Wappingers Falls Airman positively identified 80 years after WWII mission

By Christian J. Malerba

Project Recover staff The Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency (DPAA), in partnership with Project Recover and other experts in the field, has announced that they have positively identified the remains of Staff Sergeant Eugene J. Darrigan who had been Missing In Action since World War II.

The 26-year-old soldier from Wappingers Falls served as radio operator in a B-24 bomber named "Heaven Can Wait" that was shot down over a remote bay in Papua, New Guinea on March 11, 1944.

"Project Recover is honored to welcome Staff Sergeant Darrigan home to a grateful nation," said Project Recover CEO Derek Abbey. "We honor his and his family's sacrifice and remain committed to continuing our search for his more than 80,000 comrades in arms who still remain missing in action. While it took eight decades to return him to his family, this solemn promise does not have an expiration date."

In 2017 the missing bomber was located underwater at a depth of over 200 feet by the partnership Project Recover, leading to a 2023 mission by the Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency to recover crew remains from the wreck site. At the time, this was the deepest underwater MIA recovery effort ever undertaken by the U.S. government.

The 11-man crew of "Heaven Can Wait" was part of the 320th squadron of the "Jolly Rogers" 90th Bombardment Group and was on a mission to bomb Japanese anti-aircraft batteries around Hansa Bay when their B-24 was shot down by enemy fire causing it to crash into the ocean.

Present-day Papua, New Guinea was the site of military action in the Pacific from January 1942 to the end of the war in August 1945, with significant losses of aircraft and servicemen.

Project Recover set its sights on finding "Heaven Can Wait" after being presented with four years of research on circumstances of the crash, compiled by family members of one the B-24 crew members seeking closure for their lost relative. These data included historical eyewitness narratives from official military reports, mission documents, and diary entries from crew members on other aircraft in formation with the B-24 during its flight.

In October 2017, a team from Project Recover performed an archaeological survey of Hansa Bay using scanning sonars, high definition imagers, advanced diving, and unmanned aerial and underwater robotic technologies. After covering nearly 27 square kilometers of the sea floor over 11 days, Project Recover located the debris field of the B-24 bomber at a depth of 213 feet.

Project Recover formally communicated details of the crash site to the Defense POW/MIA Accounting Agency (DPAA), and based on that site survey the DPAA sent a Navy diving expedition back to Hansa Bay in 2018 to confirm that the site contained the likely wreck of the "Heaven Can Wait" bomber.

In 2019, DPAA leadership started planning for a mission to recover crew remains from the wreck site. That effort would be delayed by the global COVID-19 pandemic, but in early 2023 the DPAA sent a mission team, including the Navy's Experimental Diving Unit to Hansa Bay for a multi-week recovery operation. This was the deepest underwater MIA recovery operation the U.S. government had ever undertaken.

Dignity is key to 'Taking It To The Streets' outreach

By Kristine Coulter

"Taking It To The Streets" is there to feed and clothe the homeless, and to treat them with dignity.

Ruth Anderson, who is a long-time resident of Fishkill, began the charity.

"Taking It To The Streets" gives people "an opportunity to do something they always wanted to do," Anderson said. "It gives people the opportunity to come in and do whatever they can do for the least of them."

Anderson said this mission began when she was a child.

"My mother would prepare a meal and if someone needed a place to sleep, they would sleep at my home. They would always share," Anderson said of her parents. "When she visited a sick person, she would talk to them."

Anderson said, "My parents were migrant workers. They would come from Florida to New York." Anderson told of how her parents worked for the Blodgett family on the family's farm in Fishkill.

Rep. Ryan, local and county officials raise alarm on temporary closure of SSA Office in Poughkeepsie Congressman Pat Ryan raised the alarm last week that the temporary closing of the Poughkeepsie Social Security Administration Office would cause significant disruptions for Hudson Valley seniors, and demanded the Social Security Administration take action to ensure there was absolutely no reduction in services. In a letter to Acting SSA Commissioner Carolyn W. Colvin, Ryan also called for increased transparency, including a detailed timeline for the renovations, and a commitment to gathering community input to identify and implement measures that minimize disruption to those who rely on SSA services. Last year, Congressman Ryan introduced the landmark "Protecting Social Security Act," which, among other things, would ensure every county in NY-18 had its own SSA office.

"Closing yet another Social Security office in the Hudson Valley is outrageous and totally unacceptable. And it isn't just an issue for seniors in Dutchess. How are folks supposed to get their benefits if there's no Social Security Offices open in either Ulster or Dutchess?" said Ryan. "I get the need for renovations, but the solution simply cannot be 'limited' in-person services or making people travel all the way to Middletown. We need answers ASAP to ensure not a single Hudson Valley senior goes without the benefits they have earned."

"Our residents, especially our senior citizens and the disabled, rely on the Social Security Administration's downtown Poughkeepsie office for a host of services from a name change so one can update a driver license or passport to apply for earned income or medical benefits. With the Social Security Administration requiring in-person visits for most transactions, our residents shouldn't be forced to travel out of the County for assistance," said Dutchess County Executive Sue Serino. "I stand behind Congressman Ryan's demand for answers and full local services for our residents."

"Social Security is the financial life blood for many of our residents, and continued access to those services is essential. While I appreciate the administration making renovations and improvements to the facility, providing uninterrupted assistance during this time is paramount," said City of Poughkeepsie Mayor Yvonne Flowers. "Residents need clear guidelines to ensure they understand their options during construction and should be kept informed as to when these renovations will be completed."

"The Poughkeepsie Social Security Administration office and staff are a critical resource, and a disruption like this, temporary or not, causes real, tangible challenges for those who need timely access to support," said State Senator Rob Rolison. The SSA must provide better planning and clear communication on how the SSA will continue to offer services to residents during the office closure, ensuring everyone has access to their hard-earned benefits. The well-being of so many in the Hudson Valley depends on it."

"It's absurd to think that people from Poughkeepsie will travel to Middletown for help with their Social Security payments or Medicare," said Assemblyman Jonathan Jacobson. "Many do not have transportation. The Social Security Administration could easily find space in the library or other public spaces in Poughkeepsie."

Ryan's letter to Acting Social Security

Administration Commissioner Frank Bisignano included four demands:

- Immediate Establishment of a Temporary Full-Service Office: The SSA must open a fully staffed temporary office in Poughkeepsie or a nearby location to ensure that residents have full access to services during the renovation period. A small contact station is entirely insufficient.

- No Disruption in Service: I request assurances that there will not be a single day of disruption in service for Dutchess County residents. The SSA must take whatever steps are necessary to guarantee uninterrupted access to critical services.

