Thurston, Cavaccini on ballot in Wappinger supervisor Republican primary race Election set June 27

Compiled by Kristine Coulter The Republican Primary Election for Wappinger Town Supervisor is on June 27, from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. Incumbent Wappinger Supervisor Richard Thurston and Dutchess County Legislator Joseph Cavaccini will be on the ballot for that race. Cavaccini was endorsed by the Town of Wappinger Republican Committee, by a 29 - 5 vote, in January. Thurston has been the Town of Wappinger Supervisor since January 2018.

The Democratic Committee endorsed Robin Licari, who has no opponent for a primary.

Thurston and Cavaccini were emailed questions from Southern Dutchess News.

Their responses are below.

What experience will you bring to the Supervisor position?

Thurston:

First and foremost, are the many "on-the-job" experiences that I have learned during the past 5-1/2 years. Having come from the commercial sector, I was able to adopt corporate practices to make our municipal government more transparent, efficient, and cost-effective. I also learned how to work with a variety of talented people in challenging their creativity and encouraging their empathy when dealing with residential issues. My 40+ years of experience, including those of my first 3 terms in office, have allowed me to make better decisions and to grow in my work as a public servant. Those powerful lessons will enable me to address the myriad of challenges facing our community in the future. Leadership skills do not come easily. They are enabled by the collective knowledge that one obtains from years of experience. As Aristotle observed: "for the things we have to learn before we can do them, we learn by doing them." While our world has changed dramatically, our municipal needs remain fundamentally the same. Without my myriad of experiences, I would not be half the public servant that I have become.

What experience will you bring to the Supervisor position?

Cavaccini:

For over a decade, I have served our great Wappinger community and have worked to be a transparent and accessible public official. As a two-term Dutchess County Legislator I have made it my mission to preserve our quality of life and our Wappinger family values. As Chairman of the Legislature's Environment Committee, I have consistently advocated to protect our property values by preventing overdevelopment which causes traffic and overcrowds our schools. My proven 4-year voting record in support of our small businesses, conscious development, first responders/veterans/seniors, and fiscal conservatism has delivered consecutive County property tax reductions and $1.1million in grant funding returned to projects and organizations in our Town and Village. Real results for helping families stay in their homes and improve Wappinger.

Additionally, I believe that my experience of serving five different administrations across three towns and being currently employed to oversee the day-to-day management of the Town of Pawling provides me with a unique ability to be Town Supervisor. From managing budgets, executing special

Renegades close in on title for first half of league season

By Rich Thomaselli

The Hudson Valley Renegades are on the brink of a North Division Championship in the South Atlantic League.

The league determines its playoffs by first and second half champions.

Hudson Valley took five of six games against the Rome, Ga., Braves during the past week at Heritage Financial Park.

The Renegades pounded out 15 hits in a 10-1 victory over the Rome Braves on Sunday afternoon. With the win, the Renegades secured a series victory and preserved their first-place lead in the SAL North with three games left to play in the first half. Their magic number to clinch a playoff spot has shrunk to two.

Drew Thorpe (6-1) started the game for Hudson Valley and walked just two batters while allowing three hits in six shutout innings. He struck out the side twice in an inning and went on to finish with eight total. The New York Yankees No. 6 prospect also extended his scoreless streak to 24.1 innings after hurling six more scoreless innings.

Ben Cowles delivered a walk-off single in the bottom of the ninth to hand the Renegades a 4-3 win over the Rome Braves on Friday night.

In the ninth with the game tied at three, Kyle Battle was hit by a pitch on the arm to place the go-ahead run on base. The next batter, Spencer Jones, singled to left field to put runners at first and second and just one out. Cowles then laced a 2-2 pitch from Peyton Williams (1-1) to right-center to score Battle and deliver the 'Gades a 4-3 win. For the Renegades, it was their fourth walk-off win of the season, and second in as many nights.

Rome began the scoring in the first with a run against Juan Carela on a sacrifice fly from Keshawn Ogans. Carela dazzled after that, tying his career-highs of 7.0 innings and 10 strikeouts. It was the third straight start for Carela that he has fanned 10 batters, and he became the first Renegades pitcher to strike out 10-or-more batted in three straight starts in team history. Additionally, the 21-year-old starter has allowed three or fewer hits in three of his last four starts.

RCK valedictorian and salutatorian to study engineering in college

By Kristine Coulter

The 2023 valedictorian and salutatorian of Roy C. Ketcham High School (RCK), in the Wappingers Central School District, are Natalie Hilton and Madison Kaminski respectively.

Natalie Hilton, Valedictorian

"It was really exciting," said Natalie about being told she was the valedictorian. "I was really happy, and my family was happy."

Natalie said her favorite subjects are math and science.

Plans for after graduation from RCK are to study chemical engineering at the University of Connecticut, said Natalie.

"I like how there are so many things involved with that (chemical engineering). Why things work the way they do," she remarked.

Natalie said she would like to thank her family, which includes her older brother and younger sister, for everything they have done for her.

At the top of the RCK Class of 2023 are Natalie Hilton and Madison Kaminski.

Wappingers Falls still needs its faith denominations

To the Editor:

As someone who has grown up in a beautiful village, I must speak up. Our Village of Wappingers Falls has always been a faithful village with five different denominations. My son Chip (Hugo) Von Burg recently said on a visit home, he remembers that you could go in any direction in the village and run into a church.

On Good Friday afternoon, businesses were closed, and churches were full. Every Sunday parents would attend services with their children.

Children were being brought up in the faith. What has happened?

Not too long ago the Methodist-Episcopal church was sold due to lack of parishioners. An historic building where my aunt and uncle McMullen worshipped. This church gave much to the village. I can only mention several.

The Methodist Church hosted the “Belly of the Whale,” on weekends for young people. There were movies, music, dancing, games and being able to be safe. Adult supervision and snacks were provided. Could we not use something like this today?

Many will remember the fabulous roast beef dinners, homemade and reasonable. I remember the first time Hugo and I went; I was concerned we would be the only Catholics there. There were people of all denominations eating together helping a neighbor church to survive.

