Big victories for Hochul, Delgado; Zeldin wins 4-way race for GOP nominee

By Kate Goldsmith

Democratic incumbents Gov. Kathy Hochul and Lt. Gov. Antonio Delgado will face off against their Republican challengers, current Congressman Lee Zeldin (District 1, Long Island) and former NYPD Deputy Inspector Alison Esposito, in the General Election on Nov. 8.

Results are unofficial, with 100 percent reporting.

The June 28 primary election yielded a decisive victory for both Hochul and Delgado. Statewide, Hochul received 66.49 percent of votes cast, with an even larger margin, 78.58 percent, in Dutchess County.

Hochul's Democratic challengers, Jumaane D. Williams and Thomas R. Suozzi, respectively received 19.01 percent and 12.83 percent of votes statewide; in Dutchess, they received 12.09 percent and 8.27 percent, respectively.

On the Republican side, Lee Zeldin, who currently represents New York's 1st District in Congress, easily won the four-candidate primary with 43.52 percent of the vote statewide – although he came second in Dutchess County with 32.08 percent of the vote, behind former Westchester County Executive Rob Astorino, who received 36.01 percent of Dutchess County votes.

The final count for the three runners-up: Astorino (18.09 percent statewide, 36.01 percent in Dutchess); former White House aide Andrew Giuliani (22.63 percent statewide, 23.37 in Dutchess); and businessman Harry Wilson (14.54 percent statewide, 7.55 percent in Dutchess).

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Current Lt. Gov. (and former NY-19 Congressman) Antonio Delgado had a strong showing against opponents Ana Maria Archila and Diana Reyna. Statewide, Delgado received 57.1 percent of the vote (79.13 percent in Dutchess County). Archila received 23.34 percent of votes statewide and 12.64 percent in Dutchess; Reyna received 13.34 percent of votes statewide and 5.41 percent in Dutchess.

There was no Republican primary for lieutenant governor, as Esposito ran unopposed.

County, WMCHHealth to create Behavioral Health Center of Excellence

Dutchess County Executive Marc Molinaro and Westchester Medical Center Health Network (WMCHHealth) announced plans to create a Behavioral Health Center of Excellence at MidHudson Regional Hospital, leveraging private and public resources to establish a holistic approach to providing in-patient mental health services in Dutchess County. County Executive Molinaro previously announced that Dutchess County will provide $3 million in funding for the project, an investment that will go towards permanently adding 20 inpatient behavioral health beds at MHRH – increasing the total number of available mental health beds at this facility to 60.

Establishing a Behavioral Health Center of Excellence at MidHudson Regional Hospital will provide a high-quality standard of care for behavioral health patients in Dutchess County and surrounding areas. The funding provided by Dutchess County will facilitate updates to MidHudson Regional Hospital's inpatient behavioral health units, including shared community spaces and nursing stations in these areas, in order to enhance the healing environment while prioritizing a safe environment for patients and workforce members.

"Dutchess County has long prioritized the importance of mental health, and the forthcoming Behavioral Health

Castle Point receives a reprieve from possible closure

By Kristine Coulter

It appears that Castle Point VA Medical Center will stay open. It was in March that the Veterans Administration released a report stating that Castle Point, and other VA facilities throughout the country, would be reviewed. The VA Asset and Infrastructure Review Act (AIR) of 2018 established the independent Asset and Infrastructure Review Commission. It prescribed directives related to the development and assessment of recommendations for modernizing or realigning Veterans Health Administration facilities.

Twelve U.S. Senators on the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee (SVAC) issued a statement last week opposing the plan.

"As Senators, we share a commitment to expanding and strengthening modern VA infrastructure in a way that upholds our obligations to America's veterans. We believe the recommendations put forth to the AIR Commission are not reflective of that goal, and would put veterans in both rural and urban areas at a disadvantage, which is why we are announcing that this process does not have our support and will not move forward. The Commission is not necessary for our continued push to invest in VA health infrastructure, and together we remain dedicated to providing the Department with the resources and tools it needs to continue delivering quality care and earned services to veterans in 21st century facilities—now and into the future," read the statement from the senators, "read the statement from the senators," reads the statement from the dozen senators.

According to U.S. Senator Joe Manchin

(D-WV), a member of the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee (SVAC), the VA AIR Commission will not move forward because it is officially opposed by 12 bipartisan Senators, and signifies the end of the AIR Commission.

Health Network for its support and willingness to be an active partner in this life-saving collaboration."

"Creating a Center of Excellence to address the community's behavioral health needs will benefit Dutchess County tremendously and complement our work throughout the Hudson Valley to deliver quality behavioral health care while expanding and enhancing these vital services in the communities we serve," said Michael D. Israel, President and CEO, WMCHHealth. "We are very grateful for County Executive Molinaro's support for the project and look forward to collaborating with the County Executive and his office to strengthen mental health services in Poughkeepsie and the surrounding region."

While delivering improvements to the inpatient units is a priority, the partnership between WMCHHealth and Dutchess County extends to establishing a continuum of care between private and public resources that will help ensure the best possible behavioral health patient outcomes.