- Full Transparency: Please provide a detailed timeline for the renovations, including the projected reopening date of the Poughkeepsie office.

- Community Input: Commit to engaging with local stakeholders, including elected officials and community organizations, to identify and implement measures that minimize disruption to those who rely on SSA services.

In the Social Security Administrations email to Congressional offices informing them of the temporary closure, the SSA noted that:

"Beginning Thursday, January 30, 2025, the office located at 332 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, NY 12601, will be temporarily closed for renovations. During this time, individuals requiring in-person services may visit the Middletown office located at 85 Crystal Run Road Suite 100, Middletown, NY 10941.

Starting Monday, February 17, 2025, the Poughkeepsie office will open a small contact station at its current location, 332 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, NY 12601, offering limited in-person services throughout the renovation period."

DC Sheriff's Office: Man arrested for residential structure fire Two deceased victims found inside

The Dutchess County Sheriff's Office announced the arrest of Robert J. Buda, 34, in connection with a residential structure fire which occurred in the Town of Wappinger at approximately 6:30 p.m. on Jan. 26.

According to a release from the Sheriff's Office, Deputies responded to 78 Marlorville Road for a report of a structure fire. Once the fire was extinguished two victims were located inside, and both were deceased, according to the release.

"This is a horrific tragedy for our community. My heart goes out to the family and friends during this devastating time. Thank you to all of our brave first responders on their swift actions last night in difficult conditions," Town of Wappinger Supervisor Joseph Cavaccini stated on social media.

After further investigation, Buda was taken into custody and is accused of intentionally setting fire to the residence, according to the Sheriff's Office. There is no danger to the public-at-large, it was stated.

At this time Buda has been charged with Arson in the 2nd degree (felony), and after being processed he was arraigned before the Town of Wappinger Court and remanded to the Dutchess County Justice and Transition Center in lieu of $500,000 cash bail or $1,000,000 bond, according to the release.

The Sheriff's Office asks for anyone who may have information on this case or may have been in the Marlorville Rd area during that evening, to contact Detective Griffin at 845-486-3809 or jgriffin@dutchessny.gov. Information can also be provided through the Sheriff's Office's tipline at 845-486-CLUE (2583) or dcsotips@gmail.com, and all information will be kept confidential.

The investigation is continuing by the Sheriff's Office's Detective Bureau and more information, including the identity of the victims, will be released at a later time, it was on Jan. 27. The Sheriff's Office is being assisted in the investigation by the Dutchess County District Attorney's Office, the Dutchess County Department of Emergency Response, the Dutchess County Fire Investigation Division, the Dutchess County Medical Examiner, and the Hughsonville Fire Department.

As with any criminal case the charge described above is merely an accusation and Buda is presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

said, "I think she's fabulous." Rivera said, "I think it's a great thing that is happening in the community now." She added, "We have a lot of good people." Rev. Dr. Eileen Borduin Vanderzwan, with the First Presbyterian Church of Beacon, stated to the volunteers that were gathered, "We just got a new stove. It's getting hooked up this week. We have a new refrigerator." The Reverend added, "We're ready to go. We feel like everything is falling into place." A check of funds from a closed BCK account was presented by Rivera to Ross for the First Presbyterian Church to use towards the food for the meals. Although the meals will be served one day a week, on Fridays from 5:30-7:30 p.m., it is hoped, said Ross, that the number of days meals will be served will be added. Check Fareground and the church's websites and social media pages for any schedule changes and updates.

Huber announces re-election bid for Village of Wappingers Falls Mayor

Village of Wappingers Falls Mayor Kevin Huber has announced he is seeking re-election.

He stated the following: "It is with great pride that I announce my candidacy for re-election as Mayor of the Village of Wappingers Falls. I am honored to seek the nomination of both the Republican and Democratic parties, as I believe that the progress we have made together crosses party lines for the benefit of the overall community.

Over the past few years, I have worked hard to address the challenges we inherited and to build a foundation for a better tomorrow. When I first took office, we faced significant financial hurdles and a long list of issues identified in an audit. With focus and determination, we have made it our priority to tackle these problems head-on, restoring financial accountability and ensuring that taxpayer dollars are used responsibly.

I am proud of the work we have accomplished. We have reduced overall costs and are looking at a better budget next year! Our board was able to pave roads, clean up the lake so that residents can use it for recreation, installed an electronic charging station that the Village got at no cost with a grant, revised the snow ordinance so that residents were able to use street parking. We were able to get a grant to build Bain Park so that children with all abilities have a safe place to go and play. We've brought back summer camp and we have been able to address the financial issues that this board was handed from previous years. We even created an infrastructure plan to help us address roads and improvements in a timely manner. We have overhauled the finances of the Village and are addressing all of the oversights of previous boards! So much progress has been made and I am proud of all of the efforts. All of these achievements are because of our dedicated staff and board.

I am seeking another term as your mayor to build on the work we have done. My goal is to continue the good work we have started, with a focus on further improving services while lowering costs. My focus is to improve our operations so that it isn't a strain on the taxpayers. By creating policies and addressing health care insurance issues, implementing a gas policy has already saved us $ 1,800 a month! We have eliminated a lot of unnecessary spending in all areas of the budget which has saved us money! Under my leadership, my team will continue to create a leaner, more efficient and transparent government that works better for everyone.

To the residents of this Village, I will continue listening to your concerns, welcoming your ideas, and working together to make our village the best it can be. I believe in being available for all of you. It is the only way I can be an effective leader.

I am asking for your support in the upcoming election. Together, we can continue the work we've made. If you have questions, ideas, or simply want to connect, please don't hesitate to reach out. Your voice matters, and I look forward to the opportunity to serve you for another term."

Huber concluded, "The changes we have made were not easy, but necessary change was my promise to the taxpayers and remains my first priority!"

"I was always taught to respect people," said Anderson. "What I do, my children do, my grandchildren do – we give people an opportunity."

When one volunteers for "Taking It To The Streets," "everyone has to do it the same way. There has to be consistency," explained Anderson. "The volunteers are a team. They work hard but they also have fun."

Volunteers help those in Dutchess County, in such locations as Fishkill, Beacon, and Poughkeepsie. Volunteers also serve areas of Orange County at sites in Newburgh.

"They love it. They absolutely love it," Anderson said of the volunteers. "Everything that we do benefits everyone" they help by taking it to the streets, said Anderson.

One of the volunteers is Carol Pezzolesi.

