Dutchess EMS recognizes first responders

The Dutchess County Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Council recognized EMS providers, EMS agencies and local hospital staff on June 22 at the American Legion Post 429 in Rhinebeck. The annual awards highlight the important role of first responders and the services they provide to the community. Erin Downing, Public Safety Call Taker at the Dutchess County Department of Emergency Response 9-1-1 Call Center, was honored with the EMS Communications Specialist of the Year Award, which is given to an individual who has made significant contributions to the EMS community as a call receiving operator, dispatcher or call taker and has shown dedication, responsibility, professional behavior, and skill during communications.

Dutchess County Executive Marc Molinaro said, "Congratulations to this year's award recipients, especially our own, Erin Downing. Her professionalism, calm demeanor and compassion have helped numerous residents feel safer, calmer, and more in control during a very stressful time. The brave men and women who serve as first responders cannot be recognized often enough; we are grateful for their dedication to their community and Dutchess County."

In her role as a Public Safety Call Taker with Dutchess County, which she began in February 2021, Downing has taken numerous calls for individuals or whose family members were experiencing significant medical emergencies requiring her to talk the caller through administering CPR. Downing handled these sensitive calls with compassion, empathy and professionalism, remaining calm under pressure and providing essential information to her fellow dispatchers in a timely manner. She has also worked as a public safety dispatcher with a local police agency since 2019.

Dutchess County Director of 9-1-1 Timothy Darcy said, "Despite her relatively short career, Erin handles every call with a consistent level of calm professionalism. Whether accidental 9-1-1 calls or serious issues, Erin ensures responders have all available information about the caller and the emergency and she makes sure the caller has been given appropriate instructions and reassurance before responders arrive on the scene."

Dutchess County Commissioner of Emergency Response Dana Smith said, "We are proud to celebrate the achievements of our EMS providers, agencies and hospital staff. 9-1-1 Call Takers are often the first to come in contact with someone experiencing an emergency and are the behind-the-scenes heroes, using their skill and

Mural to bring attention to ThinkDIFFERENTLY campaign

By Kristine Coulter

Artist Sabrina Crowley began a ThinkDIFFERENTLY mural on the building at 223 Main St. in Beacon on June 20. The mural, which was commissioned by Libby Funeral & Cremation Services in Beacon, is next to a mural which thanks veterans. That mural was commissioned in Nov. 2021 by Libby's.

"It's very simple. I think with the simplicity, you read all the words," stated Crowley. The words Think DIFFERENTLY, painted in yellow and blue, are encased in a large white circle. Around the logo are words, some of which include, "Help," "Advocate," "Love," "Include" and "Engage."

"Everyone walking by is asking 'Oh, did you do this one?'" said Crowley about the Veterans mural. Crowley talked about how a woman from Atlanta who saw Crowley painting, remarked to Crowley that her wish was that murals were on almost every building.

"I saw this [large space] when I was doing that one (the Veterans mural). I was like 'you know this in another great big canvas,'" remarked Crowley.

BCSD board thanks retirees, announces tenure

By Kristine Coulter

The Beacon City School District (BCSD) Board of Education recognized those who are retiring with the close of the 2021-22 school year. The board also acknowledged the faculty and staff in the district who have received tenure.

Cassandra Orser, Glenham Elementary School principal, acknowledged retiring teacher Elizabeth Hanrahan. "We'll say farewell to a fabulous kindergarten teacher," remarked Orser. She said Hanrahan was a "valued part" of Glenham school and a knowledgeable mentor for other teachers.

Also recognized was teaching assistant Martha Ollive, who received her teacher certification in 1979. She then worked at IBM, stated Orser, and in 2009 returned to the education.

Dawn Condello, Director of PPS/District, said that teacher Linda Alexis had 32.6 years of teaching experience. She provided special education to students at Rombout Middle School. "Our students have expressed gratitude to Linda for all she has done," said Condello, who is also retiring.

