"If they are our brothers, why are they killing us?"

-Father Ivan Kaszczak, pastor of Ukrainian Catholic churches in Hunter and Kerhonkson

HV Ukrainian community watches, prays as war explodes

By Jim Donick

The Ukrainian American Community in the Hudson Valley is watching events unfold in Ukraine with horror and individuals are working to provide support to the victims. The community has come together like never before, sharing information about events, about family members, and about ways to help.

The situation is frightening - and galvanizing the community. Many are trying to understand how it could have been allowed to happen.

Ukraine has a long history and its people have a national identity that stretches through the Kieven Rus back to the Ninth Century. The Ukrainians have been fighting for or protecting their independence from Russia for centuries.

Father Ivan Kaszczak, the pastor of the St. John the Baptist Ukrainian Catholic Church in Hunter and also of Holy Trinity Ukrainian Catholic Church in Kerhonkson, is busy looking after his flock and looking to communicate with their families, whether they be in Ukraine or already refugees somewhere else.

"People are worried about family and friends back there," he says. "One of my friends was working in Kyiv, but has managed to get to Hungary with his wife and two kids.

"We, here, are ready to sponsor refugees to come to USA when that can happen. Right now, though, most of the wives don't want to leave their husbands, who are staying and fighting. We will be ready when the time comes."

"This whole thing is surreal," Father Kaszczak says. "Putin has said that he is doing this to protect the Russian speakers in Eastern Ukraine. Yet, his troops are destroying Kharkiv, one of the largest Russian speaking cities in the world. (Kharkiv is third behind Moscow and St. Petersburg -2017 census data). If they are 'our brothers,' why are they killing us?"

Orest Temnysky, first generation Ukrainian American and a trustee of the St. John the Baptist Ukrainian Catholic Church in Hunter, addresses attendees at this past Sunday's interfaith prayer service for the Ukraine. Temnysky was relating his understanding of recent developments in Ukraine and sharing ways that people can help with aid. Inset: The Ukrainian Catholic Church building in Hunter.

Father Kaszczak continues, noting that "Putin talks of 'de-nazification.' I only know of two countries in the world where both the president and the prime minister were Jewish. One is Israel and the other, up until recently, is Ukraine. This truly is surreal."

Orest Temnysky, first generation Ukrainian American and a trustee of the St. John the Baptist Ukrainian Catholic Church in Hunter, has been active in helping to coordinate aid and has been in close touch with family still in Western Ukraine. Most are elderly relations.

"They worry about the shelling," he says. "My aunt is in her 80s and lives on the 14th floor of her building. She doesn't think she can get down to shelter in the basement in time.

"If it comes," she says, "I'll just be closer to God here."

Local legend Brian Giorgis to retire from coaching next year

By Rich Thomaselli

It's funny now to think about, but the most successful girls and women's basketball coach that Dutchess County has ever known had his doubts.

At least twice, in fact.

In 1987, Brian Giorgis led the Our Lady of Lourdes High School girls team to the New York State Public High School Athletic Association tournament for the third time. He lost in his previous two trips, but the Warriors won the state title this time.

A relieved Giorgis was asked after the game how he felt and said, "I was feeling like Bud Grant, like I was never going to win this thing," he said of the Minnesota Vikings football coach, who reached the Super Bowl four times without winning.

After winning nine state high school titles, Giorgis was courted by Marist College, just a few miles up the road from Lourdes in the town of Poughkeepsie, to become its new coach. Yet he still had his doubts and, in fact, he went to the Lourdes administration and said, "If this doesn't work out, can I come back?"

There was no going back.

Giorgis continued his success at the collegiate level and, last week, decided that next year, the 2022-23 season, will be his last on a basketball sideline as he has decided to retire.

He will be replaced by his former player and longtime assistant coach, Erin Doughty.

"It's been an incredible ride, but it's time," Giorgis said. "As sad as I am to see the light at the end of the tunnel, I am extremely excited for the future of Marist women's basketball. Marist could not have made a better choice than Coach Erin Doughty to continue the legacy of Marist women's basketball. She brings the enthusiasm, knowledge, and spirit of what the program has been about for the last 20 years, and I am confident that Erin can bring the program to even greater heights. I thank Tim Murray, Deb DiCaprio, Dennis Murray, and Kevin Weinman for one of the most incredible journeys that a coach could ever have, and I thank them for having the vision to see that Coach Doughty can take the program even further."

Giorgis is currently in his 20th season as head coach of the Red Foxes. He has the best track record of championship success of any coach in the 40-year history of Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference women's basketball. Giorgis led the Red Foxes to their first MAAC championship in 2004, won nine straight conference crowns from 2006 through 2014, and

Wappinger Elks make $2,000 donation to Meals on Wheels in Wappingers Falls

By Kristine Coulter

The Meals on Wheels volunteer organization in Wappingers Falls received a $2,000 donation from members of the Wappinger Elks #2609 on March 3. The donation will assist the volunteers with Meal on Wheels with their dedication to delivering hot meals to local seniors who live alone and or are shut in.

Christina Contelmo, with Meals on Wheels, remarked, "We thank the Elks very much. Everyone's aware that the prices are going up." She noted, however, Meals on Wheels has not raised their prices.

There are 48 clients that the local Meals on Wheels in Wappingers Falls serves, stated Contelmo. The clients receive five hot meals a

Local residents: War in Ukraine is replica of past

By Rich Thomaselli

For Esther Kando Odescalchi, this has an all-too-familiar – and sad, and frightening, and frustrating – feeling.

When Russia's invasion of Ukraine went from rumor to reality on February 24, Odescalchi was flooded with the searing memories from her childhood when, as a teenager, she and her family escaped from Hungary in 1956 after the former Soviet Union invaded the country to quell a rebellion.

