Clarke's adventures characterize Rhinebeck Antique Car Show

By Curtis Schmidt

He's an avid antique automobile collector, but Owen Clarke is also a showman, chauffeur, movie buff, walk-on actor and he loves to see children smile.

When Clarke talks about the lure of antique automobiles, his eyes light up and he says, "It's in the blood." Family blood, that is.

Clarke's grandfather owned a parking garage in the 1920s and '30s just off Park Avenue in New York City. Not just any parking garage. This one had special rooms for chauffeurs - with billiard tables. His father got his start at the parking garage and later owned a Ford dealership in nearby Cliffside Park, New Jersey.

"When I grew up in the 1950s, I waited every night to see what kind of trade-in my dad would drive home," said Clarke. "It was almost a different car every night."

Stories just like this one are at the heart of the Rhinebeck Antique Car Show & Swap Meet, which will be celebrating its' 53rd annual gathering this coming weekend, May 2, 3, 4 at the Dutchess County Fairgrounds in Rhinebeck.

DC sports museum to celebrate female athletes with new exhibit

By Morgan E. Maier

The Sports Museum of Dutchess County (SMDC) will open for the 2025 season on Saturday, May 3. For the first time, SMDC will unveil its Patsy "Pat" Zerbe Women in Sports Room, an exhibit honoring the achievements of female athletes with ties to Dutchess County. Beginning at 1 p.m., this event is free for all to attend with beverages and light fare provided.

Located at 72 Carnwath Farms Lane in the Town of Wappinger, SMDC offers equal parts education and nostalgia for visitors of all ages. The Women in Sports exhibit showcases memorabilia from different eras in Dutchess County history, plus a collection from Patsy Zerbe's storied career as coach, mentor, and athlete. From Pine Plains to Poughkeepsie and in between, these athletes have contributed to their generations and those who have followed.

Each corner of the exhibit offers an opportunity to learn and be inspired by the ever-growing landscape of women's sports. The engraved silver kitchenware and platters, frequently awarded to winners of ladies' competitions, represent the days when even the trophies served as a reminder of a woman's expected roles.

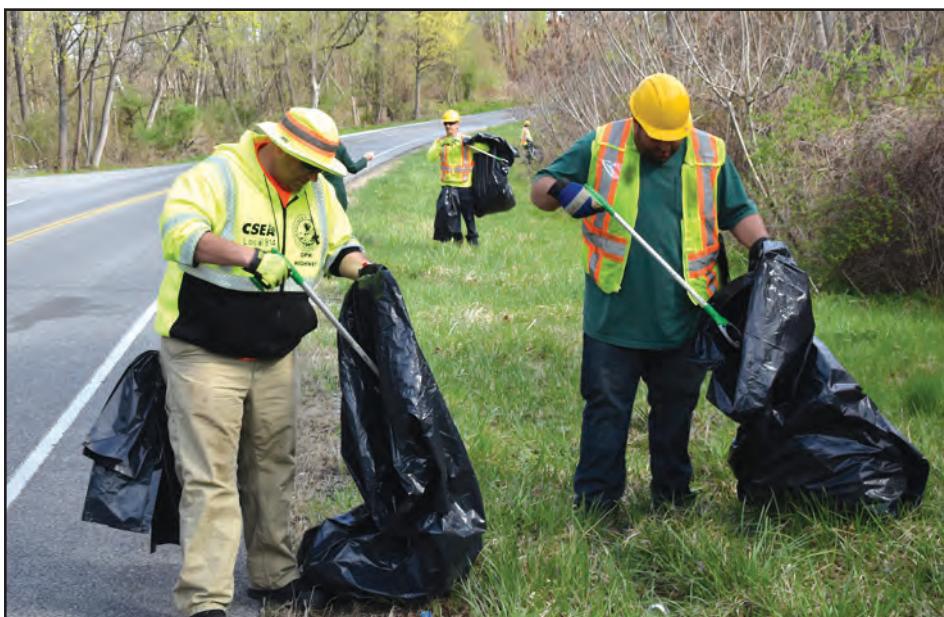

The Women in Sports Room celebrates athletes who began their journey in Dutchess County, like WNBA star and Poughkeepsie native Maddy Siegrist. Siegrist's #20 basketball jersey is retired at Our Lady of Lourdes High School, where she was twice named to the All-State team. Victoria Isaacson, a 2024 Team USA Paralympian, began her

DC crews clean up roadways for Earth Day

Dutchess County Public Works Highway Division workers were busy cleaning road ways last week, picking up trash and debris as part of their ongoing efforts to maintain the County's roadway system. Courtesy photo

In recognition of Earth Day, Dutchess County Public Works (DPW) Highway Division have been across the county picking up trash and debris as part of their ongoing efforts to maintain the County's roadway system. So far, DPW Highway crews have picked up over 500 40-gallon bags of trash along some of the County's most highly trafficked roadways.

Dutchess County Executive Sue Serino said, "Our DPW crews work tirelessly, no matter the season, to maintain hundreds of miles of our Dutchess County highway system. We encourage residents to help by making sure to dispose of trash from vehicles properly, or even joining a volunteer Adopt-A-Highway group. We are proud to continue this annual Earth Day cleanup tradition, and for their work all year long, keeping our roadways clean and beautiful."

The Earth Day cleanup is held annually as a special effort to pick up trash that accumulates over the winter season and is in addition to DPW Highway's normal road maintenance and cleaning efforts throughout the year.

County roads in this year's cleanup include: Saint Andrews Road (CR 40A) in Hyde Park, North & South Quaker Lane (CR 16) in Hyde Park, DeGarmo Road (CR 43) in the Town of Poughkeepsie, Overlook Road (CR 46) in Pleasant Valley, Bulls Head Road (CR 19) in Rhinebeck, West Kerley's Corners Road (CR 78) in Red Hook, Budds Corners Road (CR 79) in Red Hook, Violet Hill Road (CR 101) in Rhinebeck, Annandale Road (CR 103) in Red Hook/Rhinebeck, North Clove Road (CR 9) in Union Vale, Camby Road (CR 90) in Union Vale, Chestnut Ridge Road (CR 24) in Washington, Amenia Road (CR 2) in Amenia, Bog Hollow Road (CR 3) in Amenia, Poplar Hill Road (CR 4) in Amenia/Dover, Old Route 22 (CR 6) in Dover, Sylvan Lake Road (CR 10) in Beekman, Bruzgul Road (CR 21) in Union Vale/Dover, Clove Branch Road/Carpenter Road (CR 29) in East Fishkill, Noxon Road (CR 21) in LaGrange, Titusville Road (CR 49) in LaGrange, Vassar Road (CR 77) in Poughkeepsie, New Hackensack Road (CR 104) in Wappinger, Mount Ross Road (CR 50) in Pine Plains, Rudd Pond Road (CR 62) in North East and Boston Corners Road (CR 63) in North East.

Residents can also contact their local municipality for additional information on trash pick-up or other clean-up opportunities. Organizations and residents who are interested in helping keep Dutchess County's roadways clean and scenic can participate in the County's Adopt-A-Highway program (<https://www.dutchessny.gov/Departments/Public-Works/Adopt-A-Highway.htm>). Organizations are encouraged to apply by calling (845) 486-2925. The New York State Department of Transportation and several local municipalities also offer Adopt-A-Road programs for state and local roadways.

