‘Cider Donuts’ gain key victories over Aberdeen, keep division lead

By Rich Thomaselli

After four losses in the first four games of the series to Aberdeen, the Hudson Valley Renegades came through with key wins on Saturday and Sunday to keep their division lead.

A go-ahead single by Eduardo Torrealba in the bottom of the eighth lifted the Hudson Valley Renegades to a 3-2 victory over the Aberdeen IronBirds on Saturday night at Heritage Financial Park.

The win snapped a season-long four-game losing streak for Hudson Valley, who played as their alternate identity, the Cider Donuts, honoring the long fall tradition of Apple farms in the Hudson Valley.

On Sunday, Drew Thorpe turned in the best start of the season for the Hudson Valley Renegades as the team blanked the Aberdeen IronBirds 9-0 in a one-hitter at Heritage Financial Park.

Thorpe (4-1) dazzled all afternoon, allowing just one hit and two walks while striking out seven in his eight innings of work. The New York Yankees’ No. 6 prospect became the first Renegades starter to pitch into the eighth inning this season and just the second ‘Gades pitcher to throw 8.0 shutout innings in the Portal Era (2005-Present). His lone hit allowed was a single to Creed Willems leading off the top of the second.

The Renegades have a 29-22 record and are still in first place in the North Division of the High Class A South Atlantic League. Jersey Shore is a single game in second place. Hudson Valley travels to Jersey Shore for a key six-game series this week. The series started on Tuesday.

Home was not sweet for the Renegades initially, who came back to the ballpark and promptly lost each game against Aberdeen to start the six-game series, including a 2-1 defeat on Friday.

Pitching dominated again a day later on Saturday night.

Chase Hampton was brilliant in the start for Hudson Valley, throwing 7.0 innings and allowing two runs on three hits while striking out 10. It was the third start this season that Hampton struck out 10 batters, and his second straight.

Aberdeen struck in the top of the second in an unconventional way, when Jacob Teter bounced into an inning-ending double play with the bases loaded on a groundball to first. Rafael Flores stepped on the bag and threw to second to end the inning with a double play. The tag, which completed the doubleplay came after Creed Willems touched

Food vendors to comply with service ware guidelines at upcoming Strawberry Festival

Annual event set for June 11

By Kristine Coulter

The first of the Beacon Sloop Club’s annual festivals will begin on June 11 with the Strawberry Festival. The Hudson River will serve as the backdrop to the festival at the Pete & Toshi Seeger Riverfront Park, near the MetroNorth Train Station, off Beekman Road, in Beacon.

Sustainability will also be on the day’s agenda.

The Beacon Sloop Club has always purchased compostable service ware for all its festivals, said Joyce Hanson, with BSC. “This year we are requiring all food vendors to comply with the City of Beacon guidelines in ordering their service ware. All food scraps, certified BPI (Biodegradable Products Institute) dish ware and cutlery are accepted. All this waste will be diverted from the landfill and brought to a facility that will turn it into compost. The BPI Certification process is rigorous and ensures that items can be cycled back into the soil safely at a commercial composting facility. Our volunteers will assist patrons on disposing their bowls and other items in the appropriate bins throughout the day,” she said.

Hanson continued, “We also requested our vendors to sell soda to be purchased in cans rather than in a plastic bottle. These are very small steps in reducing the plastic waste in a goal towards sustainability.”

The day will be fun filled for children and adults alike.

“We have lots of booths for children and adults. Cornell Cooperative Extension booth will be “Come Grow With Us! Seed Babies.”

“They will have potting stations set up to teach children how to pot up a little marigold seed, how to take care of the pot and seedling as it grows, and what to do for planting it. They will also provide a “Ask a Master Gardener” table for anyone who may have questions. Compass Arts will also have a booth with sensory activities for children. Vincent’s Eat Paint Love will participate as a vendor [making] crafts for all ages,” noted Hanson.

IDA approves financial incentives for Mirbeau Beacon

By Kristine Coulter

The Dutchess County IDA (Industrial Development Agency) approved three financial incentives for the Mirbeau of Beacon LLC project, which is slated to be on the former site of the psychiatric center known as Craig House.