"What's happening in Ukraine right now is the exact replica of what happened in Hungary," said Odescalchi, a Pleasant Valley resident for nearly 50 years now. Like other area residents with ties to Ukraine, she is keeping a keen eye on the current developments.

"In 1956 we had enough of the Iron Curtain," she said of Communist rule. "The revolution was winning, but the west, just like now, was doing nothing. I remember as a young person, the Russian tanks coming in and bombarding my city and crushing the Revolution."

Most of her memories are sad and poignant.

Most of them.

"I remember when the Russian tanks were coming into Budapest and we were just outside of the city," she recalled with a laugh. "One of the soldiers asked me and a bunch of children which way it was to Budapest. We all pointed and told them it was the opposite direction of the way they were going and they turned around and actually headed away from Budapest! Even the smallest children did something to defend their country."

Odescalchi is, quite literally, standing with her Ukrainian friends, helping to organize donations to help the people affected by the war. There's a kinship there – Ukraine actually used to be a part of Hungary more than a century ago and Hungary was the first country in the world to recognize Ukraine's sovereignty when it declared independence in 1991.

"I am proud," she says, "that Hungary is welcoming so many refugees from Ukraine right now."

Much as Austria welcomed Odescalchi and her family in 1956. Not long after a harrowing escape from Hungary, she wrote a book called "My Escape – Memoirs of a Hungarian Teenage Freedom Fighter."

Odescalchi chronicled the escape, including getting lost in a swamp and being unsure if her family was traveling toward Austria or back into the arms of Soviet soldiers. But they made it to the border nation and, in 1957, she came to the United States as a refugee.

She completed her education in the United States, earning a MS in library science and a Ph.D. in communications from Columbia University. After a career as a librarian, she met her husband – who was employed by IBM in Poughkeepsie – and she too joined IBM and worked in executive communications. She lectures and conducts workshops at colleges, universities, national and international organizations in the United States and abroad.

"When Russia came to Hungary, they kicked my father out of his job, they made us move from our house to a one-room place. The pipes were always frozen. We went hungry," she said. "To this day, I still appreciate that my heat turns on when I get cold, that I can take a hot shower, and that I don't want for food. The United States is still the greatest country in the world, even at this exact moment, and anybody who thinks otherwise can go to hell."

Ulana Salewycz

For Ulana Salewycz, her memories are similar.

Salewycz is a Poughkeepsie resident whose parents left Ukraine as refugees after World War II, escaping the murderous regime of Soviet Chairman Josef Stalin.

"This is not the first time this has happened in our history," Salewycz said. "In fact, it's probably the fourth or fifth time. But before (the 1986 nuclear reactor accident in) Chernobyl hit, most people didn't know that much about Ukraine. Now people know."

After her family settled in America, Salewycz was born and raised in a heavily Ukrainian area in Passaic, New Jersey. She and her siblings learned Ukrainian and lived in a three-level home with her grandparents on the top floor, her own family in the middle and her sister and her family on the bottom floor.

"Ukrainians are like mushrooms. You meet one and you see there are a lot of us in different parts," she joked.

Salewycz is active in the Hudson Valley's biggest Ukrainian community in Kerhonkson in Ulster County, including the Ukrainian Women's League of America and the Ukrainian Holy Trinity Church. She still has cousins currently living in Ukraine, and her aunt gives the family updates as often as possible. So far, one in Lviv and one in Kyiv, are safe.

She said the current invasion does not surprise her.

"The Orange Revolution has been going on for eight years," she said. "Putin wants the old Soviet Union back. He's going to keep going. (Former Russian president Mikael) Gorbachev was friendly to the Ukrainians, but most of the Russian leaders are not to be trusted."

HV Ukrainian community watches, prays

He says his family isn't leaving yet. "The line at the border is so very long and they are in their 80s. They can't sit in a car for three days waiting. They're stuck."

"There's got to be more that can be done," remarks Temnycky. "We are watching in slow motion the murder of thousands of people. I don't see how he (Putin) is going to stop."

Luba Fedun, a Ukrainian American, laments, "I've been to Ukraine so many times since the break up of the Soviet Union and at last count, I had 176 relatives still there. I've been in touch with an elderly aunt. Her father was killed by the Nazis just before she was born, and when the Soviets returned after driving out the Nazis, they exiled her mother. My aunt was only three months old, so her mother handed her to her own sister to look after her as she couldn't survive the exile with a tiny baby."

The aunt lives in the Kherson Oblast (district) in southern Ukraine. Kherson was the first major city to fall to the Russians recently. "I was in touch with her until the Russians came," Fedun said, "And now there is no more communication with anyone there. She's elderly and we're all worried."

The area community, represented by the Mountain Top Interfaith Community, hosted an interfaith prayer service at the Ukrainian church in Hunter on this past Sunday afternoon. The better part of 200 people packed the facility. Father Kaszczak led the service with help from the interfaith council. The whole community joined in praying for peace and for the safety of the Ukrainians but also for the Russian soldiers.

"We wish no one any harm," Kaszczak reminded everyone. "We simply pray that the Russian soldiers will find it in their hearts to stop the fighting."

While donations for humanitarian aid to Ukraine were being accepted at the church on Sunday, Father Kaszczak announced that, on a larger scale, humanitarian aid donations are being coordinated through the Church by the Ukrainian Catholic Church's Metropolitan in Philadelphia.

"They, like Catholic Relief Services, (CRS) have very little overhead and most of the donations will go directly to those in Ukraine or refugees, who have gotten out," he said.

The Ukrainian Catholic Archdiocese of Philadelphia (215-627-0143) has a Humanitarian Aid Fund for Ukraine. One may mail a check to the Ukrainian Catholic Archdiocese of Philadelphia and send it to the office at: 810 North Franklin Street, Philadelphia PA 19123.