Work progresses at new Upton Lake School building

Construction of the new high school/junior high school building at Upton Lake Christian School has continued on through winter and early Spring.

From the pouring of the first floor concrete on New Year's Eve to the current placement of trusses and roofing on top of the two-story building, staff and students are enthused to be cutting the tape to walk through the front door on the first day of classes. Parents are also excited.

Principal Elisa DeWitt said, "Watching the building go up each day is so exciting. The teachers are beginning to have visual dreams of their classroom setup. The students are getting excited as well constantly asking questions about it.

Our plan is to have students, families and staff write scriptures on the inside of the walls. We are praising God for always being so faithful to Upton Lake."

The doors for the 12,000 square-foot structure are targeted to be opened for the 2025-2026 school year. It will accommodate classroom and lab spaces for approximately 90 7th-12th grade students as well as music and art spaces for K-12. The project is being built by Bovee Construction of Pleasant Valley.

Upton Lake provides a Christ-centered education for students and equips them to move in the direction of their career choices and spread the gospel of Jesus Christ.

Off' and Sunday's Antique & Classic Vehicle Show.

Now – back to Clarke's story.

His interest hasn't been just autos. The home in which he grew up was built in 1743. His interest in antiques began at an early age and he turned his that interest into a career as a trustee, working for several banks and later with his own business.

Clarke still owns and drives his favorite vehicle – a 1963 Lincoln Continental Convertible. His father drove it home and traded it for a "1964-And-A-Half" Mustang. Clarke drove the '63 Lincoln to his high school prom in 1967 and then to his 50th high school class reunion in 2007.

It's still in pristine condition – even with a convertible top that lifts up with the push of a button and folds neatly into the trunk that opens from the front and closes to hide the top.

Other favorites include a 1964 Studebaker Gran Turismo Hawk, a 1957 Lincoln Continental Mark II (actress Doris Day was the original owner), a 1952 MG-TD, a 1967 Mustang Fastback and a 2002 Thunderbird Retro Bird.

A connection with the Hudson Valley Film Commission several years ago opened up a whole new world for Clarke. He has negotiated to have different antique autos used in a variety of films in the U.S. and abroad.

There's just one notable part for the agreement. Clarke gets to have walk-on roles in the movies. Sometimes he's the chauffeur/driver that no one sees. That's easy. But he has played the part of an FBI agent and a U.S. Senator and even had a role in an HBO Christmas movie.

In these cases, his hobby has turned into an investment. "It's fun when you make a little money doing what you love," he said.

He has also struck deals with organizations like the Fashion Design Program at Marist College and allows his vintage vehicles to be used for weddings and proms. But again, Clarke has to be the driver.

And then there are the times he loves most – when he sees the smiles on the faces of children when their parents take photos of them in his cars.

His happiest moment with vintage autos happened when the Make A Wish Foundation came calling. A young boy who was recovering from cancer had always wanted to be the Grand Marshal of a parade. And Clarke was more than happy to provide his 1963 Lincoln for the occasion. "Seeing the smile on that little guy's face was so incredibly rewarding," he said. "That was the thrill of a lifetime. And I'd do that again on the drop of a dime."

Patsy Zerbe spent nearly half a century at Dutchess Community College (DCC), spearheading various sports programs and initiatives for students and community members. Zerbe's individual athletic achievements in basketball and tennis transcended the bounds of Dutchess County, as she dominated in Ulster County tennis championships and played on a Pennsylvania Little League team. She was the only girl, but a scrappy first baseman later remembered by teammates to be "the first" to break the Little League gender barrier.

This event offers exploration into women's history from the 19th century through today, as significant transformation is made on all levels of sport. On a museum tour with President Bill Ponte, visitors will learn the history of the above athletes and many others, plus hear keynote speeches from Marist women's basketball coach Erin Doughty and former D.C.C. athletic director Bill Holland.

In the revamped gift shop, visitors may find the perfect addition to their collections, whether they're into bobbleheads or biographies. At SMDC, there is something for all history buffs and sports enthusiasts with dozens of displays from auto racing and ice yachting to baseball and boxing.

single event. Sutera Strange is a twice-named All-American at Ithaca College, where her name is still written in the record books.

There were few opportunities for girls' sports when Strange was growing up in the 1970s, and the bulk of her athletic achievements came after her college years. Strange said, "There were very few [organized sports for girls]. Most of the sports that I played were in the neighborhood, and there were all boys in my neighborhood."

CCEDC Green Teen Hydroponic Greenhouse launches at DCC with Central Hudson support

A new hydroponic garden is taking root at Dutchess Community College (DCC), thanks to an $8,500 contribution from Central Hudson in support of Cornell Cooperative Extension Dutchess County's (CCEDC) Green Teen program. The funding will help establish a hydroponic greenhouse, a key feature of the newly expanded Green Teen initiative in Poughkeepsie.

On Thursday, April 24th at the campus of Dutchess Community College, Central Hudson volunteers joined Green Teen Poughkeepsie participants and community leaders to celebrate the project, raising the structure's roof and presenting the donation. This milestone marks another step forward in empowering local youth through hands-on agriculture, leadership, and sustainability education.

The Green Teen program equips urban youth with essential life and career skills through immersive experiences in farming, nutrition, entrepreneurship, and community leadership. Since its founding in Beacon, the program has provided paid opportunities for teens to grow and distribute fresh produce at farmers' markets, food pantries, and pop-up events.

In 2024, CCEDC expanded Green Teen to Poughkeepsie, establishing a home on the DCC campus—a strategic location where many participating students may later pursue higher education. The Beacon program has been proudly supported by New York State Assemblymember Jonathan G. Jacobson (District 104), while the Poughkeepsie expansion reflects its growing impact.

"This project exemplifies the power of collaboration," said Mary Lou Carolan, Executive Director of CCEDC. "Central Hudson's investment doesn't just support a garden—it nurtures future leaders, strengthens local food access, and builds a greener, more resilient community. Every teen involved gains real-world skills, and every harvest benefits neighbors in need. It's a triple win."

The hydroponic greenhouse will enable year-round growing, further enhancing food security and educational opportunities for participants.

"Dutchess Community College's partnership with the Green Teen program and this new expansion brings learning to life in a way that reflects the best of what the campus stands for," said Dr. Susan Rogers, Chief of Staff and Vice President for Institutional Effectiveness at DCC. "Through sustainability, work-based learning, and service learning, we're creating healthy, hands-on experiences in partnership with CCE and Central Hudson—spaces where students not only grow academically and personally but also give back to their community in meaningful ways."

"We are deeply grateful to Central Hudson for their generous donation supporting our food pantry garden's new hydroponic greenhouse," added Lacie Reilly, Director of The Pantry at DCC. "This contribution expands our capacity to grow fresh, healthy produce year-round and the greenhouse will serve as an educational and hands-on resource for the Poughkeepsie Green Teen Program. We are honored to have Central Hudson as a partner in our mission to fight food insecurity and support youth engagement in our region."

For details on the Green Teen program or other CCEDC initiatives, visit cce-dutchess.org or call 845-677-8223.