As part of this expanded approach, WMCHHealth and Dutchess County Department of Behavioral & Community Health will partner to embed County staff at the Behavioral Health Center of Excellence at MidHudson Regional Hospital. This will help facilitate a seamless transition for discharged patients to continue their recovery by utilizing the extensive behavioral health programs available throughout Dutchess County for residents with mental health or substance use issues, using every available resource to help ensure the appropriate support for our patients to recover. Creating a Center of Excellence also means establishing an approach to mental health services that best serves patients, such as focusing on delivering trauma informed care, which is training clinical staff to have an informed understanding of the role that trauma has likely played in the lives of individuals in need of mental health services.

WMCHHealth also announced last month that 20 inpatient mental health beds will be located in the expanded HealthAlliance Hospital on Mary's Avenue in Kingston, NY, bringing the total inpatient mental health beds available at WMCHHealth facilities in Dutchess and Ulster counties to 80. WMCHHealth is the largest provider of behavioral health services in the Hudson Valley with a total of 205 inpatient behavioral health beds throughout the Network.

The plan to expand the number of inpatient units to create a Behavioral Health Center of Excellence at MidHudson Regional Hospital requires approval by the New York State Department of Health and New York State Office of Mental Health, after which the WMCHHealth will work to finalize design and planning for the renovations. Construction on the project will be phased in order to avoid temporarily needing to take a significant number of crucial inpatient behavioral health beds offline for an extended period. The first phase of the project is expected to be completed late next year.

Dutchess County Executive Marc Molinaro and officials from WMCHHealth announced the Behavioral Health Center of Excellence will be at MidHudson Regional Hospital in Poughkeepsie. Locust Grove Car Show promises to be one of the best

By Jim Donick

The shady grounds of the Samuel F.B. Morse Estate, "Locust Grove," on Rt. 9 in Poughkeepsie will once again host more than 500 antique and classic cars on Sunday, July 10.

Local auto enthusiasts agree that this is one of the best shows of their season - partly for the excellence of the organization, but even more so for the ambiance of the location. Well over 500 antique cars scattered about under the trees and in front of the mansion add to the already elegant surroundings of the estate.

- Prizes are available in multiple categories, judged by the Hudson Valley Auto Enthusiasts.

- Breakfast and lunch are available in the museum pavilion, along with music throughout the day.
- Show Car entry is $20 per car with driver and passenger

- Spectator tickets are $10/person, kids under 4 are free. Cash only at the door.

- Arrive by 2 p.m. for the best viewing

The Locust Grove Car Show has developed a significant following over the last 15 years and is celebrating its 16th anniversary this year. It is managed by the estate and by the Hudson Valley Antique Auto Enthusiasts, an organization dedicated solely to this event and raising money to support this treasure of the Hudson Valley that is the Locust Grove Estate.

Visitors can expect good music and great warm food. The meals are provided by Luigi Coppola and his team from Coppola's Italian American Bistro in Hyde Park. Tom Weisman, Chairman of the Hudson Valley Antique Auto Enthusiasts, notes that, "having the food prepared by Coppola's means we can offer what is likely the highest quality food of any car show in the area."

Chuck Mitchell, one of the founders of the show said, "I moved to Florida a few years ago, but I love this event so much that I always come back for it. I get to see some glorious cars and some of the nicest people in the hobby. I'll be there again this year for sure."

Regular entrant, Carol Mills Campbell from Pleasant Valley reports that she "just loves this event. It's got the best diversity of cars around and there is so much to see. Having the oldest cars back around the mansion is so special and the organization is so efficient. Add in having the food prepared by Coppola's and I'll go to Locust Grove even on a hot day."

Weisman is very optimistic. "Assuming the weather cooperates this year," he said, "This could be the biggest and best ever. After the COVID period, we've got an amazing number of new sponsors and several of our long standing ones have upped their contribution considerably. It's really gratifying."

Event Chairman Herb Lorenz, added, "This one is going to be special. We're expecting cars from Connecticut, as well as from up near Albany and even farther north. The great thing about the Locust Grove Show is that it is truly more than just a car show. The location is picturesque. Most car shows take place in a field or a parking lot. Ours is under the trees and scattered about the grounds, so there's lots of protection from the sun. We've got music, food and other vendors, as well as the magnificent Locust Grove house for people to visit while they are here."

One of the Locust Grove attractions that often draws attendees is the antique carriage house on the grounds with its collection of wheeled vehicles. Ken Snodgrass, the Locust Grove Executive Director, notes ruefully that it won't be available this year as they are hoping to begin restoration of the building after too many difficult weather events over the years.

"We're well into raising money for the restoration," he said, "and we hope to get it opened in the not too distant future better than ever." Donations for the restoration can be made to Locust Grove.

The purpose of the car show is to support Locust Grove. Weisman said, "A few years ago, the last year before COVID, we gave a check to Locust Grove for $10,000. It was the best we had ever done. I think this year could beat that. That big year also saw well over 500 cars participating. We expect even more on the 10th."