Think of Poland. We know what happened when the Communists came. They closed the churches and schools. We need our faith.

Wappinger Highway Department employees endorse Cavaccini for Wappinger Supervisor

To the Editor:

We the union members of CSEA 6673 Town of Wappinger Highway employees are proud to strongly endorse Joseph D. Cavaccini for Wappinger Town Supervisor.

Legislator Cavaccini has long been a strong supporter of this highway department and its employees. In fact, he is the only elected official in this community (in addition to our great Highway Superintendent Mike Sheehan) who has actually done a ride along in a snowstorm with this department to go out into the field and see how we operate in storms and keeping our roads safe.

Legislator Cavaccini is a lifelong resident who stands and understands the needs of our community and the highway department. Legislator Cavaccini has personally toured on several occasions the conditions of the highway garage, trucks and fleet with the members of our union. He is about getting things done on behalf of the people of our Town. He currently works as legislative aide for the Town of Pawling overseeing the day-to-day operations on behalf of their part-time Supervisor. His background, knowledge, and expertise in municipal government relations makes him the perfect candidate for Wappinger Town Supervisor.

We encourage all registered Republicans to support Joseph D. Cavaccini for Wappinger Town supervisor on the June 27th Primary. The employees of this Highway Department stand behind him.

Members, CSEA 6673
Town of Wappinger Highway employees

Thurston proud of record, progress

To the Editor:

Back in 2017, I had to be persuaded to run for Town Supervisor because politics had never been a goal of mine even though doing the best that I can for family, for friends, and for the community in which I live is very much the way in which I was raised. My parents worked hard to give me and my two brothers a better future than they had and I, in turn with my wife, do the same for our children. This is the American way of life that I knew growing up on a farm. I will do my best to continue to protect for future generations the core values on which our country and community are centered.

I am a public servant who works with all residents to solve daily issues and challenges. I do not believe in governance by social media, by secret caucuses, or by fear and intimidation. I stand for truth/honesty, integrity in government, and above all else full transparency in what I say and do.

As this primary campaign winds down, I want to thank each Wappinger resident who welcomed me at your doors. I truly enjoyed meeting all of you and setting the record straight on my tenure as supervisor. I am proud of our record! We have kept taxes low, improved our town’s fiscal health, protected our natural resources, and have received significant grant funding for our water and sewer infrastructure. I have worked with Sheriff Kirk Imperati to improve our law enforcement efforts within our town and schools. And, I have no plans, whatsoever, for large apartment complexes or Section 8 housing.

I am proud of my record and humbly ask your support for another term so we can continue the progress together.

Voters choose the official who will represent their interests

To the Editor:

Voters elect officials in their towns to represent their interests. It is curious to me that those officials who have been trusted to do so feel the need to interject themselves in Wappinger politics. It is up to the voters in Wappinger to decide who they want to represent their interests and protect our quality of life, not officials from other Towns and non-residents.

Joseph D. Cavaccini has been involved in our community for most of his life. We have seen him focus on the needs of our neighbors and our Town and Village because he truly cares. His unique experience and passion for Wappinger is what we need right now to make our Town a better place and to preserve our quality of life. He will revitalize our parks, continue to support our small businesses, and get things accomplished on behalf of the people!

I am proud to support Joseph D. Cavaccini for Wappinger Town Supervisor.

Albra: Forman is the one who voted to defund the police

To the Editor:

In a recent article in this newspaper, Councilman John Forman desperately attempted to defend his vote which defunded the Fishkill Police Department, and called my vote against the budget a political stunt. Mr. Forman, who recently moved to Fishkill so he could run for office, is apparently unaware of my record on this matter. In July of 2020, at the height of the defund-the-police movement and while protests were occurring in the Town of Fishkill, I was asked if I would ever defund the police. Here are my comments to the reporter at the time: “I will not defund the police department and we are probably going to hire extra officers.”

I kept my promise. I increased funding by more than 14% in two years, and codified an additional officer for the afternoon and evening shift in our police contract. I’m proud to have been the first elected official in Dutchess County to publicly pledge on the record never to defund the police. My position was met with wide support, including a kind remark from the current Fishkill Republican chairman who said “we need more towns to follow the Supervisor’s stance.”

So naturally, when our Town Board moved to pull more than $100,000 of funds I had earmarked for our police department, including $100,000 of crucial reserve funds, I voted no. I stand by that vote. Our police contract is expiring this year, and we need those funds on-hand to negotiate a good new contract for our hardworking officers. The Town Board showed an unacceptable and irresponsible lack of foresight by voting to defund the department. Mr. Forman even acknowledged this in his comments, but downplayed the gravity of the situation by calling it a simple “haircut.” Mr. Forman can try to spin this any way he wants, but he can’t escape the truth that he voted to defund our police department.

VETERANS NEWS WITH ADAM ROCHE

New Veterans One Stop
Building continues to excite

Adam Roche

The Veterans One Stop in Pleasant Valley offers a myriad of services all under one roof.

Since Dutchess County Veterans’ Services relocated its offices to Mental Health America (MHA) of Dutchess County’s (MHA) Veterans One Stop at 1335 Route 44 in Pleasant Valley in January, the number of veterans visiting the new campus has steadily increased. In fact, we’ve seen a three-fold increase in walk-in traffic to our new offices.

The new Veterans One Stop, owned and operated by Mental Health American (MHA) of Dutchess County, houses our Division of Veterans’ Services, Hudson Valley Veterans Alliance and the Veterans Sportsmen Association, and is designed for vets seeking help in so many areas. Our office at Veterans’ Services helps vets with claims applications, referrals, receiving burial benefits, filing discharge papers, applying for medals, obtaining New York State property tax exemptions and much more. MHA offers the Vet2Vet program – I mentioned that great program in last month’s column – as well as housing and employment assistance, suicide prevention services, multiple artistic therapy programs and many other services.

