Local police departments to hold National Night Out events August 1

By Kristine Coulter

Local police departments will host National Night Out on August 1.

Town of Poughkeepsie to host annual event

"National Night Out is an annual community-building campaign, which enhances the relationship between neighbors and law enforcement. This is the 40th Anniversary of the nationwide event, that always occurs on the first Tuesday in August," said Lt. Patrick Barry with the Town of Poughkeepsie Police Department. The event is set for August 1 from 5:30-8:30 p.m. at Greenvale Park, 2260 New Hackensack Road.

The Town of Poughkeepsie Police Department has been participating in National Night Out for the last five years in the City of Poughkeepsie, with the City of Poughkeepsie Police Department, explained Barry. "We last hosted this event in the Town in 2014, and we are bringing it back this year to Greenvale Park, in the Town, so more residents are able to come and participate," he said.

What can attendees expect during the event? "People that attend can expect a fun, free evening, with a lot of family friendly activities with our officers. We will have bounce houses, obstacle course, face-painting, and touch-a-truck to name a few. We will have a dunk-tank with one lucky officer taking the plunge. We also will be doing demonstrations on some of our equipment, such as our robot and drone," said Barry.

The police officers participating will also have a Child ID card center set up. The Child ID card will contain "important pedigree information and photo that first responders can use in the case of an emergency," remarked Barry.

"We have received great feedback from past events, not only from the residents but also our police officers. It is one of the best memories I have as a police officer here with the Town of Poughkeepsie and can't wait to do it again. It is a great opportunity for residents to meet with and converse with our officers in a positive, fun environment," said Barry. He noted the officers will be grilling hot dogs and hamburgers and there will be additional snacks and refreshments available as well.

"This event could not happen without the support and partnerships of the following organizations: Town of Poughkeepsie Patrolman's Association, Town of Poughkeepsie Recreation Department, Arlington Fire Department and Dezarhae Otis and her team at Target in Poughkeepsie," said Barry.

State seeks plans for former Downstate facility

By Kristine Coulter

New York State Urban Development Corporation, Empire State Development (ESD), is seeking proposals for the purchase and redevelopment of the decommissioned former Downstate Correctional Facility. The approximately 80-acre site on Red Schoolhouse Road in Fishkill. The Request for Proposals (RFP) was announced on July 18. The deadline is August 23.

According to the information from the State, "There are 37 buildings on the property, totaling approximately 558,000 square feet. The Site is improved with four nearly identical and symmetrical housing structures (core buildings) that are connected by tunnels to a central reception and commons structure (reception center). The core buildings are composed of single-occupancy cells with a collective capacity for approximately 1,200 incarcerated individuals; each core building also has a small library. The reception center houses the kitchen and cafeteria, medical offices, chapel, and commissary among other services. Other structures on the Site include guard stations, storage sheds, and mechanical rooms." Most of the buildings were built in 1979, according to the State, and some of the guard stations, storage sheds, and mechanical rooms were built over the next few decades, through 2003.

The notice about the RFPs states: "ESD is interested in proposals that will provide maximum benefits to the surrounding community and generate the highest economic return for the State. Given the unique location of the Site in the growing Beacon/Fishkill area, the Project presents

Dutchess County Historical Society to have new location in Rhinebeck

Agreements have just been finalized for the Dutchess County Historical Society (DCHS) to locate its extensive collections and research library in Rhinebeck. It will be located at 6282 Route 9 about a half-mile south of the village center.

Recently renovated, the 5,000 square foot building (a ground floor and basement) is well known locally as having served as Hobson's Appliance store for over half a century.

Executive Director Bill Jeffway explained, "For at least a decade, the DCHS board of directors has been aware that to accommodate the growth in its collections and libraries other space was needed. Not working under any particular deadline has allowed the board to wait until a most exceptional Project are to maximize benefits to the surrounding community and generate the highest economic return for the State. These benefits may include housing, commercial activity, and job creation. When proposing mixed use development with contextual multifamily housing serving a range of income levels, market rate units should cross subsidize affordable housing units."

There is "[a]n archeological buffer is present on the site. Consultation with the State Historic Preservation Office will take place as part of the SEQRA (State Environmental Quality Review Act) review for the project," according to the State.

