to pay more attention to this or that. It's not criticism, because our staff is amazing. It's more of a reminder than anything of here's what's important to stay ahead of. We also do nightly production meetings with video staff, with game-day staff. There's a lot of gears spinning and it's important to know what's coming. It's important to communicate. I think most people would be incredibly surprised at how many moving parts there are with our operation. Some people think we show up a month before the season and just open the gates. You have to be prepared for what's ahead because it comes at you fast.

And you have the people in place for that, I assume?

Oh, we increased our front office staff from eight last year to 19 this year. Honestly, I'm not sure how we made it through last year with just eight. We are really staffed up to where we should be now. From a game-day perspective, food and beverage alone is 100 employees. Not all 100 are on duty every single game but there's 100 on the roster to work. Then you have ushers, ticket takers, parking attendants, and there's about 60 on that roster. We're pushing close to 200 employees combined between fulltime and part-time. There are a lot of different departments that have to be covered and covered properly.

Mementos from Ground Observer Corps in Fishkill

One of the observation posts for the Ground Observer Corps (GOC) was on the Village of Fishkill and Town of Fishkill border.

According to the groundobserver corps.com, "While the Ground Observer Corps officially started in 1951, the Air Force began running test operations in 1950s." The Ground Observer Corps was the local contact for any UFO reports and other unusual activity, according to the site. They worked with the Air Force's 4602nd squadron to locate downed aircraft and other unidentified aircraft, it states.

"They had binoculars, little pictures of every plane to identify them and a hotline phone to some government location," recalled Town of Fishkill Deputy Supervisor Hal Brilliant. "A lot of volunteers signed up to do their duty." Brilliant recalled his grandmother, Lenore Hay, taking him there.

According to groundobserver corps.com, "[T]he Air Force launched Operation Skywatch to expand the program and get more recruits. An integral part of civil defense, the GOC comprised of an estimated 800,000 members who volunteered for shifts at local observation posts and filter centers that tracked aircraft reports."

Diversions

SUDOKU

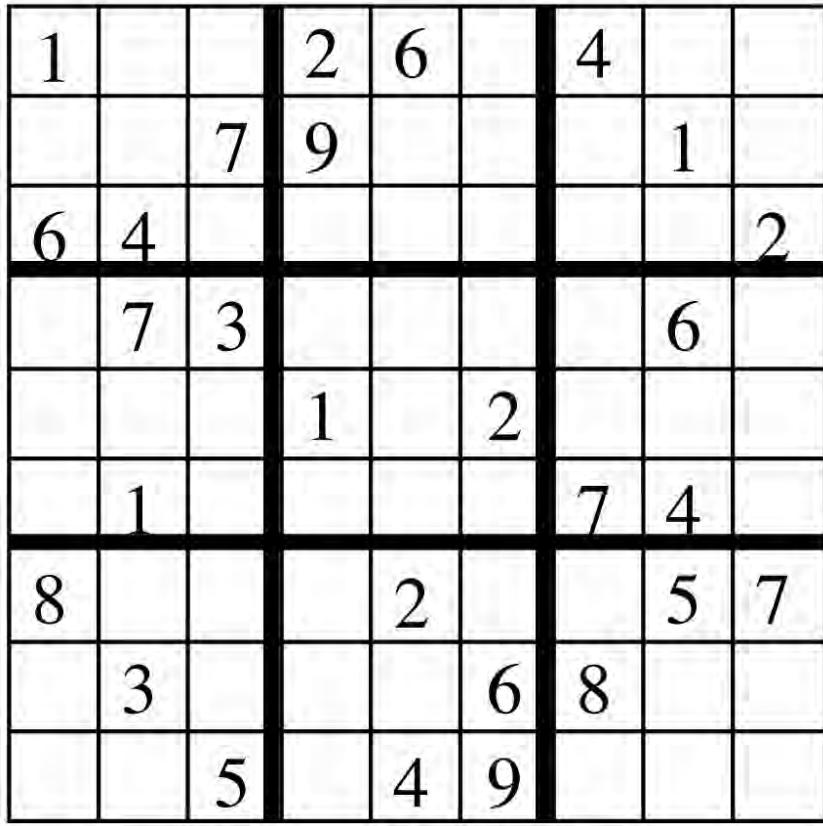

Sudoku requires no arithmetic skills.