"A group of 40 women representing a dozen churches meet every Thursday for Bible study. A consequence of our study has been realizing we need to help the people in our neighborhoods that are struggling, particularly the homeless. Through a friend I became aware of "Taking It To The Streets." After meeting with Ruth Anderson, learning about the work, I realized I could introduce "Taking It To The Streets" to our group. We now have ten volunteers who go on Tuesdays to sort donations and/or travel on the Streets" of Poughkeepsie and Newburgh to distribute meals and clothing to the homeless and needy," Pezzolesi explained.

Pezzolesi said, "The most impact for myself as a volunteer has been seeing the smiles and comments of appreciation from those who receive help. Additionally, I've become aware of the number of homeless persons who are on the streets of Poughkeepsie and Newburgh."

There is an event celebrating mothers and women in May. Pocketbooks are collected and given to attendees during the event with items that one might need.

In June, it is the men's turn and fathers to be honored. Shirts and bandanas are gifted.

The company Bombas has donated thousands of socks – which are always a much-needed item.

Anderson said the meals that are made, by chefs Karen and Cindy, are organic. Why, might one ask?

"That's the way I eat. That's what they get," explained Anderson.

"That's where dignity comes in. The reward is just seeing them, lifting them up and leaving them with smiles on their faces," she said.

The Benefit Concert and Awards Night will be held on April 26 at 6 p.m. — so save the date.

"Giving donations to "Taking It To The Streets" is good and appreciated, but becoming a volunteer can have a real impact on your life," Pezzolesi shared.

To contact Anderson, call 857-928-2170, or email ruthanderson777@gmail.com or on Facebook at TakingItToTheStreets.

One may donate to "Taking It To The Streets" at the drop-off location seven days a week from 7 a.m.–6 p.m., in Fishkill at the Fishkill Church of the Nazarene, 953 Main St., at the Education Building. Items needed are men, women, children clothing in all sizes, especially gloves, hats, scarves, boots, sleeping bags and handwarmers.

Remember: "If you need it, they need," said Anderson.

Town of Poughkeepsie launches twice monthly food pantry

Recognizing the urgent need to address food insecurity in the community, the Town of Poughkeepsie held its first food pantry early this morning at Town Hall, 1 Overocker Road. This will be an ongoing program through Dutchess Outreach's Farm Stand program, with funding provided by Assemblymember Didi Barrett.

"No New Yorker should ever have to decide between paying a bill or putting food on the table, so combating food insecurity here in the Hudson Valley has long been a passion and priority of mine," said Barrett. "I was very happy to partner with Dutchess Outreach to expand their Farm Stand initiative into the Town of Poughkeepsie. Dutchess Outreach has worked for decades to feed hungry Dutchess County residents, and this new initiative will allow more of our neighbors to access fresh, locally sourced food."

Today's delivery brought 7,000 pounds of groceries from the Food Bank to Town Hall, including potatoes, onions, apples, yogurt, cheese, milk, fruit, juice, and greens among other fresh items. Volunteers from Dutchess Outreach were joined by twenty Town residents, including Supervisor Rebecca Edwards and Dutchess County Legislator Lisa Kaul (District 6), to unload and distribute the groceries.

"So many of our residents are hungry right now," said Supervisor Edwards. "The extreme cold strains household budgets and adds to the need for nutritious meals. I'm so grateful to the amazing team from Dutchess Outreach, our Town volunteers, and Assemblymember Barrett for making this possible."

Dutchess Outreach reports that in Dutchess County approximately 26,130 individuals suffer from food insecurity, a number that represents roughly 8.8% of the population and includes 4,590 children. Of those, 41% of individuals are above the eligibility limit for SNAP and other Nutrition Programs.

"Today was our first farm stand in collaboration with the Town of Poughkeepsie at Town Hall. Rebecca Edwards, our Town Supervisor was super amazing and advocated for us to be able to have this farm stand here," said Nyhisha Gibbs, Director of Community Engagement for Dutchess Outreach, "We had a turnout of over 60 people, we had over 20 volunteers...people were so happy and grateful to receive all of the food that we gave them. Our volunteers were amazing and I am just all warm and fuzzy inside knowing that we were able to be here in this space to be able to feed our community."

The Town Hall Farm Stand/Food

Pantry will be open twice a month, on the second and fourth Thursdays, moving outside in warmer weather. The Town may experiment with other locations; information will be on the Town website. The next event will be Thursday, Feb. 13 starting at 9 a.m. until all the food is dispersed.

County Legislator Lisa Kaul (District 6) said of today's pantry, "Times are tough, and people have to make difficult decisions about what they can afford. Often people will forgo a meal to pay the rent or pay for gas. Many thanks to Supervisor Edwards and Dutchess Outreach for recognizing this immense need in our community and for hosting a farm stand at Town Hall today. No one should have to go to bed hungry."

Gov. Hochul unveils proposal to restrict smartphone use in schools

Governor Kathy Hochul launched her push to restrict smartphone use in K-12 schools statewide last week. The launch of this new effort follows the introduction of this legislative proposal as part of Governor Hochul's FY 2026 Executive Budget Proposal. Additionally, Governor Hochul today released a new report with recommendations gathered from her statewide listening tour this past year with students, parents and teachers regarding excessive smartphone use in schools. This effort continues Governor Hochul's commitment to protecting youth mental health and promoting student success in the digital age, following her action last year to secure and sign a first-in-the-nation law to restrict addictive social media feeds for minors.

"From parents and teachers, to social justice and law enforcement leaders, New Yorkers agree that our young people succeed when they're learning and growing, not clicking and scrolling," Governor Hochul said. "Using the insights from my statewide listening tour, this comprehensive proposal to restrict smartphone use in schools will ensure that New York's statewide standard for distraction-free learning delivers the best results for our kids and educators."

This new legislation covers requirements and details including:

- No unsanctioned use of smartphones and other internet-enabled personal devices on school grounds in K-12 schools for the entire school day, including classroom time and other settings like lunch and study hall periods.
- Allows schools to develop their own plans for storing smartphones during the day — giving administrators and teachers the flexibility to do what works best for their buildings and students.
- Proposes $13.5 million in funding to be made available for schools that need assistance in purchasing storage solutions to help them go distraction-free.
- Requires schools to give parents a way to contact their kids during the day if needed.

The Governor's proposal also clarifies that students would still be authorized to have access to simple cell phones without internet capability, as well as internet-enabled devices officially provided by their school for classroom instruction, such as laptops or tablets used as part of lesson plans.

