Fishkill Historical Society members to host annual Market Day Crafts Fair

By Kristine Coulter

The Market Day Crafts Fair at the Van Wyck Homestead Museum is described by organizers as “a modern-day take on old-time markets.” Visit the Van Wyck Homestead Museum, 504 Route 9, from 11 a.m. – 4 p.m. on October 7 and step back in time.

“People should come to the Market Day Crafts Fair in Fishkill to have a good time shopping from local craftspeople while supporting the Fishkill Historical Society’s programming and upkeep of the Van Wyck Homestead Museum,” said Amy Mackenzie, a member of the FHS.

According to FHS information: “In the colonial era, market days were an opportunity for craftspeople, farmers, and friends to come together for fellowship and to stock up on needed goods.”

Mackenzie said, “In addition to housing the Van Wyck Family for several generations, the homestead had a significant role during the Revolutionary War as it was the Officer’s Headquarters for the Fishkill Supply Depot.” She told Beacon Free Press, “The museum building was used by George Washington’s Continental Army as the officer’s headquarters of the Fishkill Supply Depot. The nation’s 250th birthday is coming up fast and the Van Wyck Homestead Museum is a venerable location to learn Fishkill’s massive role to keep the Continental Army strong enough to gain our independence from Britain.”

The depot supported the operations of the Continental Army and the New York State militia throughout the Revolutionary War. Maintaining this historic site to tell Fishkill’s story is the mission of the historical society, according to information from FHS.

So, what will one find at this annual market?

There will be more than 25 vendors selling a variety of arts and crafts. Among some of the items available will be jewelry, knit clothing, quilted bags, wooden pieces, resin art and more.

The FHS members will also have food available for purchase. Some of the available food items will be homemade soups, chili, baked goods and hot dogs. FHS members are known for the made-to-order fritters, which will also be on the menu.

“We are lucky to have East Fishkill resident Bruce Beard demonstrating 18th century style woodworking at the event as well as musician Cara Schuman playing 18th-century tunes on the patio,” said Mackenzie.

Attendees can tour the museum that day, too.

Spring Farmers Market will be selling shrimp tacos and other foods. All food vendors are 100 percent compliant with Beacon compostable products. We bring all our compostables to the same facility that the city of Beacon uses, which is Sustainable Materials Management."

There will also be "a free clay, activity throughout the afternoon making sculptures, animals, fish, boats, beads, little houses, cars and scenarios that will fit on a 4 inch tile for a platform in the children's area," Hanson noted.

After learning about the Hudson, one can take up the opportunity to sail (weather permitting) on the BSC's boat, the Woody Guthrie. The boat trip is free. For those who are interested, sign up at the Beacon Sloop Club table beginning at noon.

This is the third and last of the BSC's festival for 2023. Previous festivals held by the all-volunteer and non-profit organization were the Strawberry Festival, held in June, and the Corn Festival, which was held in August.

May remarked, "The Pumpkin Festival will be the culmination of a very successful festival season." He added: "[Volunteers] have built upon their previous innovations and successes to ensure that this year's Pumpkin Festival will be at least as big and successful as the others. The previous two festivals attracted remarkably large, diverse, and enthusiastic crowds. They enjoyed all the delicious food and excellent merchandise, lively music and free rides on our 19th century-styled ferry sloop, Woody Guthrie. And we were blessed with beautiful weather."

The Beacon Sloop Club meets the first Friday of each month at the clubhouse in Beacon on the banks of the Hudson River near the Metro-North train station. Everyone is always welcome.

"There is so much to enjoy, it is hard to pick a favorite part. Our famous mouth-watering pumpkin pies, chili and refreshments as well as a chance to sail on our sloop Woody Guthrie, listen to fine music, purchase one-of-a-kind merchandise, participate in arts and crafts and face painting, as well as the chance to learn about the river and river creatures at our Environmental Tent, are all my favorite," said May.

Five D.C. residents earn vehicles from 'Way to Work' program

Reliable transportation is critical to successful employment. A single mother and the sole provider for her child, Nicole, balances of the responsibilities of a full-time job with the obligations being a full-time student. While Nicole studies to become an ultrasound technician, her work assignments often take her to Westchester County.

