Construction continues on a new facility off Route 52 in East Fishkill, where the former IBM West Campus was, near John Jay High School in East Fishkill. The facility, near Amazon on Patriot Way, will house Stellantis.

"This was the goal. This was the Town of East Fishkill's comprehensive plan's goal. We made it clear from the very beginning we wanted large corporations to come here," said East Fishkill Supervisor Nicholas D'Alessandro.

According to the company's website, "Stellantis is a constellation of 14 iconic automotive brands and two mobility arms that are about more than transportation: they're about moving people and making connections." The statement about the company continues, "We are leading the charge in electrification and software development, with cutting-edge technologies at the heart of our products and services."

"With a community of more than 160 nationalities, industrial operations in more than 30 countries and customers in more than 130 markets, we are among the most diverse companies in the world and able to unite people and ideas across borders and cultures. Our passionate, talented, and diverse teams support our iconic brands in providing freedom of mobility tailored to every need," it states on the company's website.

"They understand that we have a very diverse group of workers in this region," said D'Alessandro. The supervisor also noted the Interstate 84 corridor is also important to attract businesses to the town.

There are a minimum of 100 jobs that will come to the facility, said D'Alessandro. UAW workers, Ford, General Motors and Stellantis, voted to ratify their new contracts, locking in

Firefighting Museum will be new addition to DC Fair

By Curtis Schmidt

Every great idea has a significant start. And it always helps to have a strong collaborating partner. That's what is happening with the Firefighting Museum of Dutchess County.

It's been a long road since four volunteer firefighters hatched the idea over breakfast in 2008. However, organizing leaders Kyle Pottenburg and Dewitt Sagendorph can now point to an iconic building as their "significant start." It will be the newest addition to the Century Museum Village at this year's Dutchess County Fair, set Aug. 20-25.

The Firefighter's Museum is designed to resemble a historic firehouse - circa 1900 - where both permanent and rotating exhibits will be kept within the firehouse. The museum showcases the rich history of firefighting, featuring displays and collections of incredible artifacts, tools, mementos, vehicles and firefighting apparatus from throughout Dutchess County.

It's an ideal fit in the Village that includes the main Antique Museum Building with a variety of displays, plus the Working Blacksmith Shop & Gas Powered Engine Show, Bentley One-Room Schoolhouse, Pleasant Valley Historic Train Station, Judging Pavilion from Washington Hollow and the Working Sugar House and Cider Mill.

Sagendorph and Andy Imperati, President/CEO of the Dutchess County Agricultural Society, were beaming with excitement last week as they toured the "almost complete" building that will welcome many historic firefighting apparatus from the "turn of the century."

“This is our beginning. We’re thrilled to share and celebrate the history of where and how fire service started in Dutchess County,” said Sagendorph. “But we are firefighters, so true to our mission, we also want to provide a unique fire safety experience.”

Imperati commented, “Conversations between the Firefighting Museum of Dutchess County and the Agricultural Society began quite a few years ago, about a permanent, year-round firefighter’s museum at the Fairgrounds. The purpose of this building is to showcase antique firefighting equipment, raise awareness about who they are and what they do. Ultimately, we could not provide the space they were looking for to accommodate a year-round use facility. Together, we came up with a plan to build a seasonal museum that seamlessly integrates with our existing Antique Museum Village that is visited by thousands annually.”

The building itself is designed to depict a rural farm structure, complete with a tower that would have been used to hang and dry hoses after they were washed by hand. Sagendorph described leather fire helmets, buckets and even an antique alarm system that will be on display along with more recognizable items, such as hand-drawn hose carts, horse-drawn hand pumpers and ladder wagons.

Local history buffs will be able to find old photos, banners and video displays from fire department parades and social events, which were held at fire houses around 1900. Many of the items to be on display are courtesy of the Dutchess County Historical Society.

