Libraries evolve to meet changing needs of residents

By Kristine Coulter

Libraries in Southern Dutchess County continue to expand their offerings as the needs of patrons continue to change.

Howland Public Library 'is not just books'

"Libraries play a critical role in the community. The library is not just books. It is a haven for the people. A library supports the needs of its community and provides critical services that help with student success, workforce development, and information literacy," said Kristen Salierno. Salierno is the director of Howland Public Library on Main St. in the City of Beacon.

"At Howland we have increased our programming around technology to provide digital inclusion for all community members. There are two certified Digital Navigators on staff at Howland. Digital Navigators are trained to assist patrons with technology needs including learning to use a device, securing free or low-cost internet service, and more. We also will be offering classes called Computer Lab that will teach community members different technology topics such as using email, or basics of Google Drive," said Salierno.

"Howland Library has programs for all ages from birth to seniors. Some of the new programs we have include Yoga Baby, a limited series yoga class for babies and their caregivers; Aging with Grace, a support and discussion group for seniors, and Come Write In, a writing circle for adults," Salierno remarked.

"Community members curious about our programs can visit our website beaconlibrary.org. There you can click on the calendar tab and see all the programs and events for the month. You can also subscribe to our newsletter and have the latest news and program information come straight to your inbox," said Salierno.

It was noted by Salierno, "The library [staff] is excited about some new programming we will be rolling out. These include the New Parents Group, a support group for new parents to meet, connect, and share knowledge, as well as a collection of dinosaur-themed fun in the children's room during the month of March."

Elections set for March 21 in Wappingers Falls

By Kristine Coulter and Rich Thomaselli

Registered voters in the Village of Wappingers Falls will have the opportunity to go to the polls on March 21 in the Village of Wappingers Falls. Polls will be open for voting between the hours of 10 a.m. and 9 p.m. Polls are at the Wappingers Falls Village Hall, 2582 South Avenue.

Here's a look at some of the candidates and a few thoughts from some of them. (In no particular order or party affiliation.)

Kevin Huber is running for mayor. Huber was nominated by both the Democratic Committee and the Republican Committee. Current mayor Rick Cerino is not seeking reelection.

"I am running for the office of Mayor because I feel that I can bring a positive change to the day-to-day operations of the Village. Having served as a deputy Mayor under two mayors and a trustee for the last 10 years, I am ready for the challenge," said Huber via email. "Our village has seen significant changes over the last three years. I feel that I am the best one suited to take on the day-to-day work while striving for fiscal health and improving the quality of life for residents. Over the last decade much has changed; from demographics to our business district. As times change so does the focus. I am focused on regaining financial stability and increasing our administration's accountability. It is my time to give back my experience and skills to the Village board in this role. This role will be for the betterment of our Village as a whole."

Huber was asked what will be the top two priorities if elected?

"My top two priorities are restoring fiscal health and focusing on our downtown revitalization. A considerable amount of our revenue comes from sales tax. With that said, it is to our advantage that my administration focuses on nurturing our businesses as a way to attract more tourism and visitors to the village."

"Having served on every board committee we have, I can attest that as Mayor I [will] come with a keen perspective on what supports we need to put in place and what areas need more attention. I plan on working closely with our department heads as a way to help create opportunities for residents and businesses."

Habitat Dutchess takes on first condo project

By Kristine Coulter

Habitat for Humanity of Dutchess County kicked off its new project in Wappingers Falls. This home will be the first condo, at White Gate Condominiums, for the Habitat Dutchess volunteers. The project, that began on International Women's Day, March 8, where "Every Woman Will Make a Difference #EmbraceEquity."

"We're here to say we embrace equity and inclusiveness and empower women, just like anyone else," said Jessica Miuccio, with Habitat Dutchess.

Barb Adams is the Build Captain for this project. "We're going to gut the entire unit," explained Adams. The volunteers will take out the flooring and put in new ones. The kitchen will be renovated with new cabinets and new appliances, said Adams. The bathroom tile will be replaced. There will be a walk-in shower, which replaces the tub, and a whole new vanity when the project is completed, explained Adams. The project is expected to be finished in May, said Adams.

“As a woman, I am always learning new skills and feeling empowered. The mission is to get somebody into their first home,” remarked Adams. There will be more than 100 volunteers who work on this condo, she said.

Former NYS Senator Sue Serino, who is running for the position of County Executive, is the Honorary Build Captain for the project.

“When you think of home, you think about an opportunity to be safe,” said Maureen Lashlee Brennan, CEO of Habitat Dutchess.

Regarding the home buyer, who was at work during the kickoff ceremony, Lashlee Brennan remarked to the volunteers, “She is so in awe of what all of you are doing.”

Jen Radicone, with Habitat Dutchess, said the homeowner is in her mid-30s and is “really excited to purchase a home of her own.”

Minister Sara Streeter-McCray, with

Beulah Baptist Church, offered a blessing on the space and for the volunteers.

Adams remarked to the volunteers who gathered in the condo unit, “This may seem like a small project, but it’s huge in so many ways.

Lashlee Brennan noted, “We are the Habitat we are because of Barb and her friends.”

Adams brought attention to a specific wall in the condo. This wall will have photos of women – and is called “A Wall of Amazing of Women.” A donor can have the photo of a woman who is important to them placed on the wall after offering a donation.

Adams said this will be a project with a “culture of safety” and the primary goal is to keep everyone safe.

John DeAngelis, with Hudson Valley Credit Union (HVCU), said, the credit union is “so happy and proud to sponsor this [project].” The HVCU and Patrick and Barbara Adams Fund of the Community Foundations of the Hudson Valley are the Equity Partner Sponsors for this project.

O'Neil presents 2023 State of the County Address

Dutchess County Executive William F.X. O'Neil presented his 2023 State of the County Address on Wednesday evening, March 8, at the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park, providing the hundreds in attendance highlights of the County Government leaders, finances and projects currently underway that collectively help to make Dutchess exceptional.

O'Neil, who will retire at the end of 2023, took the opportunity in his first and only State of the County Address, to spotlight and thank the many County leaders who contribute to Dutchess County's exceptional status, including his senior cabinet team, Executive branch department heads, as well as the County's independently elected officials.

"Dutchess County has exceptional leadership, and it sets us apart from the rest of the state," said O'Neil. "Although I will not be the County Executive in 2024, I am hopeful that my successor will recognize these leaders responsible for making our community the exceptional place it is and will continue to work with this strong team to expand on the success we've had."

O'Neil declared Dutchess County's financial outlook as strong, vibrant and exceptional, evident in its past nine years of continued tax relief, including the elimination of sales tax on clothing and footwear purchases under $110, as well as Dutchess' most recent AA+ bond rating from Standard and Poor's, released last week.

"To be exceptional, you need measurements, results and outcomes, and the best measurement for a government agency lies in its fiscal stewardship," the County Executive said. "Dutchess County finances are strong because of a steadfast management team guiding our policies, strategies, cash flow, and budget. They make tough decisions, maximizing State and Federal revenues while minimizing the amount needed from local taxpayers. Their work has clearly paid off."