The 10,000-square-foot structure is also easily accessible, making it even easier for veterans to come here. In addition to having a dedicated bus stop via Dutchess County Transit’s Route D, the facility has ample parking for those who drive. Not having to navigate the parking situation that was required at our former location in the City of Poughkeepsie is a big driver for the increased traffic at our new offices. We would often make referrals to the vets who came to our offices, only to later discover they didn’t follow through on that referral because they didn’t want to make several stops or pay for parking multiple times. This, along with our staff no longer working out of cubicles but having personal offices with doors that close for privacy, has created a relaxed and safe environment for those visiting the service center.

The new site also features several large rooms for health and wellness classes, movie nights, dance and art instruction plus several sizable conference rooms and spacious wheelchair-accessible bathrooms for those who need the space to maneuver. New floors and walls have been completed, and the One Stop houses a fully stocked food pantry, as well as a clothing and supplies closet for veterans needing assistance in those areas.

The sky is the limit in what we hope to accomplish at the site to support our veterans. We are always exploring new options and implementing new techniques as we listen to, and communicate with, those who come to the One Stop location. I hope those reading this column who haven’t visited us yet do so, and I ask those of you who may know friends or family members who might benefit from the services to encourage them to stop in.

Everyone at the Veterans One Stop, including us here at Veterans’ Services and our neighboring partners, strives to deliver a professional and personalized analysis for veterans and their families so they get the services they need and the benefits they’ve earned from their years of service to our country.

Remember, you must apply to receive these benefits; they are not automatic. Please call us at 845-486-2060 for an appointment or find more information at dutchessny.gov/veterans.

We’re here (and there) for our veterans

On Friday, June 23, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., representatives from our Veterans’ Services office will join other service providers at the Veteran Employment and Housing Resource Fair, hosted by the Poughkeepsie Grand Hotel, 40 Civic Center Plaza in the City of Poughkeepsie. In addition to a complementary lunch, veterans and their families can learn about the many services and programs available to them, particularly those focused on gaining and keeping employment and housing. We hope to see you there.

Want to see the Veterans One Stop for yourself? MHA will host a Vet2Vet Women’s Support Group meeting on Friday, July 14, from noon to 1 p.m. There’s no need to RSVP; simply show up and find comfort and camaraderie among your fellow female heroes who have given so much to protect our nation.

For more information about services and programs for veterans in Dutchess County, call us at the Dutchess County Division of Veteran’ Services at 845-486-2060 or go to www.dutchessny.gov/Veterans.

Players keep moving up and team keeps adjusting

By Rich Thomaselli

The clubhouse manager has been busy. And he will continue to be busy for this level of baseball and the Hudson Valley Renegades.

The Renegades are the High Class A farm Club of the New York Yankees. At this level of minor league baseball, it's very transient. You're either moving up or you're demoted.

Only two-and-a-half months into the season, the Renegades have had more than 20 roster moves. The latest was left-handed pitcher Josh Maciejewski, who was transferred to the Triple-A Scranton/Wilkes-Barre RailRiders after a short rehabilitation stint. The Renegades roster currently stands at the South Atlantic League maximum of 30 Active, 3 Injured List, and 1 Minor League rehab.

The most notable, of course, was the promotion of Aaron Palensky, who was leading the league in homeruns at the time he was called up to Double-A.

"It's not a place where you set down roots," manager Sergio Santos said with a smile.

"Look, it's a beautiful area with a beautiful ballpark and great fans," outfielder Spencer Jones said. "But the whole idea is to move up and move on."

Jones is the only Renegades player who has appeared in 50-plus games. At this level, the old baseball idiom is true. You can't tell the players without a scorecard.

It makes it more difficult for fans to follow the team.

"We're not selling baseball, per se," said general manager Tyson Jeffers. "We're selling the entertainment value of a night out with the family."

That's why you see so many promotions, giveaways, and such things as fireworks at minor league baseball games across the country. Hey, where else can you go to see a lady shot out of a cannon and watch a baseball game at the same time? Yes, in the past, the Renegades have hosted the Dynamite Lady, who shoots herself out of a cannon on the field.

"This is like a weigh station," Santos said. "Hopefully, it's another rung on the ladder. You can't become too attached to a place, no matter how great it is, at this level."

Just don't tell that to Wade Miley. The star reliever once pitched for the renegade before moving all the way up and eventually getting traded to the World Series champion Kansas City Royals. While he was here, however, he met a girl from Marlboro and got married.

Talk about becoming attached.

Renegades relief pitchers among the best in SAL

By Rich Thomaselli

Starting pitching is still the name of the game in baseball.

But the Hudson Valley Renegades have a second line of defense that is the best in the South Atlantic League (SAL).

“It’s good to have them back there,” starting picture Zack Messinger said of the team’s relievers. “If you have to come out of a close game, it’s a comfortable feeling and not one of trepidation.”

Leading the group for the Renegades are Harrison Cohen, Indigo Diaz, Clay Aguilar, and Nick Paciorek. The group recently led the bullpen to a 12 - day effort, in which they gave up no earned runs and had a 38-inning scoreless streak.

“I think it’s become a pride thing now,” Aguilar said.

Even reliever Chase Handlor, who has appeared in only nine games so far, leads the team with a 2.64 ERA.

The best thing about the relievers is the diversity among the staff. Some players throw hard, others are more nit-picky. Some have tremendous fastballs and some have great breaking stuff.

“Nobody knows what they’re going to get from us,” Cohen said.

Said manager Sergio Santos: “We are confident with whoever we throw out there.”

Harrison Cohen is one of the members of the Hudson Valley Renegades relief corps that has kept the opposition hitters guessing and recently produced a 38-inning scoreless streak.

Renegades close in on title for first half of league season

Jones promptly tied the game at one in the bottom of the first with a solo blast to right-center field, his ninth home run of the season, and third leadoff home run.

Hudson Valley took a 2-1 advantage in the sixth on an RBI double from Anthony Garcia that scored Cowles. The Renegades outfielder finished the night 2-for-3 with a pair of doubles and an RBI.

After Stephen Paolini led off the top of the eighth with a walk, Kevin Kilpatrick hit a go-ahead two-run home run to left field off Indigo Diaz to hand the lead back to Rome at 3-2.