The State included in the notice that some of the buildings are owned by ESD and the remaining buildings are owned by the State of New York under DOCCS (Department of Corrections and Community Supervision) jurisdiction. The entirety of the Site is currently exempt from property taxes."

It also states two of buildings "are subject to a lease from ESD to the People of the State of New York acting through the Office of General Services (OGS) and a sublease to DOCCS. The remaining buildings are owned by the People of the State of New York acting through OGS and 10 subleased to DOCCS. All leases and subleases would be terminated in connection with the disposition of the Site to a Designated Developer."

Rolison addresses federal Disaster Declaration for Dutchess, Orange, Putnam Counties

State Senator Rob Rolison (R-39th District) on Monday released the following statement after the Biden administration issued a Major Disaster Declaration for Dutchess, Orange, and Putnam counties, among others.

The federal government's order will deliver disaster relief to affected localities and follows on the heels of Rolison and other elected officials demanding that state and federal authorities prioritize towns and villages severely impacted by the July 9 storm that released a season's worth of rain into the Hudson Valley in just a few hours. While damage assessments are ongoing, at least one estimate from the Town of Pawling, Dutchess County puts the total cost at close to $9 million.

"This action will send much-needed funding and assistance to the Hudson Valley communities hit hardest by the July 9 storm and floods. Help is on the way.

"In the meantime, I will continue to remain in close communication with local leaders in Orange, Dutchess, and Putnam counties to help coordinate the ongoing recovery efforts.

"From its start, this was a team effort, involving a number of hard-working stakeholders, especially our storm- and flood-impacted residents, and will remain so now that the federal government has provided us with the resources our local towns and villages desperately need to rebuild," said Rolison.

Dutchess County Historical Society to have new Rhinebeck location

Founded in 1914 out of a meeting at the Pleasant Valley Free Library, DCHS did not have a building of its own until 1979 when it moved into the building it now occupies, Clinton House in Poughkeepsie. The 18th stone house was bought by New York State in the 1890s with a view to turning it into a Revolutionary War museum. Those plans never materialized and the house became associated with the Mahwawasigh Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and eventually, DCHS in 1979.

The Dr. Franklin A. Butts research library was launched in 1984 and will be located there, as will a very recent acquisition, the Arthur & Nancy Kelly Research Library.

Jeffway explained, "DCHS has largely collected documents and photographs, and to a lesser extent objects, focusing on research, interpretation and publishing. The 1914 annual yearbook is the longest-serving historical journal in New York State, and we publish what we call 'occasional publications' on a variety of topics. Franklin Roosevelt was among the founders and earliest authors."

Owner Elijah Bender said he is delighted with the agreement, "The building location is a very visible gateway at the south of the village, embedded in a very historic setting. The site is flanked by a streetscape of intact 18th and 19th century architecture including the John Benner House and General Richard Montgomery's estate, Grasmere. These landmarks along with the new location of the Dutchess County Historical Society demonstrate our rich architectural and cultural heritage. Active farmland is part of the same parcel. It is a great example of how we can preserve the character that makes Rhinebeck so attractive."

The building had for more than half a century been home to Hobson's Appliance. George Hobson received radio training in the U.S. Navy in the 1920s and then after returning home to Rhinebeck started a small radio business in the 1930s. The business continued to grow until it had a significant presence at the building discussed here from the 1950s.

Jeffway concluded, "We really have the best of two worlds: a very contemporary, accessible, efficient building recently designed to sit quietly in the neighborhood – and a location on the historic route that has grown from a footpath for Indigenous Peoples, to the colonial King's Road, to the Albany Post Road, and today's Route 9."

Revitalized Horse Trials return to Millbrook with full schedule

By Jim Donick

The Millbrook Horse Trials(MHT), long a staple of Dutchess County's summer calendar, is, once again, taking place after a short hiatus in 2022. Bringing a delicious mixture of elegance and mud, the five-day event begins on Wednesday, July 26 and concludes on Sunday, July 30.

Millbrook is one of the few remaining horse trials in the Northeast. It is by far the largest, and it is the only one that still runs all levels through Advanced. The event typically attracts world-class equestrians, as well as grassroots competitors. Some will be competing in the elegance of the dressage competition, while others will emerge from the cross country runs covered in mud, but smiling from ear to ear.