People are asked to write on the check "Humanitarian Aid Fund for Ukraine."

It is also possible to donate on the Philadelphia Archdiocese's website ukrarcheparchy.us, and click on Donate through PAYPAL and select "War victims and humanitarian crisis in Ukraine."

Father Kaszczak also recommends the following charitable organization, should one wish to donate another way toward humanitarian aid to Ukraine and its citizens.

Pipeline decision resulted in higher prices

To the Editor:

The explosion in electricity charges and natural gas heating charges are a direct result of former Gov. Andrew Cuomo's cutoff of natural gas pipelines from western New York and Pennsylvania. The illusion that windmills and solar farms would take the place of a decommissioned nuclear plant can only be believed by a thugish politician who is used to having real people fear his utopian dreams.

New Yorkers who haven't fled to free states (yet) must pay for these inane ideas until honest 'leaders' return the Empire State to economic sanity.

Objects to proposed Wesley Residence projet

To the Editor:

My name is Ms. Candace Coates and I am a senior resident of the village of Fishkill. I was raised in the village and have lived here for over sixty years.

I strongly object to allowing the Fishkill Church of the Nazarene to be allowed to change their zoning from residential to business because of the increased traffic and noise from this proposed project named "Wesley Residence." I believe that it would have a very serious negative impact on the entire village of Fishkill.

I would like to share with you the comment made by their pastor Reverend Pankey: "A portion of the targeted population of the Wesley Residence are those who have spent their lives in our community, their family and friends still live here. They own homes and at this stage of life they no longer have the desire, or ability, to do all the maintenance of their beloved homes ..." on the Wesley Residence website (<https://www.wesleyresidence.com/faqs/>).

I find that this comment from their pastor extremely offensive. This person does not have the right to speak for me.

Dismayed at another gasoline spill in Wappinger

To the Editor:

I was dismayed recently to learn of yet another gasoline spill in the Town of Wappinger, but at least as disturbing is the lack of public notification of the incident. With the prospect of yet another gasoline station being built in a residential area (Rte. 9D in Hughsonville), this potential for a serious health emergency is particularly frightening. The DEC website lists three local gas spills in the last five months: one in September 2021, one in December 2021, and now this most recent spill in February.

Recently I contacted Mr. Thurston, copying other members of the Town Board. I was pleased to receive an immediate response from Mr. Thurston. He referred to the "small spill" as having been successfully cleaned up. His response to my concern about not being notified was that he had spoken to the press. As far as I know, both of these answers are correct. However, what he did not say is that the "small" spill of 75 gallons (as reported on the DEC website, which also states "Date Spill Closed: Not Closed") would be substantial should it occur in or near someone's backyard, as could happen in a residential area. He never addressed my concern that there had been no verbiage on the Town website to let residents know that the spill had occurred. I also asked him why a mass phone notification of residents was not done but did not receive an answer. Perhaps the Town does not have that capability?

Now we are facing the possibility of yet another gas station in a potentially dangerous location. For some reason that I cannot fathom, our Town Board decided to rescind its restriction on building gasoline stations in residential areas. Despite public opposition to the Hughsonville plans, the Town has yet to recognize the dangers that this proposal presents. As I write this, multiple outlets are reporting the destruction or damage to buildings in Rockville Center, NY, resulting from a 9200 gallon gasoline spill; Hughsonville is slated to house 24,000 gallons of gasoline. Even if there were roadway improvements designed to relieve the bottleneck that normal traffic in Hughsonville already experiences on a regular basis, the opportunity for disaster is ripe. Try to imagine evacuating this residential population, especially during the impending arrival or departure of a train, in a safe and efficient manner as emergency vehicles are attempting to access the area.

Upon receipt of Mr. Thurston's email, I thanked him for his promptness and then asked him to address these concerns. When I did not hear from him, I gave him the courtesy of a second opportunity to respond but have yet to hear from him or any members of the Town Board. Accidents do occur for which there can be no blame or recrimination, but in situations as potentially deadly as this our elected officials have been charged with the responsibility of doing everything within their power to protect the citizens whom they serve. The 2019 building code that prohibits placing gasoline stations in residential areas must be reinstated.

Town of Fishkill should remove LaGoy from Comprehensive Plan Committee

To the Editor:

Fishkill Comprehensive Plan Committee (CPC) member Ann LaGoy's latest statements at the last Town Board meeting leaves residents with a fundamental misimpression about her bias against the Continental Commons project, illegal activities on my property, and conflict of interest, as a member of the so-called Friends of the Fishkill Supply Depot (FOFSD).

LaGoy is anything but a fair and neutral finder of facts. During a CPC meeting, she described her effort to stop Continental Commons as a "battle." However, she did not share that she took the unprecedented step of trespassing on my property with a shovel and tampering with it. Recently, I completed a ground penetrating radar study. It concluded that the tampered area now contains high concentrations of metal, and may be seeded Continental Army artifacts to make it appear that the property is a Revolutionary War site, containing a soldier's cemetery.

I objected last year to members of the so-called Friends of the Fishkill Supply Depot (FOFSD) serving on the Comprehensive Plan Committee because they adversely impact the reputation and the integrity of the committee. FOFSD founder Mara Farrell stepped down, but LaGoy did not. If Supervisory Albra is sincere about "good and open government" as he claims, he should remove her from the committee.

Tired of armchair critics

To the Editor:

As a fellow member of the Comprehensive Plan Committee in Fishkill I would like to respond to a previous letter by stating that every person on this committee had to fill out an application and was vetted before they joined, myself included. I am getting tired of hearing armchair critics say that this committee was "hand-picked" by the current supervisor. If someone had applied and was not accepted, then perhaps this kind of criticism would be warranted. However, I do believe that all but one applicant was accepted onto the Comprehensive Planning Committee which is made up of 15+ individuals from different political parties, backgrounds and cultures. One thing we all have in common is a desire to help our town flourish as a great place to run a business and raise a family.