Workshop set May 5 for local developers to learn about Hudson Trust Fund opportunities

As part of multi-faceted efforts to expand housing supply in Dutchess County and create more affordable and accessible options for residents, Dutchess County Executive Sue Serino announced the application process for the latest round of funding through the Dutchess County Housing Trust Fund (HTF) is now open, with up to $3 million available to local developers for the creation or preservation of affordable housing, including smaller-scale projects in rural areas. The HTF application is available through Dutchess County's online grant portal (access via www.dutchessny.gov).

Application deadline is Monday, June 9.

Both private for-profit and non-profit developers are eligible to apply; and small builders are encouraged to apply. The County's Department of Planning & Development will host a workshop for applicants on Monday, May 5, at the Dutchess County Farm and Home Center, 2715 Route 44 in Millbrook, from 1 to 3 p.m. Applicants can register for the workshop by completing the registration form online.

Serino said, "The Dutchess County Housing Trust Fund is more than just dollars – it's about the people. It's about making sure local families, workers and older adults can afford to live in the communities they love. We're focused on supporting projects that not only expand access to affordable housing but also blend into and enhance the unique character of our towns and neighborhoods. We encourage developers of every size to take advantage of this opportunity and be part of the solution."

This round of HTF funding focuses on the program's Housing Creation and Preservation (HCP) component, which supports affordable rental housing through new construction, rehabilitation, adaptive reuse, property acquisition and preservation of existing units. Application instructions and guidance are available online.

The Dutchess County Housing Trust Fund provides a flexible and nimble funding source to aid the implementation of a variety of affordable housing efforts, with several main goals:

- Providing financial assistance to develop affordable housing across Dutchess County;
- Enhancing the competitiveness of affordable housing initiatives to secure additional funding;
- Supporting housing projects that align with County priorities but have limited or no funding options; and

The HCP also funds property acquisition for affordable rental housing by non-profit developers and the preservation or rehabilitation of existing affordable units to ensure long-term affordability.

The affordable units created through the Dutchess County Housing Trust Fund can either target all households with incomes up to 60 percent of the Area Median Income (AMI) for Dutchess County, or a portion (no more than 20 percent of the units) can target households with incomes up to 80 percent AMI.

Additional information about the Dutchess County Housing Trust Fund is available on the Department of Planning & Development's website.

Q & A WITH RENEGADES GM TOM DENLINGER

Sports-related themes and the fun of bringing communities together

By Morgan E. Maier

Editor's note: This week, writer Morgan E. Maier speaks with new Renegades General Manager Tom Denlinger.

Q. The HVR promotional schedule features many different sports-themed nights and jersey giveaways. Which are you most excited for?

A. If the first Heritage Financial Credit Union Jersey Thursday is any indication, the jerseys have injected Thursdays at the park with a new energy. Our goal for these nights - in combination with Happy Hour - was to re-energize Thursdays at the park, and I think we did just that. We have so many good jerseys this year. From soccer, Friends, Cider Donuts, and more, fans will want to collect them all!

Q. How can sports teams impact a local community, and one another?

A. Sports, to me, represent the fabric of the community. It brings everyone together, and the Renegades are proud to be a part of that fabric in a FUN way. As in any industry, we are better by supporting each other. The free flow of ideas across the sporting landscape allows us to grow and share best practices and programs that we can take and utilize in our communities. The Minor League Baseball community is a great example of that. There are 120 of us affiliated teams, and we share ideas and best practices with each other all the time.

Q. As part of the Augusta Greenjackets, you were on a few special sports-related councils. What were those experiences?

A. Working in Minor League Baseball, I've seen the impact we have on the community where we serve. As part of my role, I've always tried to be engaged and involved in the community we are in. Serving on boards has been a big part of that, and those experiences have not only opened up relationships and doors but also positively impacted the community in unique ways.

Q. If you could only watch one sport for the rest of your life, what would it be?

A. That's easy - baseball. It is our nation's pastime, and it brings communities together. I love what I do, and a big part of that is our platform of Baseball.

Q. We've talked about your part of baseball history in the longest doubleheader ever, but what's an all-time favorite sports memory?

A. Being a Phillies fan, my favorite sports memory was being at games 3, 4, and half of Game 5 of the 2008 World Series in Philadelphia. It was a historic series in the way the weather affected Game 5, and getting to go to the World Series was something I'll never forget.

Renegades bounce back to win 4 of 6 games vs. Asheville Tourists

By Morgan E. Maier

The Hudson Valley Renegades took a trip to Asheville, NC and came back victorious against the Tourists. This week at McCormick Field, the Renegades saw the opposite side of a sweep, fans enjoyed $1 hot dogs, and a second baseman clocked an 80 MPH fastball. When the clouds and rain delays parted, the Renegades packed up for the Empire State after taking 4 of 6 games from their South Atlantic League (SAL) rivals.

Double-edged sweep

Following a 6-0 home series against Wilmington, the Renegades had an extra day off with a rainout on Tuesday. Hudson Valley dropped the first two games in Asheville, losing both halves of Wednesday's doubleheader, 9-5 and 3-2. In Game 2, the Renegades received their first walkoff loss of the season, as a single from Asheville's Joseph Sullivan broke a 2-2 tie in the bottom of the 10th inning.

Long balls

As of Saturday's standings, Asheville has hit the second-most team home runs in the SAL this season, trailing only the Greensboro Grasshoppers (29) with 18 long balls. Hudson Valley pitching allowed just three home runs to Asheville in this away-from-home series. But the Renegades scored 10 runs on 6 long balls of their own, moving into fourth place in the league (16). Jackson Castillo hit the team's second grand slam, finishing the week with five hits and 8 runs batted, including his first home run of the year.

Best overall performance so far?

On Saturday, all of Carolina heard the Renegades' best all-around effort of the season. Hudson Valley scored a season high 15 runs on 18 hits. Every starter in the lineup notched at least one hit, and eight crossed the plate. Four players left the game with three hits: Brendan Jones, George Lombard, Castillo, and Jace Avina. Tourist 2B Drew Vogel earned his first career strikeout, coming on in relief in the top of the 9th inning to save an Asheville arm. Six dazzling innings by true pitcher Bryce Cunningham (3-1) were the catalyst for a combined 5-hit, 14 K shutout, as the Renegades handed the Tourists the largest home defeat since June 16, 2022, a 22-1 loss against the Rome Emperors.

The Renegades (15-6) return home for a divisional matchup against the Jersey Shore BlueClaws (7-13). Another full week of promotions is on the horizon for Renegades fans, including Tuesday's Mental Health Awareness Night, jersey giveaway on Thursday, and Family Fun Day on Sunday.

RENEGADES FEATURE

East Carolina alumni Moylan and Grosz return to N.C.

By Morgan E. Maier

Hudson Valley Renegades players Josh Moylan and Josh Grosz aren't just linked in name. They are also former East Carolina University (ECU) Pirates who, in their fifth consecutive season as teammates, have exchanged the hypothetical high seas for High-A baseball.

With the restructuring of Minor League Baseball in 2021, the Asheville Tourists and Hudson Valley Renegades were organized into the High-A minor league level as members of the South Atlantic League. This week marked the Renegades' first-ever visit to Asheville, located just five hours away from the ECU campus. The road trip also saw Moylan and Grosz take a North Carolina baseball field together for the first time in their professional careers.

Grosz tossed a season-high 73 pitches in his April 24 return to North Carolina, holding the Renegades' first inning lead through 5.1 innings. Though Grosz received a no decision, the outing ultimately lowered his earned run average (ERA) to 3.09. The Renegades went on to beat Asheville 9-4, with Moylan scoring a run and reaching base with two walks.