The three financial incentives, said Sarah Lee, CEO of Think Dutchess and Executive Director of Dutchess County, are “Sales Tax exemptions for construction materials, a partial mortgage tax exemption (we cannot exempt the MTA portion), and a Payment of Lieu of Taxes.”

Asked why the IDA board approve a payment-in-lieu of taxes plan, mortgage tax exemption and sales tax exemption, Lee explained, “The site has remained vacant for the past 20 years and is currently assessed at $3,000,000 and generates approximately $96,000 in property taxes.” She continued, “Once construction is completed the property will be improved upon and assessed at a significantly higher amount, right now estimated at $25,000,000. At that assessment, the project may generate an estimated total of $5.6 million in PILOT payments over the 15 years. PILOT payments will increase as the percentage abated gets reduced over time and once the PILOT has ended the property will pay full assessed taxes.” Special districts like a library district is exempt from PILOTs so they will be paying full assessed taxes on any special districts that may exist, noted Lee.

Mayor Lee Kyriacou remarked, “Mirbeau will be another transformative venue for Beacon, like Dia was 20 years ago.”

Lee said this project is estimated to generate more than $1.8 million in sales tax, not including bed taxes over the term of the agreement.

“In addition, once construction is completed the project will be required to hire and maintain 100 FTES during the period it receives IDA benefits. The project is also estimated to create 300 construction jobs during the period of construction,” she said.

Lee also noted, “Tourism is a priority industry for Dutchess County and the construction of a new hotel/resort offering is consistent with Dutchess Tourism’s needs analysis for additional overnight accommodations, especially those with amenities such as spas, conference/event space and full service accommodations.”

Regarding the project, Lee added: “The project has the support of the community and consent for the deviated PILOT from City of Beacon and the School District. In addition to the PILOT Environmental Tent will provide hands-on science with children and their parents, explaining how macro invertebrates can show us how healthy our waters are for supporting a healthy fishery and clean water. We will also have information about the current state of the Hudson River, plus information about continued threats to the environment, and also new efforts, studies, and products that we all can employ and use to improve the environment in our Hudson Valley.”

Hanson explained, “The Strawberry Festival allows us to bringing families and people to the riverfront to enjoy the outdoors and share live music, storytelling, and performances and activities for all ages. We have an amazing lineup of entertainment throughout the day of musicians, storytellers all performing for free at all our festivals.”

According to Hanson, the lineup includes, Arm of the Sea, Beacon High School Chorus, Beacon Songsmiths, Bindlestick Bill, Cosby Gibson, Ken Miller, April Mae & The June Bugs, Jonathan Kruk, Judith Tulloch, Restless Wanderer, Trouble Sisters, Rob May, Spook Handy, Patrick Stanfield Jones with Laurie Siegel & Joe, Boggess.

“This is all free! There is no charge to come to our Strawberry Festival--although of course, we hope once you are there you purchase a strawberry shortcake,” remarked Hanson.

“A huge joy is hearing from people and listen to their stories and sweet memories of this festival,” said Hanson. “I have a volunteer whose mother was the past president long ago and now her granddaughter will be volunteering at our festival.”

Organizers can still use volunteer help. Volunteers are needed to set up the tent on Saturday morning, hanging up signs, setting up the chairs and tables, hulling the strawberries on Sunday, whipping the cream, serving the shortcake, making smoothies, making sure that our patrons properly dispose of their waste in the appropriate bin, said Hanson.

“We have close to 2000 [attendees] on a beautiful day. And, of course a huge thank you to all the performers the Beacon community and businesses. We are ever grateful to owner Simone Williams and All You Knead Bakery, The Yard, NYS Music and Ryder Truck Rentals, Key Food and of course to Beacon Free Press. Four new pickleball courts now open at Quiet Cove in Poughkeepsie

Dutchess County Parks has added four new Pickleball Courts to the amenities at Quiet Cove Riverfront Park in the Town of Poughkeepsie! Novices and enthusiasts alike are invited to come play this fun, accessible sport that is rapidly growing in popularity across the nation. The courts are available daily for public use during park hours.