The object of the game is to fill all the blank squares with the correct numbers.

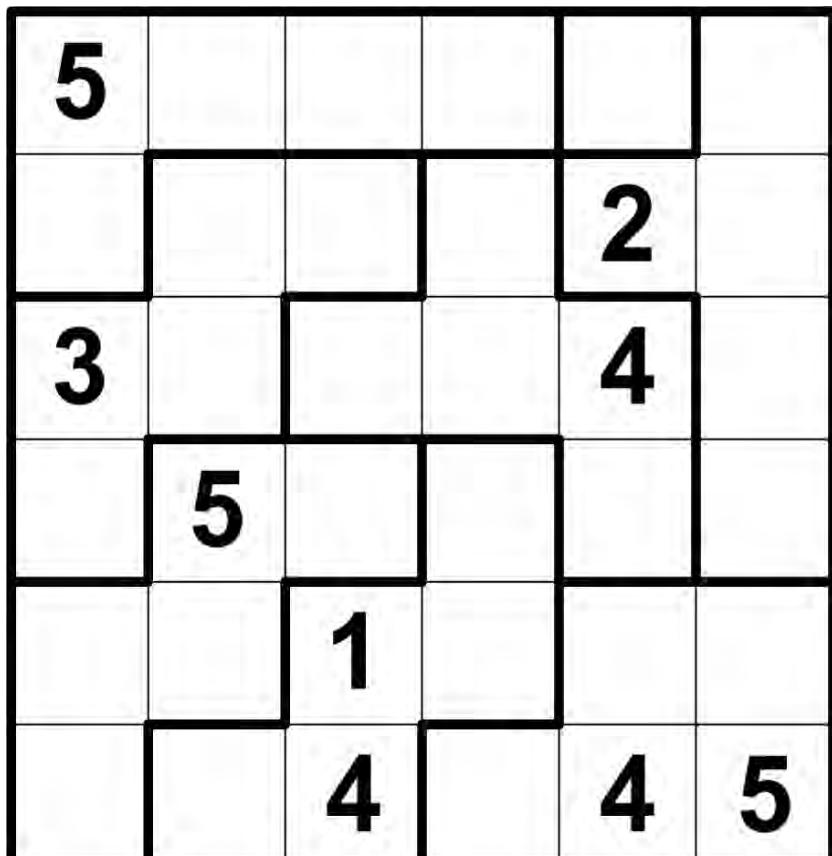

Each row of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order.

Each column of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order.

Each 3 by 3 subsection of the 9 by 9 square must include all digits 1 through 9.

