Frustration mounts for Whaley Lake residents over damaged bridge from Ida

On September 2, 2021, the huge volume of water from the remnants of Hurricane Ida completely washed out the Lakeview Drive Bridge and road at Whaley Lake in the Town of Pawling, Holmes. Despite desperate efforts for help for nine months since, there is still no bridge or road at this site.

Frustration is mounting for a group of homeowners who live near the damaged Whaley Lake Bridge in Holmes, as time – and options – to repair the structure is running out.

The bridge, road and access on Lakeview Drive leading to the lake were all damaged last September when the remnants of Hurricane Ida reached the area and caused havoc.

But more than nine months later, the non-profit Shore Haven Civic Association – a group spun off from the 103-member Homeowner's Association in Whaley Lake – has run into roadblock after roadblock from the federal level to the state to the county trying to secure help for repairs.

That includes the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) and the Small Business Association (SBA).

"They're using us like a chip at a poker table," said Aaron Cioppa, acting president of the Homeowners Association. "It's been the most frustrating thing in the world."

Learn about local businesses and the opportunities for businesses during the annual Wappingers Falls Business & Professional Association's (WFBPA) Festival at the Falls on Saturday, June 11 from noon to 6 p.m. (rain date June 12).

Attendees can visit vendors in Mesier Park in the Village of Wappingers Falls during the Festival.

"We're excited about the festival. It will be nice to get out," said Cindy Latino, president of the Wappingers Falls Business & Professional Association. She noted Mesier Park "is a showcase" and "very few other municipalities can outdo us with the park."

There will be approximately two dozen vendors. Six food trucks will be in attendance during the annual event, said Latino.

"I think our tagline – Come on Down to the Village - really tries to encourage all the people to come," remarked Latino.

Rose Haines, the secretary for the WFBPA, said, "It's a great day." She mentioned that "the food trucks are fabulous."

Scholarship honors late firefighter

By Kristine Coulter

Steven Ziskind made an impact on those around him. He served his community as a volunteer firefighter for the Wiccopée Fire Company in East Fishkill. His family and members of the fire company are keeping Steven's memory alive with awarding a deserving student the annual Steven D. Ziskind Memorial Scholarship. It was on May 27, 2020 that Steven died in a motorcycle accident.

"We think (and his friends think) Steven was very special and he had a lot to give to our world and we're heartbroken he didn't get to live out his life, which we know would have been wonderful and fun for us to be a part of. We're grateful to the firehouse for wanting to honor his memory," said Polly Ziskind, Steven's mom.

The scholarship this year was awarded to Jacob "Jake" Jodlowski, who has committed to Binghamton University, on May 24 at the Wiccopée Firehouse in East Fishkill. Jake will be majoring in psychology, he said.

No solution to Ida damage

Now it appears the only avenue for the Association is to raise the $50,000-plus on its own through a GoFundMe page. So far, the group has received $8,400 in donations. Visit <https://gofund.me/3fca1867>

"Dealing with the government has been a nightmare," said another resident, Marilyn Bontempo.

Runoff water from the heavy storms dumped by Ida not only caused massive property flooding, but wiped out the bridge. The Association says that everything from delivery trucks to ambulances, fire and police responders are forced to turn away or try to navigate a tenuous situation caused by the damage.

Indeed, a timeline provided by Bontempo lays out in black and white just how frustrating the process has been.

- Met with Dutchess County Executive Marc Molinaro, Town of Pawling Supervisor James Schmitt and New York State Senator Sue Serino at the Whaley Lake Bridge site on Sept. 2, 2021, just days after the damage. The County could not help.

"That bridge is actually privately owned, so the County's ability to assist is very limited," a spokesperson for the County Executive's office said in a statement provided last week to the Northern and Southern Dutchess News. "Our Department of Emergency Response did very actively advocate for FEMA assistance (either public assistance or individual assistance) and brought the FEMA review teams to the site on multiple occasions. It was determined it would not be eligible for FEMA public assistance and FEMA was working with the Homeowner's Association about the possibility of Individual Assistance."

- Per Schmitt's suggestion, 24 residents filed for FEMA help on Nov. 23, 2021. It would be the first of two times the federal agency denied the Association's application, despite letters from the local U.S. Postal Service, police, fire and first responders regarding the danger that the damaged bridge presented. FEMA said homeowners could still access their homes without the bridge.

"Yes, there are two access points. Depending on which side of the bridge you live, you can access your home and that's why FEMA will not pay attention to us," Bontempo said. "We put signs up saying that the bridge is out, but people still come down the road and have to back out. Even Royal Carting (garbage removal) has to now back down the road. It's a dangerous situation."

Schmitt, who did tell the Association he would waive permit fees if the group was able to find the funds to fix the bridge, did not return a request for comment.

- Then-HOA president Wendel Weber applied for an SBA loan also on Nov. 23. It was denied because the applicants did not show an ability to pay the loan back.

- In late December, the main water line was insulated by adding an additional outer pipe, insulation and covered with Item 4 to prevent freezing as a stop-gap measure.

- In February of this year, an application to Engineers without Borders was not selected. The Association also explored

*The absence of the bridge on Lakeview Drive near Whaley Lake has presented major obstacles for traffic and walkers for nine months, necessitating many large vehicles to turn around or to back down the road. local College Civil Engineering Programs for Community Outreach, but was told that their focus is on nonprofit parks and arts organizations.

- In May of this year, the Shore Haven Beach Path leading to the lake received in-kind services of five truckloads of fill and labor/equipment from one contractor as a start to improving safety.

The group has appealed to Dutchess County Legislator Edward Hauser, who pledged help in an email to Bontempo and Weber.

The Association also asked Schmitt to help with a grant, but the April email appeared to be too late for the May deadline.