O'Neil also updated the residents, business and nonprofit leaders, local and state officials in attendance on several ongoing projects for 2023:

Justice and Transition Center (JTC) - Replacing the current Dutchess County Jail, the JTC is scheduled to be functionally complete and ready to be occupied this summer - on time and significantly under budget - following officer training in the new facility and signoff by the New York State Commission on Correction.

With its modern design, the JTC enables the County to better address the needs of both those who are incarcerated and those who work in the facility. Operations will be more efficient and cost-effective in this new building through modernized operations and improved personnel utilization, with the ability to save taxpayers millions each year. The new space will allow for the expansion of the evidence-based, rehabilitation programming that make Dutchess County a leader in New York State - including Medication Assisted Treatment for those struggling with opioid use disorders and

RESTART, the Re-Entry Stabilization, Transition and Reintegration Track, which has proven to drive down recidivism for participants.

Emergency Housing Facility - The County continues to address the challenges of housing availability and affordability, working to expanding options across the housing spectrum with tools such as the Housing Trust Fund.

Confronting the national challenge of homelessness, Dutchess County purchased 26 Oakley Street in the City of Poughkeepsie last year, with the intent of using the space to implement an evidence-based model for operating its Emergency Housing Facility, offering emergency housing for those experiencing homelessness and extensive wrap-around services all in one facility.

Several ongoing challenges, including ongoing opposition to the location, costs to meet zoning codes and City Council community benefit payment requests, have curtailed those plans. The County continues to weigh its options for the Oakley Street property, including the possibility of locating a central arraignment court at the site. The County is also in discussions with the Poughkeepsie City School District, which previously sought to purchase the property and remains interested in acquiring it.

The County will reopen its search of a permanent location for the Emergency Housing Facility and in the meantime, will continue to use the current location in the PODS on North Hamilton Street on a temporary basis. The County will, however, be able to implement the programming and services to stay on target for implementing its new model in 2023 by utilizing space in the current jail facility as it is decommissioned and vacated in July. The former jail space will also be evaluated to potentially replace the PODS as better temporary housing to utilize as the County continues its search for the permanent Emergency Housing Facility location.

Empowerment Center - Dutchess County continues to take a proactive and collaborative approach to combating the opioid epidemic and the complex challenges associated with behavioral health, including prevention, treatment, crisis intervention, acute care and recovery. The County continues to lead with new, pioneering offerings, carefully utilizing funding received through ongoing opioid lawsuit settlements.

The County's Empowerment Center has found its new home at its whole health campus at 230 North Road in Poughkeepsie, offering a drop-in style service that is peer support-centered. This follows the launch, earlier this year, of the County's Law Enforcement Assisted Diversion (LEAD) program, a partnership with the City of Poughkeepsie Police Department which reaches those facing substance use disorder where they are. In its first month of operation, the program has already helped several clients begin their treatment journey.

County Parks - Acknowledging how Dutchess County's award-winning parks system enhances the quality of life for residents and visitors, County Executive O'Neil announced exciting improvements to several County parks in 2023, including the addition of pickleball courts at Quiet Cove Riverside Park, the first such court at any County park; the opening this spring of the first phase of the Northside Line, an urban trail connecting the Town and City of Poughkeepsie; improvements to Dutchess Stadium, home of the Hudson Valley Renegades, have begun to be made by the team's ownership, Diamond Baseball Holdings; and construction on the Lake Walton Preserve will begin this year, following years of discussion and planning.

Youth Opportunity Union (The YOU) - Following Dutchess County's purchase of the former YMCA building in the City of Dutchess County Executive William F.X. O'Neil discussed a variety of issues and plans during his State of the County Address on March 8 at Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park.

Poughkeepsie, and the subsequent demolition of the dilapidated structure, the County is on the verge of the next step in bringing its transformative countywide youth center, the Youth Opportunity Union (The YOU), to reality.

The County's chosen architect, world-renowned MASS Design, has extensively analyzed, scrutinized, and value-engineered a design that is attainable, buildable and phase-able. In the near future, County Executive O'Neil will unveil more details.

O'Neil closed his presentation addressing concerns about the impending impacts of New York State's Climate Leadership and Community Protection Act (CLCPA) and its lack of realistic implementation plans.

Dutchess County has long supported environmental protection efforts, taking steps to increase use of renewable energy sources, both in County government facilities and the community at large, and earning bronze-level certification in the New York State-Certified Climate Smart Community program. The County is currently progressing toward achieving silver certification, establishing benchmarks through a realistic and achievable action plan.

The County Executive outlined concerns about the availability, affordability and reliability of energy if the CLCPA proceeds as outlined. CLCPA calls for new, renewable energy sources with aggressive and unrealistic timelines - for example, 6 percent of the State's current electric supply comes from solar and wind sources, but the CLCPA decrees that must increase to 70 percent over the next 17 years - while dismantling the current infrastructure that supplies energy to New York homes and businesses.

O'Neil also discussed how the State seeks to exponentially increase demand on the electric grid - with home heating, appliances and vehicles and more all to be required to convert from natural gas and other fossil fuels in the next few years - without having tested, reliable infrastructure in place, which will likely lead to rising costs and rolling brownouts.

"The CLCPA will cause our energy costs to skyrocket, our energy availability to be greatly reduced, and our way of life will be so totally disrupted that the mass exodus of businesses and individuals will devastate New York beyond repair," said County Executive O'Neil, who implored residents and business owners to contact their state representatives to curb the CLCPA as the Dutchess.

Libraries continue to evolve in an ever-changing world

East Fishkill Community Library 'always adding new programs'

Gloria Goverman is the director of the East Fishkill Library District on Route 376 in East Fishkill.

Asked if libraries are still relevant today, Goverman replied, "Yes, yes, and yes! Our checkouts are increasing and are higher than they've been in at least six years; higher than pre-COVID!"

"People are coming for traditional reasons - taking out books, asking reference questions, looking for Tech Help with reading devices and downloadable apps. Patrons are using more digital content than ever. And many people are using us as the Third Space. We're not home, and we're not work. We're a place that people come to learn, to socialize, or to have private time," Goverman noted. "We've increased the table space and added mobile charging stations to allow people to use the library the way that they need to; for collaborative study, quiet reading, day-long intensive concentration. We are customizable to their needs." The East Fishkill Community Library also has the Library of Things, said Goverman, which is "so people can check out non-traditional items (sewing machines, SAD lights, mobile hot spots) and free museum passes to area museums and parks."

How was EFCL affected during the COVID pandemic? "Some of the changes that we made during COVID are actually quite sustainable; along with the rest of the world we learned about virtual meetings and programs and some of our programs are remaining virtual. It's a great way to accommodate all kinds of meeting styles. Our curbside service is now permanent so that books can be delivered straight to your car," Goverman stated.

Goverman said new programs are being offered at the EFCL. "We recently added EFCL Art Club which is an easy-going group that meets to draw together. No criticism, no stress. We've added a second Reading Dog so in addition to Sayde we also have Anita. Both dogs are trained and certified and are beautifully behaved. All they want to do is be read to."