Condello said that Marcia Switzer's replacement "has big shoes to fill." She called Switzer, an administrative secretary, "focused" and someone who has been a role model.

Rombout Middle School Principal Brian Soltish noted that retiring teacher Kevin O'Donnell had been his baseball coach when he was on the junior varsity team. They were also teaching colleagues at Beacon High School and Rombout, Crowley said, "A lot of people walking by said, 'Oh, what's ThinkDIFFERENTLY?' A lot of people didn't know, she remarked.

"As a funeral director I too, have come in contact with many people and many families; we all act and grieve differently at these funeral and life events, that does not make any of us less than the next. Here at Libby Funeral Home in Beacon we, my staff and I, take great pride in serving each individual person at their level," said Joseph Schuka, Libby Funeral & Cremation Services.

Schuka recalled speaking with Dutchess County Executive Marc Molinaro when the 2021 mural was revealed for veterans.

As for the ThinkDIFFERENTLY campaign, Schuka said, Molinaro wants businesses and the community "to make them feel more welcome in places, and included in the workforces, and for businesses to support."

The mural caught the attention of one child, said Crowley. The little girl did not want to leave, Crowley recalled. She stayed, with her mother, for 30 minutes watching Crowley work on the mural.

"This mural means a lot to me, too. I am a mom of a child with severe epilepsy. He has since passed, six years ago. I feel like people don't understand epilepsy, how hard it is for people to make that their new normal," Crowley said. Crowley's son, Joey, was two years old when he died.

"His (Joey) birthday was yesterday (June 20). That's when I started the mural," Crowley remarked. Since her son's passing, she has started the non-profit Smiles From Joey, which donates adaptive equipment to families who cannot afford it or whose insurance companies will not pay for it.

"People sometimes don't recognize or understand everybody's got their own normal," said Crowley, who added she feels there is a reason and purpose she was commissioned to paint this mural.

Crowley still needed to add puzzle pieces to the artwork.

"Once the puzzle pieces go up, I think that there will be a connection to disabilities," said Crowley.

Crowley said she would be finished with the mural the afternoon of June 21.

remarked Soltish. He said O'Donnell is "someone who cared a lot about the students" and always put the students first.

It was stated that retiring Beacon High School teacher Michael Gersh was constantly documenting events for the BCSD.

Teacher Janet Gaspar was thanked for her 20 years of service as an English teacher.

Gayle Quackenbush, teaching assistant, was thanked for nearly 30 years in the district.

"Thank you for your 27 years of service and dedication to our students," said

J.V. Forrestal Elementary School Principal Crystal Sessoms-Wiggins about retiring elementary school teacher Alicia Reilly, who started in the BCSD in 1994. "You will always hold a place in the JV family's heart," noted Sessoms-Wiggins, who received tenure.

It was stated that kindergarten teacher Bridget Giavatto will be retiring "after working as an educator for 35 years." She has taught 31 years for the BCSD. For 27 years, Giavatto has taught kindergarten. She also has taught first and second grades.

Music teacher Cheryl Lange was recognized for her service to the students.

Saudra Covington, teaching assistant, "will be missed at South Ave." It was noted.

Ann Marie Quartironi, Deputy Superintendent of Business, said Karen O'Connor has been with the BCSD for 20 years. O'Connor, administrative school secretary, started in the district as a lunch aide, said Quartironi. O'Connor worked at Sargent, Glenham and South Ave. schools. Quartironi said O'Connor was "talented and flexible."

Virginia Connell was commended on her 15 years as a bus driver.

BCSD Superintendent Dr. Matthew Landahl said he wanted to personally recognize custodian Richard Losee on 33 years with the BCSD. Landahl said he has never seen snow cleared from a sidewalk for students like Losee does at Forrestal elementary.

Condello, who is retiring, was recognized for her work and time with the district. She is a former principal of Glenham Elementary School, where parents said she was always available, it was stated at the meeting by Landahl.