Additionally, the Governor's proposal includes several exemptions to smartphone restrictions, including for students who require access to an internet-enabled device to manage a medical condition, where required by a student's Individualized Education Program (IEP), or for other academic purposes, such as translation.

This More Learning, Less Scrolling: Creating Distraction-Free Schools" includes:

- Findings from the Governor's statewide listening tour, including:
 - Smartphones distract students and inhibit learning and creativity
 - Phone-free environments do not compromise student safety
 - Phone-free environments support the mental health of students and teachers
- Recommendations for how schools can prepare to go distraction-free, including:
 - Open communication and direct guidance for all stakeholders is key for successful implementation

- Schools must address any parent concerns about staying in contact with their children during the day
 - An effective distraction-free policy must focus on the entire school day, rather than solely on time in the classroom
 - Schools can strengthen their distraction-free environment by connecting more students with in-person engagement like clubs, sports, arts and other programming
- An implementation guide for schools to consider throughout this process, with references to resources and best practices published by the U.S. Department of Education Office of Education Technology

Continues Governor's commitment to protecting youth mental health

In June 2024, Hochul signed the Safe for Kids Act after strongly advocating for and securing passage of the legislation. That law, the first of its kind to be signed in any state in the nation, requires social media companies to restrict addictive feeds on their platforms for users under 18. Unless parental consent is granted, users under 18 will not receive addictive feeds. Governor Hochul also signed the New York Child Data Protection act, which prohibits online sites and connected devices from collecting, using, sharing or selling personal data of anyone under the age of 18, unless they receive informed consent or unless doing so is strictly necessary for the purpose of the website.

As part of the Governor's $1 billion investment in mental health statewide, Governor Hochul has also significantly expanded access to mental health care and resources for students. Last year, the state made available $20 million in start-up funding for more school-based mental health clinics and launched a rolling application, which made it easier for interested schools to establish these satellites than through the previously used state procurement process. Since that announcement in February 2024, the state has funded 71 new clinic satellites — including 40 in high-needs districts — adding to the more than 1,100 that now exist statewide.

Diverse and growing support for distraction-free schools

Hochul was joined at the launch of her push for distraction-free schools by NYSUT President Melinda Person, NYSPTA Vice President and parent Roberto Rijos, Farnsworth Middle School student Anika Bhupati, New York State Police Superintendent Steven James, NAACP New York City Chapter President Anthony Harmon, State Senator Patricia Fahy, and other stakeholders.

NYSUT President Melinda Person said, "Today marks a pivotal step in our push to create distraction-free learning environments, ensuring our schools are sanctuaries for learning, growth and genuine connection. This movement is growing larger and stronger every day, and has brought together parents, teachers, law enforcement, and local officials who all recognize the crucial importance of giving children a school day free from the pressures of social media and other distractions. I want to thank Gov. Hochul for keeping student mental health a top priority, and for her clear dedication to the success and well-being of the next generation."

United Federation of Teachers President Michael Mulgrew stated, "The UFT supports a statewide cell phone ban, with safeguards, because educators see the negative impact of cell phones in their classroom every day. The safeguards include ways for parents to reach students; funding for school districts to implement a plan; uniform disciplinary policies; and plans that don't make educators the first and only line of enforcement. We believe Governor Hochul understands these concerns and we look forward to working with her and the legislature to make this happen."

NYS PTA Vice President and Parent from Yonkers Roberto Rijos remarked, "As a father of three, my wife and I fully understand the concerns regarding smartphone usage in classrooms and schools. Our classrooms and schools must remain places of learning, collaboration, and cooperation where our students continue to thrive — free from unnecessary distractions. We thank Governor Hochul for truly listening to parents, families, educators, students, NYS PTA and other stakeholders in drafting this legislation — which balances common sense limitations to support in-class learning and socialization, and includes allowances for necessary usage of devices in certain instances, all while ensuring local control and feedback in development of local policies. The health, wellness, and mental health of our children is of highest priority, and we stand ready to be a partner to Measure our Mission for Every Child, with One Voice."

Mothers Against Media Addiction (MAMA) Founder and Executive Director Julie Scelfo commented, "Many of us thought we could give our kids these tech products and teach them how to use them safely, but there is no 'safe' when they're designed to be addictive. Smartphones distract kids and make it harder for them to focus and learn, and also displace critical real-life experiences and interactions that are essential for healthy development. We applaud Governor Hochul's proposed legislation to provide consistent, statewide restrictions on smartphone use during the school day, safeguarding students and supporting authentic, distraction-free learning in our schools."

New York State Police Superintendent Steven G. James said, "The use of mobile phones by students during a quickly developing school emergency is a distraction that could compromise the safety of students and school staff. State Police and local law enforcement will support school districts as they implement new cell phone policies as part of their school safety plans."

NAACP New York State Conference Education Chair Christine Waters said, "The NAACP New York State Conference is supportive of Governor Hochul's initiative to restrict Smartphone use in schools statewide to remove distractions and create an optimal learning environment in our schools that puts New York's children in a position to succeed academically. We look forward to working collectively with parents, students, teachers and school administrators to develop consistently applied policies that follow a statewide standard utilizing Best Practice Models that encourage responsible use of technology and supports the needs of our students and teachers. We believe firmly that we must do so without adding to the Codes of Conduct any additional obstacles to the academic pursuits of students such as the inclusion of zero tolerance policies that would see them removed from the classroom for any amount of time."

Wappingers CSD uses new way to prepare students for testing

By Kristine Coulter

The Wappingers Central School District (Wappingers CSD) is actively preparing students for the transition to the Computer-Based Testing (CBT) for English Language Arts (ELA), which is in place in New York State.

“The use of AI, particularly through Brisk Teaching, is currently being integrated into this process to help students navigate the digital testing environment effectively,” said Dr. Michelle Cardwell. Dr. Cardwell is the assistant superintendent for curriculum and instruction for the Wappingers CSD.

Dr. Cardwell explained in a recent email that Brisk, a GenAI platform, assists in preparing students by:

- Creating digital practice materials that mirror the testing platform’s layout, providing students with a “sandbox” experience to familiarize themselves with the format.

- Leveraging New York State-released practice questions to generate Google Form quizzes, embedded alongside readings or problems for an authentic CBT experience.

- Supporting teachers in analyzing student performance data to identify trends, target instruction, and scaffold learning effectively.

- Developing differentiated resources tailored to the needs of diverse learners, including translated materials for multi-lingual students.