The Yankees took Grosz in the 11th round of the 2023 player draft, as a top-rated prospect out of the American Athletic Conference (AAC). Moylan, a three-year first baseman at ECU, signed with New York after going undrafted the same year. Since moving up the Yankees' organization, Moylan has exclusively fielded the corners. As a Renegade, he switches between the first and third base positions, while also getting reps as the designated hitter.

As the 2025 Renegades enjoy a recent hot streak, these two former Pirates are likely used to the feeling. Before they were impactful on last season's Renegades playoff run, Moylan and Grosz were College World Series hopefuls. The 13-seeded ECU team, with freshmen Grosz and Moylan on the roster, reached the Super Regional Round (Nashville) of the 2021 NCAA tournament. The following season, the Pirates won their conference and further advanced to the Greenville Super Regional as an 8-seed.

In 2023, the Pirates were 13-3 in games that Grosz started, four of them being quality starts. According to ECU record books, Grosz had the conference's third lowest opposing batting average, holding batters to just .215 through his junior season. On the offensive side, Moylan's 70 runs batted in (RBI) and 20 doubles led the AAC in his third and final year at ECU. That season, the Pirates, as a 2-seed, fell to Virginia in the Greenville Regional after receiving an at-large bid to the tournament.

Grosz and Moylan are just one set of former collegiate teammates who are today's Renegades. Northeastern boasts a trio of right-handers in Thomas Balboni, Sebastian Keane, and 2023 alum Cam Schlittler. And the roster spot left vacant in the departure of RHP Cole Ayers, recently promoted to AA Somerset, was filled by newcomer Tony Rossi, his former teammate at State College of Florida, Manatee-Sarasota. Though the name on the front of a jersey may change, the connections made along the way remain.

County Players to present 'Big Fish' May 2-18

County Players, one of the longest-running community theater companies in the area, will present the sweeping musical tapestry "Big Fish," which opens Friday, May 2, and runs through May 18. With music and lyrics by Andrew Lippa and book by John August, the musical is based on the 1998 novel by Daniel Wallace and the 2003 film written by John August and directed by Tim Burton. Performances are scheduled for Friday and Saturday May 2, 3, 9, 10, 16 & 17 at 8 p.m., with matinees at 2 p.m. on Sundays, May 11 & 18, and Saturday, May 17, at County Players Falls Theatre, 2681 West Main St. in the Village of Wappingers Falls.

This production is directed by Michael J. Frohnhofer with musical direction by Karen Dalmer-Sheehy and choreography by Mary Beth Boylan.

This larger-than-life musical is a fantastical adventure inspired by a father's incredible stories. "Big Fish" tells the story of Edward Bloom, a charming traveling salesman who lives life to its fullest, and then some. Overflowing with heart and humor, "Big Fish" is an extraordinary story that reminds us why we love going to the theater, and is a buoyant feel-good show for the whole family.

This production features a large community cast of talented performers from across the region featuring: Lisa Berger, Mike Boden, Anthony James Clopton,

Of this production director Frohnhofer says, "Theater is about telling a great story, and what better story to tell than one with a great message. At its core, 'Big Fish' is a story about the importance of love, forgiveness, the impact of relationships, and the sheer power of storytelling."

Tickets available online at countyplayers.org/tickets and cost $30 for adults; $28 for seniors 60+, military, students (with ID), and children under 12. Wonder worms make black gold

Compost is a dark, nutrient-rich soil amendment called "black gold" because of its value in helping plants be more resilient and healthy. Composting is the managed decomposition organic waste. It is a slow chemical process, which takes six to 12 months, and occurs best between 90° and 140° Fahrenheit.

A much faster process, occurring in as little as three months, is vermicomposting, or composting with worms! Vermicomposting is a physical process which occurs between 55° and 77° Fahrenheit. Vermicompost, or castings, is worm manure. Horticulturists consider worm castings to be one of the best soil amendments available.

Worm-igrants

Surprisingly, there are NO native earthworm species in North America. Any native North American species of earthworms that may have been living in the region were destroyed by glacial ice sheets 11,000-14,000 years ago. All of the earthworms currently in North America are exotic. Most initially arrived with European settlement. They continue to be transported through a range of human activities, including the dumping of unused fishing bait and transport of compost and mulch. Although they may be helpful in gardens, all earthworms are invasive species in North America and can be particularly harmful to forests.

Harnessing the power of earthworms

But worms can be helpful in composting and gardening! Worm castings are enriched with organic matter. Castings can increase the ability of the soil to hold together, as well as increase its water storage. Earthworm activity and castings may also contribute to the stability of carbon within soil particles (sand, silt and clay).

Compost your organic waste

Wastes brought to landfills are compacted and buried. Although those facilities accept organic waste, it is better to compost or recycle biodegradable matter, because doing so promotes faster decomposition, conserves landfill space, and reduces methane emissions. (Methane is a greenhouse gas which contributes to climate change).

Hudson Valley Vermicomposting

Community Compost Company is a local business that provides food waste collection and composting services to the Hudson Valley. Their mission is to do better for the Earth and help others do the same by giving people the ability to keep their food waste out of landfills. The company also creates compost products that help local farmers and gardeners heal and revitalize Earth's worn out soils.

Dutchess County currently has three food waste drop-spots that are free for Beacon residents. They are located in the City of Beacon Recreation Center, Memorial Park, and the Churchill Street Parking Lot. The compost that is collected from Beacon and other Valley municipal sites, as well as private pickup, is composted at the business' facility in Kerhonkson. Compost is produced both in their compost piles (called windrows) and through vermicomposting.

One of the primary benefits of adding compost to soils is that it adds microbial life, such as bacteria, nematodes and fungi. Different microorganisms are present when composting is thermophilic (over 131° Fahrenheit) versus cooler temperatures. Since vermicomposting occurs at lower temperatures, it produces a biologically different soil amendment from thermophilic compost. Therefore, adding worm castings in addition to compost helps cultivate a diverse array of biological life that can create the most benefit for soil and plants. Vermicomposting is a crucial part of the compost operation at Community Compost Company.

Their vermicomposting is performed within a 4 x 16-foot continuous flow-through worm bin. In the system, worm food (human food waste) is continuously added to the top, while worm castings are collected from the bottom. They feed their worms food waste that has been partially pre-digested by the thermophilic microorganisms in their compost piles, which removes any potential pathogens.

Wonder worms!

The worms at Community Compost Company are red wriggler worms. They are the most effective species of worm for vermicomposting. They are incredibly fast decomposers, and don't need to burrow as deep as other earthworms. The worm castings are sold to farmers, gardeners and landscapers. They also sell a "Black Gold" product with is a mix of about 82% compost and 18% worm castings. It is called Plant Jolt.

Francine Wizner is a native of the Hudson Valley. She grew up in the Catskills of Greene County and spent over 3 decades teaching in Ulster County. She creates

DECODING DUTCHESS PAST

www.DCHSNY.org/ddp

By Aidan Chisamore

As April comes to a close and waves of wildflowers continue to appear up across the county, it is all too easy to get caught up in the beauty of Dutchess in spring. In the first half of the 20th century, however, many residents held serious fears that this flora would be lost forever. In the Dutchess County Historical Society's archive, one map – decorated with varieties of local wildflowers – tells the story of how local garden clubs helped promote the importance of environmental education and conservation in the local area.