Dutchess County Executive William F.X. O’Neil joined fans, residents, and local elected officials to celebrate the new courts with a ribbon cutting ceremony and a few friendly games on May 30. He was joined by Dutchess County Public Works Deputy Commissioner David Whalen and several members of the Dutchess County Parks Team. Linda Cooper, Regional Director with New York State Parks, was on hand for the celebration as Quiet Cove is a collaborative partnership between New York State and Dutchess County — the County has leased and maintained the property as a public park for more than 20 years.

Dutchess County Parks is now an official member of USA Pickleball

Association (USAPA). USAPA volunteer ambassador, Jayne McLaughlin, spoke about the increasing popularity of the sport for people of all ages, with young people being the fastest growing demographic. Pickleball is easy to learn, inexpensive and very social.

The four new pickleball courts and adjacent parking lot were constructed on the upper portion of the park, near the entrance off Route 9. The courts include an adaptive court, with wider margins to allow for greater maneuverability for players using wheelchairs. An adjacent gazebo is available for spectators to enjoy the games in shaded comfort alongside waiting players who can wait “in line” thanks to the first-come, first-served paddle place holder installed near the courts.

County Executive O’Neil noted the County’s Office for the Aging will be working to create clinics and lessons for seniors to learn the sport. Dutchess County Parks will also work in coordination with USAPA for youth opportunities and future tournaments.

payments, Mirbeau Beacon will be donating $450,000 to the City of Beacon School District Foundation to support scholarships and school programs as part of this project.”

As for how much the PILOT is for, Lee responded, “It won’t be fully-known until the property has been fully assessed after construction so an exact figure is not available but based on estimated figures, the PILOT will abate approximately $3.6 million in property taxes over a 15-year period... the project is estimated to generate approximately $5.6 million in PILOT revenue during the same period. PILOTS do not remove or discount the current property tax revenue, it abates the difference between the prior tax assessment and the improved tax assessment, the percentage of what is abated is reduced over time and once the PILOT is done the project pays full assessment. The rationale is that it gives businesses time to gather enough cash flow/client base to be successful in the long run, while holding them to certain performance measures such as employment and timely payments.”

Asked how the project will benefit residents of Dutchess, Lee replied, “The project will revitalize and reactivate the site resulting in more tax revenue over time. More importantly the project will create new opportunities for Dutchess County residents both directly and indirectly. Tourism is a key industry in Dutchess County and City of Beacon is an important asset in Dutchess County among them for tourism and the businesses located in Beacon. Mirbeau will further diversify the overnight accommodations in Dutchess County allowing visitors to spend more time in Dutchess County which will result in more spending in our local shops and restaurants.”

Kyriacou said, “Mirbeau is taking an unused property that was zoned for homes, and turns it into a commercial use that: dramatically increases City property tax revenue (keeping our taxes low and paying for new services); preserves a historical jewel; opens up a new Greenway Trail; adds local jobs, doesn’t add any K-12 student burden on school district; and will draw a new group of visitors to Beacon to help sustain our Main Street businesses.”

“Economic Development is a generational process where the benefits to the community express themselves over time. IDA financial assistance is an “investment” to accelerate the construction and facilitate the success of a project that is consistent with the plans of the local municipality and that the benefits of the project (direct/indirect/induced) outweigh the costs,” said Lee.

A representative from Mirbeau did not respond to an inquiry for comment.

Beacon Elks Lodge #1493 donated $200 of their Gratitude Grant to the Beacon Police Department’s Summer Youth Academy. The Beacon Youth Police Academy is a free, week-long program for students entering grades 9-12 and provides an introduction to careers in law enforcement.

The goal of the academy is to help participating youth understand the role police officers play in the community, the duties required to be performed on the job, and requirements of becoming a police officer.