The retirees who were recognized during the meeting were: Linda Alexis, teacher; Dawn Condello, Director of PPS/District; Virginia Connell, bus driver; Saudra Covington, teaching assistant; Janet Gaspar, teacher; Michael Gersh, teacher; Bridget Giavatto, teacher; Elizabeth Hanrahan, teacher; Cheryl Lange, music teacher; Richard Losee, custodian; Karen O'Connor, administrative school secretary; Kevin O'Donnell, teacher; Martha Ollive, teaching assistant; Gayle Quackenbush, teaching assistant; Alicia Reilly, teacher and Marcia Switzer, administrative school secretary.

It was announced that the following have received tenure: Nadia Abrahamson, Charles Barone, Cathryn Biordi, Vehid Borici, Maria Calaf, Michael Carofano, Shannon Comitto, Talia Cotto, Anthony DiRusso, Lori Edelman, Oliver Edsforth, Jennifer Ferraguzzi, John Giametta, Melinda Gilleo, Sasha Greenspan, Erica Hughes, Zachary Joyce, Bridgette Kenton, Kaitlyn Lowe, Sherika McKinney, Meredith Millen, Christine Miroff, Nicholas Nastasi, Heather Nolan, Donna Pavone, Carla Peters, Kaitlin Phelan, Nessa Prahaladsingh, DaVetta Price, Christine Reinoehl, Julisa Rincon-Tomizawa, Michael Russo, Catherine Schwarz-Sapeta, Crystal Sessoms-Wiggins, Jessica Stufano, Diane Tanzi, Brianna Tobin, Genera Torres, Shannon Varekamp and Thomas Zehner.

Beacon Elks Lodge #1493 donated a portion of its Gratitude Grant to the Beacon Police Department's summer youth camp during a small ceremony on June 9. The Beacon Youth Police Academy is a free, week-long program for students entering grades 9-12 and provides an introduction to careers in law enforcement. The goal of the academy is to help participating youth understand the role police officers play in the community, the duties required to be performed on the job, and requirements of becoming a police officer.

In addition, the program fosters relationships between the officers and the youth participants. This is accomplished with mock situations and lectures, field trips, physical fitness exercises, and games.

The Gratitude Grant is one of three grants the Beacon Elks Lodge #1493 has obtained for the 2022-23 Elk Year.

"These grants allow the Beacon Elks Lodge #1493 to be an active and integral part of the community," said Robert K. Lanier, Past Exalted Ruler and Public Relations Chair Beacon Elks Lodge #1493. "With these grants, Beacon Elks Lodge #1493 can help local assistance organizations, local youth initiatives, and local first-responder organizations with the development of young men and women in the community," said Jennifer Velez, Exalted Ruler, Beacon Elks Lodge #1493.

Schulman hails from Broadway roles that include; The Phantom in Phantom of the Opera, Jean Valjean in Les Misérables and Jekyll / Hyde in Jekyll and Hyde - among many others. For this very special event, Craig will be performing a tour of his Broadway Tour-De-Force Roles up close and personal - an amazing opportunity for theater-goers not to be missed!

DECODING DUTCHESS PAST

DCHS Dutchess County Historical Society

www.DCHSNY.org/ddp

From very small to very large - All part of Dutchess history

By Bill Jeffway

Among tens of thousands of items in the Dutchess County Historical Society's Collections, we examine two items at the opposite end of the spectrum in terms of size.

Among the smallest items is the one quarter of an inch wide piece of Italian glass shown in an accompanying photo, set in a ring. We know from a handwritten note that accompanied the 1962 gift to the historical society, that the small piece of glass was purchased in Venice in 1886 at the world-renowned glass center of Murano, likely by a member of the Storm or Van Wyck family of Dutchess County. It was embedded into a ring shortly after that in London.