Without the benefit of a reliable vehicle of her own, Nicole must frequently pay a costly ride-share to get her to and from her job – an additional financial burden she can barely afford as she raises her child alone.

That all changed on September 28.

Nicole was one of five recipients who completed the "Way to Work" employment empowerment program – a partnership between Dutchess County's Department of Community & Family Services (DCFS) and the Dutchess County Workforce Investment Board (DCWIB) that assists people address their transportation challenges. The program participants earned a gently used vehicle to help them obtain and retain employment; acquire jobs with more hours or higher pay; gain access to higher education; increase their wage potential or take their children to and from school. Today's recipients included several single mothers, as well as a local young woman who was a foster child.

Dutchess County Executive William F.X. O'Neil, who presented each recipient with the keys to their vehicle, said, "Today we give these deserving recipients more than keys to a car; we give them the opportunity to build a better future for themselves and their families. They have each earned this chance through their commitment to 'Way to Work' – attending the various trainings, seminars and workshops, and investing the time and effort needed to complete the program. They have earned this opportunity through their dedication to improving their lives, and we look forward to watching their future successes."

Established in 2001, the program, formerly known as "Wheels to Work," is designed to help low-income Dutchess County residents get and keep a job, providing them reliable transportation to and from work. Qualified participants must come from a family that receives Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) or whose family income is less than 200 percent of the poverty level.

"Way to Work" is dedicated to empowering program participants with transportation solutions. Program recipients are chosen based on their work-related need for transportation, have a temporary need of assistance and other specific program guidelines. In addition, they must display the perseverance and the commitment necessary to take steps towards financial independence. The program offers various components, including connections to public transit options, financial literacy and car care literacy seminars, a financial bootcamp workshop, a credit score workshop, vehicle registration services and vehicle insurance services.

DCFS's approach to help transition residents to work is a multi-faceted one that includes work skills training, daycare subsidies for eligible families, and the "Way to Work" program provided under contract by the DCWIB. "Way to Work" provides vehicles from local used car dealers to eligible individuals and provides participants training – such as car care and defensive driving – as well as assistance in obtaining a learner's permit or driver's license.

The recipients who earned vehicles recently were chosen based on specific program guidelines, including their work-related need for transportation. In addition, they have all displayed the perseverance and commitment necessary to continually move forward toward financial independence. For every family that earns a car and avoids temporary assistance, Dutchess County saves $1,614 a month. Within a year, that savings equals the cost of a new car. Since the program's inception, 90 percent of vehicle recipients have remained independent from temporary assistance.

DCFS Commissioner Sabrina Jaar

Marzouka said, "For more than 20 years, this program has been a success, empowering Dutchess County residents who are looking for a better life and who commit to making it a reality. 'Way to Work' is just one way our department offers a hand up to Dutchess County residents in need of assistance, and we celebrate every success story our dedicated staff helps write each day."

DCWIB Executive Director Louise McLoughlin said, "Reliable transportation plays such an important role in one's independence – whether getting to and from a job, taking children to school or doctor's appointments or simply getting to the supermarket – and the 'Way to Work' program connects participants with community partners in a circle of support to make that a reality. We are proud to collaborate with Dutchess County on this vital program, which helps those searching for self-sufficiency reach that goal."

More information about the "Way to Work" program is available on the DCFS webpage, and a brochure about the program is available online.

The following is a letter from Senator Kirsten Gillibrand and some members of the NY Delegation (Representative Adriano Espaillat (D-NY-13) is leading this effort in the House of Representatives). Additionally, Representatives Jamaal Bowman (D-NY-16), Grace Meng (D-NY-6), Paul Tonko (D-NY-20), Ritchie Torres (D-NY-15), Nydia Velázquez (D-NY-7), Dan Goldman (D-NY-10), and Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez (D-NY-14) joined Gillibrand and Espaillat in calling on the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) to waive the filing fee.

Gillibrand asks filing fee for Application for Employment Authorization to U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services be waived

To Director Jaddou:

We write to request that the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) waive the filing fee for the Application for Employment Authorization (I-765) for parolees in order to expedite the work authorization process and provide these individuals the ability to legally and safely work. We appreciate the Administration's attention to this urgent humanitarian issue.