Commissioned for use in the 1938 Dutchess County Fair, the "Floral Map of Dutchess County" was once the centerpiece of an expansive floral display. It was originally entered by the Poughkeepsie Garden Club competitive flower show of the county fair. Surrounded by a bright floral border, the map depicts Dutchess County covered in different types of native flowers (fig. 1). These included many regional favorites such as Dutchman's Breeches, Golden Rod, and Brown Eyed Susan. According to contemporary reports, the placement of each denoted "the principal locations of [those] wildflowers throughout the county."

The original exhibit covered 216 square feet. A much larger version of the map hung above a floral display that allowed participants to walk through the county in miniature, viewing homegrown versions of the wildflowers. The show was a joint effort between members of the club who planned and ran the booth and John W. Pratten—a local art teacher—who designed and painted the map.

Reports of the fair in the newsprint demonstrate the excitement this display caused. One report noted it was the most popular floral display that year. Despite this attention, the Poughkeepsie Garden Club was disqualified for failing to cover their name during judging. While they lost the competition, the club was awarded an "honorable mention for educational value, originality, and beauty."

At the conclusion of the Fair, the map was displayed in several Poughkeepsie-based flower shows before being moved to the Adriance Library a few months later. While record of the map drops off after its arrival at Adriance, one article in the Poughkeepsie Eagle-News from September remarked that several "small replicas" were made "for distribution by the club, to further educate." The map held by DCHS must be one of these maps, as it is only half of the original's size at a meager 4 feet tall and 2 feet wide.

The move to Adriance and the many reproductions of the map spoke to the Poughkeepsie Garden Club's focus on education. During its showing, members of the society served as attendants detailing proper care of these plants in home gardens as well as to edify the proper method of conserving these wildflowers. Pamphlets, as shown in fig. 2, were also handed out by attendants.

Founded eleven years before the creation of the "Floral Map," the Poughkeepsie Garden Club first organized in April 1927, initially formed with only 28 members. In July of that year, the club began public programming, hosting their first flower show in the auditorium of Lucky, Platt, and Company. During the following decade, membership had more than doubled.

Throughout the 1930s, conservation and environmental education became a focus for society. This was, in part, the influence of national trends. State-wide political movements of the 1920s and 1930s, especially in Dutchess County, motivated legislative interest in the environment. This was best expressed in the highest level of state government. Then governor, and county native, Franklin Delano Roosevelt campaigned for environmental protection and restoration. Most notably, this involved reforestation efforts such as the 1929 State Reforestation Act and 1931 Hewitt Reforestation Amendment.

Correlations between garden clubs and conservation efforts can also be seen locally. One especially evocative article published in the Poughkeepsie Eagle-News in May 1924 called on local garden clubs to save a dwindling wildflower population. The anonymous author specifically identified over-picking and the failure of local legislation as the cause of the floral decline. According to the author, the only solution was through the work of these social organizations, like the Garden Club of America, who could lead locals by teaching them how to properly care for their county.

The most salient call to action for local clubs, however, came in J. Wilson Poucher's book "Stories of the Wildflowers of Dutchess County" (1931). Compiled from articles he had written on wildflowers in the county, Poucher (1859-1948) decried the changing environment caused by what he believed to be a popular disregard for nature and other people. His solution revolved around these garden clubs, advocating for environmentally conscious unions: "enlist every garden club member into a league for the preservation of these wildflowers and evergreens." In doing this, Poucher placed these social organizations at the forefront of the battle for conservation, tasking them, and others, to teach the county's children as they were not old enough to remember the days when wildflowers were more prevalent.

The Poughkeepsie organization certainly shared Poucher's concerns. By Club members continue to learn about gardening at our monthly meetings. On March 13, Miriam Goler of Full Circus Farm offered a fascinating presentation about how the organically grown fruit trees sold at her farm get their start. She demonstrated how she uses grafting to achieve a desired variety of fruit tree. The young trees are nurtured for about two years, then offered for sale. The farm also sells tomatoes, peppers, basil and winter greens. To see photos of this horse-powered (!) farm, directions on how to order trees, guides about how to care for young trees and much else go to fullcircusfarm.wordpress.com.

As well as learning about gardening, the Old Dutch Village Garden Club has a commitment to community service. We maintain a large demonstration garden at Veterans Park in Red Hook and a smaller garden in Upper Red Hook at the Welcome to Red Hook sign. ODVGC members will be prepping the Veterans Park garden for its spring debut at the end of March.

Join us at our monthly meetings, usually the second Thursday of the month at 12:30 p.m. at St. John's Reformed Church in Upper Red Hook. See you there! And watch us on Facebook for updates on our activities.

Amaze and delight your family and friends with these phrases (or just enjoy them here).

On many occasions, I have had to try to translate a phrase my parents or relatives have said to my family or friends. I almost always struggle to find the right words, because the saying doesn't make much sense to anyone who isn't Italian. I usually end the attempt at translating with, "This doesn't translate too well." Over the years, I have been told, screamed or taught many Italian sayings. Below are a few of my favorites.

If someone insulted us, we would not treat them with disrespect, we would "treat them with fishes in their face" (Trattare a pesci in faccia).

If my father wanted someone to underestimate him he wouldn't play dumb, he would "do the dead cat" (Fare la gatta morta).

If my mother were angry with me she wouldn't scold me, she would "shave against the growth" (Fare il contropelo).

If someone had too much wine to drink at the restaurant, he wouldn't be tanked-up, he would be "drunk as a monkey" (Ubbriaco come una scimmia).

If someone was getting us angry, we would "have a fixed nail in our head"

(Avere un chiodo fisso in testa).

If I said I could do it with my hands tied behind my back, I would say I could "jump ditches the long way" (Saltare i fossi per il lungo).

If it was raining really hard, we wouldn't say it's raining cats and dogs; we would say "it rains from washbasins" (Piovere a catinelle).

If we over-cooked pasta, it would not be over-done; it would be "cooked to the small point" (Cotto a puntino).

If someone was "not the sharpest tool in the box," we would say they were a "merry goose" (Oca giuliva).

My parents would not tell me that I take things too far, they would say that I "pull the rope" (Tirare la corda).

Since I was always hyper I would move like I "have live silver on myself" (Avere argento vivo addosso).

When I would shock Mom and Pop, they would just stare at me and their expression would "remain as stucco" (Rimanerci di stucco).

When I was told to keep my mouth shut, it was usually told to me to keep "water in the mouth" (Acqua in bocca).

When we were little we were never told to go to bed early, we were told to "go to bed with the chickens" (Andare a letto con le galline).

If we were really angry we would not be out of our mind, we would be "outside as a balcony" (Fuori come un balcone).

When we were little, asking our mother to do something over and over, the last time we asked it wouldn't be the straw that broke the camel's back, it would be "the drop that made the vase overflow" (La goccia che ha fatto traboccare il vaso).

Since spring is here and since artichokes are the Italian symbol for spring, please enjoy this springtime recipe.

Mildred Pitcher

Rhinebeck — Mildred M. Pitcher, 97, passed away on Easter Sunday, April 20, 2025, surrounded by family at her home in Rhinebeck.