The item is a gift of Mrs. William D. Rees whose Storm and Van Wyck ancestors settled in southern Dutchess County in the 18th century. Rees's collections gift included many items related to European travel. Other items include an 1849 passport of Cornelius Storm, and a book purchased in London more precisely around the time the glass was bought and embedded in a ring in 1886.

Called a Murrine, the glass is made from the tiniest of threads or straws of colored glass, assembled into a cane while molten hot. The glass is then sliced into small segments such as is shown here. The ring is designed so that you can look through the glass from either direction and see the image. The process is estimated to have originated 6,000 years ago in the Middle East.

Given the subject depicted, and the quality of the glassmaking (a crack developed later, perhaps in the setting of the glass in a ring), we know the piece was made by Jocomo Franchini in the 1870s. He was considered a master of this art who had revived the process after going dormant. He frequently depicted well known individuals involved in the Risorgimento, or Italian "rising," the movement for Italian unification that resulted in the establishment of the Kingdom of Italy in 1861. Here he depicts a political leader of what was a larger movement of identity and culture, the statesman Count Cavour.

Franchini had an unfortunate later life as he was committed to (what was called in those days) an asylum for the insane. His constant work on the tiniest threads of glass is frequently described as the reason for his breakdown. Franchini was the son of renowned glassmaker Giovanni Battista Franchini, who also focused on tiny craftsmanship.

Structural beam

By contrast, among the largest items, we find a four-foot segment of a structural beam from the 18th century home of Henry Livingston, a home that was located along the Hudson River near the rural cemetery.

During the Revolutionary War, Dutchess County and the Hudson River were a major focus. George Washington called West Point, just to the south of the county on the river, the "key to the North American continent." The British saw a major strategic advantage in splitting New England from New York and the rest of the states. They were secure in Canada because it was a British colony. They had captured and occupied New York City. So, the goal was to approach from the north and south, meet in the middle, and occupy the river.

In a July 16, 1777 letter in our archives, we see that Henry Livingston wrote to a relative saying quite confidently that the British would never dare such a risky venture as coming up the river from the south as it would be "madness." It turns out Mr. Livingston was not a good forecaster.

The descent from the north failed. But a tactical move to burn Kingston, then the state capital, and create as much havoc as possible on the way up and upon their return, was successful just a few months after that letter was written. In October of 1777, the British Navy managed to break through the chain across the Hudson at West Point and wreak havoc going as far as Red Hook.

They tried to burn as many homes, barns, ships, and stores of those not

*The 18th century Henry Livingston house was one of many that was hit by a cannonball from British ships as they sailed up and returned down the Hudson River in October 1777. loyal to the King as possible, by coming on shore with torches. The burning of a barn in October would have been particularly costly because it contained the entire harvest of the prior year. It was not so much the barn, but its contents, that cost the patriots so dearly.

The British also lobbed cannonballs from afar. Henry Livingston was not spared. He kept the hole where the cannonball entered his home intentionally visible to visitors. A photograph of the patched area of the wall of his house facing the river was featured in the 1919 DCHS Yearbook. A four-foot section of the beam was removed when the house was demolished in the early 20th century and given to DCHS.

The cannonball has ended up at the George Washington Headquarters Museum in Newburgh. We have been in touch with them to potentially arrange a reunion of the cannonball and the structural beam for the 250th anniversary of the American revolution in 2026. Stay tuned!

RENEGADES ROUNDUP

Renegades struggle to start second half of season

By Rich Thomaselli

The Hudson Valley Renegades have had a tough start to the second half of the South Atlantic League minor league baseball season, dropping their third consecutive game on Sunday, 4-1, to the Winston-Salem Dash at Truist Stadium.

The Renegades finished their 12-game road trip by falling back under .500 overall at 34-35 and are now 0-3 in the second half of the season. After the first 66 games of the year, the division winners automatically qualify for the playoffs and the teams re-set their records back to 0-0, with the hopes that those who struggled will rebound.