Hudson Valley responded with a run in the bottom half of the frame on an infield single by Antonio Gómez after three of the first four hitters reached against Patrick Halligan. Diaz and Harrison Cohen navigated around two baserunners in the top of the ninth to set the stage for Cowles’ heroics.

Hudson Valley opened the six-game series with a 3-1 loss on Tuesday night but then bounced back with 4-2 and 4-3 wins the next two nights.

TYSON’S TIDBITS!

Preparing for the second half and listening to our customers

Editor’s note: Each week writer Rich Thomaselli and Hudson Valley Renegades General Manager Tyson Jeffers discuss the Renegades in particular and minor league baseball in general.

By the time people read this, we’ll be coming up on, or just be into the second half of the season. Is there a second half for management as well?

I think that line between seasons is impactful for us. We can compare our business side to last year and say, OK, ‘we accomplished this. We accomplished that. We have to improve on this,’ and so forth. Are we pacing the way we want to? Especially going into July and August, which are a lot different than April and

May. Hopefully we will have look back at the end of the year and say we had a successful season and right now that’s looking very promising.

Are there any memorable moments for you from the first half of this season?

I think opening night, because it was my first game as a general manager, and it was the night we rechristened the ballpark as Heritage Financial. Other things are just internal stuff like people hitting their goals, we’re very happy for them. And celebrating things that turn out to be successful that we spent a lot of time in planning.

What would you like to accomplish in the second half of the season? And what do you HAVE to accomplish?

What we have to continue to accomplish is one thing. We made it a point in the off season. We have to go into this year to really listen to our customers. So after every game, we tried to send them an email with a survey and ask them some questions to respond to. We made it a mission to give our customers a platform and a voice to talk to us. We rate each department based on that feedback. And sometimes we ask our department heads to give our customers a call. We want to better understand our customers so that we can make changes if needed. The second half gives us a chance to review and get better. It’s really important to listen to your fans.

Astor services expands reach, with mental & behavioral health services in Sullivan, Rockland counties

In an effort to meet the increasing mental health needs in communities across New York State, Astor Services recently announced an expansion into Rockland and Sullivan counties. The nonprofit organization, which has a 70-year footprint in the Hudson Valley and the Bronx, has opened an Adolescent Partial Hospitalization Program (PHP) in Rockland County, and numerous counseling centers and school-based programs throughout Sullivan County.

This news comes on the heels of Astor Services adding an Adult Care Management program early last year for Dutchess, Ulster and Orange County residents.

“Astor Services continuously assesses the needs of the communities we serve and remains committed to ensuring the spectrum of services we provide responds directly to those needs in a way that further strengthens families and communities,” said Yvette Bairan, CEO of Astor Services.

About the Adolescent Partial Hospitalization Program (PHP)

Astor Services received start-up funds from the New York State Office of Mental Health and Crisis & Hospital Diversion Programming to create the new PHP in Rockland County at the BOCES site at 131 N Midland Ave, Nyack, New York (at BOCES BERC Campus). The program is modeled after Astor’s existing PHP in Poughkeepsie, New York, which provides short-term intensive therapeutic treatment to youth 11 – 18 years old who are struggling at home, at school or in the community. The programs primarily use an evidence-based treatment model, Dialectic Behavioral Therapy (DBT), which has been shown to be effective for people of all ages.

The PHP can support a youth and their family at any point in their mental health and/or substance use treatment, whether it is their first time participating in services or they are transitioning from another program. The program helps youth learn to safely manage their emotions to prevent out-of-home placement to psychiatric hospitals and other residential programs.

About the Counseling Centers and School-based Programs

In Sullivan County, Astor will be opening a counseling center at the Family Services building in Liberty this summer. In addition, Astor is in conversations with the school districts throughout Sullivan County about school-based behavioral health services.

To learn more about any of these services, or to access support, email HudsonValleyReferrals@astorservices.org.

Bernie Williams and ‘His Band of Friends’ wow the crowd at Millbrook Vineyards

Former New York Yankees centerfielder and jazz music icon, Bernie Williams and “His Band of Friends” performed live at Millbrook Vineyards and Winery on Saturday, June 17, kicking off the winery’s 2023 Jazz Concert Series. Visitors to the sold-out show had the opportunity to taste and purchase Bernie’s Blend wines – a collection of wine that was created by Williams himself alongside Millbrook Winery’s winemaker, Ian Bearup. A portion of the wine sales proceeds will be donated to the NAMM Foundation’s SupportMusic Coalition, which unites non-profit organizations, schools, and businesses working to assure that music education is supported in communities everywhere, and that all children have the opportunity to learn and grow with music.

RCK baseball state champions - 2005, 2023

Coach, players describe traits, emotions and relationships

By Curtis Schmidt

The Roy C. Ketcham High School baseball program now has two New York State championship teams – 2005 and 2023.

We asked the coach of both teams, Pat Mealy, and players to comment on their state title teams and winning the state title. Here are their comments.

Here are their comments

“In the last week I have been asked a hundred times to compare both teams or asked which one is better.

“There truly is no answer to that. Each team was unique in its own way - both pitched ridiculously well. 2023 might have the edge defensively, while 2005 might have swung it better. However, the biggest trait that both teams shared was the fact that both teams HATED TO LOSE - more than they enjoyed winning. Both teams had leadership that held each other accountable and most importantly, both teams loved one another.

“Upon winning the state championship last week, it was great to hear from members of the 2005 team that were genuinely happy for the boys of 2023 as they shared in something that words would never be able to describe.

I realize how blessed and fortunate I am to have been part of these incredible journeys that culminated in state championships. I cherish the relationships I have had with all my players in all of my 22 seasons."

2005 state champs
Sean Paino

“I don’t know where to begin. I loved my team. I’m still best friends with a bunch of kids that were on the team. It was very special to have so many talented players on the same team and we were all such close friends. I feel like the talent was there, but what took us to the next level was the family atmosphere we had and the amazing coaching staff. We didn’t accept and expect to lose, which made us extremely dangerous. The depth we had in all aspects was amazing and made us so confident going into every game. As far as sports goes, I would say winning the 2005 state championship was the coolest experience I’ve ever had on a baseball field.”