Sagendorph also thanked the Board of Directors of the Dutchess County Agricultural Society, which operates the Fair. “We want to thank them for the confidence they have shown in us to meet our goals in this endeavor and for their guidance,” he said. “We’ve been working with them since 2015 and we look forward to continuing the relationship that provides what we see as an important and interesting venue for Fair patrons.”

Not 1,300 dwellings at Downstate; Make it ‘Vet City’

To the Editor:

Since the surprise announcement that Governor Hochul wants to force 1,300 units on the Downstate property off Red Schoolhouse Road, I feel I need to get out in the open a concept I have been having for the property.

Now, I have not had time to develop this “concept,” nor share it until now. But first, your Town Board is resolutely against the Governor’s proposal. What we prefer on the site are permanent jobs. A chip manufacturer from Taiwan looked at the site as a possible location in the U.S. From my understanding, they learned the governor wanted housing there, so they left New York for (I think) Texas.

Back to my concept. How many times have you heard politicians proclaim they support our Veterans. Well, Governor, this is your real chance. What if you took Downstate and totally re-re-imagined it into a Vet City. Yes, housing, but limited. But a safe and dignified space for Veterans who may be homeless and where they could live, eat, walk in a park. There could even be a walk-in clinic, but with Castle Point VA Medical facility close by this makes Vet City even more attractive.

Still re-re-imagining, what if there was onsite therapy along with job training. I mean, this could be a state of the art one-stop for our homeless Vets from around the region. To aid with the concept, look at the Youth Opportunity Union that Dutchess County proposed. Maybe not the best example, but it helps to conceptualize. Vet City. It just sounds right somehow. Vet City. It would require re-re-imagining, Governor and certainly the town needs input from our citizens. Just felt I needed to get this out there. Thanks for reading.

Sheriff’s Office: New Jersey men charged in connection with scam

The Dutchess County Sheriff’s Office reports the arrests of Vivek B. Shingarakhia, 24, and Kishan Gajera, 31, both of Jersey City NJ, in connection with the investigation into a phone scam that was reported to the Sheriff’s Office on June 19.

On the above date the complainants reported to Sheriff’s Deputies that they suspected they had been targeted in a scam. The complainants reported that they had been contacted via phone on June 18 by someone posing as law enforcement from the Treasury Department, who informed them that they would be arrested on drug trafficking charges unless they paid $27,000. Through further investigation by the Sheriff’s Office’s Road Patrol, Detective Bureau, and Special Operations Bureau Mr. Shingarakhia and Mr. Gajera were identified and taken into custody on June 19 in connection with the call and alleged scheme.

At this time both defendants have been charged with attempted grand larceny third degree (felony) and conspiracy 5th degree (misd). After being processed both were released on appearance tickets returnable to the Town of LaGrange Court on July 16.

As with any criminal case the charges described above are merely accusations and both defendants are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law.

Scams are ways in which criminals will attempt to get money from people by contacting them and making up elaborate stories. In some cases the perpetrators have tried, sometimes successfully, to use the victim’s emotions about a loved one in trouble to get money. It’s common for the perpetrators of these scams to try to get money by telling people that one of their relatives has been seriously hurt or is in jail, and that they need money right away. In many cases they will pose as a law enforcement official or another relative to try and convince the victim that it’s legitimate.

The Sheriff’s Office would like to offer the following tips to help people avoid these scams:

If you’re contacted by someone you don’t know asking for money, for any reason, that’s a signal that it’s most likely a scam. Additionally if someone you don’t know contacts you and also asks you to keep the matter confidential and not tell anyone, it’s even more suspicious and most definitely a scam.

Legitimate law enforcement would not solicit money as an attempt to satisfy a warrant or avoid prosecution.

If you receive an email about an order you didn’t place or asking you to send money call the company using a legitimate number. DO NOT follow the instructions in the email, click on any links in the email, or call the number provided in the email.

If someone asks you to purchase merchandise, transfer money, provide bank information, or enter a code given to you by them use caution as it is likely a scam.