“Teachers have praised Brisk for its ability to significantly reduce preparation time, making it easier to craft meaningful, differentiated learning experiences. They also value the insights it provides when analyzing student performance. Students benefit from increased familiarity with the testing format and personalized resources that support their learning journey,” stated Dr. Cardwell.

So, what is different about using AI to prepare students for testing?

According to Dr. Cardwell, AI in Brisk enhances preparation by enabling teachers to:

- Efficiently create authentic, personalized materials aligned with testing standards.

- Generate resources that address the unique needs of their students rather than relying on generic templates.

- Save time in lesson preparation, allowing for more robust instructional planning.

- Use AI as a collaborative partner, focusing on student needs while maintaining the teacher’s role as the primary instructional driver.

Andrew Nikola and Daniel Roberto are the Wappingers CSD technology Integration Specialist. Nikola stated in an email to Southern Dutchess News, “Our colleagues have embraced the integration of Brisk AI technology, finding it a positive and valuable addition to their classroom environments.”

Nikola stated, “The tools have enhanced interactions and supported innovative teaching strategies. To ensure the effective and responsible use of Brisk AI, we have provided various professional development opportunities, including small group sessions, faculty meetings, and ongoing support. These efforts help ensure that technology is implemented safely and aligns with best practices in education.”

“Brisk AI is a powerful tool that empowers teachers rather than replacing them. By streamlining material creation and data analysis, it allows educators to focus on delivering high-quality, tailored instruction. The success of this approach hinges on teacher-driven implementation, ensuring that AI serves as a resource to enhance—not replace—the critical human element in education,” said Dr. Cardwell.

Local fire company picks up the tab

The Union Vale Fire Company began collecting aluminum soda tabs at the end of October and within two months, and thanks to the eagerness and enthusiasm of the public, close to 30 pounds of aluminum tabs were collected for Ronald McDonald House Charities.

Recently, Public Information Officer Kathy Welsh of the Union Vale Fire District donated the first collection of tabs to members of the Eastern District Home Bureau of NYS Federation of Home Bureau Inc. which includes Home Bureau Eastern District Chairperson Alice Dickson, Dutchess County Home Bureau Chairperson Anne Christmas, and Eastern District/Dutchess County Home Bureau Community Service Chairperson Marie Elliott.

Local chapters of the Eastern District Home Bureau of NYS Federation of Home Bureau Inc. have been collecting aluminum tabs for Ronald McDonald House Charities for some time now. Welsh said, "When I heard the Home Bureau was collecting aluminum tabs for a worthy cause, I thought we could help out to collect even more aluminum tabs and invite the public for their support." And the public came through in flying colors! In just 10 weeks a little over 28 pounds of aluminum tabs were collected.

An individual from as far away as Monticello heard about our campaign through social media and donated several years' worth of tabs, noted Welsh. And emails and phone calls have been received wanting to support the campaign.

"These tabs will be given to the Ronald McDonald House in Albany to help with their heating expenses. We are very grateful to Kathy Welsh, the fire department, and the entire community for partnering with us and helping to support this project," said Community Service

Welsh said the fire company will be collecting aluminum tabs for an all-year campaign in 2025. As a courtesy, and for the public's convenience, there is a drop-off container at the Union Vale Town Hall, 249 Duncan Road, where the public can bring their aluminum tabs.

"We are very happy to help the Eastern District Home Bureau of NYS collect and give the tabs from our very first campaign to ultimately help Ronald McDonald House Charities," said Welsh.

Construction proceeds at new Upton Lake Christian School building

The new school building at Upton Lake Christian School in Clinton Corners is beginning to take shape.

Following the April 2024 ground-breaking, final permits were obtained, over 8,000 cubic yards of dirt and rock were moved, and construction was underway. Fortunately, beneficial weather in the latter part of the summer and beginning of fall allowed the construction to proceed at a good pace. Foundations were excavated and poured and the stone base was put in place. As we moved into the winter time, construction continued and the concrete first floor was poured on New Year's Eve. First floor framing has been underway with a break during the current Arctic frigid blast.

The new building will provide classroom and lab space for 7th-12th graders, music and art spaces for K-12, and will accommodate approximately 90 students. It will be two stories, with about 12,000 square feet under roof. Additional work includes landscaping, parking lot paving, exterior lighting, and area drainage.

Principal Elisa DeWitt is looking forward to moving into the new facility. She thanks God for the many things that have come together to reach this point in the project. Current school board president

Rich Evans has had the vision for the new building for over 20 years. He is excited to see it coming to fruition. All who have been involved with the project look forward to having the new facility where a

Christ-centered education will be provided. Students will be equipped to move in the direction of their career choices and equipped to spread the gospel of Jesus Christ.

The project is being built by Bovee

Construction of Pleasant Valley. Owner Brian Bovee is excited to see the progress of the project and is targeting, as are many others, to see the doors open for teaching for the 2025-2026 school year.

HV Renegades field, support staffs announced

The New York Yankees announced their minor league field and support staffs for the 2025 season on Friday. James Cooper will take over as the manager of the Hudson Valley Renegades, the Yankees' High-A affiliate.

Cooper becomes the 20th manager in team history, and the fifth in five years during the Yankees era. He replaces Nick Ortiz, who guided the Renegades to a franchise record 73 wins and an appearance in the South Atlantic League Championship Series in 2024. Under his tutelage the Renegades had their 12th consecutive winning season, and 15th in the last 16 seasons. Since the beginning of the 2012 season, the Renegades have the best winning percentage (.573) in Minor League Baseball.

He is joined on the all-new field staff by Pitching Coach Demetre Kokoris (1st season), Hitting Coach Tom DeAngelis (1st season), Defensive Coaches Caleb Hamilton (1st season) and Teuris Olivares (1st season). The support staff features four returners in Clubhouse Manager Ryan Shute (5th season), Athletic Trainer Adaric Kelly (2nd season), Strength & Conditioning Coach Dylan Lidge (2nd season), and Advance Scouting Analyst Devin Clementi (2nd season). Video & Tech Assistant Dominic Cox (1st season), joins the Renegades as the lone newcomer on the support staff.

"I'm honored to join the Renegades family and to lead this incredible team to a special season. The Renegades have a proud tradition of excellence and an amazing fan base," said Cooper. "I can't wait to get to work with our talented players and staff as we build a season to remember. I'm looking forward to developing our players and seeing all the fans go crazy as we make them proud at Heritage Financial Park."