"We have been working as hard as possible to assist in the grant for your bridge over the last 2 weeks. This grant is extremely involved and requires a lot of very involved, high-level work and expertise. As such, we reached out to our grant company for assistance and unfortunately they are unable to complete it in this short time frame. They also reached out to subcontractors they work with and who are unable to assist as well. We cannot complete the grant ourselves due to the rigorous work involved - we don't have the time or staff to get it done before the May 4th deadline," Schmitt replied to Bontempo's husband, Richard Wilson.

"As you know, we've reached out and advocated on your behalf to FEMA, the SBA, Dutchess County and Homeland Security (DHSES) many times and have tried everything to assist in fixing the bridge, and they again confirmed that this project is not an ideal candidate for funding through this grant. At this point, unfortunately, we've reached another dead end. We will continue to keep an eye out for any possible means of funding the bridge construction and apologize that this process has been so disappointing."

It now appears the Homeowners Association is getting closer to the end game.

"We're already there," said Giovanna Cioppa, Aaron's wife, who is on the Association's Bridge Committee. "It's frustrating and disappointing, especially when all of us are taxpayers and you would think that taxpayers would get a reasonable amount of help in return."

Ceremony to dedicate 8-foot statue of last Wappinger sachem set for Saturday in Fishkill

By Kristine Coulter

A ceremony for the dedication of an 8-foot bronze statue of Daniel Nimham, the last sachem of the Wappinger, will be held on June 11, at 11 a.m. The ceremony will be held at the intersection of Route 52 and Route 82 in the Town of Fishkill.

Fishkill Town Supervisor Ozzy Albra recalled attending a town board meeting in 2012 and hearing the presentation by sculptor Michael Keropian. Keropian was making a proposal for the statue.

"I looked him (Nimham) up and saw there was a plaque. I said to myself 'this would be a good place (Route 52 and Route 82) in the future [for a statue]," recalled Albra.

It was 20 years ago, said, Keropian, that he moved to the town of Kent in Putnam County. That is where he learned about Nimham.

Keropian recalled making a proposal to another municipality regarding the statue of Nimham, but that did not go anywhere.

"Fortunately, Ozzy was [at the town board meeting]. I got a phone call when he was elected," said Keropian.

"Nimham had a very good relationship with the Brinckerhoff family. He was a frequent guest at the Brinckerhoff house. They worked hard to get the plaque dedicated to him in the 1930s," said Albra. The Brinckerhoff family was one of the prominent families from the area.

The location, at Route 52 and Route 82, is "perfect" said Keropian because wigwams were located in town of East Fishkill the hamlet of Wicopee, in East Fishkill. The Wappinger women gave birth in the Fishkill Creek, added, Albra.

Sculpting Nimham's face, said Keropian, was "kind of intuitive from the beginning." Keropian said he tried to contact Nimham's descendants, but they are numerous. Nimham, said Keropian, was Algonquin-speaking and from the Northeast.

"There hasn't been found, and probably won't be found, any depiction of what he looked like," stated Keropian about the chief.

Nimham fought against the British, said Keropian. Nimham and his son were some of the first veterans to die in the Battle of Kingsbridge. Nimham fought on the side of the colonists during the American Revolution. Nimham represents the Wappinger but, he also represents the American veteran, said Albra and Keropian.

The original plaque, dated 1937, is on the foundation of the new statue. There is also a new plaque in the back of the statue. The foundation had imperial black granite that is originally from Africa but was shipped from Vermont.

Nimham was killed on Aug. 31, 1778 "defending the American cause," reads the 1937 plaque.

The plaque on the back of the statue notes the statue is a "tribute to the Wappinger Native Americans."

People are going to see the statue in many different ways, and "that's great," said Keropian.

The supervisor noted, "History matters, and you have to know where you're from. Our country was born from brave men like him."

"I think the residents should be proud to honor such an honorable man," said

Symbolism in Bronze

The following are some of the symbolic items contained in the Daniel Nimham statue:

Tree stump – to show a life cut short; Nimham was only 52 when he was killed, and his son was younger.

Deed or survey – went to England three times to talk to the Lord of Trade, case was thrown out and Nimham decided to join the American cause

Wolf – historians know Nimham was part of the Wolf Clan, also represents union and loyalty

Necklace – two bear claws and central medallion is an oak which shows trunk (foundation) and branches that move away; he tried to keep his people together

Musket – Chareville musket that Nimham may or may not have used

Feathers – Nimham did not wear a full headdress according to historians, said Keropian

Pouches – one is like a pouch Keropian saw at Mount Gulian Historic Site in Beacon and the other represents the Hudson Valley and kept in Wappinger-style

Knife, Belt, Moccasins – Keeping with Northeaster Native Americans style, not necessarily Wappinger.

Molinaro calls for PSC to hold Central Hudson to more accountability, transparency

Editor's note: County Executive Marc Molinaro sent the following letter to New York State Public Service Commission Chairman and CEO Rory Christian requesting the Commission to seek greater accountability and transparency from Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation (CH) and New York State Electric & Gas Corporation (NYSEG),

Chairman Christian:

Pursuant to complaints related to new billing systems implemented by Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation (CH) and New York State Electric & Gas Corporation (NYSEG), and in furtherance of consumer financial protections, I respectfully invoke your intervention on behalf of the two utility's more than 2.5 million customers to ensure full transparency and accountability during the investigations. To these ends, I implore the Public Service Commission (PSC) to:

1. suspend any current rate case and defer any future utility filings including any pending rate increases during the investigation period, and until all outstanding related customer disputes have been satisfied; and

2. suspend any current rate case and defer any future utility filings including any pending rate increases until a management and operations audit has been completed.