"Millie" was one of life's unique and eccentric characters and left an indelible mark on just about everyone she met. Her nearly century-long journey through life started in New Rochelle on October 9, 1927, but her time there was short. Her immigrant parents were servants for a wealthy family and wanted to forge their own path and decided the best place to do that was in Rhinebeck. Millie grew up in town above her mother's beauty shop, "The first beauty shop in Rhinebeck," Millie would often boast.

She attended Rhinebeck schools as a young child and spent high school at Mount Saint Mary's Academy in Newburgh. After graduation she attended the Fashion Academy in Manhattan and was considering a job at the famed Bergdorf Goodman department store but was torn because she had two suitors back home in Rhinebeck competing for her hand in marriage including a young man by the name of Kenneth Pitcher who had recently returned home after serving his country during World War II. Ken sealed the deal with the couple's first kiss, "I thought I heard bells," Millie said. The newly married couple built a home on the family property where Ken, his father and brother Donald ran the family business Ralph Pitcher and Sons, known for their unique anemones. Millie occasionally helped with the flower business and pitched in at the family's liquor store on East Market Street. Sadly, Millie's life was marked with great tragedy. Her first daughter, Debbie, died as a toddler and her teenage son Kevin was killed in a car accident. But Millie found comfort in faith and became a born-again Christian, eventually leading her own bible studies and her main focus in life became her daughters Mary Lou and Lee Anne. The trio could often be seen driving around town in Millie's bright orange convertible. Later in life Millie enjoyed spending time with her grandchildren, especially during family trips to Martha's Vineyard.

Millie is survived by her daughters LeeAnne Pitcher, and her husband John Imperato of Rhinebeck, and Mary Lou Pitcher, and her husband Chris Stein of Kingston; four grandchildren: Sarah (Jonathon) Fernandez, Evan (Jessica) Traudt, Hannah (Nathan) DiRenzo, Emma Traudt and 11 great grandchildren.

Millie was predeceased in death by her husband Kenneth, her daughter Debra Elizabeth Pitcher and a son Kevin Ralph Pitcher.

There were no calling hours. Funeral services were at the Dapson-Chestney Funeral Home in Rhinebeck on Thursday, April 24. The burial will be private.

Memorial donations may be made to the Rhinebeck Fire Department.

Thomas Joseph Reddington

Thomas Joseph Reddington, 84, of LaGrange, NY, passed away in his home from cancer on April 20, 2025, surrounded by his loving children.

Tom was born in New York City to Thomas and Florence Savage on January 24, 1941. His older sisters, Joan (Jerry) Wosewick, Ann (Mickey) Billings, and Duffy (William, Gene), predeceased him. He married Joanne Pekar on April 8, 1961, and together they raised six children.

Tom attended Holy Cross Parochial School, Iona College, and graduated from Fordham University. Known for his adventurous spirit, he always welcomed new experiences. He was an avid reader and enjoyed listening to music, particularly Irish music. His passion for exploration and knowledge was evident through his extensive travels both within the U.S. and internationally.

Professionally, Tom dedicated 50 years to IBM as a financial systems analyst, where he was respected for his precision and insight. In his personal life, Tom was a beloved son, brother, cousin, husband, father, grandfather, and friend.

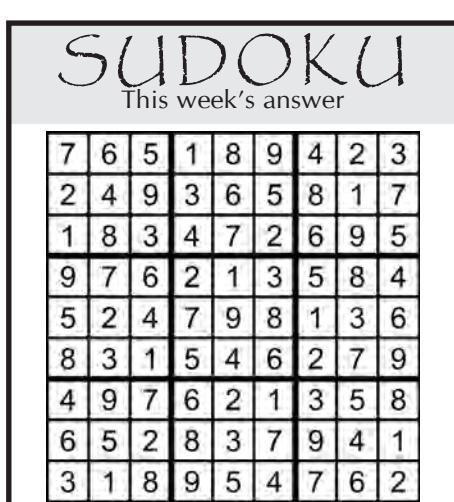

If you were ever in need, Tom was always there. No child's or grandchild's sporting event was too cold, too hot, or too far to attend. Tom was an avid New York Giants and Rangers fan—but no matter who was playing, he was always watching.

Tom is survived by his children Jeanne Lloyd (Fred, deceased), Christine Robinson (Dane), Stephen Reddington (Fran), Mary Ann Caldwell (Jeff), and his grandchildren: Peder (Mary Nicole), Catherine, and Anna Thompson; James and Charlotte Lloyd; Matthew, Ryan (Julia), Zach, and Patrick (Kassandra, fiancée) Robinson; Christina Reddington; and Owen and Shayna Caldwell. Also, great-grandchildren Eli, Colton, Josie, and Weston.

Legal NoticesLegal Notices*Legal Notices*TOWN OF PLEASANT VALLEY
PROPOSED LOCAL LAW J OF 2025

BE IT ENACTED by the Town Board of the Town of Pleasant Valley as follows:

SECTION 1. TITLE.

This Local Law shall be entitled "A Local Law Amending Chapter 98 of the Town Code with Regard to Accessory Dwelling Units".

SECTION 2. PURPOSE AND INTENT.

This law will make it simpler for Pleasant Valley residents to add accessory dwelling units to their properties, while maintaining the character of the town and ensuring safety and compliance. It allows ADUs to be built without a special use permit, provided they meet specified standards. It also allows ADUs to be used for rental purposes, expanding housing options for residents.

SECTION 3. AUTHORITY.

This law is enacted pursuant to § 10 of the Municipal Home Rule Law.

SECTION 4. CODE AMENDMENTA. Replacement of Chapter 98, Section 15

Chapter 98 "Zoning," Section 15, "Accessory dwellings," shall be repealed and replaced as follows:

§ 98-15. Accessory dwelling units.

A. Intent. The purpose of this section is to promote the development of accessory dwelling units (ADUs) to increase affordable housing opportunities while maintaining the character of single-family residential neighborhoods in Pleasant Valley. ADUs may be used for rental purposes, providing additional housing options for residents.

B. ADU in single-family dwelling. An ADU may be established within a single-family dwelling, subject to the following provisions:

(1) Only one ADU is permitted per lot, and it shall be clearly subordinate to the single-family dwelling.

(2) An ADU may be established as part of any legally existing single-family dwelling, provided the building meets applicable setbacks, except that an ADU may not be created on a lot that already contains a two-family or multifamily dwelling or where more than one dwelling exists in excess of the permitted density.

(3) Owner-occupancy is required. The owner(s) of a property on which there is an ADU must occupy either the principal dwelling or the ADU. The other unit may be rented to non-family members at the owner's option.

(4) No more than one bedroom is permitted in the ADU, and the number of residents in the ADU shall be limited to no more than two persons.

(5) The minimum gross floor area of the ADU shall be 400 square feet. The maximum gross floor area shall be 40% of the entire gross floor area of the single-family dwelling or 900 square feet, whichever is greater.

(6) The ADU shall be self-contained, with separate cooking, sleeping, and sanitary facilities for use by the occupant(s).

(7) The ADU shall have safe and proper means of entrance. Stairways leading to any story above the ground floor shall be located within the walls of the building wherever practicable. Exterior stairways and fire escapes shall be located on the rear wall in preference to either side wall. In no instance shall an exterior stairway or fire escape be located on any wall fronting on a street.