In addition, the program fosters relationships between the officers and the youth participants. This is accomplished with mock situations and lectures, field trips, physical fitness exercises, and games. The Gratitude Grant is one of three grants the Beacon Elks Lodge #1493 has obtained for the 2023-24 Elk Year.

“These grants allow the Beacon Elks Lodge #1493 to be an active and integral part of the community,” said Jennifer Velez, Exalted Ruler, Beacon Elks Lodge #1493. “Additionally, the grant allows the Elks to support local law enforcement missions and initiatives and provides local youth with an opportunity to learn about the possibilities of a career in law enforcement.”

“Our Youth Activities team helps assist local youth organizations, local youth initiatives, and local first-responder organizations with the development of young men and women in the community,” added Velez.

Dylan Beavers added to the lead in the top of the fourth on a sacrifice fly scoring Jud Fabian to extend the IronBirds’ lead to 2-0.

Hudson Valley cut into the deficit with an RBI single in the sixth. In the bottom of the eighth, Josh Breaux and Anthony Garcia collected a pair of singles against Ryan Long to start a rally. Long (3-3) then issued a one-out walk to Grant Richardson to load the bases for Aldenis Sánchez. He launched a sacrifice fly to right field.

That set up the game-winning hit and heroes two innings later by Torrealba.

On Tuesday night, the Renegades were shut out, 7-0.

Joel Valdez retired the IronBirds in order in the first and worked around a pair of baserunners in the second, but the IronBirds struck for two runs in the third off the left-hander. The first two batters reached on a walk and a single to bring up Jackson Holliday, who hit a towering popup in shallow centerfield that fell to score Luis Valdez. The next batter, Jud Fabian, doubled home Max Wagner to give Aberdeen a 2-0 lead over Hudson Valley. That was all the runs the defending champs would need.

On Wednesday, the Renegades got on the board, but still lost, 7-4.

Creed Willems opened up the scoring with a three-run home run in the first off Tyrone Yulie (1-3). All three runs in the inning were unearned after an error by the ‘Gades defense extended the inning.

Sloppiness, mostly by the Renegades, was the mantra for this game. The IronBirds capitalized off a pair of errors in the third to plate two more and extend their lead to 5-0. After the first two batters were retired, a walk and two errors loaded the bases for Aberdeen and another error allowed two runs to score.

On Thurs., neither team could hit but Aberdeen came away with a 1-0 victory.

Renegades starter Zach Messinger got off to a quick start striking out the first two batters of the game before issuing a pair of walks to bring up Isaac De Leon, whom Messinger struck out to end the threat in the first inning. It was the start of a strong outing for Messinger (0-3), who allowed one unearned run across 5.0 innings while setting a new career high with nine strikeouts.

Aberdeen scored the game’s only run in the second on a Max Costes single that scored Silas Ardoin. Ardoin began the frame with a single, advanced to second on a passed ball and third on a wild pitch before coming home on Costes’ base hit.

Hudson Valley had runners on base in seven of nine times at bat, but failed to score. One of their best chances came in the third after Spencer Jones hit a one-out double down the left field line off Jean Pinto. Pinto retired the next two Renegades to leave Jones stranded at third.

Palensky gains honor, promotion to Double A

By Rich Thomaselli

Few minor league baseball players have a better week than this.

First, a special recognition, then a promotion.

Hudson Valley Renegades outfielder Aaron Palensky was named South Atlantic League Player of the Week for the week of May 22-28. Palensky became the second Renegade to win a weekly award in 2023, picking up an honor for the first time in his career.

Days after the recognition, it was learned around June 1 that he was promoted to Double AA Somerset (N.J.) in the New York Yankees farm system.

In five games against the Wilmington Blue Rocks, Palensky hit a scorching .619 (13-for-25) with nine runs, five doubles, a triple, two homeruns and seven RBI. He also stole all three bases he attempted.

“Palensky has been consistent all year, and I’m really excited that he is being recognized for his consistency and work that he has put in so far,” said Renegades Hitting Coach Kevin Martir.

Despite his promotion, he still leads the league in home runs with 12 and is second in extra base hits.