Hudson Valley was set to return home on Tuesday to face the Brooklyn Cyclones to begin a six-game series.

In Winston-Salem, T.J. Sikkema allowed a run in the bottom of the first inning on an RBI single by Oscar Colas to give Winston-Salem a 1-0 lead. That was the only run allowed by the left-hander on the day in a career-high 3.2 innings.

The Renegades tied the score in the top of the third when Everson Pereira blasted a solo home run to center off Andrew Dalquist. The round tripper was Pereira's seventh of the season and 21st in a Renegades uniform – one shy of Dan Grummitt's career franchise record of 22.

Leif Strom backed up Sikkema with 2.1 scoreless innings out of the bullpen, but in the bottom of the seventh the Dash took the lead against Nelvin Correa (0-2). Ben Norman singled and advanced to second on a wild pitch before scoring on a Duke Ellis single.

In the bottom of the eighth, Winston-Salem tacked on two insurance runs off Nelson Alvarez to expand its lead to 4-1.

Vince Vannelle set the Gades down 1-2-3 in the ninth to earn his fourth save of the year.

Aaron Palensky finished 2-for-3 with a double, and had five hits in the last two games of the series with the Dash. On the road trip, Palensky hit .370 (10-for-27) with three home runs and five RBIs. Palensky finished 3-for-4 with a home run and an RBI in a 6-3 loss to Winston-Salem on Saturday night.

GLINER'S KORNER!

Preparing for the second half and planning fan attractions

Every week, Hudson Valley Renegades President Steve Gliner sits down with reporter Rich Thomaselli to discuss the team in particular, and minor league baseball in general.

Your thoughts now that the first half of the season is over (the Renegades finished 34-32 in the first 66 games; teams re-set their records to 0-0 for the next 66).

I thought we played pretty well. We had a little bit of a rough spell for a bit there, but we finished well. We played real well at home and we're looking forward to the re-set and see what that brings. Hopefully Aberdeen isn't as hot in the second half (Aberdeen won the South Atlantic League's North Division in the first half and qualified for the playoffs).

How about on the business end?

From the business side of things, the weather is better, the fans are more famili-iar with when and how often we play as a High Class A team now, and we have a good schedule coming up. Just this week we have three big fireworks show, including our biggest of the year on Sunday (July 3).

Halfway through this season, what is the update on the work that has to be done to Dutchess Stadium?

From a fan perspective, everything is in place. There's nothing to do this season. The player amenity upgrades that need to be happening will start in 2023. The existing clubhouse will be renovated, bullpens will be moved off the field, and the outfield wall is coming down (and will be padded). The batter's eye in centerfield needs to be resized. The current requirements say it needs to be 60 feet high and 30 feet across. The current clubhouse will become the permanent visitors' clubhouse, and the Renegades will get a new clubhouse by 2024.

Wow, that's a lot of work. Do you remember that first season in 1994 and what that clubhouse looked like? I'll forego my comments.

(Laughs) I sure do, it wasn't much to look at. It was all trailers, but of course it was necessitated by the short turnaround to build the stadium. It took a few years before everything was completed down there. I remember it well, but it served its purpose. Everybody was patient with it. It was a good temporary fix.

Can you imagine trying to build that stadium today, having a final vote by the County Legislature in late March/early April and getting the thing built by mid-June to start that first season?

It wouldn't happen today. You can't even get construction materials right now in 71 days, let alone what was built back then. Anybody I tell about the vote to opening day timeline to get it built, people are fascinated. If you remember we didn't have a front gate. We had the seating bowl, the field and the bathrooms. It was pretty amazing. To this day, I look back at how that all came together and I am still amazed.

Wagaman perseveres at first base for Renegades

faith in Wagaman and assigned him back to Hudson Valley.

While he has struggled to hit consistently, with a .239 mark, the youngster has flashed his power. As of Sunday, June 26, Wagaman had eight home runs, 19 RBI and a respectable OPS (on-base percentage plus slugging percentage) of .828.