Alec Cabello

"Making history with the Ketchikan Baseball 2005 program is a memory that we will always cherish and still talk about to this day. Every team strives to have the bond our group of guys had on and off the field, which allowed us to accomplish something really special."

Craig Marcellus

“The 2005 season was something that we all came into knowing it was our best chance to win a state title, probably going back to our little league days. We were so close on and off the field (that) everyone knew exactly what was needed from them and it made it so easy in pressure moments throughout the season.

"That team was the only one I have ever played on that had the ability to flip a switch mid-game whenever needed and take our game to the next level, which is really unique in a team sport. The best part of the whole process was we all had grown up playing sports with each other, so to have it all end with a state championship was really special.

Chris Daniels

“All I can say is we were on a different level than everyone else. We had lost only two games that year and we learned from every single one of those losses. The way our team worked was we just always knew what each other was thinking and where we would be, so it limited a lot of mistakes. We were always on the same page. There was no quit in that team and we had just lost to a walk-off home run the year before, so we had been there before, but just fell short. So I made it up in my mind if we get there next year I’m not letting us lose.”

2023 State Champs

Ryan Mealy

“My favorite memories from this state championship season are the little points of accountability we had. Every day that we came to practice, we all shared a common goal to get better every day and to end our season on a win.

"After our section and regional championship wins, not a single one of us felt a sense of accomplishment, because we knew what we wanted. After the state championship game, we all went back to Ketchikan that night as a team and finally felt that satisfaction of knowing we won the most we could win."

Connor Durkin

"This year was a roller-coaster of emotions on and off the field. The amount of hard work and determination we put into this year is second to none. Nobody will ever work harder than us and it showed when it mattered the most."

Michael Schiavone

"Winning the state championship meant everything to me. To put in countless hours of practice day-in and day-out and to be able to come out on top in my senior year is a dream come true."

Luke Picone

“Winning the 2023 state championship is a moment I will never forget. It was not an easy road to the championship, but every single guy on the team stayed focused and gave 100 percent every game. We were such a good team because we played for each other. No one will ever be able to take away the fact that we won the state championship and I do not think that anyone involved with us will ever forget that moment.”

Owen Paino

"The amount of support and encouragement we got throughout our trip up to Binghamton is something I have never seen before. Knowing that we had so many people behind us gave us a lot of confidence.

“The moment we won was also a feeling I will never forget. There was a whole bunch of emotions blended together, tears knowing that it was the last game of the season (and the last game with the seniors) but also knowing we were the 2023 New York State Champions brought the tears of joy.”

The Hudson Valley Volunteer Firefighters Association held its annual parade on June 17. This year the parade was held in West Glens Falls. The Hughsonville Fire Department and Lewis Tompkins Hose Company from the City of Beacon participated in this parade. The Lewis Tompkins Hose Company received two trophies. They were for 2nd best color guard and best appearing 38 and over bloused uniform. The Hughsonville FD received two trophies. One was for best appearing ladder and the other was for the third best appearing fire unit bloused uniform 20-26 in line.

Republican Primary in Wappinger June 27

projects, and even human resources issues. I have worked firsthand on these issues in government, and I know what works and what does not work for communities. A good leader doesn't need or expect to be the smartest in every room. A good leader brings together the best and brightest and is willing to listen and learn. This is a team effort, and I am so appreciative of the overwhelming support we have received so far.

What will your top 3 priorities be if elected?

Thurston:
To enhance the public safety and quality of life of our community. We have made great progress in bringing to Wappinger enhanced public health, safety, and protection of our residents, most especially our students. Our law enforcement, EMS, and fire company services are now second to none. Also, I have established significant relationships with leadership at the local, county, state, and federal levels, all of which I am able to channel into more prompt, effective and lasting results.

To continue to protect our environment, natural resources (especially water sources), parks, and farmlands. Protection of these resources has been a top priority throughout my term in office. We have made a lot of progress, but much more can be accomplished upon those successes including: passing a water source protection law; implementation of our 9 Element plans for both the Wappinger and Sprout Creeks; continuing to assist farmland owners to obtain protections against development, such as we have done at Obercreek.

To continue to expand our infrastructure including municipal water and sewer. We will continue to build out municipal water and sewer lines throughout our community through public/private partnership and federal/state/county grant funding.

What will your top 3 priorities be if elected?

Cavaccini:
We need to focus on restoring our community's trust and faith in our Town government. This is my hometown, and my goal has always been to make Wappinger a place you and your family are proud to live in. Priority needs to be given to enacting quality legislation that does not expose our residents to harmful projects.

Our families deserve better when it comes to our parks. We need to finish and act on projects such as the partially completed Spook Hill Park, or follow through on plans for all of our parks and facilities with clear priorities. We need to begin managing again.

The Town needs to hold contractors and government consultants accountable and not authorize hundreds of thousands in budget amendments each year for consultants. We need to uphold our Union contracts and not ignore good faith negotiations with our Highway Department. We need to get our Town back on the right track.

Why should people take part in this Primary Election?

Thurston:

Our registered Republicans need to turnout to vote for me to enable us to take this success through the Fall General Election. In addition to being the best person in Wappinger to fight against the serious threats emanating daily from Albany and New York City, I have already beaten this year's Democratic Party Candidate for Supervisor decisively. I am best positioned to beat her once again because of my undisputable track record of experience and success. And, as previously addressed during the 2021 General Election, I can successfully speak to the issues that we already know will be raised by the Democratic Party candidate. Local, grass roots elections are the bastion for protecting our democratic process and must be preserved by large voter turnouts. In advance, thank you for voting on June 27th.

Why should people take part in this Primary Election?

Cavaccini:
This is a true referendum for our Town. This is a chance for our residents to decide what kind of community they want to live in. I decided not to run for re-election to my seat in the Legislature, but to run for Town Supervisor to protect my hometown. I hate politics. I love this Town. This is not for political advancement, it's quite the opposite. This is to restore the accountability of our Town and to look out for our neighbors. I encourage all residents to take a look around Town and see what is going on. If you want to improve your parks for your children and grandchildren, stop the overdevelopment to protect your quality of life, to foster innovative development by filling our empty malls before we build new, and to restore accountability to your Town government; I would be honored to have your support on June 27.