Palensky, 24, was signed by the Yankees as a non-drafted free agent out of the University of Nebraska in 2020. Across the 2022 and 2023 seasons with Hudson Valley, he has hit .288 (99-for-344) with 75 runs, 22 doubles, five triples, 22 HR, 68 RBIs, and has gone 19-for-22 on stolen base attempts in 109 games, ranking in the top 10 in franchise history in a half-dozen categories.

Aaron Palensky was named South Atlantic League Player of the Week for the week of May 22-28. He has since been promoted to Double A Somerset, NJ.

TYSON’S TIDBITS!

Making adjustments to rosters as players move through system

Editor’s note: Each week, writer Rich Thomaselli speaks with Hudson Valley Renegades General Manager Tyson Jeffers about the Renegades in particular and minor league baseball in general.

For fans who don’t quite understand and wonder why their team like the Renegades lose four games in a row or get into slums, talk about the transient nature of the game with promotions and constant roster changes.

Well, there’s some things that you can point to, like a player being promoted to the next level. That’s the way it is at this level of baseball. And you’re happy that these kids can move on.

Do you get upset when a player moves up or down and there’s a lot of turnovers in the roster?

(Laughs) I think Sergio (manager Sergio Santos) has more mixed feelings about it than I do. Promotions happen. Sometimes you lose a couple of key guys, but you get a couple of guys who come up - from Tampa or come down from Somerset. That’s the way it is at this level. Sometimes you lose key players and sometimes you lose guys who are key in the locker room.

Sometimes it takes players a while to get acclimated with each other at this level. So it’s really just a balancing act. And it’s not just us. If you look at the standings, you can tell that other teams have moved guys around and they’re not the same as earlier in the year. You just hoped you’re on the high end of things.

Right now, we’re just three weeks away from the halfway point of the season. If we can stay in first place, we know we have a home game in the playoffs, and we can start planning for that.

Like I’ve said before, you just want to give the fans a great experience. If they can walk away with a great baseball moment as part of their memories, that’s even better. It’s great when you have a full ballpark and there’s a walk off homerun or something, that adds another layer to their experience. But in the end, the Yankees make all the roster moves, and I am not consulted. Rightfully so! (laughs).

What is left in terms of construction at the ballpark?

We still have the whole left-field stands to renovate. We need to be able to keep our promises to the Yankees. Frankly, we probably have the best clubhouses in the whole affiliate system. We plan to put in some new ceilings in the clubhouse. We will also add some specialty seating that we think the fans will enjoy.

Yankees legend, jazz musician Bernie Williams announces collaboration with Millbrook Winery

Jazz concert set June 17

Growing its partnership with former New York Yankees centerfielder and jazz music icon, Bernie Williams, Millbrook Vineyards & Winery (Millbrook Winery)