We are all volunteers, doing this work on our own time for no pay. Instead of complaining, joining in might be a better way to contribute to Fishkill's growth and prosperity.

Wappingers Falls election March 15

Compiled by Kristine Coulter

Village Elections for the village of Wappingers Falls will be held on March 15, from 10 a.m. – 9 p.m., in the Village Court Room at 2582 South Avenue in Wappingers Falls. On the ballot will be candidates for First Ward, Second Ward and Third Ward trustees.

For more information, contact Village Clerk John Karge at 845-297-8773 ext. 5.

The following, according to Karge, are seeking trustee positions. Kevin Huber is running for 1st Ward trustee. Huber has no opposition. Jennifer Niznik has no opposition for 2nd Ward trustee position. Adam Lauricella is running for 3rd Ward, with no opposition.

Huber, Niznik and Lauricella were sent questions regarding the upcoming election. Huber and Niznik did not respond by deadline.

“As a small business owner in the community for over 20 years, I’ve had many residence and fellow business owners ask me to throw my hat in the ring. As someone who has built two businesses in this little Village, I believe I have a unique skill set that can benefit the board. In 2021 my family and I decided I was finally ready. At the start of last year, incoming Mayor Rick Cerino appointed me Trustee of the 3rd ward after my predecessor resigned. It’s been a great opportunity, and I would like to continue to do this important work by securing another two-year term,” stated Adam Lauricella, who is running for the 3rd ward seat.

Lauricella remarked, “In my first full term, I will continue to bring my focus and care in the day-to-day, to see projects through. I’m good at staying on task and hammering away at the issues. It’s something demanded of anyone running a small business for any real length of time... And I take the time to really listen. Whether it be our residence, business owners or prospective developers; I actively listen to their concerns and carve out a way to find a solution that benefits them and the Village as a whole at the same time. If I don’t know the answer, I try to find it or redirect the question to the experts. Over the last year, I’ve worked with employees and appointed department heads to listen to their needs too. High level multi-tasking is key to running a business and useful to be an effective board member, something I am capable of. That...and stamina. This position has the potential to wear people down. I’ve seen it many times over the last 2 decades. I have the stamina to go the distance.”

Lauricella stated, “I am registered No Party. I’m not getting bogged down with political ideologies that have no place in small government on this level. I’d like to avoid the toxic rhetoric we see on the national stage. I don’t think it’s helpful. That being said I’m grateful to have received both the Republican and Democratic nomination. It speaks to my ability to stay the course and work toward resolution. I’m not pushing one parties agenda. I’m pushing the people’s agenda. I’ll continue to work for all residence regardless of political affiliation and this vote of confidence shows that.”

Lauricella said, “I’ve been focused on several really important issues. Many are not totally resolved, so I will stay vigilant throughout my term as a trustee. First, Fiscal responsibility. We’re in serious fiscal distress. We have to weed out those people and firms who see the Village as an easy mark, a cash cow who is willing to endlessly spend. It’s been going on in the Village for years and it can’t happen any longer. I’m working to identify the trouble areas, the big-ticket invoices and subpar work and to replace them with people in line with needs and goals of the Village. We’ve been working to stop the bleeding. However, I strongly believe we also need to spend when necessary. We can’t hold back financial support from our departments. We have an obligation to equip them with the tools they need and we must compensate our people. We need to set people up for success. In this job climate, it’s the only real way to attract new talent and more importantly, retain the hard-working people we already have. So, it’s a tightrope. We’ll be walking it for many years to get out of this mess. I think with time we can become financially healthy again.”

Lauricella noted, “I’m working with all departments within the Village to make it a better place. We need to improve the visual landscape of this village to give our current residence and business owners a sense of pride. This will also attract new neighbors, positive people who will become the fabric of our community in the future. The days of allowing absentee landlords and lazy property owners to degrade our buildings to the point of blight are over. It can’t happen any longer. We deserve better. This will also lend to an increase in property values. And for most of middle-class America, their home is the largest part of their nest egg, wouldn’t it be nice if Village property values were on trend with the rest of the county? I think so. So many people have lived here for decades, generations even...they should be seeing a return on their investment. It should be a real factor in their net worth.”

Lauricella remarked, “I also want to let people know, the Village of Wappingers is open for business. We want to welcome new small business owners in and give them an avenue to establish and grow responsibly without unnecessary push-back. We should have laws and regulations that allow people to live their dream, to create jobs and earn Sales tax in a way that doesn’t discourage them, burn them out or bankrupt them. Let’s work with developers and show them a path to development. Responsible developers with a proven track record are key to any neighborhood revitalization. They put a lot on the line to develop. Blood, sweat, tears and a lot of capital. It’s a risk, and we should appreciate that they’re taking such a risk in our little Village. Still, we have to let them know, it needs to be done responsibly. In needs to be done right. In America, we want people to develop and make money...but not at the expense of the Village and its people.”

“I would just like to say I really appreciate those people who have confidence in me. I work hard to serve my community and will continue to do so. I think this role I’m playing is an important one. I would also like to thank my wife and kids for supporting me in this. It demands a lot of my time and they have been really cool about it. I think the Village is at a critical time and if we play our cards right we can make great things happen,” said Lauricella.

Giorgis to retire as Marist coach

Marist College women’s basketball coach Brian Giorgis will step down after next season after coaching more than 40 years in Dutchess County at both Marist and Our Lady of Lourdes High School. Seated next to Giorgis is associate coach Erin Doughty, who will take over as head coach at Marist on April 1, 2023.

most recently captured the title in 2021. His total of 11 MAAC championships is the most in conference history.