Do not meet up with someone that you don’t know; if you’re asked to do this it is surely a scam, and it is very dangerous as well.

If someone calls you and tells you that a relative has been hurt or is in jail, confirm it first before sending any money. Call other relatives or a legitimate law enforcement agency for confirmation before any money is sent. If they’re posing as a relative, try and contact that relative for confirmation.

Sending money overseas is especially risky; use extreme caution.

Ask the person for their call back number and ask to speak to their supervisor to confirm the info; if it’s a scam they will most likely hang up at this point and the number they give you will be bogus.

If the person is telling you that a loved one is in the hospital or jail, find out which one and contact the institution yourself to confirm.

If a loved one has recently passed away be wary; in some cases perpetrators have even preyed on victims by searching through the obituaries and calling surviving loved ones. If you get calls from people you don’t know soon after someone passes away, be careful and confirm it before you send any money.

In some cases someone will call and tell the victim that they’ve won money, but to “process the claim” they need to first send money. Beware this is most definitely a scam and don’t send any money – you should never have to pay money to claim a prize. If it seems too good to be true, it most likely is.

If there’s any doubt about a phone call/email/letter you’ve received contact the Sheriff’s Office before sending any money.

Scams tend to increase during the holiday season, be especially alert for them during those times.

It is very important to not send any money to anyone that you don’t know until you’ve confirmed the situation through an independent source and feel comfortable with it. If it’s a scam once the money is sent it’s very difficult, and most times impossible, to get it back.

If anyone thinks they may have been the victim of a scam they are encouraged to contact the Sheriff’s Office at 845-486-3800 or via the tipline at 845-605-CLUE or dcsoטיפs@gmail.com.

Miles of Hope sponsors camp for children of breast cancer survivors, patients

The Miles of Hope Breast Cancer Foundation will sponsor Camp Lighthouse for children who have a mother with breast cancer or have lost their mother to the disease at The Omega Institute in Rhinebeck, from August 25-28.

Camp is free-of-charge to Hudson Valley residents. In 20 years, the Miles of Hope Breast Cancer has given away over $3.6 million dollars to people affected by breast cancer within the nine counties of the Hudson Valley.

According to Miles of Hope Executive Director Pari Forood, the campers are in a safe, nurturing and fun-loving environment. Through activities that are carefully organized by the highly skilled staff, the children are given opportunities to talk about their individual situations.

“Breast cancer is the common bond for these children and as with any support group, this lessens their feelings of isolation, or of feeling different,” she said.

“Having a parent with breast cancer can be frightening and overwhelming. Many of the medical procedures like surgery, radiation and chemotherapy leave a parent absent, ill and exhausted. Children are sometimes without the parent they relied on.”

According to Forood, there are also few resources for these children to experience something that is about them and for them.

“It is our belief that through deep listening and understanding, we will help each child develop individual strategies for coping. We also believe that the children will offer much needed support to one another,” she said. “The mission of the camp is to equip each child with coping tools so that they will leave camp feeling less isolated and more supported. And most importantly, that their hearts will indeed be lightened.”

Hochul announces funding to support education and support services for children with autism

On June 17, Governor Kathy Hochul announced capital funding for the Anderson Center for Autism. The $3 million capital funding commitment will help to rebuild an historic, 11,000-square-foot carriage house at the Anderson Center’s Staatsburg campus, and also address the workforce shortage in education, health care and behavioral health.

“As a mom, it is heartbreaking to think about a child alone, struggling and unable to get the care and support they need,” Governor Hochul said. “This funding will help the Anderson Center for Autism to continue to provide education, support and outreach services, as well as help children with autism build the skills they need to connect with the world and live healthy, independent, productive lives.”

The Anderson Center for Autism hosts a year-round residence and school for approximately 250 children with moderate to severe symptoms of autism. The Center also administers education, support, outreach services and information aimed at delivering assistance and increasing opportunities for inclusion for families, the autism community and public organizations. Additionally, the Anderson Center for Autism provides professional team administers programs that comprehensively address each individual’s educational, emotional and social needs in a proactive and positive manner.