Nuvance Health announces affiliation with Cleveland Clinic Heart, Vascular & Thoracic Institute

The Nuvance Health Heart and Vascular Institute is now an affiliate of Cleveland Clinic's Heart, Vascular & Thoracic Institute. Cleveland Clinic is the nation's top-ranked heart program, according to U.S. News & World Report. This collaboration will further elevate cardiovascular care in New York's Hudson Valley and western Connecticut regions.

"This clinical affiliation will give us access to the best practices that have helped Cleveland Clinic achieve U.S. News & World Report's No. 1 ranking for cardiology and heart surgery for the past 27 consecutive years," said Dr. Mark Warshofsky, senior vice president and chair of the Nuvance Health Heart and Vascular Institute.

The Ohio-based Cleveland Clinic will work with clinicians and multidisciplinary teams at three Nuvance Health hospitals, including Vassar Brothers Medical Center in Poughkeepsie, NY, and Danbury Hospital and Norwalk Hospital in Connecticut. Cleveland Clinic's Heart, Vascular & Thoracic Institute will share clinical best practices for patient care, giving Nuvance Health patients access to their expertise, including the latest technologies and innovations in heart care.

"This affiliation supports our high standards of delivering quality cardiovascular care to our patients that is convenient and close to home for them," Dr. Warshofsky said. "We look forward to working with Cleveland Clinic and offering our community access to their world-renowned care."

This makes the Nuvance Health Heart and Vascular Institute an exclusive

Cleveland Clinic Heart, Vascular & Thoracic Institute affiliate in New York's Hudson Valley and Western Connecticut.

"Management of heart disease is complex, but we can advance the treatment of cardiovascular disease to benefit our communities by working together on programs like this," said Lars Svensson, M.D., Ph.D., chairman of Cleveland Clinic's Heart, Vascular & Thoracic Institute. "Our affiliation with Nuvance Health will allow for sharing of best practices, while working together to ensure the highest quality care to Nuvance's patients."

The affiliation is mutually beneficial and will enhance opportunities to provide new treatments and therapies to patients, as well as explore cutting-edge technologies and techniques in cardiac and vascular care that will accelerate advances in treatments.

The Cleveland Clinic Heart, Vascular & Thoracic Institute's affiliate program was launched in 2003. The affiliate network includes 14 hospitals across the country, with the addition of the three Nuvance Health hospitals. As affiliates, the Nuvance Heart and Vascular Institute and Cleveland Clinic remain independent, with no changes in control of physicians or staff.

Appears Castle Point will stay open

Lenox Okall, Public Affairs Specialist for VA Hudson Valley Health Care System Castle Point Campus, told Southern Dutchess News there would be no comment at this time.

In March, Senate Majority Leader Charles Schumer (D-NY) came to Castle Point and rallied for the facility to stay open. "Our veterans fought for us, and that's why I will always fight for them to ensure our veterans in New York City and across New York receive the top-notch high-quality local care that they earned and deserve," is a portion of what Schumer said in a statement on June 28.

In a letter to VA Secretary Denis McDonough written in March, part of what Schumer wrote was:

"I write to express my strong opposition to the references the Department of Veteran's Affairs made to closing the Brooklyn, Manhattan and Castle Point VA Medical Centers (VAMC) in its recommendations to the Asset and Infrastructure Review Commission (AIR Commission). Such recommendations would severely undermine the Department's mission to deliver world-class care to veterans in every area of our nation, and especially in New York City, Brooklyn, Staten Island and the Hudson Valley."

"Today's (June 28) announcement that the federal government will not close the Castle Point VA Medical Center follows months of advocacy by myself and countless Dutchess County veterans, fighting to keep this vital asset open for America's heroes who depend on its life-saving services," said Dutchess County Executive Marcus Molinaro in a statement on June 28. "On behalf of Dutchess County's veterans and their families, I thank the Senate Veterans Affairs Committee for hearing our passionate pleas to reject the Asset and Infrastructure Review Commission's proposal to abandon our local heroes and the Castle Point facility that serves them. We will continue to defend our veterans to ensure they always receive the benefits they have rightly earned through their service to our nation."

Harold Delamater, who is the commander of VFW Post 666 in Beacon, commented on the announcement. "[It] sounds like good news but I don't have my hopes up. In Washington anything can happen," he said.

DISPATCHES FROM THE VFW

by Tom Zurhellen

Veterans' voices heard on Castle Point

This past Spring, you will recall the shocking news of a VA report recommending closure of our Castle Point facility in Fishkill, where thousands of local veterans receive their health care. As a result, I'm proud to say the whole Hudson Valley veteran community really came together to voice opposition to this idea! Thankfully, those voices were finally heard. Last Tuesday, Senator Chuck Schumer released a statement which basically said the Senate would not support that VA report, thus effectively squashing any proposal to close Castle Point.

Let's listen to the reactions of some of our local leaders as they processed this good news.

Dutchess County Executive Marc Molinaro was quick to respond to the news, stating, "Today's announcement that the federal government will not close the Castle Point VA Medical Center follows months of advocacy by myself and countless Dutchess County veterans, fighting to keep this vital asset open for America's heroes who depend on its life-saving services. We will continue to defend our veterans to ensure they always receive the benefits they have rightly earned through their service to our nation."