As you may know, a perfect storm has been brewing for two decades fueled by questionable federal and state policy decisions, some targeting our region, and the untimely and hastily closure of Indian Point—the result has been a deliberate incremental increase in electric and gas costs to the residents of our region conflated by legislated supply side constrictions of electric and natural gas. This in and of itself has produced undue hardship on our residents, but the failure of the PSC to provide proper guidance and oversight as it relates to mandates such as the Community Distributed Generation Program and the implementation of the utilities' billing systems have placed thousands of residents in financial jeopardy. Instead of creating a reliable and sustainable system resilient to external factors, the system has been regulated for failure.

Nevertheless, the utilities cannot escape the responsibility for a flawed rollout of a new billing system and failure to effectively communicate with affected customers, but neither should those that regulate them.

Consequently, our residents, still vulnerable from a global pandemic, have lost faith in our gas and electric utilities on which they rely on more than ever, and lost faith in the institutions responsible for their oversight. Our residents find themselves reduced to having to make choices between energy and nutrition.

While the investigations and resolutions are paramount, in short order I call on the PSC to seek greater accountability and transparency from the utilities they regulate, but also look inward at the Department of Public Service (DPS) and New York State (NYS) for the same accountability and transparency.

My colleagues have called for greater transparency of the market prices and formulas the utilities use to determine consumer rates, and I support that effort, but I demand the same accountability and transparency apply to the cost of programs and policies mandated by the state which are embedded in the supply, delivery and miscellaneous charges. Utility bills prescribed by DPS and the NYS are difficult at best for customers to understand, and customers have the right to know a true cost breakdown of their energy as well as the efficacy and benefit of any mandated program or policy.

I appreciate your time and attention to this correspondence and stand ready to work with you and the state to ensure our residents and businesses receive the affordable, reliable and sustainable energy they need with full, not selective, accountability and transparency.

Marcus J. Molinaro
Dutchess County Executive

One reader's response to gun violence opinion column

To the Editor:

This letter is written in response to the Guest Column/Opinion appearing in the 6/1/22 issue of the Southern Dutchess News titled "Gun violence is a public health crisis." The column writer claims that gun violence is a public health crisis.

The writer calls for immediate government "action on violence prevention/gun reform." The writer does not mention many other factors that cause gun violence, as well as other non-guns violence.

Here are factors that also contribute to gun violence as well as non-gun violence: 1. Anger due to increasing government control over the lives of hard-working Americans , 2. Lack of morality by not teaching God's Commandments in government schools, 3. Absent fathers in the family, 4. Decay of American culture, 5. Insufficient assimilation of immigrants into American culture, 6. Inadequate law enforcement caused by defunding the police, 7. Inadequate prosecution of criminals by District Attorneys, 8. Improper and unpatriotic public education in government schools. 9. Unsafe and mind-altering marijuana usage approved by state governments, 10. Illegally imported Chinese fentanyl across the US southern border causing OD deaths of Americans,11. Imposition of woke policies that cause anger and unrest, 12. Mainstream media participation in advancing hate and division,13. Joe Biden gives speeches that adds fuel to division and hate by blaming millions of American law-abiding gun owners for the ongoing gun violence, 14. President Biden punishes millions of Americans by artificially driving up the price of gasoline and diesel at the pump --- causing financial hardships and anger..

Apparently, the writer believes that government will fix all these causes of gun violence by advocating for a government determined solution. Applying COVID style methodology to gun violence reduction is not comparable because COVID is a type of virus that can be treated by medicine or immunizations, but gun-violence reduction is not treatable by medicine due to a long list of non-medical factors.

The COVID-19 warp speed immunization development effort was done by private pharmaceutical companies --- managed by former President Donald Trump --- not the government. In fact, the government was totally unprepared to handle COVID --- Trump had to supply ventilators, medical grade masks and other hospital medical items across the country with the help of the US military.

A government solution for gun violence reduction must not happen because the government will act to attack the U.S Constitution by eliminating our individual God-given Natural right to bear arms to defend ourselves and our family from harm and tyranny. President Joe Biden announced countless times that our God-given Natural right to bear arms is open for change. However, our elected officials, including Joe Biden swore to protect and defend the Constitution. The Constitution also states that in the event that President Biden does not uphold and defend the Constitution, President Biden can and should be impeached and removed from office. The prime purpose of the Federal government is to protect individual citizens from harm from outside of our borders and within our borders. Since our elected officials are unable or unwilling to protect us -- as well as school children, we must protect ourselves by arming ourselves against criminals and hardening schools to prevent mass shooting. Let us be honest among ourselves, taking away guns from millions of law-abiding Americans will not reduce gun violence when criminals are able to get guns no matter what the laws say.

The bottom line is that a bad guy with a gun can be stopped if there is a good guy with a gun.

Fire company awards scholarship

"I'm definitely very thankful for it," Jake told Southern Dutchess News about receiving the scholarship. He said he has learned about Steven over the past two years since the firefighter's death.

"This time of year, as so many kids are accumulating various scholarships for school in the fall, it struck me how many of those scholarships bear the names of people the kids who win them know little or nothing about," Chris Jodlowski, Jake's dad, wrote in a post. "I knew Steven Ziskind, so tonight (May 24) was a swirl of emotions. We are, of course, proud of Jake, his academic accomplishments, and his service to the fire district. At the same time, thinking of Steve and spending time with his family just a few days before the anniversary of his passing dredged up a difficult sadness I've felt all day..."

"[T]hank you to the Wicopee Fire Company and its members for supporting this scholarship," stated Polly Ziskind. "Steven would be smiling from ear to ear and blushing because of this attention. We realize how lucky he was to have such great friends in this organization and are grateful that they have been supportive of us during this very difficult times of our lives."

Jake was called "a deserving young man" by Polly Ziskind. She said he has a "bright future ahead of him."

Chris Jodlowski said that he was proud of Jake for earning the scholarship "based on his own accomplishments." Chris Jodlowski said Steven "was a smart and humble kid who didn't talk about himself much."