James Cooper
Cooper, 42, begins his first season as the manager of the Renegades in 2025, and his third season overall as a minor league manager in the Yankees organization. He spent the 2024 season as the skipper for the Single-A Tampa Tarpons of the Florida State League, and managed the FCL Yankees in 2023, where he was named Florida Complex League Manager of the Year. Under his guidance, the Tarpons led the FSL in Stolen Bases (242) ranked second in AVG (.239), Hits (982) and Doubles (204), and fourth in OPS (.701). That came on the heels of his FCL team pacing its league in runs, hits, triples, RBIs, AVG, OBP, SLG and OPS in 2023.

Before managing in the Yankees system he was a defensive coach for one season with the FCL Yankees, where he won the FCL Championship in 2022 as part of a coaching staff that featured 2023 Renegades manager Sergio Santos, current Yankees assistant pitching coach Preston Claiborne, and 2024 Renegades hitting coach Rick Guarno.

Demetre Kokoris
Kokoris begins his first year as the Renegades pitching coach and first in the Yankees organization. He previously coached for three seasons each in the Texas Rangers (2022-24) and Toronto Blue Jays (2019-21) organizations. Kokoris spent the 2023 and 2024 seasons as the Bullpen Coach for the Triple-A Round Rock Express, and was the pitching coach for the Single-A Down East Wood Ducks in 2022, where he led the staff to a 3.84 ERA, the second-best in the Carolina League.

Tom DeAngelis
DeAngelis begins his first season as the Renegades hitting coach and third year in the Yankees organization. He previously served as the hitting coach with Single-A Tampa in 2024 and with the FCL Yankees in 2023, working with Cooper at each stop. Under his guidance, the Tarpons ranked second in the Florida State League in AVG (.239), hits (982) and doubles (204), and fourth in OPS (.701), a strong performance after the 2023 FCL Yankees led its league in runs, hits, triples, RBIs, AVG, OBP, SLG and OPS.

Caleb Hamilton
Hamilton begins his first year as a Renegades defensive coach and first year in the Yankees organization. Recently retired after a 10-year playing career which saw him appear in 26 games across two seasons in the Major Leagues with the Minnesota Twins in 2022 and Boston Red Sox in 2023, Hamilton embarks on his first season as a professional coach in 2025. During the 2024 season, Hamilton played in 39 games with the Rocket City Trash Pandas, the Double-A affiliate of the Los Angeles Angels. He was drafted by Minnesota in the 23rd round of the 2016 First-Year Player Draft out of Oregon State University, where he was an All-Pac-12 performer for the Beavers. Despite not catching in college, Hamilton made 323 of his 574 professional appearances as a catcher, and he played at least one game at all nine positions.

Teuris Olivares
A long-time and well-respected coach in the Yankees organization, Olivares embarks on his first season as a Renegades defensive coach and his 15th season as a coach in the Yankees system. He served as a coach at the Rookie and Short-Season A level for the Yankees since 2011, with stops in the DSL (2011-14; 21-24), Staten Island (2015-17, 20), and Pulaski (2018-19), where Olivares has mentored many of the homegrown Yankees players of the past decade and a half.

Ryan Shute
Shute begins his fifth year as the Renegades Home Clubhouse Manager and seventh in the Yankees organization, previously working for the Short-Season A Staten Island Yankees in 2019 and Rookie-level Pulaski in 2018. Before joining the Yankees, Shute was the Visiting Clubhouse Manager for the Carolina Mudcats during the 2017 season. A native of the Hudson Valley and 2011 graduate of Our Lady of Lourdes High School, Shute spent four summers as a Stadium Operations and Groundskeeping Assistant for the Renegades from 2012-15.

Adaric Kelly
Kelly begins his second season as the Renegades Athletic Trainer, and his third season in the Yankees organization, having spent the 2023 season as an Athletic Trainer for the FCL Yankees. Born in San Nicolas, Aruba, Kelly attended Trinity Christian Academy in Lake Worth, Florida, and was drafted in the 28th round of the 2010 First-Year Player Draft by the Toronto Blue Jays as a right-handed pitcher. He played four seasons in the Blue Jays organization, reaching Single-A Lansing in 2014 and appearing in 73 career games.

Dylan Lidge
Lidge begins his second season with the Renegades and third in the Yankees organization as a strength and conditioning coach in 2024. He spent the 2023 season as the strength and conditioning coach for the Single-A Tampa Tarpons. Before joining the Yankees, Lidge served as a strength and conditioning coach at Cressey Sports Performance, a high-performance training facility for athletes located in Florida. He also spent time as an assistant baseball coach at Dominican University in River Forest, Illinois in 2020 and worked as an instructor at Fattiro Zone Baseball, Playball USA and GrandeFit in the Chicagoland area.

Devin Clementi
Begins his second season as an Advance Scouting Analyst with the Renegades, and fourth season in the Yankees organization after serving in the same role with Single-A Tampa in 2023 and spending the 2022 season as an Associate in the Yankees' Quantitative Analysis department. Prior to joining the Yankees, Clementi served as a Video & Data Analyst with USA Baseball in 2021. He earned his bachelor's degree in business administration from Fordham University and his master's degree in applied analytics from Columbia University.

Dominic Cox
Cox begins his first year as the Video and Tech Assistant for the Renegades and his third in the Yankees organization after serving in the same role with Single-A Tampa in 2024 and the FCL Yankees in 2023. Cox began working for the Yankees after playing four years of college baseball – three years at Rice University and one at Prairie View A&M University. He graduated from Rice in 2021 with a bachelor's degree in Sport and Fitness Administration/Management, and earned his M.B.A. from Prairie View A&M in 2023. On the diamond, Cox hit .286/.394/.538 in his lone season with the Panthers, finishing second on the team in OPS (.932). He was also teammate at Rice with former Renegades infielder Ford Proctor in 2018.

The Renegades managerial job has become a launching pad in the five years under the New York Yankees affiliation, with Cooper following Ortiz (2024), Santos (2023), Tyson Blaser (2022) and Dan Fiorito (2021) in the post. Ortiz, Blaser and Fiorito have all moved up in player development into coordinator roles, and Santos was recently named the manager of the Triple-A Charlotte Knights in the Chicago White Sox system after guiding the Double-A Birmingham Barons to a Southern League Championship in 2024.

Donations of all blood types needed

New York Blood Center (NYBC) has declared a blood emergency due to a significant drop in blood donations following a holiday season of alarmingly low donor turnout. NYBC has seen a nearly 30% drop in donations in recent weeks which has resulted in 6,500 fewer donations and crippled the region's blood supply. Donations of all blood types are urgently needed – especially Types O- and B-, which are down to dangerously low 1-3-day supply.