Any misconception about yourself that is out there that you would like to clear up?

Thurston:
The principal misconception is that I should or can be easily replaced. Managing a $20,000,000+ annual budget is not something to take lightly. As my fellow Town Supervisors have noted, "this is YOUR money in which you entrust someone to handle as if it were their own – with care and caution." We are one of the largest communities in Dutchess County. "Leadership is about getting things done consistently during both good and bad times." This is what it takes to run a community of 30,000 people – experience.

Any misconception about yourself that is out there that you would like to clear up?

Cavaccini:
This isn't personal, this campaign is about doing what is best for Wappinger. To address the childish attacks, mailers, and advertisements that attack my character; would just give them credence. I have dedicated over 10 years of my life to this community because I love it here and the people of this community deserve a Town Supervisor who will act, listen, and get things done.

gested, “Stay true to yourself, be intentional with your friendships, and stay committed to your aspirations!”

Adrianna Zayas, Salutatorian
Adrianna said when she found out she was salutatorian of the class, “I felt a lot of joy! I loved the thought of it. I feel like I worked very hard to gain this. I did that!”
Adrianna said, “I will miss all of my favorite teachers, especially Mrs. North, Mrs. Aguado, and Ms. DiStefano.”
Adrianna plans on attending Dutchess Community College to study childhood education “with the goal of owning and operating my own daycare.”
“My advice [for incoming high school students] would be to show up and do your work. Don’t take anything personal. What people say is a reflection of them and you have power in your reaction. The only way through is to try and the only way to try is by doing! Best of luck in school and life!”

Leobandung, Schuchat top of class of John Jay High School

Nathan Leobandung

By Kristine Coulter
The 2023 valedictorian and salutatorian of John Jay High School (JJHS), in the Wappingers Central School District, are Nathan Leobandung and Cassidy Schuchat respectively.

Nathan Leobandung, Valedictorian
“I knew I was doing well in my classes, but I didn’t pay too much attention to my rank. When I heard the news, it was a pleasant surprise and I was glad to see that my hard work had paid off,” Nathan said when asked about hearing he was valedictorian.
As for what he will miss about JJHS, Nathan said, “I will definitely miss the connections I had with my friends and teachers. Everything from joking with my classmates to quick hallway interactions were things that made my high school experience at John Jay enjoyable.”

Nathan said he will be attending UCLA this fall for electrical engineering.
“I’m excited for the change in setting and being able to narrow down my focus on something I’m passionate about. I’ll miss my friends from Jay, but I look forward to making connections with new people.”
As for advice he has for students starting their high school careers in September, Nathan said, “High school may seem stressful, but you all have the capability to do well and succeed. Take advantage of all the resources at John Jay and use them to explore your interests both in and out of the classroom. And don’t forget to enjoy your time at Jay! I’ve made lots of friends here, and I’ll carry the memories I made with them forever.”
Nathan said to his teachers and family, “Thank you for everything you’ve done for me over the years. I know this sounds cheesy, but I couldn’t have done it without all the support and guidance from both my family and my teachers. I’m very grateful to my parents and my brother for being there during every step of the way.”
He added, “Thank you to everyone who’s helped me on my journey from kindergarten to graduation. It’s been fun, and I’m excited to see what we all will achieve.”

Cassidy Schuchat, Salutatorian
Cassidy said what she would miss about her high school days, “I’m going to miss all of the small, tight-knit, separate groups of people

Cassidy Schuchat

I have here. I know that once I leave John Jay, I’m going to feel the absence of not only my lacrosse girls, but also the yearbook squad, and even the science research seniors. All these different people that Jay exposed and connected me to are going to shape how I interact with people for the rest of my life, but I’ll miss the idiosyncrasies of each group.”
Cassidy recalled finding out she was at the top of her class. “I found out I was at the top of my class during freshman year, and although I had been working extremely hard and competing with myself throughout the previous years, I never expected to be within the top three. I couldn’t really wrap my head around the achievement, but I knew that I loved it; it felt like a small recognition of everything I had been doing and a reward for pushing myself, and I wanted to make the rank stick. I never really considered myself one of the “top students,” so the label provided self-confidence and motivation. For the first time, I wanted to prove my intellect to myself.”
Cassidy was asked what advice she has for students just beginning high school in the 2024-2025 school year. “My best advice would be to stay on top of things, don’t let assignments or to-do lists pile up; but, always have something outside of school to look forward to. That way, even if it feels like the entirety of Monday was spent doing homework or even a single project, Thursday night volleyball or Wednesday afternoon card games is enough to get through it.”
Cassidy will be attending Vassar College in the fall as a Psychology major. “I hope to declare either a double major or minor once I’m in college, but I’m remaining broad for now until I get to officially experience college classes,” she said.
“I’m looking forward to being exposed to completely new experiences, opportunities, and people. I want to expand my horizons and I’m excited to see how the newfound independence will translate into my life,” remarked Cassidy.
Asked if she had any words she wanted to say to her teachers and family, Cassidy replied, “Thank you for the laughs and connections outside of my schoolwork; the relationships I’ve formed throughout high school mean just as much to me as my successes in the classroom.”

Robert P. Galloway

BEACON - Robert P. Galloway, a longtime Beacon resident, passed away peacefully with his family by his side on Sunday, June 11, 2023 at the Kaplan Hospice in Newburgh, NY; at the age of 89. He was born in Dumbarton, Scotland on July 3, 1933, son of the late Samuel & Alice (Stewart) Galloway. On May 25, 1968, he married Christine Livingstone back in their native land of Scotland; the two met at a bar in Queens, NY, and from there fell in love... Happily married for 51-years, until Christine predeceased him on July 21, 2019. He was a communicant of the St. Joachim-St. John the Evangelist Church in Beacon.

Prior to emigrating to the US, Robert served in the British Army as part of the Seaforth Highlanders, 1st Battalion serving Gibraltar. Upon completing his tour in the Army, he returned to Scotland and began his five-year apprenticeship as a painter. When he finished his apprenticeship, he began his career in painting as a ship painter.