"I am, of course, biased. But I see in Jake so many of the things I loved so much about Steve. His quick wit and inviting smile. His kindness and introspective nature," posted the elder Jodlowski.

A post was made to the Wicopee Fire Company page. The post from the members of the fire company congratulated Jake and that he will "do great things." Marty, Polly and Adam, Steven's brother, were part of the committee that chose the recipient of the $1,000 scholarship.

Chris Jodlowski said he thinks his son was "a pretty good choice" and is proud to have his son's name "associated with a tribute to someone I was so honored to know. The connection, to me, is a meaningful one."

The post made by the fire company also acknowledges the members still feel Steven's loss. At the fire house, Steven was known as "Dora," because of the backpack he carried and his brown eyes. "Steven, who is deeply missed by our members, his family and so many others, left us way too soon," in part reads the post.

The posts continued that Steven was the members' friend whose "mark we will always remember."

Festival at the Falls Saturday

"Most businesses cannot do a pop-up store in the village, so this is a way to get the local community to know the business owners and what they're offering locally," said Latino.

"It's so people know we have these businesses," Latino said.

The WFBPA president stated there are great restaurants in Wappingers Falls.

"Café Con Leche has exploded [in business] up there on West Main St. Cafe Maya continues to do well. "The Village Creamery, on Mill St., does great, she added. Latino also noted that Stone Bridge Antiques, which former mayor Matt Alexander owns, is on West Main St.

"D'Vine Wine Bar and County Fare are always great," according to Latino.

"We're excited that this year Measured to Fit is going to come and do a pop-up shop," explained Latino. "We're excited they're coming." Also, doing a pop-up shop will be the new deli located at Valero's gas station.

There will be activities for the children, too that day.

"As usual, we have bouncy houses for the kids.

There will also be music during the day. Haines mentioned that Legoland, in Orange County, is donating four park passes for one of the raffles.

"We have great music," Latino said.

Ed Slick will lead off the day at noon. The Chain Gang, a 5-piece band that performs classic rock, pop and dance songs, will keep the music going then.

"Our goal as a band is to replicate the sounds of the original artists with accuracy. It will bring you back in time to the 1960s thru the '80s with the many popular tunes of those decades," said Sam Costanzo, band member. If you like The Doors, The Beatles, Billy Joel, Chicago, Blood Sweat and Tears, Stevie Ray Vaughan, Michael Jackson, and a ton of other artists, you will enjoy the time with us!" One can see the band's videos at <http://www.thechaingangband.com>.

Even though this will be "nothing like 2019," said Latino, "we have a good foundation of businesses and vendors that want to participate."

"We hope people will come and join [in the fun] and we're hoping for great weather," said Latino.

County sales tax cut on gas in effect

Effective June 1, Dutchess County cut and capped sales tax collection on gasoline with a change to its sales tax calculation for retail motor fuel and diesel motor fuel purchases, providing the maximum benefit for consumers allowed under state law.

The amount of county sales tax collected on each gallon of retail motor fuel is capped at 8 cents. Under the current sales tax methodology, consumers pay 3.75 percent county sales tax on their total motor fuel purchase, in addition to a myriad of other state and federally imposed taxes and fees.

Dutchess County Executive Marc Molinaro, together with Legislature Chairman Gregg Pulver, first proposed this cut and cap in March and the County Legislature adopted it in April; numerous other counties followed Dutchess County's lead in this effort to provide some relief to consumers. The earliest date it could go into effect under NYS law was June 1.

The New York State Department of Taxation and Finance sent out notice to retailers alerting them of the upcoming cut and cap with the notice found here: <https://content.govdelivery.com/accounts/NYTAX/bulletins/3199a75>.

Superstars' Award accepted

Sen. Sue Serino is once again looking to recognize local middle school students who demonstrate extraordinary kindness toward their peers and are leaders both inside and outside of the classroom. Senator Serino is encouraging community members to nominate exceptional students who contribute to a positive learning environment in their school community.

"Since launching this initiative, I have been blown away by the leadership that local students are demonstrating in their classrooms," said Serino. "With approximately 20% of students ages 12-18 reporting they experienced bullying in their school, we should never underestimate the power of kindness and the difference it can make in someone's life. I invite our local educators and community to nominate a local middle school student and share how they stand out due to their positive actions, and I look forward to learning more about all that these 'superstars' are doing to foster a more encouraging learning environment."

To nominate a local middle school student, please click here or visit serino.nysenate.gov. Completed nomination forms are due back by June 13.

The following school districts are a part of the 41st Senate District represented by Serino: Arlington, Beacon, Carmel, Dover, Garrison, Haldane, Hyde Park, Millbrook, North East, Pine Plains, Poughkeepsie, Putnam Valley, Red Hook, Rhinebeck, Spackenkill, Wappingers.

To learn more, or for additional information, call Senator Serino's Hyde Park Office at 845-229-0106 or email serino@nysenate.gov.

Renegades' catcher makes up for mistake

By Rich Thomaselli

Hudson Valley Renegades catcher Anthony Seigler had an embarrassing moment last week during a game — a moment that quickly went viral through social media channels before the youngster made up for it less than 24 hours later.

Seigler ended a game last week with something of a bloop, although it likely would not have made a difference in the final outcome. With the Renegades trailing the IronBirds 6-2 in the bottom of the 10th inning and two outs, Seigler crushed a pitch that had home run written all over it.

At least, he thought so.

Seigler flipped the bat in a bit of bravado and went into a home run trot.

But it wasn't a home run.

It stayed in the park at Dutchess Stadium and when Seigler realized the gaffe, he turned on the jets. It wasn't enough and he was thrown out at second base easily for the game's final out.