Since the spring of 2022, approximately 110,000 migrants have arrived in New York City. Today, about 60,000 of them remain under the City's care. While we anticipate many of these migrants will apply for asylum, those with parolee status are already eligible to apply for a work permit, which would give them legal work authorization ((c)11 category) for the duration of their parole. However, the I-765 filing fee poses a significant barrier to many potential parolee applicants.

Currently, the filing fee for I-765 application is $410. Many parolees have fled their countries of origin for urgent humanitarian reasons - fleeing oppression, violence, poverty, or persecution. As these individuals are unable to work legally or safely without a valid work authorization, the filing fee is simply unattainable for many, leaving them in limbo under the City's care. Reducing barriers to applying for employment authorizations will allow parolees to achieve self-sufficiency and reduce the strain on the city's resources.

We therefore respectfully request that USCIS waive the $410 filing fee for all I-765's filed by parolees in order to provide parolees access to work permits without any financial burden. Lastly, as you consider our request to waive the fees of all I-765 forms for parolees, we further ask USCIS to consider making I-912 fee waiver forms available to submit online, to reduce the burden of having to mail these forms to USCIS. The United States has a responsibility to provide an orderly and legal pathway to work for those who are seeking safety and protection from the circumstances they fled from in the countries of origin. Comprehensive immigration reform is long past due. However, we can make these critical changes now that can provide immediate relief to this vulnerable population.

U.S. Senator for New York

'Historic Murders in Dutchess County' talk October 12 at Wappinger Town Hall

The members of the Wappingers Historical Society will host a talk entitled "Historic Murders in Dutchess County", presented by historian and author Shannon Butler. Dutchess County was not always so bucolic. Learn about some of the County's most gruesome murders which occurred from the 18th to the early 20th centuries. This presentation will take place on October 12 at 7 p.m. at the Wappinger Town Hall, 20 Middlebush Road, Wappingers Falls. The presentation will begin immediately following a brief WHS business update.

Using court records, early newspaper articles, and pamphlets, Butler will examine several killers, including one of the first female serial killers; the horrible murder of a Poughkeepsie businessman in his own home; and several bloodier acts. Butler is the historian for the Poughkeepsie Public Library District and has served in that role for nearly four years. She has previously served as the Historian for Hyde Park and as a park ranger at Roosevelt-Vanderbilt National Historic Sites. She is the co-host of a historical podcast entitled, "All My Favorite People Are Dead," and has written several articles and books.

Students born with heart defects named local Youth Heart Ambassadors for Kids Heart Challenge

The American Heart Association has selected two 10-year-olds and one 6-year-old from the Hudson Valley to serve as volunteer local Youth Heart Ambassadors for the 2023-2024 school year. They are from Farley Elementary School in Stony Point; George Fischer Middle School in Carmel; and Minisink Elementary School in Slate Hill.

Chase Teichmann of Stony Point, Sophia Pinto of Carmel and Hank Bobrick of Westtown, will work closely with the American Heart Association's in-school programs, Kids Heart Challenge™ and American Heart Challenge™ to actively and passionately champion other children to establish healthy habits to better mental and physical well-being.

The American Heart Association accepted nominations from young people who have been affected by heart disease or stroke either through a personal diagnosis, diagnosis of a loved one, or has made a personal lifestyle change, to serve in the Youth Heart Ambassador role.

open-heart surgeries

Sophia was born with Hypoplastic Right Heart Syndrome, which means the right-sided structures of her heart are underdeveloped or not formed. Sophia also has pulmonary atresia with intact ventricular septum and tricuspid atresia.

She has had three open-heart surgeries, the first when she was one week old; the second when she was four-and-a-half months old and the third one -which she hopes will be her last - when she was three-and-a-half.

"I want to be an ambassador because it's important to keep your heart healthy, and to spread awareness," Sophia said. She was also a Youth Ambassador during the past school year.