Millbrook, long a popular area with equestrians, offers an all-but-perfect location to draw riders from around the world. It offers a great deal of preserved open countryside, a local foxhound and polo club and strong support from the local community.

The event has strong ties to the Dutchess Land Conservancy, with the cross country course taking place on preserved land that is owned by The Millbrook School and dressage and show jumping being located at Cole Park Farm, just across the road.

The Millbrook Horse Trials is the largest horse trials in the Northeast, with more than 400 entries on average each year since 2007. Once a crowded calendar, 12 events have ceased functioning in Northeast over the last 10 years. Thus, Millbrook is now the only one that still runs the advanced level. The event attracts world-class equestrians, including Boyd Martin, Phillip Dutton and Sara Kozumplik, as well as local favorites like Booli Selmayr and Ariel Grald, who are both seasoned competitors.

"It's really charming and special," said co-chair of the board Caroline Merison. "People absolutely love it, and we are constantly working on improving the event." Merison took over as co-chair of the board along with Mimi Babcock when longtime Chair Simon Roosevelt stepped down recently. They are working to ensure that after unavoidable cancellations in 2020 and 2022, the 2023 horse trials will have a fresh start with revitalized energy.

Merison said, "Mimi and I are excited to take on the challenge of reinvigorating the Millbrook Horse Trials after couple of year's hiatus. It is a wonderful event and one that has 30 years of history. It is important to the local community, and to the national eventing calendar."

The event offers something for everybody. Food trucks and vendors will be on-site. There will be a petting zoo for children, as well as free access to the Millbrook School Zoo next door, and an arts and crafts tent on-site.

"It should be a fun weekend for everyone!" notes Merison. "We have been overwhelmed by the generosity and support we have received. We are so grateful for the enthusiasm of all our supporters both from the Millbrook area and the broader equestrian community and feel a huge responsibility to deliver a great event this year."

General admission and parking are free of charge. Family entertainment includes the vendor village and weekend Millbrook Market, as well as food trucks featuring a variety of cuisines. The petting zoo and arts and crafts tent are sure to keep young children entertained.

Tailgating is available during cross country, with each space comfortably accommodating 10 people. People may bring their own tent, chairs and sumptuous picnic, or enjoy delicious cuisine from local food trucks and the Simply Gourmet concession tent. Cocktails are promised from the elegantly converted horse trailer bar, The Fizzy Filly, expected to be conveniently located next to the tailgating area.

Directions to the event as well as detailed scheduling are available at the MHT website millbrookhorsetrials.com.

of Fishkill Police Department, will host National Night Out on August 1 from 5-9 p.m. at Maurer Geering Park, 1 Geering Way, in Fishkill.

"This year we are offering, live music by the Carrie Zazz Band who won Hudson Valleys Best Band Award. For the kids we have, games, bounce house and free face painting, as well as a magician. Local First Responders from the Town of Fishkill Police, Village of Fishkill Police, NY State Police will be at the event providing demonstrations with their motor vehicle crash rollover simulator, Dutchess County Sheriff's Office K-9 will be conducting a K-9 demonstration," said Town of Fishkill Police Chief Keith Dworkin. "Additional First Responders in attendance are Rombout, Protection Engine, Slater Chemical and Chelsea Fire Departments. Rombout FD is bringing their smoke house simulator. Local ambulance companies from Empress, Beacon Volunteer Ambulance Corps and Ambulanz will be in attendance."

Dworkin stated, "We invited local businesses and organizations to contact us and apply to participate in the event. Many have been approved to set up tables for recruitment and to promote their business. Local food truck vendors are Empanada Mama, who won Best of the Hudson Valley food truck, BBQ Crew, The Dog House, Waffle Wagon, New York Soda Jerks and Cheesecake Heaven. This year will be providing two large tents to provide shade from the sun and shelter from the rain as well as high top tables for eating."

As for how this event helps with community and police relations, Dworkin replied, "I strongly believe that providing a highly motivated community policing program pays dividends to our residents. We are constantly seeking ways to improve how we provide police services to the community. Last year I started looking at ways to expand our connection with our residents. The National Night Out program offered the opportunity to do that on a much larger scale. Due to the overwhelmingly positive response from those who attended last year, we were encouraged to repeat the event this year and make it even better."