But the mark of a good player with a great temperament is to bounce back, and Hudson Valley Renegades catcher Anthony Seigler cheers after getting a hit during a game last week.

Seigler did that the very next night.

His two-run home run was not only the literal difference in a 2-1 victory over the Braves, but with Rome threatening with the trying and go-ahead runs on base in the top of the ninth inning, Seigler picked off the runner at first base to end the game.

Renegades take 4 of 6 from league-leading IronBirds

By Rich Thomaselli

The Hudson Valley Renegades sent 12 batters to the plate in an eight-run seventh inning on Sunday, fueling an 11-5 come-from-behind road victory over the Aberdeen IronBirds.

With the win, the Renegades took four of six from the South Atlantic League North Division-leading IronBirds, who nonetheless still lead Hudson Valley by 9.5 games in the standings.

HV is now 24-26 overall in the first half of the season, which ends in less than three weeks.

Anthony Seigler sparked the rally and finished 2-for-3 with three walks, two RBIs and two runs scored in the series finale – the latter two coming within two separate seventh inning at-bats.

Hudson Valley jumped ahead in the top of the first against Aberdeen starter Connor Gillispie. Trey Sweeney reached on a fielder's choice, advanced to second on a wild pitch, stole third and came around to score on Connor Pavalony's wild throw to make it 1-0 Renegades.

The IronBirds answered back in the bottom of the first against Renegades starter T.J. Sikkema. TT Bowens reached on an error by James Nelson, allowing Terrin Vavra to score from third to level the score at one.

In the top of the fourth, Hudson Valley mounted a two-out rally against Jake Prizina. Nelson singled, stole second, Aldenis Sanchez and Aaron Palensky both walked, and Eduardo Torrealba banged a two-run single to give the Renegades a 3-1 lead.

Aberdeen rallied to take the lead against Nelson Alvarez. Donta' Williams lined an RBI single, and with two outs and runners at second and third, Alvarez (2-1) committed a throwing error allowing two runs to score and the IronBirds in front 4-3.

In the top of the seventh, the Renegades stormed back and put up an eight spot to take control. Anthony Seigler led off the inning with a solo homer to left off Carson Carter (0-1) to tie the game at four. Later in the frame, Nelson drew a bases-loaded walk, scoring Sweeney from third with the go-ahead run.

Aberdeen called upon Xavier Moore and Hudson Valley greeted him with four consecutive two-out RBI singles to break it open. Palensky nailed a two-run single, Torrealba followed with his second RBI hit of the day, a Seigler line drive found outfield turf for his second RBI of the inning and Sweeney drove in one with a laser to center, growing the lead to 11-4.

Jhonatan Muñoz fired three strong innings of relief, allowing one run on four hits, striking out three and walking one, Carlos Gomez tossed two innings of one-run ball, striking out two and walking none, and Nelvin Correa tossed a perfect ninth inning to secure the win.

Hudson Valley was set to begin a six-game series with the Jersey Shore BlueClaws on Tuesday, June 7, at Dutchess Stadium.

Renegades to participate in HOPE Week with WMCHHealth

The Hudson Valley Renegades have announced their participation in HOPE Week. Renegades players and staff will participate in community service events throughout the Hudson Valley from Tuesday, June 7 through Sunday, June 12.

The Renegades participation in HOPE Week is in partnership with Westchester Medical Center Health Network (WMCHHealth), the Official Hospital Partner of the Hudson Valley Renegades.

The Yankees' wildly popular and successful HOPE Week initiative (Helping Others Persevere & Excel) was introduced in 2009, and is rooted in the fundamental belief that acts of goodwill provide hope and encouragement to more than just the recipient of the gesture.

"Being able to participate in HOPE Week is one of the most special parts of being affiliated with the New York Yankees," said Steve Gliner, President and General Manager of the Renegades. "Being able to touch people's lives and make a difference through our and the Yankees' commitment to community engagement is what we are all about as an organization."

The Renegades 2022 HOPE Week program is as follows:

Thursday, June 9th – The Community at Brookmeade - Opened in 1977, The Community at Brookmeade offers apartment residences and a combination of lifestyle, services, and amenities designed with the need of active older adults in mind. Located in the village of Rhinebeck, Brookmeade presently serves as a 120-bed facility for seniors aged 62 and above. The Community is committed to providing all residents with a lifestyle focus on quality, centered in wellness, and facilitated by competent and caring staff. Renegades players and staff will visit and engage with residents and participate in activity stations.

Friday, June 10th – Liberty Station - Hudson River Housing believes that those who served our country deserve the highest level of care, including quality, affordable housing. Hudson River Housing aims to meet the needs for the veteran community through specialized housing, transportation, advocacy, and care management. Operated by Hudson River Housing, Liberty Station was the first of three housing services available for veterans. Veterans from Liberty Station, Garden Street Housing, and Poughkeepsie Commons will gather at Liberty Station to meet and engage with Renegades players and staff.

Saturday, June 11th – Disability, Dream & Do (D3)/ThinkDIFFERENTLY Camp

D3 and ThinkDIFFERENTLY collaborate to host camp in partnership with Hudson Valley Renegades. Disability, Dream & Do (D3) is a pro style practice with professional players at stadiums across the country. D3 participants have an opportunity to hit, throw, catch and run the bases with instruction from the best regardless of anyone's limitations. "ThinkDIFFERENTLY" is a call to action, a genuine challenge to determine if we have it within ourselves to look past our differences and treat others the way we would hope to be treated. Too often, too many with special needs are overlooked and their unique abilities ignored. Instead, we seek to lift each other up and embrace all residents of all abilities.