Another program now offered, said Goverman, "Aging with Grace, a monthly support group to help older folks navigate the new territory of aging. Aging with Grace is led by Carole Penner who facilitates the conversations. Stay tuned for a three-part program on vegetable gardening with the Master Gardener Volunteer program of Cornell Cooperative Extension!"

The EFCL director added: "We have programs for all ages from toddler reading and crafts to book groups for adults to stretch class for seniors. Younger siblings are welcome at the reading and crafts programs. Build It! and Meet and Play are open to all ages so the entire family can participate."

Other programs, remarked Goverman, "are knitting, crocheting, drawing, book discussions, concerts, playtime, study time - it's all here." There is also have an active Friends of the Library group who is handling book donations and book sales.

Visit EFCL's webpage at www.eflibrary.org. One may look at its calendars and sign up for monthly emails. Check EFCL's Facebook and Instagram accounts.

Blodgett Library offers 'variety of programs'

Julie Spann is the director for Blodgett Memorial Library on Broad St. in the Village of Fishkill.

"During COVID, libraries were deemed essential, and we have remained that way," said Spann.

"Blodgett is offering such a variety of programming from the usual story time and crafts to self-defense, jewelry making and charcuteries. We have a movie the first Friday of the month and party time the last Friday of the month," said Spann. "We have programs from birth to 102."

So how can residents find out what programs are being offered? Spann answered, "We advertise our programs with fliers that are around town, in the library on our Facebook and website, blodgettmemoriallibrary.org."

Upcoming events, said Spann, are the annual Earth Day celebration of the Sarah Taylor Park clean up set for April 22 at 2:30 p.m. and Narcan training at the Van Wyck Village Hall, Main St., on March 15.

Spann also remarked, "We just recarpeted our original section (of the library) and have made more study spaces and an office center space. We have also added library of things which is items you can take out from telescopes for star gazing, bird watching, hiking, outdoor games like croquet, board games, puzzles and children's activities. We just completed an "Adopt A Cop" program and are looking forward to working with the Town and Village police departments for our Summer Reading theme about communities."

Poughkeepsie Public Library District offers 'a wide range' of programs

Tom Lawrence, the executive director for the Poughkeepsie Public Library District, said libraries, "serve a variety of functions, often described as a community's "third space." This is the third place behind home and work and is a place to explore new ideas and opportunities, to discover the world around you and what it has to offer, and to connect with that which makes you a better person and, hopefully, a productive citizen."

As for what the PPLD can offer to community members this year, Lawrence said, "We have started a Seed Sowing Library and will launch a Tool Lending Library in the Spring. We continue to support the museum pass program with passes to almost 60 museums, attractions, and parks throughout New York and adjacent areas in western New England."

People can find out about these programs through at the Adriaance Memorial Library, on Market St. in Poughkeepsie, through a bi-monthly newsletter that goes to all homes and business in the Library District and is available online at <https://poklib.org/wp-content/uploads/2023/02/March-April-2023-Rotunda.pdf>, according to Lawrence.

"We will host the 3rd Annual Poughkeepsie Book Festival with almost 60 children's and teen authors on Saturday, April 1, at DCC's (Dutchess Community College's) Falcon Hall. More information at <https://poklib.org/bookfestival/>," Lawrence remarked.

As for how COVID affected libraries, Lawrence said, "There has been a marked shift to digital and streaming content as well as a desire for us to sustain some of our virtual programming. One aspect of our programs, though, is to encourage engagement and interaction, which can be difficult in a virtual environment, depending on the program."

There are also the locations of the Boardman Road Branch, 141 Boardman Rd. in Poughkeepsie, and Sadie Peterson Delaney African Roots Branch, 29 North Hamilton Street

Room 224 in Poughkeepsie, in the PPLD. So, what is happening there? Lawrence replied, "They are fully active with the same range of programs and services as you will find at Adriaance Memorial Library, the main library. The SPD branch has had a slower start since its opening in April 2022 mostly due to the construction at the Family Partnership Center. Once that is complete, we will likely offer more hours and more programs."

As for anything else he wanted to say, Lawrence remarked, "My staff rocks!"

E-resources 'ever-increasing' at Grinnell Library

"The ever-increasing popularity of e-resources, wireless hotspots, nature backpacks and museum passes confirm the library is relevant to our community," said Fran Harrison, former director of Grinnell Library on East Main St. in Wappingers Falls. "The exhibits in our glass display case have made art accessible to all. Due to its popularity, exhibits have been booked into 2024."

The library is fine-free to make it accessible to everyone, she noted.

Harrison was the director for Grinnell Library in the village of Wappingers Falls. Kristen Campbell took over the position this month.

As far as programs, Harrison said, "In March, we are offering an Art Buddies Program, which pairs up students from Roy C. Ketcham's National Art Honor Society with elementary aged children. Each week, they will demonstrate and practice a different art technique. We are also offering Dance for Seniors and Nintendo Switch programs. Teens are encouraged to provide input into library programs through the Teen Library Council, which meets monthly."

Harrison noted, "We have programs for all ages including book groups for children, teens and adults. Our young patrons can play chess and our adults can join Brain Games."

One can find out about the programs, said Harrison, "through social media and our monthly newsletter -- and upcoming events are posted on our website and on our bulletin board."

As a result of the COVID pandemic, "We offer many programs outdoors in our pavilion," said Harrison.

Regarding future programs, she said, "There are several drop-in programs scheduled for Spring Break and to celebrate Earth Day. And the Friends of Grinnell Library will be hosting a mahjonn tournament. The successful return of the Gala reminded us that we have a desire to socialize and connect in a meaningful way."

Poughkeepsie man pleads guilty to 2022 killing, criminal possession of weapon in Courtyard Marriott case

Dutchess County Chief Assistant District Attorney Mathew A. Weishaupt announced recently that Devin A. Taylor pleaded guilty on March 8 before County Court Judge Edward T. McLoughlin to murder in the second degree in connection to the murder of Darren J. Villani which occurred in the City of Poughkeepsie on August 9, 2022, according to a statement from the Dutchess County District Attorney's Office. Taylor also pled guilty to one count of criminal possession of a weapon in the second degree for the possession of the handgun which was thrown and recovered at the Courtyard Marriott on October 2, 2022, which was the day Paul Kutz, a 53-year-old father from Long Island, was killed in the lobby of the hotel. Kutz was in the area for Parents Weekend at Marist College, where one of his sons attended school.

According to Chief Assistant District Attorney Weishaupt, Taylor faces 22 years to life for murder in the second degree and an additional seven years concurrent for criminal possession of a weapon in the second degree. McLoughlin set the sentencing for April 19.

The case, according to the statement, is reflective of the intensive and cooperative investigation conducted by multiple law enforcement agencies, including City and Town of Poughkeepsie Police, the Dutchess County Sheriff's Office, the New York State Police, the Safe Streets Task Force, the Dutchess County District Attorney's Office, and the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York. The investigation into the murder of Darren J. Villani is continuing, according to the statement.

Judge McLoughlin continued the remand of the defendant without bail.

The case is being prosecuted by Bureau Chiefs Robert Knapp and Kristine Whelan and Deputy Bureau Chief Allison Stuart and Angela Lopane, the defendant was represented by Mara Timourian.