Dutchess County Director of Veterans' Services Adam Roche echoed those sentiments, telling me, "Through coordinated efforts, Dutchess County veterans have been heard loud and clear in Washington, and their concerns have been taken seriously, with the federal government nixing any notion of closing this important resource that serves so many."

Assemblymember Didi Barrett, Chair of the NYS Assembly Veterans Affairs Committee, stated, "I am pleased that cooler heads have prevailed and that Castle Point VA Medical Center, which has served generations of Hudson Valley Veterans and their families will remain open. I was proud to stand with Senator Dutchess County Executive Marc Molinaro speaks at a veteran forum on April 30 to discuss the possible closure of VA Castle Point. Schumer, federal and state colleagues and our local veterans to push back against this misguided announcement. I hope this same coalition will stand together again to fight for more robust VA services for veterans and military families in our Hudson Valley region."

Likewise, our State Senator Sue Serino told me, "When it comes to any issue that impacts our veterans, my top priority is ensuring that their voices and concerns are heard. Now, we must redouble our efforts to ensure that our local veterans always have access to the resources and quality care they have earned."

And by no means was this news only received well here in Dutchess County. Castle Point serves the entire Hudson Valley, and our neighbors were certainly relieved as well. Ulster County Executive Pat Ryan stated, "This is a huge win for the Hudson Valley, and for veterans and their families across the nation. The outcry from veterans helped end a proposal that was simply unacceptable. However, the fight is not over. Now we must push even harder for real investments to strengthen our regional VA services. As County Executive, I will continue to advocate for my fellow veterans and work to ensure that they receive the care that they need and deserve."

Although Senators and other elected leaders might get the credit for saving Castle Point, I know it was the rank-and-file members of the veteran community right here in the Hudson Valley who really made a difference by attending hearings, writing letters and emails, and raising their collective voice to truly effect change in our community. Personally, I don't think national leaders like Senator Schumer get involved unless our voices are loud enough for them to hear. Well done!

Thank you to all the folks who stood up for our veterans. And thank you, for listening! See you next time!

A Navy veteran, Tom Zurhellen has been Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars (VFW) in Poughkeepsie for the past three years. In the summer of 2019, he walked across America from Portland, Oregon, to Poughkeepsie to raise awareness on veteran suicide and veteran homelessness in our country. He continues to work with local veterans in need through the VetZero Project, in partnership with Hudson River Housing.

State Police investigate fatal crash on River Road North in Wappinger

The New York State Police began investigating a fatal motor vehicle crash on River Road North in the town of Wappinger, which occurred on June 25.

Troopers were dispatched by Dutchess County 911 to River Road North at approximately 7:25 p.m., for a rollover crash with an ejection. According to officials, upon locating the operator, Troopers employed life-saving-techniques until Empress Ambulance Emergency Medical Services arrived and transported him to Mid-Hudson Regional Hospital.

According to State Police, the driver was later identified as Ravyn N. Vargas, 40, of Wappinger, who was pronounced deceased at the hospital.

According to law enforcement, a preliminary investigation found Vargas was operating a 2013 Lexus north on River Road North and left the roadway for unknown reasons. Officials said, the vehicle struck a guiderail and tree before overturning. Vargas was ejected from the vehicle during the crash, according to officials.

This investigation remains ongoing.

Minor League Baseball in spotlight as Senate looks at antitrust exemption

By Rich Thomaselli

Minor League Baseball teams and players – including the Hudson Valley Renegades – are in the spotlight as the United States Senate Judiciary Committee is taking another long look at Major League Baseball's antitrust exemption.

The Committee this week, led by a bipartisan group of senators that include Senators Dick Durbin (D-Illinois), Chuck Grassley (R-Iowa), Richard Blumenthal (D-Connecticut) and Mike Lee (R-Utah), sent a letter to a group known as Advocates for Minor Leaguers seeking information about minor league players.

That information includes salary structure and the way in which minor leaguers must navigate the farm team/affiliate structure in order to make it to a big league roster.

"We write to seek information about how baseball's antitrust exemption is impacting competition in the labor market for minor league ballplayers, as well as the operations of minor league teams," according to the letter.

According to ESPN.com, the questions from the letter also include: What effect the antitrust exemption has on the occurrence of lockouts and work stoppages at the MLB level; what role the antitrust exemption plays in requiring all minor leaguers to sign a uniform player contract; and what effect removing the antitrust exemption would have on minor league working conditions. It also asks about the extent of corruption and abuse on the market for international prospects and if the antitrust exemption has any role in enabling these signing practices.

"We need to examine how Major League Baseball's 100-

RENEGADES ROUNDUP

Renegades struggle vs. Cyclones to start 2nd half

By Rich Thomaselli

After matching zeroes through five innings, the Hudson Valley Renegades fell to the Brooklyn Cyclones 6-1 on Thursday night at Dutchess Stadium.

The loss dropped the club back to the .500 mark - 36-36 overall, and 2-4 in the second half of the South Atlantic League season.