Sunday, June 12th – Fishkill Food Pantry - The Fishkill Food Pantry was established as a mission program in 1985 to assist individuals and families in the Southern Dutchess area who are coping with financial emergencies and supply basic food needs. The people served are often referred to the Pantry by social service agencies, churches, schools, and family advocates. The Pantry is the largest food pantry in Dutchess County, serving families in Beacon, Beekman, Chelsea, Cold Spring, Fishkill, Glenham, Hopewell Junction, Hughsonville, Stormville, and Wappingers Falls. The Renegades will provide donations in the morning to the food pantry and host a food drive during Sunday's game.

STARR program offers creative opportunities

4-H offers many programs at state and national level, and here in Dutchess County we provide approximately $5,000 in scholarships annually to make sure our youth can take advantage of these leadership opportunities.

One such student who recently returned from one such event tells us about her experience.

By Julia Raskopf

Flock of Feathers Club

Recently, I was able to attend State Teen Action Representatives Retreat (STARR).

STARR is a program for 4-H youth, ages 13 and older. It allows these youth to go away for a couple days and be with others their age and learn new things.

There were two sessions on the Saturday we were there, an hour-long session and an hour –and-a-half session. There were many workshops to choose from such as pasta making, photography, theatre arts and more.

I personally chose the photography workshop in hopes of improving my photos for my exhibit hall entries at the Dutchess County Fair this year. I learned many valuable tips and tricks for photo

We spent about two days at Camp Shankitunk. We got there around 5 p.m. on Friday and left at noon on Sunday. We spent our nights in cabins, which were screened in on the front wall, so at night when it dipped below 40 degrees, it got pretty cold. We all survived with all our fingers and toes though. Both nights I had gotten woken up by a porcupine scratching at the pool house across from my cabin, which was a little scary to say the least.

Each day we had multiple roundtables, where we would get together with the same group of people and talk about different things. My group mainly focused on current events and issues such as racism, sexism, and more. I learned a lot from the roundtables and made a couple friends who were in the group who I still talk to even after the program is over.

STARR happens every year, so if you are a 4-H'er looking for a fun retreat where you can learn new things and make friends, I'd suggest keeping this in the back of your mind and signing up next year!

All-Species Clinic is a learning experience

The first Dutchess County all-species 4-H showmanship clinic was held in 2021.

Kids of all ages practiced showing their project species and had the opportunity to learn about showing other species. Just some examples are beef kids showing rabbits, goat kids showing dogs and sheep kids showing horses.

By popular demand, this event will take place again on June 20th courtesy of the Dutchess County Fairgrounds. Not only is it a fabulous learning opportunity, but also a chance for 4-H'ers from different backgrounds to come together to make friends and celebrate the things they love.

Livestock Sale

By Haley McCord

The Dutchess County Youth Livestock Sale proudly represents both 4-H and FFA members as they strive to continue to build strength within their livestock projects.

To qualify for this livestock sale, youth members must be in good standing with their club or chapter. They must also attend mandatory meetings, which allow them to understand all the yearly rules and regulations as well as some reminders about the upcoming sale.

This year on August 27 at 4 p.m., the sale will be in full swing at the Dutchess County Fair. Registration for the sale will begin at 1:30 p.m. on the day of the sale and will be found at the Livestock Pavilion. This Livestock sale helps to promote agriculture within the county in many ways including: making great long-term connections and relationships with the people of Dutchess County, teaching the public about the importance of growing livestock for better production in Agriculture, and so much more.

None of this would be possible without the endless support from our local sponsors. As youth members of Dutchess County, we believe that it is our duty to share our Agricultural experiences with the people of our amazing county and for that, I would like to thank everyone who has helped to shape the lives of these 4-H and FFA members for the better.

If you are interested in learning more about our 4-H Livestock Program, please visit our Dutchess County 4-H website for more information. We sincerely thank you for your endless contributions to making the Dutchess County Livestock Sale one that inspires young lives such as myself to continue to seek success within the agricultural field.

Elizabeth Ayers Harmon

Elizabeth Ayers Harmon, known as Lisa to family and friends, died on Saturday, May 28th, 2022. Kind, creative, curious, and witty, Lisa lived a full life even as she suffered from chronic anxiety and depression. Lisa was born in Cleveland on January 20th, 1963 to Robert Harmon and Phyllis Ayers Harmon. She grew up with two sisters in Ohio, North Carolina, and New Hampshire, and graduated from Cornell University. After settling in Washington, D.C., she attained a master's degree in international communications from American University and pursued a successful career in radio. She worked for a decade for National Public Radio, as a producer for Morning Edition and All Things Considered. She also established an English-language news radio program in Budapest, Hungary, serving as host and executive producer. Lisa loved art. During breaks from work, she studied photography and sculpture at the Aegean Center for the Fine Arts in Paros, Greece. She excelled at carving figures in marble, and in 2004 moved to New York City to train as a sculptor at the Art Students League of New York. She simultaneously began a new career in arts communication, working for arts organizations and museums in the metropolitan area including the Jewish Museum, the Onassis Foundation, the Katonah Museum of Art, and Storm King Art Center. Most recently she was Director of Marketing and Communications for Wave Hill Public Garden and Arts Center, a place she loved. In 2005, Lisa married Robert Lapaz and gave birth to their beloved daughter, Olivia. They moved to Beacon the following year. She loved living in Beacon and being near the Hudson, and participated in several cross-river swims and other fundraising efforts in support of river preservation. As a community volunteer, she tutored children in reading and English as a Second Language. Lisa was known for her sharp intellect. She believed in the power of words, and used her skill with language to connect genuinely with radio audiences, supporters of the arts, and everyone she met. As a colleague said: She was often a person of few words, but every word counted. She had a great sense of what made good storytelling, what would capture the imagination or move people to action. She held herself and the world to a very high standard and when that fell short, she was ready to help make it better the next time. Both courageous and adventurous, Lisa also enjoyed quiet pursuits: taking long walks with her dogs, curling up with a good book beside a fire, and entertaining friends over long dinners. She had a marvelous sense of humor and a quick wit, and enjoyed the absurdities of life. Along with so many fond memories we will recall her generosity; her elegance, grace, and compassion; her laughter; and her strength in difficult times. We gain solace from knowing that she is now at peace. Lisa is survived by her husband Robert Lapaz; daughter Olivia Lapaz; mother Phyllis Harmon; sisters Kitty Harmon and Caroline "Neera" Harmon; and loving in-laws, nieces, and a host of longtime friends. There will be a private memorial service for family. In lieu of flowers, donations may be sent to Beacon's Howland Cultural Center, an arts organization near to Lisa's heart. If you wish to send us an online condolence or memory of Lisa, please post to her Facebook page or the tribute wall at Libby Funeral Home.