"I was pretty upset at first," Wagaman told MyCentralJersey. "I mean, I was pretty upset the whole time. But, at the same time, I can't just like stop playing or stop trying to get better. I can't just sit here and do nothing. He called me in and was like, 'This sucks, but this is how it's going to be right now, just try and keep your head up and wait for your turn.'"

The Yankees, and the Renegades, are pleased that Wagaman didn't throw in the towel mentally after the disappointing news.

"I've known 'Wags' now for a while, he's been in the organization for some time, and he's just a fantastic dude," Hudson Valley manager Tyson Blaser told the website. "Good attitude, and he's ready to go at any point. He was excited to actually be down here. We had a conversation, and he was like, 'Hey, I'm excited to be here and to be able to play.' He's getting that opportunity, he's putting good at-bats together for us, and he's a veteran guy, so he's out here and he knows the role. He's setting a good example for some of these younger guys."

Stephen Mark McCaffery

Stephen Mark McCaffery passed away on June 15, 2022 at Ascension Seton Medical Center in Austin, TX. Stephen left this world quickly and in good spirits surrounded by his family and love. Stephen has been released from his pain and earthly struggles and is now en plein air painting with his special Nanie (McCaffery) and fishing with his beloved Gramps (Masterson).

Stephen was born on March 23, 1962 in Poughkeepsie NY to parents Edward McCaffery (Hopewell Jct) and Judith (Masterson) McCaffery (Wappingers Falls). Stephen graduated from John Jay High school and received a degree in Graphic Design from RIT in Rochester, NY.

Stephen showed his artistic ability early by winning a Central Hudson art contest with a drawing submitted by his Gramps and much later designed logos for the Dutchess County Fair. Stephen was still drawing from his hospital bed the day he left this world.

Growing up he was involved in scouting and Little League, but he was also a daredevil and risk taker. He had many experiences with his bicycle and dirt bike that left his parents incredulous! His nickname in school was "Crash McCaffery." As a teen he progressed to sky diving and bungee jumping and other dangerous activities that his parents were better off not knowing about. Once on a visit home, he went wind surfing with his sister Liz in Cold Spring NY, was caught in the current by West Point which precipitated a rescue effort by the police, fire department and Coast Guard!

Stephen developed Crohn's Disease (a painful inflammatory bowel disease) as a young teen but that didn't stop him. Three weeks after being released from Lahey Clinic for major abdominal surgery, he rode his bicycle to FL with his friend Kevin.

A native of the Hudson Valley, Stephen lived in many places, San Francisco, CA, Austin, TX, Cape Coral, FL, visited many countries but his favorite place remained the falls at Minnewaska State Park.

Survivors include his parents, Mother, Judith VanNostrand, stepdad Donald VanNostrand (Fishkill) Father, Edward McCaffery, companion Nancy Baresford (Fishkill), Sister Liz Gifford (Charlie) Hood River, OR (his big sister and protector until the end), brother Evan McCaffery (Nashville, TN), Sister Kristen VanNostrand (Austin, TX) Nephews Joseph Gifford, Jaxson Antrim, Nieces, Alex Gifford, Isabel Gifford, and many loving cousins.

Special thanks to our son-in-law Charlie Gifford, the Gifford Family and Father Tim who were so helpful and generous during an extremely difficult time. The Giffords and Father Tim became Stephen's extended family when he moved to Austin many years ago.

The family would also like to thank the medical staff at Ascension Seton Medical Center for their excellent care, especially Drs. Bierry and Cauthen for giving Stephen the gift of life for the past two years and Dr. Hausslein for going the extra mile.

A Memorial Mass said by Father Tim to celebrate Stephen's life was held on June 20, 2022 in St. Mary's Cathedral in Austin, TX. After the beautiful, touching ceremony, family and friends gathered at Sally Robb's house in Austin.