After carrying a no-hitter into the sixth inning, Renegades pitcher Blas Castaño allowed four runs to Brooklyn in the top of the sixth to break a scoreless tie.

Jaylen Palmer lifted a solo home run to left for the first Cyclones hit. Shervyen Newton lined a two-run triple, and J.T. Schwartz chopped an RBI single to give the Cyclones a 4-0 lead.

Castáño (2-6) logged six innings, allowing four runs on four hits, striking out five and walking one.

Nick Zwack (2-1) shined on the bump again for Brooklyn, tossing six shutout innings, allowing only one hit, walking three and striking out six.

The Renegades rallied in the bottom of the eighth, loading the bases on three walks issued by Sammy Tavarez. Spencer Henson drew a fourth walk to force in Anthony Seigler and trim the deficit to 4-1.

The Cyclones added insurance in the top of the ninth. With the bases loaded and no outs, Matt O'Neill was hit by a pitch and Newton grounded into a fielder's choice to extend the lead to 6-1.

In the bottom of the ninth, the Renegades got back-to-back singles from Cristian Perez and Cooper Bowman, but Grant Hartwig induced a game-ending double play from Seigler to close out the contest.

The Renegades managed just three hits in the game, including the two in the ninth.

The Renegades are playing at Jersey Shore this week and will be at home hosting the Greenville Drive from July 12-17.

GLINER'S KORNER!

Grateful to the fans and Yankees' impact

Every week, Hudson Valley Renegades President Steve Gliner sits down with reporter Rich Thomaselli to discuss the team in particular, and minor league baseball in general.

We talked a few weeks ago, I want to say around Memorial Day Weekend, about school coming to an end and families getting ready for summer and crowds picking back up at Dutchess Stadium. Now here we are at the Fourth of July. Are you noticing that same trend?

Absolutely. This week, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday were the best-attended games on those days of the entire season. That's where we expect to be. And our weekend games with the fireworks shows we are also expecting really great crowds. But, again, that's where we expect to be.

Does it ever get old? Do you ever think to yourself that you're surprised after almost 30 years in Dutchess County that fans still come out in droves to see the Renegades?

Grateful. That would be the word I would use. Not surprised, grateful. I think everybody that is or ever was involved with the Renegades would say that. They would say they are grateful and appreciate that people come out night after night, year after year, and helped make this the success that it is.

I'm curious, I don't know how you would quantify this or calculate this, but do the Renegades get a lot of tourists from out of town during the summer? Out of state? Maybe even out of the country?

Oh yeah, and most of them usually identify themselves as such! They say Whatever the reason is, it's just nice to hear their thoughts and impressions.

Do you believe the Renegades being a Yankees farm team, and the Yankees having the best team in baseball, have anything to do with that?

Yeah, I think it does. The Yankees are top of mind. This is the future. What's especially interesting to me is Anthony Volpe (one of the Yankees' top five prospects). Everybody is watching that kid and because we had him here with us last year, most of the imagery around him in stories this year is him wearing a Renegades jersey. He kind of put us on the map in that regard. When we tell our story moving forward, there's a lot more players that are now just a couple of steps removed from the Major Leagues, instead of previously when we were a Low-A team and they were several steps removed.

something like 'I try to make it to a game a year' or 'I come up from the city' or 'I'm a minor league baseball fan' or 'I want to see the Yankees of the future.'

year-old antitrust exemption is affecting the operation of minor league baseball teams and the ability of minor league ballplayers to make a decent living,"

Durbin wrote. "This bipartisan request for information will help inform the Committee about the impact of this exemption, especially when it comes to minor league and international prospects."

We need to make sure that all professional ballplayers get to play on a fair and level field."

"This is about ensuring a level playing field for the minor leagues and its' players. MLB's special antitrust exemption shouldn't be imposing labor or contraction problems for minor league teams and players," Grassley wrote. "Baseball is America's pastime and that means more than just the major leagues."

Obituaries

Arthur 'Art' Smith

BEACON - Arthur 'Art' Smith, a long-time Beacon resident, passed away at the age of 80 on June 26, 2022, in Poughkeepsie, NY. Born in Freeport, NY in 1941 to the late Wilfred and Evelyn Smith, Art was a beloved teacher, coach, father, and husband. Art was especially proud of his service in the United States Marine Corps from 1959-1965. He served in Vietnam, and later attended the Defense Language Institute and served as a translator in Korea. Art was a gifted athlete whose passion in life was sports. He once played Minor League Baseball, was a life-long hockey player, and could shoot his age in golf. However, his greatest accomplishment was his long and successful coaching career, most notably as Head Baseball Coach at Marist College and at Dutchess Community College, where he led DCC to its first and only appearance at the NJCAA World Series, in 1990. Art taught health and physical education in Marlboro Central Schools and at Dutchess Community College for over 35 years. Art is survived by his three children: Yvonne Brandon (Smith), Brandon Smith, and Hannah Smith; his spouse Susan Steinberg Smith, his first wife Eve Brandon, and one grandchild, Marcus Afrashteh. Services were held on Saturday, July 2, 2022, at Libby Funeral Home, 55 Teller Ave, Beacon, where Prayer Service and Military Honors were rendered by the United States Marine Corps Honor Guard.