Central Hudson appoints La Rocca new tech officer

Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation today announced the appointment of Frank La Rocca as the utility's new Chief Technology Officer. La Rocca will oversee Central Hudson's information technology transformation including hardware, software, cybersecurity and digital strategy. He started in his new role on March 1.

"I'm excited to welcome Frank to Central Hudson and to have him lead our Information Technology Team during this important time," said Christopher M. Capone, President and CEO of Central Hudson. "Frank is a valued thought leader in the IT world with extensive experience in system design and implementation. This, coupled with more than three decades of experience in the utility industry, make him uniquely qualified to oversee and manage the team that resolve any remaining billing system issues and help us restore trust within our communities."

La Rocca previously served as Vice President and Chief Information Officer for KeySpan Energy Corporation (now part of National Grid). Most recently, he served as the Director of Shared Services and Outsourced Run for Consolidated Edison.

"The utility industry is in the midst of a major transition and I'm proud to join Central Hudson during this time," La Rocca said. "I look forward to working with an extremely talented team to identify and create pathways to better serve our customers."

La Rocca holds a bachelor's degree in Computer Science from St. John's University.

Elections set for March 21 in Wappingers Falls

Huber said about seeking grants, "Currently our staff is heavily involved in seeking grants. With the implementation of the Downtown Revitalization Committee we will focus on the deficits our area has. Once a plan is put together of needs and wants, the committee with the support of the board will enter round 12 of New York State initiative for millions in funding. Currently the needs that the committee has started putting together consists of: parking, lighting, better drainage, more signage and improved utilities. This is a good start, and it shows our commitment to the community as a whole."

Joseph "Joe" Nicholas is running for the board of trustees for Ward 1. He has the backing of the Democratic Committee and Republican Committee.

"My reason for running actually is two reasons combined - nobody else wanted to rerun or even run for this position so I was asked, and, if I'm going to complain about something, I at least owe the effort of trying to help resolve the issue. So once a legitimate need arose for me to try, I almost feel like it's something that I need to do," said Nicholas.

He remarked, "From both caucus meetings, the finances of the Village seem to be the biggest issue for several reasons. Regardless of the exact situation, it sounds like it would be beneficial to quickly establish some type of gameplan for properly handling this flow of revenue. Also, I hear that the 'green space' requirement is to be reviewed early on. Apparently, this became an issue when COVID forced people to spend a significant amount of time at home."

Asked about seeking grants for parking and assisting with buildings that are derelict, Nicholas replied, "I'm not educated enough to comment on asking for grants. However, I do recognize that an opportunity exists for improving the business landscape of the village to make it more attractive, not only for businesses but for visitors too. For this, I'm open to any options/suggestions available."

For Ward 2, Michael Ruffen will be on the ballot. He is backed by the Republican Committee and has no opposition.

Running for Ward 3 is John Tyliczszak. Tyliczszak has nominations from the Democratic and Republican committees.

Current judge for the Village of Wappingers Falls Raymond C. Chase Jr. is seeking re-election. He was nominated by both the Democratic and Republican committees.

Democratic, Republican legislators at odds over emergency housing site in Poughkeepsie

The Democratic and Republican caucuses of the Dutchess County Legislature are at odds over the emergency housing facility plan involving the purchase of 26 Oakley Street in the City of Poughkeepsie.

Members of the Democratic Caucus say they have learned that County Administration is failing to implement the emergency housing facility plan and were informed of the County's failure during their March 2 Leadership meeting with County Executive Bill O'Neill. 26 Oakley Street is located in the 5th Ward of the City of Poughkeepsie.

Minority Leader Yvette Valdés Smith (D-Beacon/Fishkill) said, "We are absolutely stunned by the waste of taxpayer dollars and the County's total lack of planning and transparency. This is a prime example of how the County Executive's office runs everything behind closed doors."

She added, "We repeatedly shared our concerns on this project from the moment our Republican colleagues announced the planned purchase, but our questions were ignored. The previous County Executive (Marcus Molinaro) used this as a campaign ploy to help himself get to Congress and never thought this through. The homeless crisis in Dutchess County continues to grow and we have lost a year that could have been spent addressing it. Dutchess County residents and taxpayers deserve better than this."

Dutchess County Legislature Chairman Gregg Pulver (R-North East, Stanford, Pine Plains, and Milan) said "Last year, when the administration approached the Legislature with the 26 Oakley Street proposal, we recognized an impending need to find an equitable and safe location to properly house our homeless population, especially since the PODS have an impending expiration date. While it is unfortunate that this property has presented unforeseen challenges, when originally proposed, it was the only choice when compared to other facilities and properties that were also offered by both my Democratic and Republican colleagues. The Republican Majority remains committed to ensuring that a facility that can house the services and resources are found that will best suit this population and offer the first step to housing security."

Assistant Minority Leader Barrington Atkins (D-City of Poughkeepsie) said "To our knowledge the 'PODS' which house our homeless population right now are still scheduled to close on September 23. This means we are facing a crisis for our homeless population of grave proportions. My colleagues and I have been working on alternate strategies to protect the vulnerable homeless population and will be engaging with local communities as we continue work to solve imminent disaster."

Notes from the Town of Wappinger Supervisor

In celebration of Women's History Month

Every March we celebrate the many contributions of women. Since the US Congress' designation of March 1987 as "Women's History Month" elected officials have proclaimed March as a special month to recognize the vast achievements of women. As Wappinger Supervisor, I do hereby proclaim, through this column, March 2023 as Women's History Month in the Town of Wappinger.

While it is very important for us to recognize in March the contributions and sacrifices of women to make our society more safe, equitable, and un-biased, we must continue to strive for much more throughout this year and every year.

My childhood blessed me with relationships with several great women, most especially my great aunt, Mabel Nelson Thurston (my grandfather's sister). Not only did Aunt Mabel leave an important legacy as a path-breaking woman in U.S. and Washington DC society, but she made an indelible impression on me of the importance of promoting and protecting the rights of not just women but of all disadvantaged people, regardless of race, creed, or religious belief.

Among her many notable accomplishments during her 95 years, my great aunt was the first woman permitted to enroll in George Washington University as an undergraduate in 1888. While GW did not allow her to attend classes, she worked individually with her professors to graduate. She would tell me stories of how women were not allowed to study, nor to vote and especially not allowed to speak their opinions publicly. All she wanted to do was to be able help other women to learn more and to be more than just a house-bound person. Her successful example encouraged George Washington trustees to admit more female students in 1889. Today GW's residential Thurston Hall is a living testament to her courage. Aunt Mabel went on to obtain a master's degree in Greek Literature. Among her many other achievements, she was the first woman to serve as an associate editor for a national print publication - "Youth's Companion."

I remember Aunt Mabel telling me about the beginnings of "Women's Day" in February 1909 when a group of Manhattan socialists and suffragists rallied to advocate for women's rights. The plight of women became more pronounced later that year with the New York garment strike led by the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union. Aunt Mabel had wanted to attend the strike but health reasons prevented her travel.