announces the kick-off of its 2023 Jazz Summer Concert Series on Father's Day weekend with a performance from Williams and his band on Saturday, June 17 at 7 p.m. Adding to the excitement will be the second release of Bernie's Blend wines with the return of a dynamic blend of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Cabernet Franc, and the addition of two new wine varieties – a Pinot Noir and Chardonnay, crafted and blended by Williams and Millbrook's winemaking team, and adorned with label artwork by Williams' daughter. Tickets to the 2023 Summer Concert Season performances, including Williams' performance, are now available on the Millbrook Winery website. What has been extra special for Bernie about teaming up with Millbrook Winery is being able to work closely with his daughter Beatriz Williams, a Brooklyn, New York – based artist, who designed the artwork for the wine labels. "The cover art was painted by Beatriz and illustrates me superimposed over Cerro Gordo Beach in my hometown of Vega Alta, Puerto Rico, where I was born and raised," said Williams. "Most importantly, we're able to give back, as a portion of the wine sale proceeds will be donated to the National Association of Music Merchants (NAMM) Foundation's SupportMusic Coalition, which unites non-profit organizations, schools, and businesses working to assure that music education is supported in communities everywhere, and that all children have the opportunity to learn and grow with music, a cause that's near and dear to our family." The relationship between Millbrook Winery and Williams began during a visit to the winery in 2021, when Williams, a long-time Westchester resident, was captivated by the vineyards and the wine. A chance encounter with the winery's Vice President and General Manager, David Bova, led to a conversation about Williams' background with the New York Yankees and his passions for both jazz music and the artistry of winemaking, which ultimately led to the Bernie's Blend collaboration. Keen on releasing authentic wine varieties that he is proud of, Williams worked closely with Millbrook Winery's winemaker, Ian Bearup, to taste-test each of the wine barrels and thoughtfully blend and craft each of the wines. "Working with a New York professional legend like Bernie Williams is an honor and a privilege," said David Bova. "It allows us to create something truly special, as well as reinforce our commitment to showcasing the very best of our community and its unique talents. Our partnership with Bernie not only represents the union of two passions - wine and music - but also allows us to bring an unparalleled level of culture and excellence to the Hudson Valley and to share it with our community and visitors alike." Williams will open Millbrook Winery's 2023 Jazz Concert Series, returning following rave reviews and more than 300 tickets sold for his performance in 2022. After retiring from the New York Yankees in 2006, Williams went on to pursue a career as a jazz musician after earning a Bachelor of Music degree in jazz performance from the Manhattan School of Music in 2016. The 2023 Williams-curated wine releases will be available in limited quantities online and at the winery starting the evening of the event. Special edition prints of the bottle artwork can also be purchased beginning the day of the event. The fifth annual “Vintage Postcard, Book, & Ephemera Show and Sale” hosted by the Beacon Historical Society will be held on June 10, from 9 a.m. – 4 p.m., at St. Joachim’s Hall, 51 Leonard St., in Beacon. Twelve dealers will bring hundreds of thousands of items to entice visitors to add to their collection, to aid in historical research, or purchase items on a whim.

According to Diane Lapis, director of special projects at the Society, “The era of postcards began at the turn of the 20th century. Today, they are a window into the past, a way to travel back in time and view the world through the eyes of people a century ago. While postcard writing has almost ceased due to the use of social media, postcard collecting endures. Postcards are endlessly fascinating due to their topics, imagery, artistry, and history.”

The Postcard Show is a fundraising event for the Society. Refreshments, raffles, and door prizes will be available. Free postcard activity for children ages 4+. Admission is $4.

Free parking and accessible. For more information email beaconhistorical@gmail.com.

Nancy Ellen Hoolihan

On Thursday May 4th at 8:45 PM, Nancy Ellen Hoolihan succumbed to her 8-year long battle with lung cancer at the age of 61. The daughter of Joyce and Kenneth Blom, she was a lifelong area resident attending Wappingers Central Schools and pursuing her nursing career at BOCES. She was employed at the former Highland Hospital in Beacon and continued her career providing Healthcare to her patients through other various rehabs and agencies in the area.

Nancy was a bright light to all who knew her, including the many “adoptive” children of the neighborhood that she took in as her own. Being an LPN of many years, she was a natural caregiver. Whenever a loved one had any kind of ailment, they would seek out her advice and expertise. Even with her fulfilling career, Nancy devoted her life to being an involved mother to her two kids. She never missed a single school function; not one football game, talent show, dance recital or concert. She made every seemingly small life event an important one and she never neglected to tell her kids how proud of them she was. Nancy enjoyed a plethora of activities including swimming, gardening, billiards, reading Stephen King suspense novels and watching romantic movies. Nancy was an adventurous, fun loving, warm and kindhearted woman who enjoyed life. She will be missed by all who were graced by her presence.

She is survived by her husband of 40 years, Micheal Hoolihan; son, Christopher Hoolihan; daughter, Caitlyn Hoolihan and her fiancé, Sean Boles; grandchild, Luna Fae Hoolihan-Boles; brother, Gregory Blom and his fiancé, Pam Pavelock; along with many beloved neices, nephews and cousins. She was preceded in death by her sister, Judy Turner.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests memorial donations be made in Nancy’s honor to St. Jude Children’s Hospital. @stjude.org

Interment will be held at a later date. Please visit the Delehanty Funeral website for details and updates, visit www.delehantyfuneral.com.