Leslie Anne Urbanski

WAPPINGERS FALLS - Leslie Anne Urbanski, 75, of Wappingers Falls, NY, passed from this life on June 26, 2022, attended by her loving family. Leslie was born in Utica, NY on July 25, 1946 daughter of the late Doris and Gilbert Cloyes. On August 17, 1968 she married Francis "Frank" R. Urbanski beside whose bodily ashes her own will be placed for eternity. Leslie graduated from Charles W Baker High School in Baldwinsville, NY and attended Ithaca College. She worked as a tailor for over 40 years, most of that time as sole proprietor of her business Alterations, Etc. where she was well known by the delicate accuracy of her work, and for never rushing a job whether it was a simple hem or every dress in a bridal party. She especially enjoyed prom season. She was a long-time member of the Jaycees, Union Jacks, Scottish Society and a very close-knit group of friends, many of whom regularly bowed, danced, celebrated, travelled, and laughed together. For decades, Leslie also volunteered at the polls. Especially after Frank retired in 2001, the couple travelled often, by car, ship, plane, and train both within the US and abroad. Leslie always took great joy in filling her calendar with the next adventure. Also known as Mamgù (pronounced ma'am-Gee, "grandmother" in Welsh, owing to her heritage) she was always eager to play with her grandchildren, nieces, and nephews and to lend an ear and wise counsel to any who asked. Leslie is survived by sons, Jason and wife Maria of Mahopac, NY and Bret and wife, Cindy of Charlotte, NC; her beloved grandchildren, Mackenzie, Mason, Sophia, and Olivia; her sister Barbara and husband Normand Turcotte of Climax, NC and Yamilée and husband, Féderico Zúñiga of San Jose, Costa Rica; and more than three dozen nieces and nephews and their children, every one of which were individually important and loved. Visitation will be held from 10:30 am to 11 am on July 18, 2022 at New Hackensack Reformed Church, 1580 Route 376 in Wappingers Falls; where Leslie was a longtime member. A Celebration of Life will follow at 11 am at the church. A livestream of the service may be viewed on the church's website, <https://www.nhrc-church.org/>. A private burial will be held at the convenience of the family. Memorial donations in Leslie's name may be made to Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center Giving, 1275 York Ave, New York, NY 10065 or via the following link: <https://giving.mskcc.org/give>. Arrangements are under the direction of Straub, Catalano & Halvey Funeral Home, 55 East Main Street in Wappingers Falls. To send the family a personal condolence, please visit our website at www.StraubCatalanoHalvey.com.

Geraldine Mazzei

WAPPINGERS FALLS - Geraldine Mazzei, Geri to all who knew her best, died peacefully on Sunday, June 26, 2022, at her poolside at home in Wappingers Falls. As many of you know, her pool was her favorite place to be during the summer months. Geri has left us to join her husband, our father, Stephen Mazzei, in heaven. She missed him, as we did, but her love and devotion to our Dad was too great for her to set aside. Her life was not as happy without him and we are doubly glad not only that she is with him now, but that she passed so peacefully on her way to reunite with him. Predeceased by her husband Steve, Geri is survived by her son Stephen Mazzei Jr of New Paltz, and daughter Kathleen Woolsey in Poughkeepsie, along with her grandchildren Ashley, Brendan, Christopher and Logan. Born in Winsted, CT, to parents Jerry and Barbara Rizzo, Geri married Stephen, who she met in Revere, Massachusetts, in April of 1965. She moved to Wappingers Falls shortly after and has lived there her entire married life. It is there they raised us in a loving, supportive and healthy home. She loved New Hampshire, where she vacationed as a child, and then again later with her family. One of her favorite sites included the Old Man of the Mountain. She loved her cat Tammy as well as traveling and spending days at the beach. Geri was an Avon lady, a pioneering McDonald's hostess, administrative assistant, retail salesperson, but most importantly a loving mother. Geri will be missed by all who loved her. "She is such a nice person, always so friendly," is the most common statement we have heard when describing her. So, to say goodbye, there will be a gathering at Straub, Catalano and Halvey Funeral Home, 55 E. Main Street in Wappingers Falls on Monday, July 11, 2022 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. A funeral service will follow at 12 noon at the funeral home. Inurnment will take place in Poughkeepsie Rural Cemetery, Poughkeepsie. Please join us to send Geri happily on her way. For directions or to send a personal condolence, please visit www.StraubCatalanoHalvey.com.