Dworkin noted pulling the event off is "a huge undertaking." He thanked Recreation Department Director Jason Maietta and Assistant Director Lauren McMenamin.

"It's a good day for residents and first responders to enjoy good food, good music but more importantly good conversation. It's our mission to keep the lines of communication open and let the residents know that we here for them," said Dworkin.

Check other local police departments websites and Facebook pages for their event dates and times.

Work to begin on sidewalk from Innis Ave. to Jackman in Poughkeepsie

The Dutchess County Department of Public Works (DPW) has announced work is anticipated to begin to create a continuous sidewalk along the south-bound lane of Innis Avenue (CR-75) from the intersection of Jackman Drive to the intersection of Arnold and East Arnold Road in Poughkeepsie.

Project work will include widening the sidewalks; adding sidewalk where gaps exist; upgrading intersections on both sides of Innis Avenue to meet American Disabilities Act (ADA) standards; adding painted crosswalks to intersections; making improvements to the roadway's drainage system; and replacing and upgrading the traffic signals at the intersection of Innis Avenue, DeLaval Place and Emmott Place. Innis Avenue will remain open during construction, but alternating lane closures and traffic interruptions are anticipated. Access will be maintained to driveways in the construction zone. The project is anticipated to be completed by November 2023.

Motorists are advised to plan for additional time and to exercise extra caution near the construction site, obey the posted speed limits, traffic advisory signs, and the directions from flaggers to ensure the safety of workers and other motorists.

Renegades, Yanks team up to help Red Cross, Eastern NY with check for $35,000

By Rich Thomaselli

A little cash never hurts.

The Hudson Valley Renegades, and their parent club, the New York Yankees, teamed up to make a joint donation to the American Red Cross of Eastern New York during Friday night's (July 21) game at Heritage Financial Park against the Brooklyn Cyclones.

A check for $35,000 from the Renegades and Yankees was presented. Deadly flash floods claimed one life and caused tens of millions of dollars in property damage in the region, destroying homes, roads and businesses. The American Red Cross of Eastern New York has been on site helping those affected by the disaster. This donation from the Renegades and Yankees will assist in their efforts to help.

"The flash flooding earlier this month was devastating to our community, and we are grateful to the Yankees for partnering with us on this donation to help the Red Cross' efforts to help our community recover," said Tyson Jeffers, General Manager of the Renegades, in a statement.

The Renegades ask fans to please join them in supporting the American Red Cross Eastern New York by donating now.

All proceeds will help people affected by disasters like flooding and countless other crises. This gift enables the Red Cross to prepare for, respond to, and help people recover from disasters big and small.

Thorpe strikes out 13 vs. Brooklyn to set franchise record for Renegades

By Rich Thomaselli

Another record-setting night for Drew Thorpe propelled the Hudson Valley Renegades to a 3-0 victory over the Brooklyn Cyclones on Saturday night at Heritage Financial Park. The win was one of the few bright spots for the Renegades in the past week, who now have a record of 11-13 in the second half of the season.

Thorpe (10-1) dazzled on Saturday night, striking out a career-high 13 in eight shutout innings. The New York Yankees' No. 6 prospect retired the first 16 batters of the contest before allowing a single to Omar De Los Santos in the sixth inning. The 13 strikeouts are a new Renegades franchise record that was previously held by Thorpe after he punched out 12 vs. Jersey Shore on June 11.

Thorpe has amassed 124 strikeouts this season, the most in single-season franchise history, a record that he took over when he recorded his eighth strikeout of Saturday's game in the fifth inning. His 10 wins passed Josh Maciejewski (2021) and Mike Venafro (1995) for a new franchise record.

Hudson Valley provided Thorpe with some offense beginning in the third inning off Cyclones starter Joander Suárez. After Suárez (3-7) retired the first seven hitters of the contest, Aldenis Sánchez and Luis Santos tallied back-to-back singles before Spencer Jones laced a two-RBI double to left-center to hand the Renegades a 2-0 advantage.

Christopher Familia extended the Renegades lead to 3-0, blasting a solo home run to left-center in the fourth.

The Renegades dropped the series finale against Brooklyn 7-4 on Sunday afternoon.

The Renegades had the long ball working early as Ben Cowles led off the first inning with a solo home run to left field to hand the Renegades a 1-0 advantage. Hudson Valley used a pair of long balls in the third inning to extend their lead to 4-0.