And he remains the only coach in conference history, men or women, to take a MAAC team to the NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 after accomplishing the feat in 2007.

“What an incredible coaching career!” Marist Director of Athletics Tim Murray said. “Brian’s successes over the past 20 years here at Marist have exceeded everyone’s expectations. He recruited, developed and won with terrific basketball players, but more importantly, with amazing young women that captivated both the Marist community and the fans throughout the greater Hudson Valley. He established Marist women’s basketball as one of the top mid-major programs in the country.”

Giorgis has won five NCAA Tournament games in his tenure, as he also led the Red Foxes to first-round victories in 2008, 2011, and 2012. That total is also the most of any coach in MAAC history.

Giorgis’ current record stands at 451-183 overall. He was 450-44 in 19 years at Lourdes.

Giorgis’ coaching prowess has extended to the international stage. In 2013, he served as an assistant coach for Team USA at the World University Games in Russia. Team USA earned the gold medal and won all six of its contests.

Doughty will take over as head coach on April 1, 2023.

“Brian’s incredible record of wins on the court speaks for itself, but is only a fraction of his amazing story,” said Marist College President Kevin Weinman. “For decades, he has developed student-athletes on and off the court, as well as the next generation of women’s basketball coaches. Over the next year, we look forward to celebrating Brian’s accomplishments and contributions to Marist, and to welcoming Erin Doughty to her well-deserved appointment to be Marist’s next head coach.”

week. They also have a ‘snow bag,’ which is used in case one of the 85 volunteers cannot deliver during inclement winter weather.

The cost of paper products, said Contelmo, have “gone through the roof.”

Lawrence Byrne, with BPOE #2609, said the Elks have focused on:

- Veterans
 - Toys for Tots and
 - Wappinger Community Day
- “We literally sat around at a board meeting strategizing what organizations we wanted to get involved with,” explained Byrne, who also volunteers with his wife for Meals on Wheels.

“The thing that is really inspiring to us in things like this. The crux of the organization is the donation,” remarked Byrne, who is a PER (Past Exalted Ruler) with the Elks.

Jason Collins, PER with the Elks and current Trustee Chairman, presented the donation, along with Colleen Janicik, BPOE #2609 Treasurer and Rita DelValle, Loyal Knight with BPOE #2609.

4-H community mourns loss of leader, mentor

By Curtis Schmidt

Don Cookingham, who passed away on Feb. 11, is being remembered as a leader, mentor and friend.

He was a memorable co-leader for the "Kids 4 Kids" 4-H Goat Club, a member of the Board of Directors of the Cornell Cooperative Extension Dutchess County and great participant and all-around helper at the Dutchess County Fair for many years.

Remembrances have come in from all over the county. They paint a picture of what Cookingham meant to the 4-H and agricultural communities and help to list his contributions to his beloved county, his personality and his sense of humor.

We are presenting remembrances below and many more on the 4-H pages (8-9) in today's Northern Dutchess News.

• Irene Decker, co-Leader of the "Kids 4 Kids" 4-H Goat Club: "I worked with Don for many years, in 4-H and also with the Dutchess County Fair. Everyone that he came in contact with liked him. If you did not like him at first, you loved him later."

• Andy and Vicki Imperati of the Dutchess County Fair: "Don was involved with the Goat Department for many years and was an integral part of making sure that things ran smoothly in both the open and 4-H shows during the Fair. His knowledge and sense of humor will be missed."

Cookingham was such a large part of the 4-H community, whether it be him sitting on a committee or helping to mentor his 4-H club, he was always making an unforgettable impact. I will forever be grateful to have Mr. Cookingham as one of my leaders. He will truly be missed by many!

• Karlie Klingner, 4-H member: "My sponsor, my second family, my biggest supporter- all came from just one man who changed my life. Don and his family became my sponsor family in 2014 and gave me the opportunity that had started my life in agriculture. At first, I thought he was a grumpy man, or at least I had been told that numerous times. But if you really got to know him, he was far from that. He welcomed me into his family knowing that I had no clue about goats, but here we are eight years later and I all I can think about is how excited I am to do chores. We had countless hours at the barn, teaching, practicing, and laughing all while getting the job done. Within the past few years, we have accomplished some of the most amazing goals that we had at the farm, at shows, individually and as a group. Although I did not spend the last few years of 4-H at his barn, he gave me the opportunity to bring the girls to my barn and still supported me and loved to hear about all the great things that we were doing. I cannot thank the Cookingham family enough for what they have done and who they have helped me become."

Remembrances of Don Cookingham

• Landon and Family: "Over the seven years having Mr. C as his 4-H sponsor, Landon learned that a sponsor was more than someone who let you show a goat at the Fair. He learned that a sponsor was equally as dedicated to sponsoring a child as he was to his own children who were in 4-H and whom the farm was established for decades prior. We are forever grateful for our memories spent on the farm, shows and fairs with Mr. C. and his his milk-stand conversations, jokes, stories and knowledge. We are forever grateful beyond any trophy or ribbon for all that he has done to help Landon grow as a 4-H member. Forever in our hearts."

• Andrea Tibbets, Leader of The Spitters 4-H Club: "4-H'er to Mr. C - 'I have a question?' Mr C.'s response - "And I may or may not, have an answer.'"

• Jane Rodd - 4-H Program Leader: "Don never said no when it came to supporting 4-H. From caring mentor to the kids, to being our voice on the Cornell Cooperative Extension - Dutchess County Board of Directors, Don was always there for us."