Janet Promnitz

BEACON - Janet Promnitz, 80, a lifelong area resident, died peacefully on June 26, 2022 at MidHudson Regional Hospital. Born in Beacon on December 16, 1941, she was the daughter of John and Eloise (Gifford) Wisniewski. Janet had been employed as a microchip technician for IBM in both East Fishkill and Poughkeepsie. Janet enjoyed lunch and yoga with friends, but more than anything she loved time with her family. On June 9, 1972 in Fishkill, Janet married Detlef Karl Promnitz who predeceased her on March 28, 2011. Janet is survived by her children and their spouses, Wendy and Gary Biktjorn, Eric and Krista Promnitz, David and Meghan Promnitz; her grandchildren, Elizabeth Zurawik, Jamie Truncali, John David Promnitz, Sara Promnitz, Nina Promnitz, and Andrew Promnitz; her great-grandchildren, Hayleigh Biktjorn, Bryelle Truncali and Katelyn Zurawik; and her sister, Joan Lyons. In addition to her husband and parents, she was also predeceased by sister, Joyce Robillard; and her great-grandson, Anthony Truncali. Calling hours were held at the McHoul Funeral Home, Inc., 895 Route 82, Hopewell Junction. There was a funeral service and interment followed in the LaGrangeville Cemetery. Memorial donations may be made to Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation.

SUDOKU

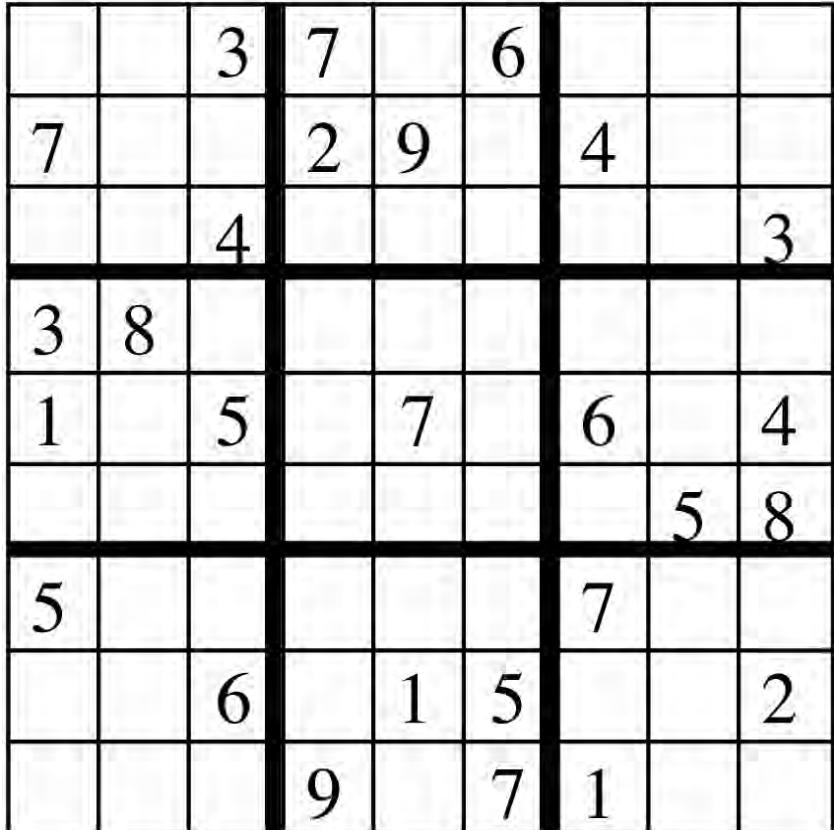

Sudoku requires no arithmetic skills.

The object of the game is to fill all the blank squares with the correct numbers.

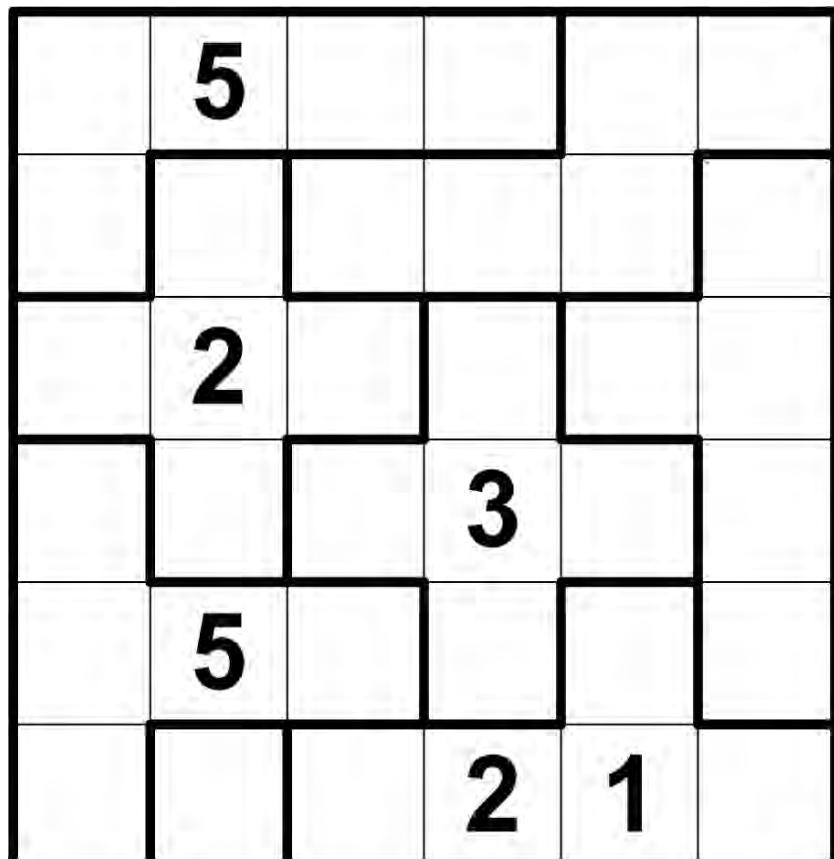

Each row of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order.