Cowles hit his second blast of the game off Cyclones starter Cameron Foster. He became the seventh Renegade to record a multi-home run game this season and the first since April 30 at Greenville.

The Renegades lost four of their first six games in the second half of the season since the All-Star break. That includes two of the first three games at home against the Cyclones.

It started with a 7-4 decision on Tuesday.

New York Yankees' No. 3 prospect Spencer Jones opened up the scoring in the first inning with a solo blast to right field off Cameron Foster, his 11th home run of the season. The blast was Jones' fourth lead-off home run of the year.

Brooklyn answered right back against Tyrone Yulie with a pair of two-run home runs in the second from Mateo Gil and Rhylan Thomas to hand the Cyclones a 4-1 advantage. It was a lead that Brooklyn never relinquished.

The Renegades deficit ballooned to six after the Cyclones scored three more runs off Yulie (4-6) in the fourth. Brooklyn collected three doubles in the inning, including a pair of run scoring hits from Cesar Berbesi and Kevin Parada. Berbesi came home to score after he stole third base and advanced home on a throwing error from Agustín Ramírez.

Hudson Valley responded with three runs of their own in the bottom half of the inning to cut the lead to 7-4. Alexander Vargas started the rally with a one-out triple off Foster (4-4). Spencer Henson then singled Vargas home and advanced to second on a throwing error from Stanley Consuegra. Grant Richardson tallied the second triple of the inning and scored on another Cyclones throwing error to complete the game's scoring.

Paul Gervase retired the Renegades lineup in order in the ninth to collect his fourth save of the season.

After Yulie departed, the 'Gades bullpen combined to throw four scoreless innings. Joel Valdez made his first relief appearance of the season, tossing a scoreless 1.2 frames while Harrison Cohen followed and struck out three in 1.1 scoreless innings.

After winning on Wednesday, the Renegades faltered on Thursday night 4-3 at Heritage Financial Park.

After Zach Messinger (1-8) retired the first six batters of the game, the first four men reached in the third inning. Mateo Gil and Cesar Berbesi worked a pair of walks before Rhylan Thomas singled to load the bases. Gil then scored on a wild pitch by Messinger to hand the Cyclones a 1-0 lead. Kevin Parada hit a sacrifice fly to center to score Thomas, before another wild pitch scored Alex Ramírez, who reached base on a hit by pitch. William Lugo capped off the innings scoring with an RBI single to extend the Cyclones advantage to 4-0.

Blade Tidwell (7-3) kept Hudson Valley off the board until the seventh inning, when Grant Richardson hit an opposite field home run to cut the Cyclones lead to 4-1. After Aldenis Sanchez flied out, Quinn Brodey entered the contest in relief. Eduardo Torrealba doubled and Luis Santos walked to begin Brodey's outing. After Santos was caught stealing second on a double steal attempt, Spencer Jones lashed a single to left field to score Henson and cut the deficit to 4-2.

Agustín Ramírez led off the eighth with a solo blast to left field to inch the Renegades closer at 4-3. Hudson Valley had the tying run at the plate on two occasions, but were unable to drive in a run in the frame.

Paul Gervase entered out of the bullpen for Brooklyn and retired the first two hitters before Jones clobbered a ball to right that Thomas made a leaping catch at the fence to take away extra bases and end the contest.

The Renegades will travel to Hickory, North Carolina this week for a series against the Hickory Crawdads. This week's trip will mark the first-ever the Renegades will make to L.P. Frans Stadium. Hudson Valley won five out of the six contests at Heritage Financial Park last season vs the Crawdads.

TYSON'S TIDBITS!

Making it through the 'dog days' and combining baseball & entertainment

Each week writer Rich Thomaselli and Hudson Valley General Manager Tyson Jeffers discuss the Renegades in particular and minor league baseball in general.

I should have asked last week, but do you and the staff get off for the All-Star break too, and relax a little bit and rejuvenate?

Oh, we don't. I think that there is a perception that we do, because of the parent clubs. We still have a lot going on. For instance, we had a Kids Camp here during the All-Star break. We never really stopped. We have a 12-game road trip coming up (it started Tuesday July 25). We might be able to squeeze in a day off in there.

Along those lines, are these the "dog days" for management too?