Chase Teichmann loves to play

Chase is a fan of Roblox and loves to play hockey and baseball. He has coarctation of the aorta, which means that a part of his aorta was narrower than usual at birth. In his first days of life, Chase's mother noticed that her son slept a lot and had trouble eating. At 10 days old, he had heart surgery. Through frequent, ongoing pediatric cardiology care Chase has been able to live an active life. When he was eight, he started to have difficulty moving and walking. He had his second heart procedure to help maintain heart health. Now, he has a stent and feels great. Chase said these moments have helped him feel strong, and by being a Youth Ambassador, he hopes he can help others.

"I have met a lot of people that have been kind and helpful to me," Chase said. "I want to be kind and helpful to them. Maybe I can give them the advice and courage to be strong like I was."

Hank's heart story

Hank was also born with hypoplastic right heart syndrome, criss-cross heart and double outlet right ventricle. He likes things to do with farming, Scouts, and playing guitar. Hank's mother explained that he's proud of his story, and wants to give a little courage to other children with similar situations.

The Youth Heart Ambassadors serve a one-year commitment as a volunteer of the American Heart Association assisting the organization to be a relentless force for healthier lives for all. The position gives youth a voice to encourage, advocate and underscore the need for to raise critical funding as they share the impact cardiovascular disease has had on their life.

"It's exciting to see two of our local youth share their voice and experience to help others live heart healthy" said Alex DiCicco, Academic Quality Analyst, Johnson & Wales University and chair of the Hudson Valley Board of Directors for the American Heart Association. "Chase and Sophia have incredible stories to share and we are excited to see the impact they will make in our local schools and in our community."

Rooted in physical activity, Kids Heart Challenge™ and American Heart Challenge™ are service-learning programs that teach students how to improve their overall health while doing good for the health of others. Through interactive curriculums and various online challenges, participating students get active and have fun while raising funds and awareness for congenital heart defects, nutrition security, CPR training, mental well-being and more. These collective efforts help further the American Heart Association's mission to be a relentless force for a world of longer, healthier lives.

Schools interested in participating in either Kids Heart Challenge™ or American Heart Challenge™ receive expanded curriculum resources for both classrooms and in-home learning environments can register now for next school year. To learn more about our school programs please visit www.heart.org/get-started. More information can be found online, heart.org/youthambassadors.

Walkway fundraiser set for October 6 at Upper Landing Park

On Friday, Oct. 6, from 6 to 10 p.m., the community is invited to attend Starry Starry Night and celebrate the 14th anniversary of the grand opening of Walkway Over the Hudson and its impact on the region. Held on the banks of the Hudson River at Upper Landing Park in Poughkeepsie, Starry Starry Night is a magical, festival-like evening that showcases the bounty of the Hudson Valley. For complete information and to reserve tickets, visit walkway.org/starrystarrynight.

Guests will enjoy numerous food and drink stations featuring chef-crafted culinary creations expertly paired with local wines, beers, and spirits before taking a moonlit elevator ride with friends to stroll the World's Longest Elevated Pedestrian Bridge at twilight, soaking in amazing views you can't find anywhere else. All attendees will be amazed by the talents of local artists and musicians and awed by a one-of-a-kind fireworks experience.

"Starry Starry Night is the Walkway's signature annual fundraiser," said Lori Robertson, Executive Director, Friends of the Walkway nonprofit organization. "The support we receive is a significant reason why we're able to deliver on our mission to ensure the Walkway is an open, inclusive, and welcoming space for all that's rich with amenities, events, and programs to leave a wonderful impression on everyone who steps foot in our park."

Starry Starry Night proudly honors Ambassadors and board members Ron Lane and Kathy Smith as Great Connectors as well as recognizes Siegrist and Sons Construction with the inaugural Business Excellence Award. The evening is hosted by honorary chairs Michael Dupree, Sarah Johnstone Levine, and Kip O'Neill

"Ron, Kathy, and the Siegrist family have all made a tremendous impact on Walkway Over the Hudson," said Maureen Solero, board chair, Friends of the Walkway nonprofit organization. "Ron's community connections have created valuable partnerships, Kathy has served commendably as board secretary and was vital in helping us reach millions with our 212-foot-long 'Thank You' to first responders, and Siegrist and Sons has always been there for us to lend a helping hand.