Life has blessed me with many encounters and friendships with great women. My friendship with "Miss Elouise" Maxey stands out first and foremost locally. A life-long advocate of human/equal rights, she had participated in the March on Washington in 1963 and walked with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Selma/Montgomery in 1965. Encountering racial attacks during the marches and throughout her career, she suffered much pain for others. An advocate of peaceful change, she was never afraid to stand up for social justice and improvement in the quality of life throughout Dutchess County and elsewhere. Miss Elouise, who joined the angels in 2021, will forever remain an example for women to emulate.

In 2016, Assemblymember Didi Barrett compiled a wonderful tribute to 10 amazing women for their contributions in Columbia and Dutchess Counties. I highly recommend that you learn more about 10 noteworthy women in our local history: Edna St. Vincent Millay, Maria Salmon Mitchell, Lorraine Roberts, Klara Sauer, May friend Bennett, Catherine Rombout Brett, Antoinette Doolittle, Anandabai Joshee, Margaret Livingston, and Ceclia Magill. The title of the publication is "Women's History in the Hudson Valley: Ten stories from Columbia and Dutchess Counties."

Every March, a number of events recognize how the efforts and bravery of past generations continue to pave the way for females today, including:

- International Women's Day on March 8th.
  - On March 13, 1913, the Women's Suffrage Parade in Washington, D.C., took place, where more than 8,000 women gathered to demand a constitutional amendment guaranteeing their right to vote. Aunt Mabel was there.
  - On March 22, 1972, the Senate passed the Equal Rights Amendment.
- Thanks to all women for "your bravery, dedication, and triumph" (Didi Barrett).
Until soon, please stay safe and remain well.

Dance at Elks lodge set March 18

Get On Down at the Elks Lounge Dance Night on March 18 at 7 p.m., at 900 Wolcott Avenue (Rt. 9D), Beacon. Dance to a vibrant mix of musical styles and song requests welcome. Attire is whatever suits one's mood - from blue

Dutchess County to participate in Statewide STOP-DWI St. Patrick's Day Weekend crackdown

Law-enforcement agencies throughout Dutchess County will participate in a special enforcement effort to crack down on impaired driving during St. Patrick's Day weekend, beginning Thursday, March 16, and concluding Sunday, March 19. Various municipal law enforcement agencies will join agencies across the state in this coordinated effort to target those who put lives in danger.

Research shows high-visibility community engagement campaigns can reduce impaired driving fatalities by as much as 20 percent. Sobriety checkpoints play a key part in raising awareness about the problem. The St. Patrick's Day crackdown is one of many statewide high visibility community engagement campaigns promoted by the New York State STOP-While STOP-DWI efforts across New York have led to significant reductions in the numbers of alcohol and drug related fatalities, still too many lives are being lost because of crashes caused by drunk or impaired drivers. Highly visible, highly publicized efforts like the STOP-DWI High Visibility Community Engagement Campaign aim to further reduce the incidence of drunk and impaired driving.

Drivers can help to make a difference by having a sober plan! Motorists can download the mobile app, "Have a Plan," and be able to find a safe ride home www.stopdwi.org/mobileapp.

Robert Murray Suggitt

FORMERLY OF FISHKILL - Robert Murray Suggitt, 97, of Wall Township, NJ, died peacefully on March 1, 2023, surrounded by his family at the Jersey Shore University Medical Center in Neptune, NJ. Murray was born in Toronto, Canada, son of George and Mildred Suggitt. He grew up in Toronto and graduated with a Bachelor's degree in physics and chemistry from the University of Toronto in 1947. He emigrated to the United States in 1947. Murray received a Master of Science in Chemistry from the University of Michigan in 1948. In 1952 he completed his PhD in Chemistry, also from the University of Michigan. Murray moved to Fishkill, NY in 1952, when he joined Texaco as a research chemist in the Beacon Research Laboratories. In 1975, he transferred to Texaco's patent operations at Texaco Development Corporation where he managed patent procurement and evaluation. He retired in 1994. During his more than 41 years with Texaco, he was awarded more than 100 United States patents that primarily involved catalysis and chemical processing. Following retirement, Murray joined a small food pantry at the First Reformed Church in Fishkill, NY, where he was an elder and member of the choir. He became Director of the Food Pantry and served in that role for more than 20 years. Over the years the pantry grew and became a community-based operation supported by local churches, civic, business, school, and social groups. Murray was recognized for his community service with The Fishkill Food Pantry by receiving a community service award from the local Rotary Club in 2013 and the Dutchess County Senior Citizen of the Year award in 2015. Always a lifelong learner, upon moving to New Jersey, Murray started programs at his assisted living residence to promote brain health, ran the book club, and served as president of the residents' association. Murray enjoyed spending time with his family, walking outdoors, studying science and geology, and watching Michigan football games. Murray was predeceased by his father, mother, and brother, John W. Suggitt. He is survived by his wife of 63 years, Sheila, son Bryan Suggitt (Denise Ramsey) of San Francisco, daughter Heather Scaturo (Carl) of Sea Girt, NJ, and daughter Lori Byrne (Kevin) of New Canaan, CT, as well as his four grandchildren Colin, Nicholas, Katharine, and Chloe. There will be celebrations of Murray's fully lived life in Fishkill, NY, and Toronto at later dates. In lieu of flowers, donations in Murray's name may be made to: The Fishkill Food Pantry at 1153 Main St., Fishkill, NY 12524. ## Rose E. Bambace

WAPPINGERS FALLS - Rose E. Bambace of Wappingers Falls entered into rest Tuesday, March 7, 2023 at MidHudson Regional Hospital in Poughkeepsie. She was 77.

Daughter of the late Anthony and Beatrice (Gartner) Maiuzzo, she was born on February 15, 1946. She married Carman P. Bambace on July 26, 1980; Mr. Bambace survives at home.

Rose worked as a medical secretary for various New York hospitals until her retirement. In her spare time, she was an artist. She was an avid painter, active in painting groups in Cornwall and Beacon. She also enjoyed playing the piano. Rose was a parishioner of St. Mary Mother of the Church in Fishkill.

In addition to her husband, Carman "Kim" Bambace, she is survived by her sons, Michael Molina and his wife, Angela of Wappingers Falls, and Gary Molina of Ossining; daughters, Jill Bambace of San Juan Baptista, CA, Mia Peterson of Pebble Beach, CA and Dana Duarte of Carmel, CA; and grandchildren, Michael John Molina, Matthew James Molina, Taylor, Isabel, Jake, Ryder and Colette.

Family received their friends on Sunday, March 12, 2023, at Straub, Catalano & Halvey Funeral Home, 55 E. Main Street in Wappingers Falls. A funeral service was offered during visitation at the funeral home.

To send the family a personal condolence, please visit our website at www.StraubCatalanoHalvey.com.