(8) Off-street parking shall be in accordance with § 98-42 and shall be on the lot on which the ADU is located.

(9) Design and construction of any addition or alteration to accommodate the ADU must be compatible with the parent structure, and must comply with § 98-12, Schedule of Area and Bulk Requirements.

(10) Any legally established ADU on a lot with a single-family dwelling that is in existence at the time of the adoption of this amendment shall not be subject to the provisions outlined above.

(11) If the water supply is from a private source, the applicant shall certify that the water supply is potable and of adequate flow.

(12) No ADU shall be established without approval or certification from the Dutchess County Department of Health regarding the adequacy of the septic system.

(13) The ADU shall conform to all applicable local, state, and federal codes and requirements, including the New York State Uniform Fire Prevention and Building Code.

(14) The owner is responsible for ensuring that any occupant(s) of an accessory dwelling abides by the Town of Pleasant Valley Town Code, in particular Chapter 70, Nuisances.

(15) The fees required for the construction of an accessory dwelling are set forth in the Town's Schedule of Fees.

C. ADU in a detached accessory structure. An ADU may be established in a separate building on a lot with a single-family dwelling, subject to the conditions in Subsection B and the following provisions:

(1) A detached ADU may be located in a newly constructed detached unit or within an existing accessory structure, such as a gatehouse, garage, barn or similar structure.

(2) The gross floor area of a detached ADU shall be between 400 and 900 square feet. An existing accessory structure may be enlarged to accommodate the proposed ADU, provided it does not exceed 900 square feet.

(3) Detached ADUs must comply with setback and bulk requirements as defined in § 98-12, Schedule of Area and Bulk Requirements.

(4) The design of any detached ADU must be compatible with the primary single-family dwelling on the lot.

B. Amendment to Definitions

In Chapter 98, Section 103, the following definitions shall be replaced as follows:

The definition of "BUILDING, ACCESSORY" shall be replaced with: BUILDING, ACCESSORY: A structure detached from and subordinate to a principal building on the same lot and used for purposes customarily incidental to those of the principal building or use, including accessory dwelling units.

The definition of "STRUCTURE, ACCESSORY" shall be replaced with:

1928, only a year after its founding, the club established a subcommittee on conservation. Three years later, in 1931, the same year as Poucher's publication, the club celebrated the "Wildflowers of Dutchess." Poucher clearly had influence with the club as nearly all early club material (like fig. 2) listed him as an honorary member of the organization.

Their participation in statewide organizations best illustrates the scope of this garden club's conservation efforts. Guidelines published by the Federated Garden Club of New York State (1933) outlines the crucial role of local garden clubs in promoting environmental consciousness: "preservation is the law of life and that preservation with conservation is one of the most constructive schemes we can fulfill." As an active member in the state-wide organization throughout the 1930s, the Poughkeepsie Garden Club supported these values participating in seed drives, fundraising, political outreach, and—most importantly—educational programming.

The organization worked in Dutchess County and the Hudson Valley, promoting conservation efforts. Events such as their yearly lecture series and annual garden tours emphasized themes of conservation and reforestation. This mission served as the guiding principle for the organization well into the 1950s. This brief study serves as a reminder of the people who sought to preserve the beauty of the county for modern residence, and it is a lesson we should take to heart. Conservation, with the ultimate goal of preservation for the future of Dutchess County, should not be confined to history. It is just as important today, as it was at the creation of the "Floral Map."

Flower Fair & Flea to raise funds for In Flight, Inc. on May 3

In Flight, Inc. presents Flower Fair & Flea, a vibrant and free community event on Saturday, May 3, 2025, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at 1351 Route 66, Ghent, Columbia County. This event is a celebration of community, inclusion, and local creativity.

Whether one is a seasoned gardener, a lover of local art and artisans, a grandparent looking for weekend plans with the grandkids, or a family ready to enjoy the fresh air, the event has something for everyone.

Visitors can explore a colorful mix of more than 20 local artisans, crafters, and plant vendors, indulge in sweet treats, and delight in interactive kids' activities, raffles, games, and more. A perfect multi-generational, inclusive outing, this event offers spaces to relax and connect with family and community members alike. At its heart, Flower Fair & Flea is about more than shopping or entertainment – it's about building connections and celebrating the strength of community.

Hosted by In Flight, Inc., a nonprofit dedicated to empowering people with intellectual and developmental disabilities (I/DD) to lead independent and fulfilling lives, this event embodies the spirit of inclusion and opportunity. All proceeds will go directly toward supporting In Flight's life-changing programs throughout the Hudson Valley.

Lorraine Travia

On Easter Sunday, April 20, 2025, Lorraine M. Travia died peacefully in her sleep. She was an area resident for over forty years.

Born in Yonkers on January 8, 1945, she was the daughter of the late Vincent and Casimira (Piekarski) Sachar. On November 5, 1966 at St. Casimir's Church in Yonkers, Lorraine married the love of her life, Robert F. Travia, who predeceased her on September 19, 1996. She was a self-employed accountant for many years. Lorraine loved spending time with family and was proud of her Polish heritage. Traveling, playing card games and Mahjong on Fridays are among the things she loved. Lorraine loved watching the NY Yankees.

As a very devout Catholic,

Lorraine was a faithful parishioner of St. Kateri Tekakwitha Church in LaGrangeville; the founder of St. Denis – St. Columba – St. Kateri Widows and Widowers' Group, a member of the Altar Rosary Society and instrumental in the establishment of the Bereavement Support Group.

She will be remembered lovingly by her three daughters, Jeannine Fountain and her husband Brian, Elizabeth Gannon, and Rachel Goione and her husband, John. Lorraine is survived by her son, Robert Travia Jr. and his wife Leslie. She leaves behind her grandchildren, Lauren, Travis, Hunter, Paige, Shane, Anna, Carter, Kevin and Katie. Lorraine is also survived by her sister, Phyllis Telfer; and many nieces, nephews, great-nieces and great-nephews. In addition to her husband and her parents, she was also predeceased by her brothers, Thomas and Vincent Sachar.

Calling hours were held on Friday, April 25, at the McHoul Funeral Home, Inc., Hopewell Junction. The Mass of Christian Burial was offered on April 25 at St. Kateri Tekakwitha Church, LaGrangeville. Burial followed at St. Denis Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, memorial donations may be made to St. Kateri Tekakwitha Church.

Miles of Hope announces 2025 scholarships

The Miles of Hope Breast Cancer Foundation recently awarded scholarships to 19 Hudson Valley students, including 10 in Dutchess County.

"This is one of the most rewarding things we do," said Executive Director Pari Forood. "Each year, a committee made up of members of our Board, former and current teachers, and the two co-founders of the foundation get together to review applications and read heartwarming essays from students whose lives have been impacted by breast cancer."

The Miles of Hope mission is to fund support services, education and outreach for people affected by breast cancer within the nine counties of the Hudson Valley. In 21 years, Miles of Hope has given away over $3.6 million dollars for programs helping people affected by breast cancer.

"This year, the foundation received 63 applications from nine counties – 19 students were awarded between $1,500 and $5,000 for their college/university expenses. Over 300 students with an association to breast cancer through a family member or friend/teacher have received scholarship assistance from us," Forood said.