Each column of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order.

Each 3 by 3 subsection of the 9 by 9 square must include all digits 1 through 9.

Suguru

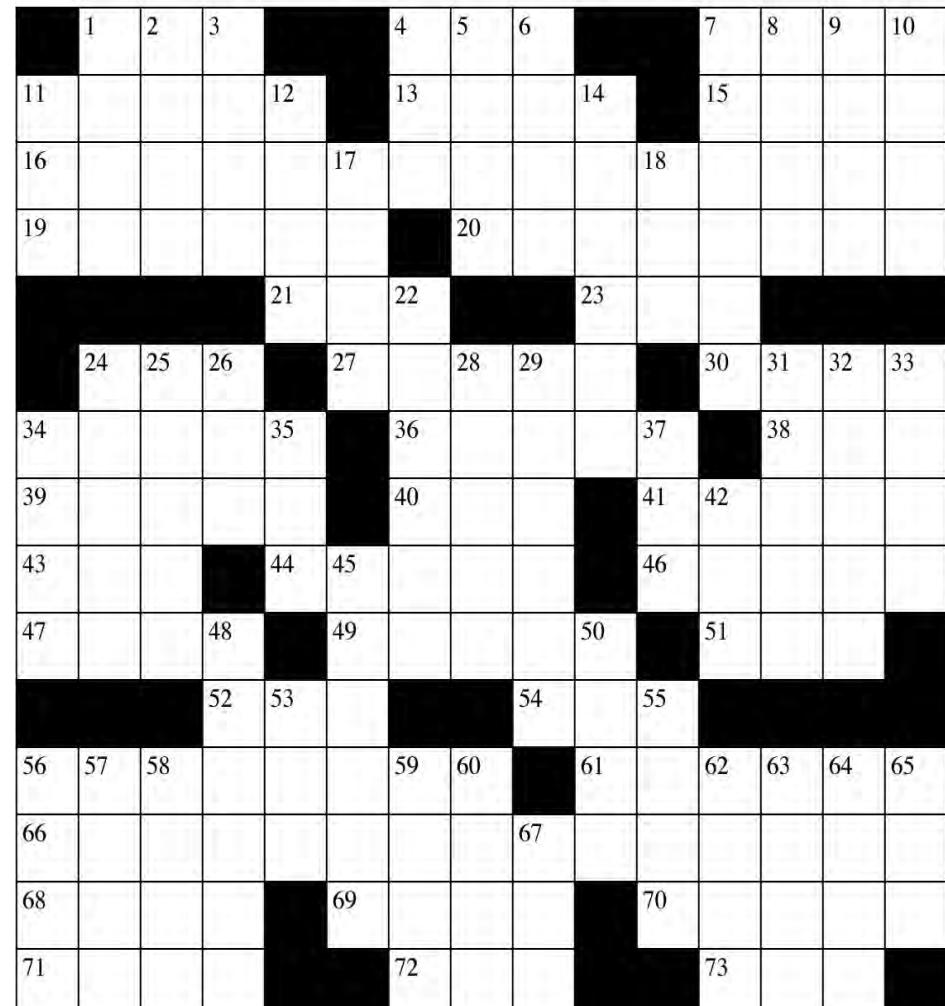

The heavy lines indicate areas, called cages, from one to five squares in size. Fill each cage with unique digits, counting up from 1. So for example a 2-square cage contains the numbers 1 and 2; and a 5-square cage contains the numbers from 1 to 5. Committee plans for 50th reunion of Beacon High School Class of 1972

By Kristine Coulter

The high school they attended might be artist studios now, but the memories of attending high school, in what is now known as the former Beacon High School on Route 52, remain with the Class of 1972. A 50th reunion for the class is planned for September.

"I've always been a social person. Just meeting new people that lived in Beacon that I didn't know. I had a really good experience in high school," said Judy McCasland-Banks, who is on the reunion committee for the class of '72.

There were approximately 220 students in the graduating class of 1972, said McCasland-Banks, who studied mainly business classes in high school. McCasland-Banks attended beauty school and went into business as a beautician for more than 40 years, she said.

Mary Ann Mattracion Loncto, who is also a member of the class of 1972 and on the reunion committee, said the reunion will be a time "to catch up on old times."

"It's a significant reunion," said Loncto because it has been five decades since Loncto and her classmates were graduated from BHS.

Loncto said, "I have good memories of the prom – the social aspect of high school." She added: "It's (high school) part of your life that forms you."

The Class of '72, according to Loncto, was one "of complete friendships." Chimed in McCasland-Banks, "That's why we've had so many reunions." Noted Loncto, "And successful ones."

The weekend will be informal, McCasland-Banks and Loncto both remarked. The weekend events will be taking place around the Beacon area.