Suguru

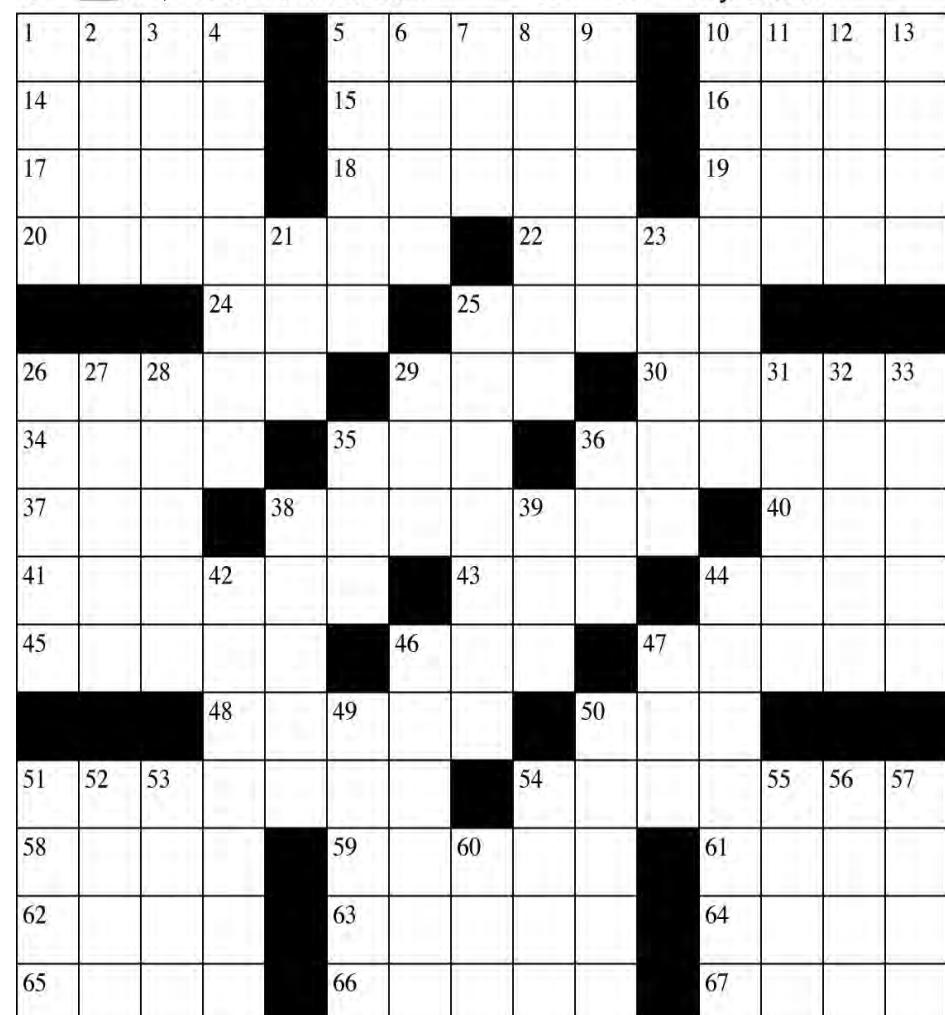

The heavy lines indicate areas, called cages, from one to five squares in size. Fill each cage with unique digits, counting up from 1. So for example a 2-square cage contains the numbers 1 and 2; and a 5-square cage contains the numbers from 1 to 5. Adjacent (touching) squares, even ones that touch diagonally, may never contain the same number.

Ulster Savings Bank installs electronic vehicle solar charging station in Kingston Ulster Savings Bank recently installed an electronic vehicle solar charging station at its main headquarters in Kingston. This initiative is part of the bank's commitment to lessening their impact on the environment by incorporating sustainable and green business practices.

Recently, the bank held a ribbon-cutting to celebrate the launch of the charging station along with the Ulster County Regional Chamber of Commerce. Kingston Mayor Steve Nobel and other community members attended, along with bank team members.

Bill Calderara, President and CEO of Ulster Savings Bank, was on hand for the ceremony. "Community is a big part of Ulster Savings for 171 years and improving our environment is an extension of that. The EV solar charging station is just part of our overall commitment to improving our environment to benefit our stakeholders who are our customers, community, and our colleagues."

The charging station can accommodate six cars and has a 20' x 70' solar carport to protect vehicles. It's lit with LED lights that are powered by 50 solar panels on its canopy. The solar canopy produces 20,000 KWH and has its own electric meter. An app alerts users when their car is fully charged. The bank will be offering one hour free charge to the public.

The project was designed and manufactured by Tom Kacandes of Inside Track Solar. The company, from Highland, NY specializes in solar panels that are pre-assembled off-site. It was installed by Jaffer Electric, Inc. of Kingston.

Other green projects in the works is an additional EV solar charging station for employees at the main headquarters in Kingston and one for their New Paltz location. Last year, the bank installed solar panels at its Red Hook and New Paltz branches and this year will be