Strawberries, music, vendors set for annual Strawberry Festival June 12 in Beacon

By Kristine Coulter

Fresh strawberries. Strawberry shortcake made with whipped cream and homemade biscuits. Chocolate-covered strawberries and strawberry smoothies. All will be available during the annual Strawberry Festival on Sunday, June 12, from noon to 5 p.m. at the Pete & Toshi Seeger Riverfront Park, 1 Flynn Road, in Beacon. The annual event, with the Hudson River as its backdrop, is hosted by the Beacon Sloop Club.

"People should come to enjoy the bounty of the Hudson Valley, fresh local strawberries, local musicians, children's activities, and the beauty of the Hudson River," said Joyce Hanson, with the Beacon Sloop Club.

Attendees will be entertained by some local performers. There will be two solar powered music stages. Children will see shows and performances to entertain them on one stage. The other stage will have performances geared more toward adults in the crowd.

According to information from the Beacon Sloop Club, some of the amazing talent, who are volunteering their time, will include Arm of The Sea Theater, Beacon Songsmiths, Bindlestick Bill, Eric Person Quartet, Jonathan Kruk, Judith Tulloch Band, Last Minute Soulmates, Lydia Adams Davis, Roger The Jester and Spook Handy.

"I will do a set on the Main Stage and a set on the Children's Stage," said Adams. "I love the homemade (fresh-picked) strawberry shortcake with natural whipped cream - recipes created by Pete and Toshi Seeger."

Adams continued, "I love the Beacon Sloop volunteers putting this annual event together with craft vendors, and free rides on the sloop, The Woodie Guthrie. It is, and always has been, about inclusiveness and cultural diversity!"

Want to experience the Hudson River? Then set sail on the Beacon Sloop Club's boat, the Woody Guthrie. Guests will be able to sail on a free ride from Beacon at the Metro-North Railroad station. Those who are interested in sailing on the Woody Guthrie, weather permitting, may sign up at the Beacon Sloop Club table starting at noon.

While at the Festival, stop by some of the environmental education programs that will be offered.

"The Beacon Sloop Club Strawberry Festival has a long history and tradition of bringing people to the waterfront to experience our most precious natural resource and learn about opportunities to participate on its stewardship. It's also an opportunity to learn about other community organizations that exhibit free of charge," noted Hanson. "We are working collaboratively with our Beacon market manager to have vendors do a strawberry-themed day of the Strawberry Festival. We support our Beacon Farmers Market and realize the richest and value to our community to support our community."

Family fun parks closer to home

Try Hershey Park, ZooAmerica and Adventure Playground!

Summer is almost here and it's time to start thinking of family fun.

Florida has succeeded in claiming the title of having the biggest and best-known amusement parks in the country. But -- what if you don't want to spend an hour or even more waiting in line to access a ride. Maybe you don't want to have to make reservations to enter the amusement park of your choice. Perhaps you can't or don't want to spend the average daily cost of admission which can range from $109 to - $159 per person.

Fortunately, there are a number of alternative options that will allow you to save the cost of airfare by driving to a closer-to-home theme park.

Hershey Park

One of the Northeast's best theme parks for families and easiest to reach for New Yorkers is Hershey Park. Originally opened in 1907 as a place for the employees of the Hershey Chocolate Company to relax with their families, it ultimately became a popular amusement park, open to the general population.

Located in Hershey Park, PA, the park has managed to retain its charming image of a small town and old-fashioned park. You can load the family into the car and arrive at the park approximately four hours later (or 2 "are we there yet" questions from the kids.)

For chocolate lovers like me, this beats out the Florida Mouse every time. The park has more than 60 modern rides and roller coasters. Hershey Park is considered as unique among most U.S. theme parks, because of Hershey's Chocolate World, featuring the famous "Hershey's Great American Chocolate Tour." The water park rides and Zoo America, a North American wildlife park affiliated with Hershey, also help make the park a great destination for family theme park vacations.

ZooAmerica

I would normally not promote visiting a zoo. However, I do believe that it helps animals if humans are taught to respect all species and their habitats. Before deciding to add ZooAmerica to this article I called them and expressed my concerns.

Also located in Hershey Park, Pa., they advised that "At ZooAmerica, we believe it is our responsibility to protect, promote, and encourage the conservation of wildlife, natural resources, and habitats. We actively support conservation efforts through financial commitments and donations to the Conservation Grant Fund of the Association Of Zoos And Aquariums. We also work locally, involving ourselves in programs that benefit the species of our state, our country, our continent, and our world."

Many of the more than 200 animals that reside at ZooAmerica have suffered injuries or were orphaned and therefore can not be released back into the wild. This provides healing for the animals that need it and an opportunity for families to see and learn about animals they wouldn't otherwise have the chance to see animals such as a Spoonbill Platypus, a Vampire Bat, or an Ocelot.

They are situated on 11 acres of land and were mindful to propagate native plants and landscaping. It's a great opportunity to see non-native species, many of whom reside in the zoo due to injuries that no longer allow them to roam freely in their native territories. You'll know that your visit provides funds to help the animals in recuperation. Your kids will just know that they're having fun.