Blood donations typically decrease during the holiday season, but January poses additional challenges: inclement weather causing blood drive cancellations, flu, COVID, and RSV reducing donor eligibility, and schools and workplaces hosting fewer drives during holiday breaks. These factors have strained an already fragile blood supply, which is critical for surgeries, trauma care, cancer treatments, and managing chronic illnesses. Hospitals and patients depend on a steady stream of volunteer donors, yet the past few years have seen persistent, nationwide blood shortages.

"The months following the holiday season are always a difficult time for the blood supply, with an increase in seasonal illness and inclement winter weather impacting donations," said Andrea Cefarelli, Senior Vice President at New York Blood Center. "The drop in donations serves as a critical reminder of the fragility of our nation's blood supply. We're urging all eligible New Yorkers to start the new year by saving lives – schedule a donation today and bring a friend to double the impact!"

"New York State is facing a critical blood shortage, and the need for donors has never been more urgent. A blood donation helps patients undergoing surgeries, trauma care and treatments for chronic illnesses," said New York State Health Commissioner Dr. James McDonald. "As the largest healthcare provider in the State of New York, Northwell Health is deeply grateful to partner with New York Blood Center to support the urgent needs of the blood emergency," James Martone, Assistant

Vice President, Clinical Laboratory Operations, Transfusion Medicine, Northwell Health Laboratories. "We thank and encourage all community blood donors to roll up their sleeves to meet our patients' transfusion needs now and throughout the year. Countless lives are saved thanks to the selfless generosity of these individuals."

Blood donors can give every 56 days, and platelet donors can give twice per month. The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) recently lifted several blood donor eligibility restrictions. To view current eligibility guidelines, visit nybc.org or call 800-688-0900.

To make an appointment, donors can call 1-800-933-2566 or visit nybc.org.

County Players to present 'Into the Breeches'

Comedy scheduled for Feb. 7-22

County Players, one of the longest-running community theatre companies in the area, will present the Comedy "Into the Breeches" by George Brant. This Main Stage production is directed by Christine Crawfis and opens Friday, Feb. 7 with performances scheduled for Fridays & Saturdays Feb. 7, 8, 14, 15, 21, 22 at 8 p.m., with matinees on Sunday, Feb. 16 and Saturday, Feb. 22 at 2 p.m. at 2681 W. Main Street in the Village of Wappingers Falls.

That time-honored adage, "The Show Must Go On," takes on new meaning in this endearing and moving comedy set at a small theater in Wappingers Falls, NY in 1942. With the actors and director off at war, a group of passionate women face the daunting challenge of preserving the theatre's reputation for mounting outstanding Shakespearean productions. Crammed with laughs and an abundance of visual humor, their fierce determination and unbridled enthusiasm will have audiences cheering as they prove that art and community triumph, even in times of peril.

The production features the local talents of Madison Anthony, Deborah Coconis, Kit Colbourn, Paul Coleman, Dylan Parkin, Kiara Marie Melendez Jemmott, Janet Nurre, and Steavie Reed.

Of this production, director Crawfis said, "Great theatre takes us on a journey of reflection and provocation, while embracing the value of entertainment. "Into the Breeches" has all these elements. It's a clever, touching play celebrating women. George Brant has triangulated a theatrical celebration, a paean to women, and an ode to inclusivity, and casts them against the backdrop of the Second World War."

Individual tickets are available online in advance of the performance dates at countyplayers.org. Adult: $26, Senior 60+, Military, Students (with ID at the door), and Children under 12: $24. The box office is open for in-person ticket sales one hour before performance time.

Hudson Valley Credit Union sponsors County Players' 67th Season. This production of "Into The Breeches" is presented by arrangement with Concord Theatricals on behalf of Samuel French, Inc. concordtheatricals.com

Taco casserole

Tasty and easy to customize

Taco Tuesday is a thing for good reason. Who can resist the combination of fresh vegetables, spiced meat and cheese in a soft tortilla or crunchy corn shell? Not me, that's who! And heck yeah! I could eat them every week! I don't know anyone who doesn't love a good taco. Sure, you could order out, but they're easy to make and easily customizable. You can add them to your weekly lineup whenever you want to entice everyone to the table and set everything out so they can assemble their own. Or...

Because it's winter and I've been craving hot, cheesy, satisfying one-dish meals, you could be like me and make a taco casserole instead. I threw one together the other night (I do so pretty often) and it was just what I wanted. Big fat bonus: the leftovers were great warmed up and served over chips nacho-style! It's the kind of meal that would be perfect for a hungry crowd. Like one watching a game or something.

And just like tacos, it's easy to customize. You can use ground beef or turkey, or go meatless. You can use black beans, refried or kidney beans or just leave 'em out. Use nacho cheese flavored chips instead of plain and crumble some on top as well as on the bottom. And use whatever cheese you like best (I went with sharp Cheddar and Colby Jack). You can set out a variety of toppings so your crowd can do it their way. Just bake up the casserole and set it on the table hot and bubbly with chopped jalapenos, scallions and onions, guacamole, chopped tomatoes, shaved lettuce (made tastier mixed with chopped cilantro and a squeeze of fresh lime juice), sliced black olives, lime wedges, sour cream and a big bowl of tortilla chips. It comes together quickly (about 40 minutes from prep to table), can easily be doubled for a crowd and can be assembled a day ahead and baked just when you want to serve it. It also freezes well. Just thaw in the fridge before popping in the oven.

Taco Tuesday Casserole

No, you don't have to save this for Tuesdays. It's just, like I said, "a thing." But, yes, you do have to try it. As in the notes above, it's easy to tailor it to your taste. This is just a starting point for you to play with and make your own. Sometimes I add corn (if using canned, be sure to drain it first) and chopped bell pepper; and once I tried it with a layer of sour cream under the cheesy topping. Do what you want! It's your taco night!

Ingredients

- Tortilla chips (plain or nacho cheese)
- Olive oil (about 1 tablespoon)
- 1/2 an onion, chopped
- 1lb ground beef (or turkey)
- 1 package taco seasoning OR 1 tablespoon chili powder and 1/2 teaspoon each garlic powder, salt and ground cumin
- 1 (14.5oz) can black beans (drained and rinsed)
- 1 cup salsa
- 1 (14.5oz) can diced tomatoes (juice and all)
- 2 cups shredded cheese (Cheddar, Monterey Jack or a mix), divided

Toppings: chopped fresh tomatoes, scallions, jalapenos, onions and/or cilantro, sliced black olives, shredded lettuce, guacamole or sliced avocado, sour cream, tortilla chips

Method

Crumble enough tortilla chips into a greased 9x13 baking dish to cover the bottom. Set aside. Preheat oven to 350 degrees with rack in the middle position.