Carol Burke

WAPPINGERS FALLS - Carol Burke, while at home under Hospice care, after a prolonged illness stepped into eternity with her Lord, on Monday, March 6, 2023. A native of Mount Vernon, NY and a resident of her beautiful Dutchess County for over fifty years, she was the daughter of the late Rocco and Nanette (Manganiello) Itri. She was a graduate of both Mercy College in Dobbs Ferry and Lehman College in the Bronx, earning a bachelor's and master's degree respectively in speech and communication. Prior to becoming a full-time Mom, she was a speech therapist for various schools and clinics in the region. It was a calling and skill she cherished all her life. On September 5, 1971 in the chapel of Mercy College, she married George Burke who survives at home. Also surviving are her son, Jonathan Burke of Hillsborough, NJ; her sisters, Elizabeth (John) Nista and Lorraine (Jerry) Krawczyk; her nephew, Joseph (Annie) Nista; her nieces, Ann Marie (Ed) Wiederkehr, Laura Krawczyk and Amy (Paul) Batemarco; her great nieces, Danielle and Michelle Nista, Courtney Krawczyk and Brooke Batemarco; her great nephew, James Batemarco; her sister-in-law, Rosemary Burke and a large extended family. A woman of profound and active Christian faith, she was for decades a member of the Cursillo, Tres Dias and various prayer communities of the Hudson Valley. It was her faith that shaped her entire life and was the source of so many lasting friendships. At her request, there were no calling hours as such. However, on Saturday, March 11 in the vestibule of St. Mary, Mother of the Church in Fishkill, her family welcomed friends as they entered to celebrate the Mass of Christian Burial which was held. Entombment followed at Fishkill Rural Cemetery. Her family wishes to thank the dedicated staff of Hudson Valley Hospice who for so many months saw to her every need, especially: India, Mary, Sophie, Colleen, Dr. Das, Ed and Mollee! They will forever be remembered for their true compassion! In lieu of flowers, any memorial expressions may be made to either Hudson Valley Hospice, St. Mary's Parish in Fishkill, Town of Newburgh Animal Shelter or any cause of your choosing. To send a personal condolence please visit www.riverviewbyhalvey.com. Funeral arrangements are under the care of Patrick J. Halvey of Riverview Funeral Home by Halvey, LLC.

Shoe donation drive set for March 18

By Kristine Coulter

Have shoes, in good condition, that you would like to donate? Well, one has the chance to now. One can go to a shoe drop off event on March 18 from 10 a.m. – noon at Fishkill Elementary School, 20 Church St., in the Village of Fishkill.

"I have been getting emails and mailings for several years from the company Funds2Orgs regarding a shoe drive. We thought about doing it in 2020, but then COVID hit, and we had to hold off. We thought this year would be a great year to try it! We love the idea that it is no cost, easy to ask family and friends to help out and recycling shoes that still have life," explained Jennifer Brown, who is part of the PTA organizing the fundraiser.

The goal is to collect 2,500 pairs of shoes, said Brown.

"The company Funds2Orgs purchases the shoes from us, paying us per pound of shoes," explained Brown. "The funds will be used for our operating budget for the 2022-2023 school year - mostly for many programs and field trips we have coming up this spring."

Brown noted, "We hope this can be an easy way for members of the community to drop off their shoes."

What would organizers like to say to community members who participate?

"We appreciate the community joining with us to raise funds for the Fishkill Elementary School PTA to help us reach our goal," replied Brown.

Hyde Park resident writes children's book with illustrations drawn by her mother

Book signing March 18 in Poughkeepsie

By Kristine Coulter

Hyde Park resident Christina Macchiarola is a graduate from the Culinary Institute of America (CIA) in northern Dutchess County. Christina is also an author – with her new book titled “Dougventures: Realizing What You Have Is So Important.” The artwork for the book was done by Theresa Yatsko, Christina’s mother and a Wappingers Falls resident.

A book signing will take place at Barnes and Noble (2518 South Rd. (Route 9)) in Poughkeepsie on March 18 from 2-4 p.m.

“The idea for the book came about when I was working a few years ago at the Culinary. I had some down time and I felt like God just placed the urge for the words to just flow out of me, and I couldn’t stop writing. It just came out so easily and then just like that, the book was written, and I felt so happy after it was done, like I knew it was meant to be,” Christina said via email.

She noted: “Cooking and baking are sort of similar to writing, you can create something beautiful out of simple ingredients and with writing from a pen and scrap paper! They both require patience, practice and fun!”

Christina said that Doug is an Italian greyhound and rat terrier mix, whom she and her husband adopted five years ago from the Hudson Valley Animal Rescue & Sanctuary (HVARs) in Poughkeepsie. Christina said adopting Doug was “the best decision” she and her husband made together.

“I am very excited to be a children’s book author and I can’t wait to see what the future brings for my mom and me! My parents, family, husband and friends have been so supportive! As my father-in-law used to say, ‘it’s a beautiful thing,’” Christina stated.

Christina said she “loved that I was blessed to work with my mom. The fact that she has always been an artist made it easy for me to choose her for the project. It was so fun to be able to see the progress of the pages as she sketched them and brought them to life! We made a great team. I loved every minute of seeing the book come together through our relationship.”

Regarding the artwork, Theresa said, “I never illustrated a book before. My daughter’s words helped with my inspiration to create the illustrations for the book.” She remarked “in the time that I was illustrating the book, I would get feedback from Christina, and it was a fun project to work together.”

What are Theresa’s thoughts on the book signing coming up on Saturday? “The book signing shows accomplishment. I am very proud of my daughter and look forward to her future endeavors. I feel extremely blessed and grateful to be a part of it.”

Christina is very excited about the book signing. “It’s a dream come true, and I am so happy to have my mom by my side! It feels surreal to be doing a book signing at Barnes and Noble. When you follow your heart and aren’t afraid to listen to God’s will, anything is possible,” she remarked.

Theresa said she takes no credit for the illustrations. “[A]ll credit I give to my God who bestowed upon me the gift of art. I pray that the book “Dougventures” brings joy to both children and adults, because in the end (as the book states) ‘Realizing what you have is so important.’”

Christina added: “Who knew Doug

The book, “Dougventures: Realizing What You Have Is So Important,” was written by Hyde Park resident Christina Macchiarola. The illustrations were done by Theresa Yatsko, Macchiarola’s mother who is a Wappingers Falls resident.

would inspire me so much as my muse to write the book! Everything happens for a reason!”

The book “Dougventures” can be purchased through Covenant Books, Amazon or Barnes and Noble.

Event to open Common Ground Farm fields set for March 19

Common Ground Farm invites visitors to join them for a contemplative walk through the early spring fields on March 19th at 5 p.m. The walk will be guided by Farm Manager Katie Speicher, Education Manager Renae Essinger, and Common Ground Executive Director Sember Weinman, with reflection and commentary shared by food access partners and community leaders, including: Ilana Friedman of Beacon Hebrew Alliance, Father Alexander Herasimtschuk of Zion Episcopal Church, Vincent Mann of Three Sisters Medicinal Farm and Ramapough Lunaape Nation, representatives of Beacon Climate Action Now, representatives of Newburgh Urban Farm and Food Initiative, Jen Clapp and Laurel Girvan of Mutual Aid Beacon, birth doula Hilary Lopes, spiritual healer Shannon Brandt, author and educator Jeff Golden, the Beacon Sloop Club, the Beacon Rising Choir and Gina Samardge, founder of Compass Arts.