Adventure Playground

The Adventure Playground of Long Island is for the active family that also prefers physical activity.

Offering some of the best high-rope courses and ziplines in the metro and surrounding areas, it's an ideal outing for all ages. Adventure Playground is ideal for youngsters 3 years and above, children 7 years and above, and those who wish they were still children for a day can enjoy 14 self-guided treetop trails. With "203 treetop platforms connected by bridges, ladders, 49 ziplines, and other crossings, there's something for everyone at every fitness level!"

And now you can enjoy their park—in the dark! The recently added exclusive event is called "Glow in the Park," "where adventure seekers can play on their favorite courses at night." LED lights guide you along each trail and light up the path safely leading you towards your next adventure. You'll appreciate the family time together and the physical activity. The kids will just know that they're having fun.

We make sure to give you enough time to enjoy the mystery of the night with two hours of tree exploring climbing included in your ticket, and of course, starting the evening with a safety briefing with harnessing and practice. Be sure to sign the waiver that comes in your confirmation email before you enter the park, so you can maximize your fun. Anyone over the age of 7 can experience our Glow in the Park events, so make sure to book your tickets so you don't miss out!

After a two-year hiatus, the Joseph MacDonald & Bill Crusie Memorial Race returned to the streets of the Village of Wappingers Falls in memory of two sons of the village - Major Joseph MacDonald and PFC Bill Crusie.

The community also remembered Pete Sanfilippo, whose dedication to improving the quality of life for the residents through running, is the foundation of this race. Thanks is offered to his son, Mark Sanfilippo, for carrying on both his legacy and events such as this.

"It was an honor to welcome runners to the 43rd Annual Joseph MacDonald & Bill Crusie Memorial Runs this morning," said Dutchess County Legislator Joseph D. Cavaccini (District 15).

Anderson Center for Autism sets 98th graduation on June 24

Officials with the Anderson Center for Autism have announced they will host the 98th annual commencement on Friday, June 24.

A total of 13 students will graduate from the organization's educational program. One of those students, Kyler P., will be honored with the VV Anderson Outstanding Achievement Award.

Patrick Paul, CEO/Executive Director at Anderson Center for Autism, said, "Although the event is not open to the public this year due to continued pandemic-related safety measures, we hope that our entire community joins us in applauding these hardworking students as they celebrate this special day. We are honored to share so many milestones with our students and families, and graduation is always among the list of favorites."

Graduates of the program at Anderson all share a primary diagnosis of Autism Spectrum Disorder, which presents with a wide range of communication, sensory processing, and behavioral challenges and impacts 1 in 44 people (Centers for Disease Control, 2022).

School Principal at Anderson, Jayson Pistrutto, said "This is a group who demonstrate remarkable resilience and perseverance; no matter what challenges they have faced, these students give their best every day. They have all made wonderful progress in our education program, and we will be so proud to hand each of them their well-deserved diplomas."

Anderson Center for Autism's Class of 2022 includes Stephen B., Derek D., Dennis H., Carlo M., Caitlin M., Spencer O., Kyler P., Jesse P., Jason P., Harrison P., Sam R., Daniel S., and Victoria S.

This year's keynote speaker will be Katy Kollar, parent of an Anderson Center for Autism resident, volunteer and prior president of Anderson Family Partners.

Shared Kollar, "Anderson Center for Autism and its residents, students, and team members have all been an extension of our family since the day our son was first enrolled, and it is a great privilege to have been asked to deliver the keynote this year. The commencement ceremony is a very important milestone for Anderson students, and for everyone who works so hard to optimize success for them. We are so proud of our graduates, and want them to know how much we believe in them - on graduation day and every day."

Anderson Center for Autism's collaborative, interdisciplinary education program incorporates behavioral analytic teaching strategies, interventions, and evaluative data review; visual, environmental, sensory, and communication supports are utilized as needed by the team of behavior specialists and analysts, speech and occupational therapists, and certified special educators. Classroom content is developed in the context of New York State Learning Standards, and progress is measured against goals set forth in IEPs (Individualized Education Plans) developed and adopted annually for each student.

SUDOKU

Sudoku requires no arithmetic skills.

The object of the game is to fill all the blank squares with the correct numbers.

Each row of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order.

Each column of 9 numbers must include all digits 1 through 9 in any order.

Each 3 by 3 subsection of the 9 by 9 square must include all digits 1 through 9.

Suguru

The heavy lines indicate areas, called cages, from one to five squares in size. Fill each cage with unique digits, counting up from 1. So for example a 2-square cage contains the numbers 1 and 2; and a 5-square cage contains the numbers from 1 to 5. Adjacent (touching) squares, even ones that touch diagonally, may never contain the same number.

Author to celebrate Juneteenth

The Poughkeepsie Public Library District co-presents Imani Perry, with The Bardavon, in celebration of Juneteenth, on June 19 at 5 p.m. Imani Perry is an award-winning author, interdisciplinary scholar, and the Hughes-Rogers Professor of African American Studies at Princeton University.

Imani Perry's writing and scholarship focuses on the history of Black thought, art, and imagination crafted in response to, and resistance against, the social, political, and legal realities of domination in the West. She seeks to understand the processes of retrenchment after moments of social progress, and how freedom dreams are nevertheless sustained. A book signing in the Bardavon lobby. Books will be available to purchase before and after the presentation.

The Bardavon 1869 Opera House is at 35 Market Street, Poughkeepsie. Free tickets are available at Adriance Memorial Library, 93 Market Street, Poughkeepsie, Boardman Road Branch Library, 141 Boardman Road, Sadie Peterson Delaney African Roots Library, 29 N Hamilton St, and the Bardavon/UPAC box office.