In accordance with Stephen's wishes cremation is being handled by Green Cremation Texas and his ashes will be returned home to his beloved Hudson Valley.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in Stephen's name to the Crohn's and Colitis Foundation.org or the American Heart Association Hudson Valley, 301 Manchester Rd., Poughkeepsie, NY 12603.

Virtual program views impact of Alzheimer's on the African-American community

According to the Alzheimer's Association's 2022 Facts & Figures Report, Black Americans are twice as likely to develop Alzheimer's or another dementia as their white counterparts, but less likely to receive a diagnosis.

A program at the Alzheimer's Association Hudson Valley website addresses this issue and explores important dementia related topics such as risk factors, the importance of getting a diagnosis, research and more.

"We are pleased to be able to bring together these three accomplished experts to help spread awareness and understanding of Alzheimer's and dementia in the Black community. Hopefully it will help change the disparities that exist when it comes to how this heartbreaking disease affects families," said Meg Boyce, Vice President of Programs and Services for the Alzheimer's Association Hudson Valley Chapter, which helped organize the program.

Speakers participating in "Twice the Risk: Dementia's Impact on Communities of Color" will include Dr Goldie Byrd, professor of public health sciences and Director of the Maya Angelou Center for Health Equity at Wake Forest School of Medicine; Dr. Carl V. Hill, Ph.D., MPH, Chief Diversity, Equity and Inclusion officer for the Alzheimer's Association; and Dr. Dozene Guishard, Director of Health and Wellness Initiatives at the Carter Burden Network.

County Players to present a new contemporary comedy

'Native Gardens' to open July 8 in Wappingers Falls

County Players, one of the longest running community theatre companies in the area is proud to present the Contemporary Comedy "Native Gardens" by Karen Zacarias is directed by Christine Crawfis. Performances of this Main Stage production are scheduled for Friday and Saturday July 8, 9, 15, 16, 22, 23 at 8 p.m., with matinees at 2 p.m. on both Sunday, July 17, and Saturday, July 23, 2022, at the County Players Falls Theatre, 2681 W. Main Street in the Village of Wappingers Falls.

It's true. You can't choose your neighbors. In this brilliant comedy, cultures and gardens clash, turning well-intentioned neighbors into feuding enemies. Pablo, a rising attorney, and Tania, his pregnant wife, have purchased a home next to Frank and Virginia, a well-established D.C. couple with a prize-worthy English garden. An impending barbecue and a disagreement over a fence line soon spiral into an all-out border dispute. "The difference between a flower and a weed ... is a judgement."

Featuring Kit Colbourn, Lorena Monagas, Glen Morrice, and Ken Straus, and in the "Leaf It To Us" Ensemble: Jeff Battersby, Johanna Battersby, Mike Boden, MaryBeth Boylan, and Peggy Ringwood. Director Crawfis says: "This play is a comedy but addresses several themes from contemporary American life. Written by one of the most produced playwrights currently in America (Karen

Zacarías is one of the few Latinas to hold that title (alongside with Quiara Alegría-Hudes), the play tackles the conversations many of us are having in our everyday lives, but it does so with both humor and compassion. Notably it showcases Latinx characters but as highly educated professionals. The play approaches big themes with a child-like sense of play. But at the end of the day, audiences come to the theatre to see themselves and to be entertained. And 'Native Gardens' is certainly more than entertaining."

As COVID restrictions and mandates are evolving daily, visit the County Players webpage at countyplayers.org for up-to-date information on theater restrictions and protocols, and individual ticket sales. The box office will not be open for IN-PERSON ticket sales either before or on performance days. Season subscriptions, and individual tickets will be available online only and in advance of the performance dates.

This production of "Native Gardens" is made possible by Gold Sponsor, Dutchess Pro Print. County Players' 65th season is proudly presented by Hudson Valley Credit Union.

"Native Gardens" is presented by special arrangement with Concord Theatricals on behalf of Samuel French, Inc.