• Karmen Smallwood - D.C. Assistant Commissioner for Youth Services: Don Cookingham made a significant difference in the lives of youth through his long-standing involvement on the 4-H Program Advisory Committee. He will be remembered with respect for his unwavering commitment to supporting youth's positive growth and development."

Denise Dunn, 4-H "Got Goat Milk" club Project Leader: "When Donny fell ill, I wrote to friends asking for prayers. I described him as "the beloved grump in the 4H Goat Barn." He was loved and respected by decades of our youth. He seemed to see who they were and what they needed more clearly than they could know themselves. Donny was observant of the people and patterns around him. One day he ran after me to deliver my prayer books which I had left near the show ring in the red pavilion. It was a simple kindness that I have not forgotten. Don Cookingham knew 'his people.' We are all blessed to have known him."

4-H loses inspirational mentor and friend with passing of Don Cookingham

On the Feb. 11, 2022 the Dutchess County 4-H community, along with many others in our area, lost somebody dear to our hearts and influential in our lives. Donald Cookingham, better known as "Don," "Donny" or "Mr. C.," left us all the better because of his unwavering commitment to our youth.

The visitation service, which took place on Thursday, Feb. 17 at the West Clinton Fire Station #1, was followed by a Fireman's Service. Many of those present had never experienced this traditional sendoff where his family, friends, and community were privileged to honor the life of service which Don led.

It was an extremely moving event, ripe with tradition, and allowed all present to pay the proper respect for the passing of this local hero. When the last call came over the radio and Don completed his tour as a Firefighter in this life thoughts turned to the legacy that this remarkable man left behind.

The many remembrances that were shared paint a picture of what Don meant to the 4-H and agricultural communities and help sum up his contributions to his beloved county, his personality, and his sense of humor!

- Carolyn May (nee Cookingham - Don's daughter): "My dad always wanted to get kids involved with 4-H. I remember the first time he told me another 4-H member would be coming to the farm to help care for our goats and show one at fair. They would be using one of our goats, because they could not own an animal of their own. I, only being 5 years old at the time, was not thrilled on the idea. Looking back now, I could not be more thankful he made that choice. We have had several 4-H members sponsor our goats over the past 20 years. Over those years, I got to watch him be a mentor to several other children and young adults. These other children look at my dad as something more than just a 4-H leader. He had such an impact on some. He became a second father figure to them. When someone would mention the name "Mr. C.," all the kids knew who he was. He was the grumpy man in the chair that everyone respected, but also knew he was a sweet and caring man."

- Sally Graybill, Don's sister: "Family and 4-H - two things that meant the world to my brother, a mentor, a friend and a dedicated leader."

Martial Arts school serves community with blood drive, Polar Plunge

Anthony Quatrochi's Martial Arts Institute, 1299 Route 9 in Wappingers Falls, spent much of February loving their neighbors. On Feb. 19, 14 school members raised almost $3,200 to benefit Special Olympics, by jumping into the freezing waters of Sharpe Reservation at the 24th Annual Fishkill Polar Plunge.

On Feb. 26, the school then hosted the New York Blood Center for a blood drive in memoriam of Rosemarie Quatrochi. Almost 50 donors contributed.

Also, throughout the month of February, the institute worked in conjunction with the Fishkill Rotary Club to collect food donations for the Fishkill Food Pantry.

She was 58. She was the first child of the late Robert J. Angot Sr. and Joan M. (Vallo) Angot, born in Beacon, N.Y. on April 15, 1963. Lisa was a ray of sunshine and touched the lives of every single person she ever met. She made friends everywhere she went and could put a smile on your face, especially when you needed it the most. The Impossible Dream

Luigi can't believe his ears.

I have written many stories about working with my father in the restaurant. My father still is tough. He still is relentless. He might have slowed down, but he still produces. At 89 years old, he still is an incredible chef and he still comes in every day. Every single day. Every day. Only for a couple of hours, but still every single day.

The other day, my father came into the restaurant. It was a Sunday, and Sunday is my last day before my day off. Needless to say, Sundays are a little rough because I am usually on my last leg, and I am not the most pleasant person to be around. Sundays Pop usually comes in later, after noon mass, to make dinner for himself. He's full of energy for his age and always ready for me.

So, when Pop comes in, I have already put in around five hours of work with only eight more to go, and I've got my eye on the prize. I'm trying to stay focused and not lose my cool.

So, Pop comes in and he sees me, and right away he starts.

Pop: Quello che un viso brutto (What an ugly face) Hai mangiato limoni stamattina? (Did you eat lemons this morning?)

Me: Why do you say that?

Pop: Come on, itsa morning and you already in a bada mood?

Me: No, Pop, I'm not in a bad mood.

Pop: Whya you looka that way?

Me: I don't know. I'm busy and I'm trying to get all my work done.

Pop: Maka sure the bread crumbs are done.

Me: What? Huh? (sigh) Yes, Pop.

Pop: Maka sure you no taka the sauce off the fire too soon.

Me: (sigh) Yes, Pop.

Pop: Youa sure youa OK?

Me: Yes, Pop, I'm fine.

Pop: OK. Do you still need me to maka the Tira mi Su?

Me: No, Pop. We ran out, so I had to make it.

Pop: What?! Nowa you no needa me no more?

Me: No, Pop. We ran out; I had to make it.

Pop: Nowa youa the chef, right? Youa no need me to bea the chef?

Me: (sigh) No, Pop. That's not true. I just needed to make one for today. You can make it for tomorrow.

Pop: (pause as he stares at me) Youa maka it the righta way?

Me: Yes, Pop. I followed your recipe.

Pop: Youa usa the brandy?

Me: Yes, Pop.

Pop: Anda the Kahlua?

Me: Yes, Pop.

Pop: Youa make the custard the righta way?

Me: Yes, Pop, just like you showed me.

Pop: Youa...