In 1962, he made the move to come to the US and as the story goes, he began working immediately as a union painter. Career wise he eventually went into business with his partner, David Sullivan, creating Old Firm Contracting.

After retiring, he and Christine became avid travelers adventuring around the globe. With this family being his first passion, the other was soccer. Robert was proud to have been a founding member Beacon Soccer Club and has continuously been involved in soccer since coming to the US. If there was soccer being played in Beacon, you were guaranteed to see him there. He enjoyed his years of coaching in Beacon and at Dutchess Community College, after they asked for his help in revitalizing their program. His favorite players ever called him Gramps and he found such joy in watching/coaching his grandsons and his great-grandchildren. Along with his passions, he was very proud of his Scottish roots and was a member of the Dutchess County Scottish Society

Robert is survived by his daughter and son-in-law: Jacqueline and Dimas Arroyo of Beacon; His two grandsons, Robert (Caitlin) Arroyo and Dimas (Erena) Arroyo; and his five great-grandchildren, all whom he adored: Brayden, Alexander, Autumn, Brielle and McKenna Christine Arroyo. He is also survived by his four brothers Harry, Stewart, Samuel & Andrew Galloway; his brother-in-law James Larson; sister-in-law Jane Livingstone; numerous nieces and nephews, who he also adored and countless friends who became family. A special thank you to the caregivers he had over the past few years, Valrie, Marjorie, and Joe and Ashley Vargas.

Along with his wife Christine and his parents, Robert was predeceased by one brother Peter Galloway.

His Family gathered with Friends on Thursday, June 15 at the LIBBY FUNERAL HOME, 55 Teller Avenue, Beacon. A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated on Friday, June 16 at St. Joachim Church, 51 Leonard Street, Beacon, followed by interment at St. Joachim Cemetery, 325 Washington Avenue, Beacon.

In lieu of flowers his family has asked for memorial donations to be made in Robert's name to either the Michael J. Fox Parkinson's Foundation, P.O. Summer feasts

You don't have to get away to enjoy a special meal that showcases seasonal ingredients.

Now that it's summer, I say we celebrate it in all its balmy, sun-drenched glory, making the most of all that daylight and the sultry evenings that follow. It's a season that comes with an open invitation to make an occasion of just wanting to share food al fresco. Since it's generally too hot to cook you can easily put together a simple but party-worthy spread with farm-fresh produce and store-bought accompaniments for one or two or a crowd, no fuss necessary. So let's get ready to enjoy the simple yet sumptuous season that is summer, any way we can, any time we can.

In fact you don't need a holiday or special occasion or faraway place this time of year at all, really just a place to sit and relax awhile: front porch, backyard, riverside, poolside, beach, really wherever you are. Getting away to a fancy resort or out to a fancy restaurant are, of course, the stuff of great vacations but when you can't get away, sitting outside with a cocktail and summery nosh after a long work day can feel pretty decadent. It's those stolen moments to relax that can be special and maybe the best way to treat yourself as you take some precious time to unwind.

Since it's summer, the living is easy and that includes the food we eat ad the way we eat it. The season's food is fresh and colorful and can be arranged simply at the last minute for entertaining or an impromptu after work treat on a sultry weeknight. You can literally throw together a platter or two in minutes if you already have "party food" on hand. Presentation can be simple and spontaneous as well. Heaping platters, cutting boards and bowls with colorful foods makes for edible centerpieces that encourage conversation. Garnishing with edible flowers and fresh herbs not only fits the season but is adds flavor as well as a special touch.

I like to keep picnic baskets at the ready, stocked with pretty vintage plates, linen napkins, knives and spreaders so they're easy to grab on the way out the door to the backyard or a short trip to the river. That way I never have to take extra time hunting for what I need. What could be simpler than tossing in a loaf of bread, cured meats, cheese and fresh fruit, all you really need for a lovely little meal that's also satisfying. And if you keep some wine, beer and sparkling water chilling at all times you're ready for anything anytime the mood strikes. After all, spontaneity is the epitome of summer. Living in the moment doesn't need an elaborate plan.

Ideally I like a mixture of fresh and prepared foods, made all the easier this time of year with all the produce that's locally in season. Luscious wedges of melon wrapped in prosciutto, fresh halved figs with gorgonzola, baby arugula, grilled eggplant and baby zucchini, herbed cheese-stuffed squash blossoms, cherry tomatoes, roasted beets ad peppers, radishes, whole baby rainbow carrots, sliced Kirby cucumbers, sugar snap peas, heirloom tomatoes and strawberries drizzled with balsamic glaze are all excellent choices that are available now or soon will.

To me there's no better way to make the most of a blissful summer than being ready for all those spontaneous opportunities, most a stone's throw from – or in – my backyard. There are concerts on park lawns, poolside cocktail parties and fireside wine and cheese. One of my favorite things is to sit on the front porch and watch the light show a thunderstorm provides. Last summer the neighbors treated us to outdoor movie nights, complete with popcorn and candy. And there's a lot to be said for relaxing in a lounge chair after dinner with lanterns lit and a cool drink for as long as you can keep the mosquitos at bay.

You don't need me to tell you how to enjoy summer. For me, summer nights are made for eating lighter and fresher, grazing on a variety of things as you wile away the lingering hours with laughter and conversation, friends, food and some liquid refreshment. And really, when I think about it, what we do while we eat isn't as important as just enjoying the moment and savoring the beautiful, blissful, balmy summer days and nights as long as we can before they're gone. Give yourself permission to kick off your shoes, relax and savor every alluring bit of it. Enjoy!

Catching Up with Ron

The long and winding road to legalized marijuana sales in New York State

What a difference a day makes. Or in this case, four years. When I last visited Ron Spadafora in March of 2019, he had just received his research license to grow CBD hemp, the version of cannabis with no intoxicating effects. Over the next couple of years, something akin to the California Gold Rush materialized, as dozens of Hudson Valley farmers jumped into the CBD business. Some, like Ron, had been growing hops, others had tried industrial hemp, and a few were onion farmers, all looking to the new crop to save their farms from possible insolvency.