The students from Dutchess County receiving scholarships are listed below with the high school they currently attend and the college they'll be attending (if available):

Madison Kaminsky, Roy C. Ketcham High School/RPI;
Nell Stevens, Millbrook High

School/Wellesley College;
Maryclare Parker-Stark, Spackenkill High School;

Gabrielle Desdune, Our Lady of Lourdes/USC;
Gianna Desdune, Our Lady of Lourdes/USC;

Julian Pritchard, Franklin D Roosevelt High School;

Charlotte Wang, John Jay Senior High School;

Connor Peyton, Arlington High School;

Connor Meltzer, Rhinebeck Senior High School;

Lindsay Pedersen, Beacon High School;

"This year, we gave away $45,000 to students whose lives have been affected by breast cancer," explained Miles of Hope Co-Founder and Scholarship Committee Chairman Cathy Varunok.

Forood noted that Miles of Hope works with guidance counselors in 24 school districts in nine counties.

"The [application] process is relatively easy," she said. "Students submit their grades, class rank, and volunteer activities as they relate to breast cancer and an essay telling us how breast cancer has impacted their lives."

Scholarships will be awarded at the 21st Annual Spring Brunch on May 4 at the Grandview in Poughkeepsie. Visit www.milesofhope.org for more information.

GOLDEN LIVING

OFA PICNIC SEASON – REGISTRATION OPENS MAY 1

About 50,000 Office for the Aging Summer Picnic reminder cards are being mailed to older adult households throughout Dutchess County. Residents can generally expect to see a reminder card for their community's picnic between four and six weeks before that picnic.

Here is the 2025 picnic schedule:

May 28 - Town and Village of Pawling, Towns of Dover, Amenia and Union Vale: Boyce Park, 6420 Route 55, Wingdale;

June 4 - Village and Town of Fishkill: Geering Park, Fishkill;

June 11 - Towns of Milan, Red Hook and Rhinebeck and Villages of Red Hook, Rhinebeck, and Tivoli: Dutchess County Fairgrounds, 6636 US 9, Rhinebeck;

June 18 - Towns of Clinton and Hyde Park, including Staatsburg: Church of Regina Coeli (rear lot), entrance at 28 Harvey St., Hyde Park;

June 25 - Town of Poughkeepsie: Bowdoin Park, 85 Sheafe Rd., Poughkeepsie;

July 9 - City of Beacon: Memorial Park, 298 Fishkill Ave., Beacon;

July 16 - Towns of North East, Pine Plains, Washington and Stanford, and Villages of Millbrook and Millerton: Stissing Mountain Jr./Sr. High School, 2829 Church St. (Route 199), Pine Plains;

July 23 - Town of Wappinger and Village of Wappingers Falls: Recreation Park, 95 Robinson Lane, Wappinger;

July 30 - Town of Pleasant Valley: West Road School, 181 West Rd., Pleasant Valley;

August 13 - City of Poughkeepsie: Stitzel Field, 10-14 Lincoln Ave., Poughkeepsie;

August 20 - Towns of LaGrange and Beekman: Freedom Park, 212 Skidmore Rd., LaGrange

August 27 - Town of East Fishkill: East Fishkill Recreation Park, 330 Route 376, Hopewell Junction.

All of this summer's picnics are being held on Wednesdays, with lunch starting at noon. You can also see the picnic schedule at www.dutchessny.gov/ofapicnics. We've kept the pictures from the 2024 picnic season there as well, to help familiarize those who've never been to a Summer Picnic.

Every resident of Dutchess County over age 60 can make a reservation for themselves for the free picnic serving their community. Reservations must be made by calling OFA during business hours (9 am – 5 pm weekdays) at 845-486-2555. We cannot accept voice mail or email reservation requests, or reservation calls made before May 1.

There is an $8 per person fee for every non-resident guest, and for any guest age 59 or under, if space is available at the requested picnic. You needn't receive a reminder card to make a reservation, but you do need to make the reservation. Picnic seating space is limited; therefore, we cannot accept walk-ins.

Guests enjoy a nutritious lunch and can have their concerns heard by the Office for the Aging, various Dutchess County Government departments, as well as local government leaders and area nonprofit organizations.

We strongly recommend car-pooling to picnics. It makes picnic parking considerably easier for everyone.

Many thanks to The Pines at Poughkeepsie, Central Hudson and Hudson Valley Medicare Group for their support of all 12 picnics.

VOLUNTEER MEAL DELIVERY DRIVERS WANTED (Weekdays)

Office for the Aging Home Delivered Meals volunteer drivers do tremendously important work throughout Dutchess County, on behalf of hundreds of homebound older adults who are unable to prepare meals for themselves.

You can join the ranks of volunteer drivers – and it's easy.

Got a valid driver's license and a vehicle, and some free hours during the day on weekdays? The application process is simple. Visit www.dutchessny.gov/ofavolunteer for details. There's an online application, and a printable mail-in application form is also available.

OFA's current area of greatest driver need is in the greater City of Poughkeepsie area, especially on Fridays; but HDM drivers cover the whole county, every weekday. There's no minimum time commitment, and you can pick up extra shifts if you find yourself with extra time. Mileage reimbursement is available for any driver using their own vehicle for deliveries.

For more information, email ofa@dutchessny.gov or call 845-486-2555.

'INTRO TO PICKLEBALL' LESSONS RETURN

OFA and Dutchess County Parks have joined again this year to host Introduction to Pickleball classes for older County residents, at the courts at Quiet Cove Park (1 Clear Water Dr., Town of Poughkeepsie). Classes are scheduled for three Tuesdays: May 13, 20 and 27, from 9-11 am.

Participants must be able to commit to all three classes. Space is limited to the first 16 County seniors who sign up via OFA by calling 845-486-2555 during business hours. Equipment can be provided.

We cannot accept reservation requests via email or voice mail.

SEATS STILL AVAILABLE AT THE CAREGIVER CONFERENCE (Wed 5/7, Hyde Park)

You still have time to sign up for one of the remaining spots at the free annual "Caregivers Rock" Caregiver Conference, taking place on Wednesday, May 7th from 8:30 am – 2 pm at the Wallace Center on the grounds of the FDR Historic Site on Route 9 in Hyde Park.

Registration takes place through the Alzheimer's Association. Call their helpline to save yourself a seat: 800-272-3900.

Breakfast and lunch are provided. Discussion topics include self-care, difficult conversations, advocacy for one's needs, and the differences between hospice and palliative care.

The Caregiver Conference is organized by the Dutchess County Office for the Aging with the Alzheimer's Association Hudson Valley Chapter, Parkinson's Disease Support Group of the Mid-Hudson Valley, Hudson Valley Hospice, and community members Cathy Regan and Falisia Cotten-Swain.

'EMPOWERED CAREGIVER SERIES' AT OFA THIS SPRING

Are you the caregiver of a Dutchess County resident living with dementia? The Dutchess County Office for the Aging is partnering with the Alzheimer's Association Hudson Valley Chapter to host the "Empowered Caregiver Series" in May and June at OFA headquarters, 114 Delafield St. in Poughkeepsie.

Each session takes place on a Tuesday at 3:00pm. Seating is limited, so reservations are required. Call the Office for the Aging to save your seat at any session(s) you can attend, at 845-486-2555 during business hours. We cannot accept reservation requests made via voice mail or email. Topics in the program include:

- May 6 - Building foundations of caregiving