Me: Pop, please. Stop. I'm tired. I've got to finish the day, so I can take tomorrow off.

Pop: Oh, youa tired?

Me: (sigh) Yes, Pop, I'm tired.

Pop: How many days youa work this week, huh?

Me: Oh, no Six, Pop.

Pop: Six? You taka any nights off?

Me: No, Pop.

Pop: You gotta everything done?

Me: Almost, Pop. It'll be done by the end of the day.

Pop: Good. (pause) Youa worka too hard.

He kissed me on the cheek and slapped my other cheek. He turned away from me and went into the walk-in cooler to get his ingredients for dinner. At that moment I thought my head was about to explode. I could almost hear Frank Sinatra singing "The Impossible Dream." I wasn't sure, but I think he paid me a compliment.

Tira Mi Su Ingredients

6 egg yolks
3/4 cup white sugar
1 1/2 cup milk
1 1/4 cups heavy cream
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 pound mascarpone cheese
1 cup strong brewed coffee, room temperature
4 tablespoons brandy
4 tablespoons Kahlua
4 (3 ounce) packages ladyfinger cookies
1 tablespoon unsweetened cocoa powder

Method

In a medium saucepan, whisk together egg yolks and 1 cup of sugar until well blended. Whisk in milk and cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Boil gently for 1 minute, remove from heat and allow to cool slightly. Cover tightly and chill in refrigerator 1 hour.

In a medium bowl, beat cream with vanilla until stiff peaks form. Whisk mascarpone into yolk mixture until smooth. Add chilled custard and gently whisk until blended.

In a small bowl, combine coffee, 1/2 cup sugar, brandy and Kahlua. Dip lady fingers into the coffee mixture.

Arrange half of soaked ladyfingers in bottom of a 7x11 inch dish. Spread half of mascarpone mixture over ladyfingers. Sprinkle with cocoa. Repeat layers and again sprinkle with cocoa. Cover and refrigerate 4 to 6 hours, until set.

To serve, cut into a 3-inch squares and garnish with whipped cream.

Are you ready to travel?

Make your plans now to get ahead of the rush

Are palm trees and tropical breezes calling your name? Are you contemplating taking the kiddos to the magical parks of Florida? If so, you might be ready to travel. Even if you're not yet ready to travel, it's time to start planning. The travel industry has seen a wild uptick in travel requests. At our travel agency, we are daily securing reservations for eager travelers who are looking forward to both the summer and winter of 2022 and the entire season of 2023.

My companions in the local travel industry are also reporting increased booking activity. That is tremendously good news for Travel Agents. In fact, it's good news for all facets of the travel industry such as airlines, limos, rental cars, hotels, restaurants, and all the staff that make our journeys so pleasant and memorable. To give you an idea of how much the travel industry contributes to the economy, online research indicates that "In 2019, domestic and international travelers spent $1.1 trillion in the U.S. This spending directly supported 9 million jobs and generated $277 billion in payroll income and $180 billion in tax revenues for federal, state, and local governments.

Domestic travelers alone spent $972 billion (a 4.4% increase from 2018), and international travelers spent $155 billion in the U.S. Indeed, the U.S. Travel and Tourism report indicate that "the power of travel to create jobs is much greater than other industries. Every $1 million in sales of travel goods and services directly generates eight jobs for the industry."

There are also unrecognized revenue contributors such as travelers spending money on food and restaurants, souvenir shops, luggage and clothing purchases, limo drivers, long-term parking lots...the list goes on.

More importantly, travel is good for you. Planning a trip gives you something positive to look forward to, such as seeing friends or family whom you've missed over the last two years. Newlyweds can finally take that long-delayed Honeymoon and cruises are once again sailing.

Families can (and should) start planning a first-time or repeat trip to Disney World or Universal Studios (or both!). We recently received 3 requests for tours of Italy – and to me, that is the ultimate sign of progress as Italy was once the ground zero of the pandemic. If you are ready to travel or possibly thinking about it, please allow me to offer some suggestions:

Book your reservations with a Travel Agency sooner than later. Even if you didn't work with a Travel Agent prior to the Pandemic, you likely have heard multiple stories of how Travel Agents were able to help passengers get refunds for clients or migrate their trips without penalties to future dates. As pent-up demand increases, availability decreases.

While the airlines are recalling furloughed staff, it's still not at 100 percent. Some staff may need to recertify, and some may not be called back. Those who were not called back will need to seek employment with other airlines, when available, or leave the industry completely. We have not seen a complete reinstallation of all flights and may not see that for a while, but it's heading in the right direction.

For those with dreams of visiting Walt Disney World or Universal Studios, the good news is that if you can once again depart from White Plains on a non-stop flight. Jet Blue, once again has three flights a day on certain days and two flights a day on slower days. Requests for the Caribbean are coming in daily and the departures from JFK and Newark airports are increasing the number of flights that are taking off full.

As of now, with both the airlines and many resorts, you will still need to provide your COVID protection status upon departure and return. Requirements can and do vary from airline to airline and from state to state, and definitely from country to country. Some destinations have requirements that might seem excessive, even prohibitive. Other destinations must seem very lax in their entry requirements. It's up to you to decide if you'd rather wait until requirements are minimized or go through the extra time and effort to enjoy a vacation now.

Either way, we at Embassy Travel, can help you plan for the best vacation to suit your style and to ensure that you travel safely and, perhaps help you make new memories.

Debbi Calabrese, owner of Embassy Travel in Hopewell Junction, writes about travel experiences on an every-other-week basis. She has more than 30 years of experience in the travel industry.