Launch of Eleanor Roosevelt Quarter set in Hyde Park

The launch of the Eleanor Roosevelt quarter will take place on June 8 at the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park. The coin is part of the U.S. Mint's American Women Quarters Program.

On Thursday, June 8, the community of Hyde Park will host the launch of a new Eleanor Roosevelt quarter. As part of the U.S. Mint's American Women Quarters Program, the new quarter celebrates the life and legacy of Eleanor as a first lady, author, civil liberties advocate, and chairperson of the United Nations Human Rights commission.

The event at 10 a.m. on Thursday, June 8, at the Ecolab Auditorium at the Culinary Institute of America (CIA) is free and open to the public. Co-hosted by the CIA, the U.S. Mint, National Park Service, FDR Presidential Library and Museum, and the Roosevelt family, the event will include a panel discussion on Eleanor, a presentation by the U.S. Mint, and a special official launch of the quarter.

"We are excited to bring this celebration to Hyde Park and launch the Eleanor Roosevelt quarter to the rest of the nation," noted NPS Superintendent Amy Bracewell. "We are proud to be a part of this event and encourage everyone in the community to come and celebrate with us."

The American Women Quarters Program is a four-year program that celebrates the accomplishments and contributions made by women of the United States. Begun in 2022, and continuing through 2025, the U.S. Mint will issue up to five new reverse designs each year. The American Women Quarters feature contributions from a variety of fields, including, but not limited to, suffrage, civil rights, abolition, government, humanities, science, space, and the arts.

The big garden

Family and friends turn a large plot of land into the annual garden.

It starts in January. We (meaning Sue) order seeds of annual flowers that we want to try out in the “big garden,” a 2,500-square-foot plot next to the house. This will be the 33rd year for our garden – 33 years of gorgeous cut flowers, blossoms to enter in the Dutchess County Fair, new varieties that we might grow in our greenhouses, and a vista to admire all summer long.

The seeds come from Burpee, Harris and occasionally Thompson and Morgan Seed Company. Sue sows them in trays of seed starting mix in April, a few thousand seeds in all. We also get samples of new varieties from breeders like Dummen, Ball Floraplant and Proven Winners. Over the years, we’ve developed a relationship with them by providing feedback from our trails held at the fair.

Traditionally, the goal is to plant the garden on the second Sunday in June, when the work in our commercial greenhouses (5 acres of them) starts to space. When I looked at the 10-day weather forecast last Sunday, May 28, I realized the following weekend would be ideal for planting.

And it was.

I called my friend Rick and arranged for him to till the garden on June 2. On May 31, I took out my trusty John Deere riding lawn mower and mowed down the winter rye that we planted last fall as a cover crop, to keep the soil in place and to hold the nutrients over the winter. Next day, I spread 20 bales of pro-mix (a commercial blend of peat moss and perlite) over the area to make up for soil removed when we cleaned up last year’s crop, followed by 40 pounds of 10-10-10 garden plant food. On Friday Rick tilled the garden. Saturday, me and five helpers laid down nine rows of black plastic mulch, each row 3 feet wide by 70 feet long.

We would need 1,000 transplants to fill the space. Sue arranges the varieties by their height – tall ones like tithonia and sunflowers in the back, dwarf celosia and profusion zinnias in the front, and by their fitness as entries in the Dutchess County Fair competition. Deer resistance matters, although we plant some flowers deer love, and spray them often with “Liquid Fence” or any deer repellent that contains egg solids. This year’s garden is populated with about 50 different varieties of flowers, including:

- Zinnia Queen Lime Peach – New in the Queen series. We love zinnias for their deer resistance, they make great cut flowers which we have on our tables every day, and we enter them in the fair.
- Celosia Celway Terra Cotta – Not deer proof (only the feather-type celosias are), but the color is unique.
- Cuphea Sweet Talk Red – This looks like a real winner, It was already blooming when we set it into the garden (you should cut the blossoms off when you plant it, but I hate to do that). Cuphea is a magnet for hummingbirds We had to swat them away as we were planting. Where can I buy some hummingbird repellent?