Common Ground fosters engagement and connection among the full diversity of our community. The Opening of the Fields walk is an opportunity to appreciate the potential abundance of the fields as well as to reflect upon the changes and uncertainty inherent in nature and our current times. Common Ground is a community farm dedicated to fresh food access, donating produce to 14 different local food pantries and soup kitchens each week during the growing season. This event is an opportunity for the farm’s valued community partners to visit the place where the produce is grown, and to see the fields that will feed their communities from May until November. Many soup kitchens and food pantries are organized by religious organizations, and the leaders of these spaces have been invited to share blessings and teachings about nature, food, and land from their traditions. There will also be non-denominational songs, wishes, and inspiration shared by community partners.

Common Ground Farm supports and engages the community by fostering access and connection to fresh food and local agriculture through farming, education, and farmers’ markets. For more information, visit the website www.commongroundfarm.org or contact Executive Director, Sember Weinman at seember@commongroundfarm.org.

Visitors can park by the red barn and meet the group by the fire circle. Hot tea and snacks will be provided, and guests are welcome to stay and socialize by the fire pit afterwards if the weather is fine. We expect the fields to be muddy. Please wear appropriate footwear. The event is free and open to all. Common Ground Farm welcomes everyone to visit the farm and help celebrate the start of the growing season!

My mother's kitchen

Continuing to make special memories with a very special lady

My mother's kitchen has always been the heart of the home in which I grew up. Recently spending more time there than I have in many years has reminded me that it still very much is. She still makes dinner almost every night and there are always cakes, cookies or pies on hand, usually on a cake stand on the kitchen table, an open invitation for those of us who visit to help ourselves.

Then there are the many holidays that begin and end in that same kitchen, much as they have for decades, a tradition she inherited from her mother as I will from mine. And while the holidays emanate a special warmth, it's the everyday kind that just might mean more.

My memories of growing up are a trove of just such moments, little snippets I often recall out of nowhere, though no doubt triggered by something, that always make me smile. The sights, sounds and smells from mama's kitchen, whenever I recall them, take me right back there. And it's lovely.

For example I can recall her making cookies and her famous zucchini bread – always a coveted teacher gift – and it's like I'm watching a movie or standing right there again. It's so vivid: the sound the mixer made when the beaters hit the sides of the bowl, in equal measure, soothing and exciting (you knew you were going to get to lick one or both!), the sound of her sifting flour into the old measuring cup from the Hoosier, the slight dusting it left on the table when she set it down. One of my favorites has me picturing her, clear as a bell, ironing in the kitchen while the pie baked, the hiss of the steam accompanying the Eddie Arnold LP she was listening to, her singing along softly, the warm and wonderful smell of cinnamon. I love that snapshot of her that only exists in my head.

I've admitted before that I was a horrible eater when I was kid. I just didn't like anything. My mother was patient and I still apologize to her for what I must have put her through. Even so, maybe it's no coincidence that food would become such a big part of my life. I think all those years brought me around, opened me up to things. I couldn't tell you when it happened, only that I'm grateful it did. I might know how, though, because what's funny is that in remembering these precious moments, it isn't the taste of the food that jumps to my mind but rather the preparing of it, the rituals and routines. In fact, although I certainly remember what so much of what she made tasted like, I know now that I was observing my mother being her unique, lovely and quietly wonderful self, going about the things she needed to do to care for her family. I think by watching her I came to understand not just the importance of preparing food, but the work and love that go into it. I think that nourished me more than the food did.

And so fast forward to today. I'm thoroughly enjoying not only eating what my mother serves up but also cooking with her and for her and my father. Some of the passion I had for meal prep has waned over the last few years, in part because I'm too often dining by myself, but cooking for them again is bringing that back. It's been fun cooking for three, planning what to make, getting creative with leftovers. I find I'm not really rusty at all. But I think I like it best when mama and I are cooking together, two women working seamlessly and totally in sync. There's great comfort in that, great reward. A sort of rightness about it that's not like anything else in my life. What makes it really special is that, apart from just spending the time together, we work well together in the kitchen. She's the only one I can say that about; and that, as it turns out, is a beautiful thing.

So, as I continue to enjoy my stay at the 'country resort' that is my family home, you can bet I'll be swimming in good memories, good food and good company. I will continue to look at my mother with awe for all she still does and all that she is. I will keep smiling every time I see her and my father interact in their sweet and special ways. I will also continue to be ever more grateful for her love and warmth and for the fact that she is, perhaps now more than ever, the wind beneath my wings, in the kitchen and beyond. Yes, it's good to be back in my mother's kitchen.

Farmers go to Albany

The goal: To help state legislators understand how policy decisions affect New York's agriculture sector

March is officially "Maple Syrup Month" in New York State. And I was in the room where it happened! Sue and I, along with Amanda Dykeman from Dykeman Farm in Pawling, traveled to Albany last week on our annual Farm Bureau lobbying trip. We have to keep reminding legislators that farms exist in New York State, and that they're disappearing fast. This time around, we were discussing some issues that are critical to the survival of the 33,500 remaining family farms:

- Let the Department of Environmental Conservation do its job regulating pesticides instead of relying on legislation from possibly ill-informed lawmakers. The "Birds and Bees Protection Act," banning neo-nicotinoid pesticides, was introduced by N.Y. Senator Hoylman. He's a Manhattan lawyer who evidently does not realize that these chemicals are safe when used according to the label directions. "Neo-nics" were originally developed as an alternative to the much deadlier (especially to the applicator) organo-phosphate insecticides. I had to explain this to a number of legislators, including Assemblyman Steven Raga from Queens, who asked us, "How can I be opposed to protecting birds and bees?" Clever name for a piece of legislation that doesn't really protect birds, bees or farmers.
- Minimum wage and overtime rules are clobbering New York farms. The minimum wage in Pennsylvania is $7.25 per hour, with no rules mandating an increase for overtime. I'm not driving to Scranton to buy a hamburger, but more and more farm products are coming from Pennsylvania, Ohio ($10.10) and North Carolina (also $7.25). Jessica Ramos, who chairs the N.Y. Senate labor committee, is trying to raise the state minimum wage to $21.25 by 2027. Not that workers don't deserve it, if any businesses are left in New York to hire them.

- The Extended Producer Responsibility Act (Senate Bill 104) would shift the cost of recycling from municipalities to the businesses that create the recyclable packaging. Municipalities that used to make money by recycling are now bleeding cash, so why not make manufacturers pay for it? On a positive note, this scheme would incentivise the producers to make their products more recyclable, for example by standardizing the types of plastic they use. But for farmers, dairy farmers and wineries in particular, these extra costs will add to their already marginal bottom line. As a local producer of garden plants, my business generates hundreds of thousands of plastic pots every year. My solution is to encourage customers to return their pots for re-use.
- Contrary to popular belief, farmers are not opposed to everything that comes out of Albany. A bill (S2852) introduced by Orange County's Senator James Skoufis would allow direct-to-consumer shipment of hard cider and spirits (vodka, whiskey). This would give a huge boost to farm distilleries and local apple farmers. (Vineyards are already allowed to ship wine).

- In the state capitol, we watched Putnam County Assemblyman Matt Slater introduce a bill declaring the month of March "New York Maple Syrup Month." It passed. I asked Matt if he could declare the woodchuck to be "New York's official garden pest."