Yeah, yeah, for sure. I think it's the "dog days of summer" for everyone. So that's definitely a common phrase that we use in the office and use in the industry. So yeah, it's one of those time periods that we're grinding through.

Kind of an off-the-beaten path question, but what do you want people to know about minor league baseball?

I always try to represent it as something that is more than baseball. When you're going to a Yankees game or a Mets game, you're going to see the baseball. It's the highest form of baseball on this earth. Here, it's a little different, but we still have the guys who hopefully will be playing at the highest level someday. But we also know that it goes beyond the baseball. There is the entertainment aspect as well. Some people come to the game with their families and just want to be entertained. The trick is to capture both.

Birchwood Commons, Lagrange's newest multi-family development, with contractors Mid Hudson Construction Management, has announced the beginning of leasing efforts.

Named as a nod to the property's surrounding grove of birch trees, Birchwood Commons' four buildings — the Jackson, Hudson, Taconic, and Admiral — each host five two-story walkup apartments, each containing two-bedroom and two-and-a-half-bath units. At over 1,250 square feet per unit, each of Birchwood Commons' 20 residencies will feature high-end finishes and open floor plans.

"With this project, the developers sought to combine the charm of a small town with easy access to urban amenities, providing commuting options to neighboring towns and cities as well as access to the beauty of Dutchess County and beyond," said Scott Travis, CEO of MHCM. "There's a need for all kinds of housing in Dutchess County right now, and filling this need helps to enhance the economic well-being of the communities we build in by bringing in new patrons to local businesses. We're proud to be a small part of that positive cycle."

Pre-leasing has begun with residences starting at $2,750. The first floor of each unit features an open floor plan and is finished with stainless steel appliances and quartz countertops, as well as a built-in microwave, integrated trash pullout, and tall pantries. The second-floor bedrooms each contain walk-in closets, and ensuite bathrooms featuring built-in bookshelves, and other essential amenities like washers and dryers. Each of the 20 apartments also features a private covered outdoor patio and storage.

Located near access points to Route 82, Route 55, and the Taconic State Parkway, Birchwood Commons is centrally located, approximately ten miles from Poughkeepsie and 20 miles from Beacon. For more information about Birchwood Commons and pre-leasing options, email: BirchwoodCommonsNY@gmail.com.

The object of the game is to fill all the blank squares with the correct numbers.

Each column of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order.

Each 3 by 3 subsection of the 9 by 9 square must include all digits 1 through 9.

DCAS honors smiling helper Jon Prezzano

By Curtis Schmidt

Jon Prezzano of Red Hook is the epitome of a true volunteer. He stands ready to help at the Dutchess County Fair every year, regardless of the situation, does the work and expects nothing in return. His reward: "I enjoy helping because I love to see the final product of a job well done."

For his efforts – all done with a huge smile – Prezzano has been named 2022 Volunteer of the Year by the members of the Dutchess County Agricultural Society (DCAS), which operates the Fair.

The DCAS honored the hundreds of individuals who come forward each year to volunteer at the Fair at its' Summer Dinner and Meeting on July 19. CEO Andy Imperati said "We thank each one of you. We could not do what we do each year – without you. Thank you."

Prezzano said he has been involved in various aspects of the Fair for about 40 years – from showing livestock and setting up pens when he was younger to owning the company that supplied all of the tents, tables and chairs for many years at the fair and all other events on the grounds.

He recalls that his first encounter in volunteering at the Fair "was with Sal Lico setting up chicken pens in the old wooden chicken barn lean-to. And then it was showing goats with the La Togge Nubi Alpi Saan Goat Club and then showing hogs with The Pig Club."

He added, "And now it is coming back around with my children showing animals and winning Master Showman three times. It is a great feeling."

Some of the elements that Prezzano loves about the Fair involve "all the people I get to see. The livestock competitions are great, seeing the kids showcase what they have accomplished over the year."

"And then there is the excitement of the setup in the weeks prior to the first day. Most people are unaware of how many weeks go into planning an event this big and just assume it all just happens."

Prezzano also believes in the overall value of volunteering. "The more you give, the more you get out of life. I have always been someone who will help anywhere I can and expect nothing in return," he said. "And we have also instilled these values in our children - that it is ok to help out, because you will learn a lot and that is payment enough."