- Gaura Belleza Pink – Breeders have come up with new varieties of Gaura that are user friendly, and exquisite.
- Salvia farinacea Victoria Blue – This is an old stand-by. Deer hate it, the blossoms last until November, and it smells like cat piss, but who cares?

Last Sunday, June 4, five of us got down on our hands and knees to plant the garden, using trowels to slit a whole in the plastic mulch and insert the 1,000 transplants. I’m not allowed to participate, since I hurt my back doing it last year and had to get cortisone shots. So it was Sue, grandchildren Priya and Ambika and our friends Angie and Adriana. After each plant was inserted in its hole, a dollop of planting mix was put on top to hold it in place.

Five hours later, viola! A beautiful garden. Then we turned on sprinklers to water it in.

After about three weeks, I will apply a weed killer to the tiny weeds that come up between the rows.

It’s that easy.

If you want to enter your own cut flowers in the fair, go to <https://www.dutchessfair.com/participate/exhibitors-competition>.

The heavy lines indicate areas, called cages, from one to five squares in size. Fill each cage with unique digits, counting up from 1. So for example a 2-square cage contains the numbers 1 and 2; and a 5-square cage contains the numbers from 1 to 5. Adjacent (touching) squares, even ones that touch diagonally, may never contain the same number.

Baer goes Off-Broadway with one-man show about Samuel Clemens

Joe Baer portrays Samuel Clemens, a.k.a. Mark Twain, in his one-man show, “Samuel Clemens: Tales of Mark Twain.” Baer has performed the show locally many times, and it will debut Off-Broadway at the Actor’s Temple Theatre in New York City.

Baerhands Theater & Television Inc. announced that its original solo show, “Samuel Clemens: Tales of Mark Twain,” will perform Off-Broadway in June at the Actor’s Temple Theater, 339 West 47th St., New York City. Performances, which began in May, are scheduled every Saturday and Sunday through June 25, with performances at 8 p.m. on Saturdays and 2 p.m. matinees on Sundays. For more information and tickets, visit <https://baerhandstheater.com>.

The show, written and performed by Joe Baer of Rhinecliff, has been touring the Hudson Valley for the past two years, including performances at The Linda (Albany), The Main Stage at Shadowlands (Ellenville) and the Stissing Center (Pine Plains), among others.

Last November, Baer was awarded five Theater Association of New York State (TANYS) awards at the 2022 Annual NYS Theater Festival for his performance, including the 2022 Festival Adjudicators’ Discretionary Award for Excellence In Overall Production and 2022 Festival People’s Choice Award for his portrayal as Samuel Clemens.

Written by Baer, the show is an original script sprinkled with excerpts from the hand of Samuel Clemens, otherwise known as Mark Twain. Baer portrays Samuel Clemens near the end of his career, in a narrative and thought-provoking performance. The show highlights events in Twain’s life with events happening during his lifetime in American history. Baer presents a nostalgic look back through time, beginning with Twain’s rural roots in small-town Missouri, to his international acclaim.

Context and words from the pen of Mark Twain are intertwined to re-imagine this legend on the lecture circuit, highlighting the ebbs and flows of this iconic American figure’s life against a visual backdrop of historical imagery. This parallel timeline brings Twain back to life by conveying how many of the same topics back then are just as relevant in today’s world.

Baer’s performance also portrays Twain’s irreverence for politics and politicians as is his penchant for embroidering the truth with less true but more interesting alternative facts. Act 2 includes condensed passages from Clemens’s masterwork, “Adventures of Huckleberry Finn.”

Baer said, “I’m not trying to impersonate Twain, but rather personify him. My goal on stage is to create a Twain character for the 21st century. His logic and ‘snappers’ are timeless, and many, for better or worse, are still applicable to today’s world.”