Discovering Ann Blake: The challenges of recovering women's voices from the past

By Will Tatum

For historians, genealogists, and other researchers, the challenges of recovering stories from the past on anyone other than elite men are well known. The further back one goes in time, the more those remnants of other voices are filtered through the perspectives of those elite men, sometimes to the point where the original tone and words are lost. That is, in part, why we have the discipline of history, with specific methods for addressing bias in the historical record, and themed months, to encourage people to think more widely.

It seems fairly obvious and easy to accept that the experiences, attitudes, and ideas of women living in the seventeenth, eighteenth, and even the first half of the nineteenth century would be difficult to recover. We must not lose site of the fact, however, that this obscurity of women's voices extends into our modern era of living memory. Readers born since the 1980s, and particularly those whose lives began in the twenty-first century may find this idea difficult to imagine, but women's individual identities were hidden behind the mantles of their husbands well into the 20th century.

Back in 2013, when I was conducting the research for the Dutchess County Government exhibit that still hangs on the 6th floor of the Dutchess County Office Building at 22 Market Street, I thought I knew all about the difficulties of seeing through the haze of old customs to access the details of women's lives.

Pride cometh before a fall, as the old expression goes, and I was in for a wake-up call. In reviewing the press coverage from the Poughkeepsie Journal archives and sifting through the layers of government reports, I repeatedly encountered one woman (the only woman) on the Charter Commission.

The writers of these sources always referred to her as Mrs. Edwin T. Blake. For those readers of a more recent vintage, this custom of referring to married women by their husband's name carries back well before the foundation of Dutchess County in 1683. Usually, there are ways to work around that issue, but not in this case. Try as I might, I could not locate a single written source recording this individual's given first name.

An accident of fate that you can experience for yourself today offered the solution to this puzzle. Following in the footsteps of many historians, and perhaps drawing from a few too many detective novels, I returned to the scene of the event, in this case the Dutchess County Legislative Chambers. During the debates of 1965-1967, this room belonged to the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors. A small bronze plaque located to the right of the entrance to the chambers commemorates the "vision, wisdom, perseverance and continued untiring effort" of the Charter Committee of the Dutchess County Board of Supervisors and the Dutchess County Charter Commission. Located below this inspiring proclamation, dated April 17, 1967, are the names of the members of the committee and the commission. Tucked between W. Carlton Bernard and Joseph MacAvery is Ann Blake. Finally, an answer to a months-old question.

Additional research quickly revealed that Ann Blake, the mysterious Mrs. Edwin T. Blake, was a key member and one-time president of the League of Women Voters of Greater Poughkeepsie. A Native of Litchfield, Connecticut, she earned her BA from Smith College and MA from Vassar College, and chaired the League's County Charter and Reapportionment Committee before joining the County Charter Commission in 1966.

She served in many other civic capacities, including the Model City Advisory Council during the years of peak Urban Renewal in Poughkeepsie and the building committee for the LaGrange Town Hall. Unfortunately, additional details on her life and experience remain elusive, offering yet another reminder of how challenging research can be. If any readers know more about Ann Blake, please reach out to me at wtatum@dutchessny.gov. To see how Ann Blake features in the County Government Exhibit, you can visit in person or see digital copies of the exhibit panels at www.dutchessny.gov/history.

For those interested in learning more about the challenges of recovering women's voices from the past, the Dutchess County Historical Society has a great opportunity for you. On Thursday, March 10 at 7:30 p.m., I will be presenting a program on how historians use court records to reveal details of women's experiences in the past. My analysis will focus on data drawn from eighteenth and early nineteenth century cases preserved in the Dutchess County Ancient Documents Collection, which the County Clerk's Office both preserves and makes accessible via the online search portal at dutchessny.gov/ancientdocuments.

Attendees will hear tales ranging from Elisabeth Hitchcock's lawsuit against Robert Howe for failing to marry her to

Elizabeth Ryherth's unfortunate and violent encounter with the Reverend Johann Christofells Hartwick in Rhinebeck. We will discover how court records can be wonderful for preserving moments and experiences that would otherwise be lost to time, while also being a source of extraordinary frustration due to the absence of "the rest of the story," as Paul Harvey put it. Thursday's program is free and accessible via the world wide web: visit dchsny.org/march10 to sign up.

In the meantime, I advise readers to think carefully about their experiences and those of their friends, family, and loved ones can be recorded for posterity. The 1960s were an especially vital time for Dutchess County, a decade that seems a lot closer than it actually is to 2022. When going through old photographs or speaking to folks with memories of that era, give some thought to preserving those stories for future generations.

Will Tatum has served as Dutchess County Historian since October 2012. He holds a Ph.D. in History from Brown University.

Maple sugaring event in East Fishkill Saturday

By Kristine Coulter

The Old Time Maple Sugaring event will take place at the Brinckerhoff House Historic Site, 68 N. Kensington Drive, in East Fishkill on March 12 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

"We will be boiling our collected sap on a homemade evaporator that we built two years ago, and over an open fire. We will be offering tastes of our own syrup as well as some local products, sap straight for the tree, and a few goodies made with maple syrup," said Richard "Rick" Soedler, with the East Fishkill Historical Society (E.F.H.S.) and Site Director of the Brinckerhoff House Historic Site, about what attendees can expect at the annual event. The E.F.H.S. is hosting the event. In 2021, the society held tree in-person events and a school field trip.

"[T]hey all went very well. So, this won't be new to us, just less restrictions as mandates have been lifted," stated Soedler.

There will be a 20-minute video presentation in the one-room schoolhouse. The video shows the maple operation of Dr. Julian Strauss, who owns and lives on a farm in Amenia that he grew up on, explained Soedler.

"Not many people extract using buckets anymore. It's a very time-consuming process, with a 40 to 1 ratio. It takes 40 gallons of sap to make one gallon of syrup. This is one of the reasons it is so expensive to buy," noted Soedler.