At first an ounce of CBD oil sold for $3,000, but it didn't take long for the bottom to fall out of the market. Growers were stuck with barns full of dried hemp, and you could buy CBD oil at every gas station.

New York State legalized THC marijuana – the kind you can smoke to get “high” – in March 2021, with a promise to begin opening “recreational pot” dispensaries. For a couple of years it was legal to smoke marijuana, but illegal to grow it, buy it, or transport it across state lines. (So where did the pot you were smoking come from?) The state government was supposedly rolling out a plan to award pot shop licenses to people who had been convicted of a marijuana related offense, in the interests of social justice. Until they got sued by farmers and corporations who argued that the state’s scenario was ridiculous.

Last November a judge blocked most of the state’s roll out plans. Right now only a handful of N.Y. legal recreational dispensaries (similar to Theory Wellness, the long time shop in Great Barrington, MA) are in operation, one each in Albany, Ithaca and Syracuse, and five in New York City.

Meanwhile, New York is granting something called an Adult Use Conditional Cultivator (AUCC) License to farmers who’ve been growing CBD hemp for at least two years. 285 AUCC licenses have been granted so far (13 in Dutchess County), and the same scenario is unfolding again, only this time it’s a glut of smokeable THC marijuana.

Once again, Ron got in on the ground floor, with AUCC license #5, for Spadefarm LLC. Since this is not his first rodeo, Ron is taking it slow, developing his farm at a pace just active enough to maintain the licensing requirements. And what a pile of requirements! I had to sign a log book just to walk onto the farm’s property. Every transplant that is set out on his one-acre plot, which is surrounded by an eight-foot fence and a locked gate, has to be coded with an individual numbered tag. Ron has to document the tray number, bed number, and date of harvest. Every step requires time, money, and resources. Cameras are kept in good working order.

Ron told me that he was inspected by the Office of Cannabis Management. They went over his records and inspected every leaf, with no violations.

Meanwhile, there are probably hundreds of gigantic marijuana plants growing in people’s back yards.

The state has budgeted money to crack down on the illegal sale of marijuana. (Wait a minute – aren’t those the same people who are supposed to be first in line to get legal licenses?)

Ron Spadafora is enduring this sound and fury in the hope that one day the cultivation of adult use cannabis will become a profitable business. “We are building the plane as we fly it,” he says.

I predict that when this all shakes out, you’ll see small growers producing “artisanal” product, similar to the farm breweries we see today. Already a debate is raging about marijuana grown in warehouses with artificial lights vs. field grown cannabis. Ron is growing an “autobloom” variety in a wide range of day lengths, so he can grow it outdoors.

If this doesn't work out, you might see another article about Ron growing the Next Big Thing.

Maybe crickets.

Ron Spadafora with the next Big Thing.

Customized historic property plaques available from Beacon Historical Society

In order to raise awareness of Beacon's historical building stock and to salute property owners who steward these important structures, the Beacon Historical Society now offers businesses and homeowners with buildings that are a century or older the opportunity to purchase a customized Beacon Historical Society Historic Property plaque. To launch the program, officials unveiled the first marker on June 14 at the c. 1709 Madam Brett Homestead on Van Nydeck Avenue, which is owned by the Melzingah Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

“As caretakers for the oldest building in Dutchess County, we were honored to purchase the inaugural marker in this new program,” said Nancy Osoba Giordano, Regent of Melzingah Chapter. “Since 1954, we have undertaken the responsibility to not only maintain the house but also share its important history here in our community. As an organization, we’re committed to historic preservation, and so we are particularly pleased that this new plaque illustrates the role we play as the oldest building in Beacon, as well.”

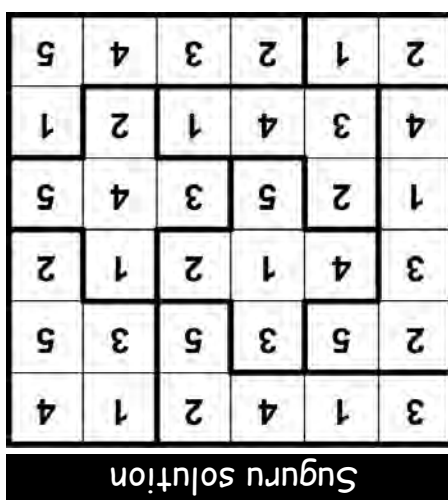

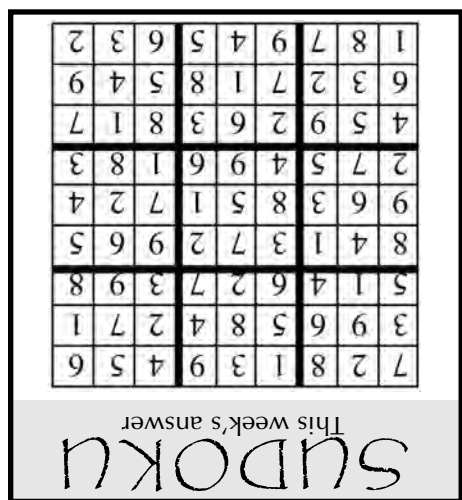

Every structure within the Beacon City School District is eligible to purchase one of the Historic Property Plaques, providing the building is 100 years or older. The oval plaques are 6x8 inches and come in aluminum ($250) or bronze ($350). The property owner is responsible for installing the plaque (with provided hardware). Delivery takes about eight weeks once the order is placed.

“Participants will need to submit a simple, easy-to-complete, one-page application form and provide information regarding the history of the building, including photos if available, with their check. We also hope this information will enable us to bolster our collection about the history of our residential, commercial and industrial buildings for the benefit of future researchers and owners,” said Denise Doring VanBuren, Society President. “We should all be so proud of the history that makes Beacon such a great place to be, and we’re hoping to show off some of that ‘pride of place’ through this program.”

Email BeaconHistorical@gmail.com for more information and a copy of the application form.

You should be extremely careful about any such promises and any suggestions that you pay them a fee or sign over your deed.