GIVE BLOOD GIVE LIFE

Who needs blood?

Under normal circumstances, every two seconds someone in America will need a blood transfusion. Blood transfusions are used for trauma victims - due to accidents and burns - heart surgery, organ transplants, women with complications during childbirth, newborns and premature babies, and patients receiving treatment for leukemia, cancer or other diseases, such as sickle cell disease and thalassemia.

Reading series March 18

The Two Of Us Productions, the award-winning theater company based in Columbia County, will present the third installment of its Virtual Live-Staged Reading Series, featuring two exciting radio dramas from Suspense Theater, "Summer Night" and "The Black Door." This performance is being presented on Saturday, March 18, at 7 p.m., in collaboration with Roving Actors' Repertory Ensemble (RARE) Inc.

In Suspense Theater's "Summer Night," we meet Anna and Helen, two friends in a small town. Helen married Charles and her life gradually no longer included Anna. The town was recently the scene of a grisly murder of Lavinia, a popular friend of Anna and Helen's. Anna unexpectedly calls Helen, asking her to come over to her big empty house because she's nervous about the murder, but they find out that they both need protection from the murderer.

In "The Black Door," also from Suspense Theater, we meet Harold Landry, an aspiring history and archaeology professor with a passion for exploring and discovery. He's in the midst of an archaeological treasure hunt in a very rural section of Mexico. Harold finds something more than he bargained for when he teams up with Rosalia, daughter of an adventurous Mexican grandfather who has a secret.

To learn the rest of these thrilling stories you'll have to RSVP to www.TheTwoOfUsProductions.org and then see these dramas in the comfort of your own home. Get your access code by visiting www.TheTwoOfUsProductions.org. This performance is free to the public; donations are gratefully accepted.

New program offered at EF library

A new program at the East Fishkill Community Library will be held on March 19. This program meets quarterly on Sunday afternoons from 2 – 3 p.m. in the Alley Room.

This is an adult group meant for guitar hobbyists to meet up and share their music and guitar geekiness together. While we may learn from each other, this will be more of a jam club than a group lesson.

Content will be group directed. Activities will include song circle, music swap, guitar care tips and general guitar geek chat. Local resident Carol Morin will lead this group; drop-in and all levels of experience welcome; no guitar needed to attend (but bring one if you have one!) Visit us at eflibrary.org or call us at 845-221-9943 for more information

SUDOKU

Sudoku requires no arithmetic skills.

The object of the game is to fill all the blank squares with the correct numbers.

Each row of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order.

Each column of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order.

Each 3 by 3 subsection of the 9 by 9 square must include all digits 1 through 9.

The heavy lines indicate areas, called cages, from one to five squares in size. Fill each cage with unique digits, counting up from 1. So for example a 2-square cage contains the numbers 1 and 2; and a 5-square cage contains the numbers from 1 to 5. Adjacent (touching) squares, even ones that touch diagonally, may never contain the same number.

Locust Grove to host Pollination Celebration this Saturday

Locust Grove estate, at 2683 South Road (Route 9) in Poughkeepsie, will host Pollination Celebration, an event for adults and children, on Saturday, March 18, from 1 to 4 p.m. This is a rain or shine event! Wear comfortable gardening clothes and boots.

Tickets are $10/person. Children under 4 are free. Purchase tickets through www.lgny.org. Call 845-454-4500, ext. 212, or email Programs@lgny.org for more information.

The schedule:

Adults:

1 p.m. "Gardening for Honeybees" with Grai St. Clair Rice of BeJoy. Grai will explain how and why bees forage, and what you can plant to encourage them in your yard.

Grai St. Clair Rice from BeeJoy.org is an organic beekeeper, with 18 years of experience, as well as writer/ photographer based in NYC and New Paltz. In 2005, Grai co-founded HoneybeeLives as an organization dedicated to encouraging a strong honeybee population, co-teaching in-depth workshops with an Organic, Biodynamic approach. Grai is the founder of the contemporary Ulster County Beekeepers Association.

In 2022, Grai began Bee Joy as a solo adventure expanding her work as a beekeeping coach and landscape consultant. Grai lectures on beekeeping and gardening for honeybees, and will continue to teach beekeeping, including an in-depth winter class through Bee Joy. BeeJoy.org Facebook: BeeJoyNY Instagram: beejoy.ny

2:30 p.m. "Celebrate Flowers in the Garden!" with Locust Grove Gardener, Claire Davis, who will take you on a walk and talk of our blooming flower garden to show you what you can do in your home garden to promote the best environment for pollinators in all 4 seasons!

Kids:

1 - 2:30 p.m. "Pollination Party" (all ages but especially ages 4 - 8 and up) Celebrate Birds, Bats, Bees, Butterflies and Bugs with Emily Ellison then make and take a special pollinator mask to wear on a pollinator walk in the garden,

1 - 2:30 p.m. "Plant a Garden!" (all ages but especially ages 8 - 11) Celebrate the vegetables and flowers that are the best for pollination with Candace Gallagher of Pollinator Patrol and then plant their own seedling to grow at home!

For Kids and Adults:

3 - 4 p.m. Meet the Beekeepers! Meet our friends Jane and Fedele Fiore of "Fiore Family Honey" who will share their bee keeping experiences and show you how they do it.

According to the Fiore: "About 12 years ago, our daughter, a student at Cornell University, took a class in beekeeping. Soon after that we began to help with beekeeping at a local farm. This led to acquiring our own hives and harvesting honey.

"Our hives remain on the farm property. We now have 16 hives. This is a hobby that has been very rewarding for our family. We have learned so much about these fascinating creatures, and how they survive. We also enjoy their delicious honey!"

Adult group for guitar hobbyists to meet in East Fishkill March 19

A new program at the East Fishkill Community Library will be held on March 19. This program meets quarterly on Sunday afternoons from 2 - 3 p.m. in the Alley Room.

This is an adult group meant for guitar hobbyists to meet up and share their music and guitar geekiness together. While we may learn from each other, this will be more of a jam club than a group lesson. Content will be group directed. Activities will include song circle, music swap, guitar care tips and general guitar geek chat.

Local resident Carol Morin will lead this group; drop-in and all levels of experience welcome; no guitar needed to attend (but bring one if you have one!)

Visit eflibrary.org or call 845-221-9943 for more information

Free educational program on Medicare 101 March 22 in East Fishkill

The East Fishkill Community Library will present a free educational program on Medicare 101 hosted by Hopewell resident Joan Mistretta, Medicare Advisor of the Hudson Valley, on March 22 at 6 p.m.

This workshop will explain all of A, B, C's of Medicare. Topics include: how to enroll in Medicare and when you need to enroll, what is original Medicare, what are Medicare Advantage Plans and Medicare Supplemental Plans and what are the differences between the two plans. Also explained are the cost sharing and benefits that are associated with each letter (Part A, Part B, etc.) of Medicare so that seniors will have a better understanding of their benefits and how to utilize them. This information is valuable to those entering Medicare as well as those who are already on Medicare.

Register online through the calendar at <http://www.EFLibrary.org> or call the library at 845-221-9943.