In a large skillet, heat olive oil. Add onion and cook over medium-high heat until translucent, about 5 minutes. Add meat and cook, stirring, until browned and crumbly, 8-10 minutes. Add seasoning, stir and continue cooking another 2-3 minutes. Spoon out excess fat.

Stir in beans, salsa, diced tomatoes and half of the cheese. Mix well. Spoon evenly over the tortilla chips and top with remaining cheese. (I sprinkled some sliced olives on top). Bake until bubbly and the cheese is melted, 25-30 minutes. Sprinkle with chopped scallions and tomatoes. Serve with toppings on the side. Makes 8 servings.

I just love recipes I can go to anytime and change to suit my mood! But I also love the guilty pleasure of having a designated night for a favorite food, because it means one night I don't have to think up something to make for dinner. This casserole fits both categories and because you can change it up, it won't get old. So, viva la taco night and enjoy!

Three easy veggies

Growing tomatoes, peppers and onions in home gardens

Heirloom tomatoes, Pineapple and Brandywine.

These three vegetables are easy to grow in the garden or in containers:

Tomatoes – The most popular home garden vegetable. Tomato transplants should be set into the garden or container after the danger of frost has passed, around May 20 in the Hudson Valley. Frost happens on clear nights when the temperature dips to 32 degrees. Tender garden plants can be set out in early May if they are protected with covers on frosty nights.

Start tomatoes indoors from seed in late February. Be sure the young seedlings get plenty of light so they don't stretch. My favorite tomato variety is the hybrid "Big Beef." It's fairly early, disease-resistant and loaded with six-inch diameter fruit. "Jet Star" is another good one. Heirloom varieties like "Brandywine" and "Black Krim" are flavorful but don't produce much fruit. Since they are open-pollinated, passed down for generations, heirloom seed can be saved for the following year. "Sun Gold" is an incredibly delicious cherry tomato, easy to grow and super productive.

Plant tomato seedlings in the sunniest location possible, three feet apart in the garden or one plant per five-gallon bucket (with drainage holes). Tomatoes prefer slightly acidic soil, which is common in the Hudson Valley. Be sure to fertilize the growing plants, especially in containers. Use cages or stakes as the plants grow, to keep the fruit off the ground. The only pest I've seen on tomatoes is the horn worm, which is more of a curiosity than a serious pest. The fungus called blight is common around here, causing the bottom leaves to turn brown, and working its way up to the top. Fungicides with copper – some are organic – can prevent blight. I plant a second crop, setting out the transplants in late June, to have a healthy crop just as the earlier plants are falling victim to blight.

Fresh local tomatoes, if you can find them at farmers markets, can cost $5 dollars a pound. Grow your own, for a super fresh tasty treat all summer long.

Peppers – Not as easy to grow as tomatoes, but worthwhile, once you get the hang of it. Peppers work great in containers, since the plants are fairly compact. The best part of growing your own peppers is the incredible selection of available varieties, from bell shape (Ace, Lady Bell, Red Knight) to frying types (Cubanelle, Gypsy) to an array of hot peppers ("Pepper X" is this year's pick as the 'hottest, closely followed by "Trinidad Scorpion").

Like tomatoes, pepper transplants are set into the garden after the last frost, May 20. Unlike tomatoes, the seeds are harder to germinate. They take a long time to come up, especially when the temperature is below 75 degrees. Start them indoors in February.

In the garden, peppers need warm sunshine. Cool nights, even in July, can cause blind spots where the fruits were supposed to appear. This has to do with the variety, and should correct itself in August. Also, too much fertilizer can cause the plants to stay green, producing foliage instead of fruit. Use a low-nitrogen plant food. Pests and diseases are rarely an issue with peppers, although the fruits can get sun scald if exposed to direct sun in August. When Becky Adams won Grand Champion at the Dutchess County Fair, she had erected a shade canopy over her pepper patch in early August.

Onions – Although onions cost only a dollar per pound, they are essential to the home garden for one reason – onions stay fresh in the ground or container all summer and into the fall, saving you a trip to the grocery store if you happen to need an onion for a particular recipe. And they're so easy to grow, from seed, transplants or "sets," which are tiny onions that cost about 5 cents each. Onions can tolerate cold temperatures, so plant them in April and are rarely bothered by pests or diseases. "Long day" varieties like Sweet Spanish and Walla Walla grow best in the Hudson Valley. The famous Vidalia sweet onion, a "short day" variety produced in Georgia or Texas, will grow here, but with smaller and later maturing bulbs.

These three veggies are easy to grow in the ground or in containers. I could add a dozen more, including lettuce, beets and potatoes, but where would it stop?

The heavy lines indicate areas, called cages, from one to five squares in size. Fill each cage with unique digits, counting up from 1. So for example a 2-square cage contains the numbers 1 and 2; and a 5-square cage contains the numbers from 1 to 5. Adjacent (touching) squares, even ones that touch diagonally, may never contain the same number.

17th annual Cookie Walk set for Feb. 8 in Poughkeepsie

The Annual Mid-Hudson Love INC Cookie Walk promises sweet treats and positive vibes. On Saturday, Feb. 8, cookie-lovers can select their favorites from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. (or as long as supplies last) at Poughkeepsie United Methodist Church, 2381 New Hackensack Road (Route 376) in Poughkeepsie. Based on last year's offering of more than 900 dozen cookies, a wide variety of gourmet homemade cookies are expected, including gluten free.

This is the 17th year for the Mid-Hudson Love In the Name of Christ Cookie Walk, which is always held the Saturday before Valentine's Day, and again this year falls the day before the Big Game. The event showcases the recipes and decorating skills of over 100 volunteer bakers who donate their best baked goods. Shoppers receive gloves and a bakery box and walk through the cookie display selecting the items they want. The filled bakery boxes are weighed, and shoppers take their treats home for a suggested donation of $10 per pound.

Proceeds benefit the ministry work of local churches through Mid-Hudson Love In the Name of Christ. Mid-Hudson Love INC is a partnership of churches that helps local families experiencing poverty by providing personal attention, skill-building classes, mentoring, and tangible goods such as personal care items, linens, and furniture.

Pick up some treats for your sweetheart, your family, your Super Bowl party, a neighbor, or a friend, and know that your financial donation offers a helping hand to someone in need. For further information about Mid-Hudson Love INC, visit www.mid-hudsonloveinc.org or call 845-471-0102.