The $3 million capital funding will be used to fully rebuild an historic, 11,000-square-foot carriage house called “Dellinwood,” which will be renamed to “New Dellinwood” upon completion. The carriage house will house Anderson programs currently being developed to help address the workforce shortage in education, health care and behavioral health. The design of New Dellinwood will include indoor and outdoor multipurpose training and conference spaces, a trainee clinical, medical and dental skills practice rooms and a living classroom for visitors who want to see what it looks like to create an autism supportive environment. In April 2024, the Anderson Center launched a fundraising campaign for the capital improvement project.

The Anderson Center for Autism Executive Director and CEO Patrick D. Paul said, “We want to thank Governor Kathy Hochul for visiting the Anderson Center for Autism today. We would also like to thank her for the impactful grant we received to support the building of New Dellinwood, a location which will be instrumental in training professionals of the future in supporting neurodiverse and autistic individuals.”

The Anderson Center for Autism accommodates preschool, children’s and adult’s services throughout the Hudson Valley. Anderson Early Learning Academy is a state approved program that provides children ages three to five opportunities to learn in an environment that is developmentally appropriate and teaches the skills needed to be successful in kindergarten. The Center also provides educational, residential, recreational and life skills services to child with autism ages five to 21. Additionally, the Center provides various adult supportive services such as the day habilitation program, the community integration group and a residential program.

New York State Office of Children and Family Services Commissioner Dr. DaMia Harris-Madden said, “By investing in the rehabilitation of this facility, there is a resounding message that our children and families are supported here in New York State. We thank Governor Kathy Hochul for having the foresight to help fund valuable services for our vulnerable children, particularly those with autism. The benefits of this investment will be evidenced socially, emotionally, physically, and educationally.”

New York State Office for People With Developmental Disabilities Commissioner Kerri Neifeld said, “OPWDD applauds Governor Hochul’s commitment to this exciting initiative and to ensuring that school-aged youth with developmental disabilities receive the support they need to thrive. Autism is the fastest growing diagnosis in the field of developmental disability, especially in children. By providing these youth with the supports they need at an early age, New York is ensuring that they have the building blocks to live independent lives and fully participate in their communities as adults.”

State Senator Michelle Hinchey said, “The Anderson Center is an incredible organization dedicated to building a Hudson Valley where everyone belongs. They ensure that our friends and family with disabilities have safe places to learn and exciting opportunities to carve out their own paths within our workforce and the wider community. We’re thrilled about this new capital funding for the Staatsburg campus and the support it will bring to ensuring the contributions of our neighbors with disabilities are honored and valued. We thank Governor Hochul for championing this important funding.”

Assemblymember Didi Barrett said, “Anderson Center for Autism has been a pioneer in caring and innovative approaches to service delivery and education for those on the spectrum and their families. I thank Governor Hochul for her support of this important initiative to transform this historic building into a much-needed workforce development and training center here in the Hudson Valley.”

County Executive Sue Serino said, “We are grateful to Governor Hochul for this investment and her focus on behavioral health. All too often, those with the greatest needs left behind. Funding for this innovative project will not only support those served by the Anderson Center, but also help secure the needed workforce for our future.”

In the South Atlantic League North, teams are competing over the next 66 games to determine who faces the Greensboro Grasshoppers in the SAL North Division Championship Series. Game 1 will be hosted by the second half champion, while Games 2 and 3 (if necessary) will take place in Greensboro.
- ROSTER MOVES: The New York Yankees have announced the following roster moves affecting the Hudson Valley Renegades: ADD -- Catcher Antonio Gomez returned from Minor League Rehab Assignment with Tampa, reinstated from the 60-day Injured List. Gomez will wear No. 9. DELETE -- Catcher Rafael Flores transferred to Double-A Somerset Patriots. The Renegades roster stands at 28 active and 7 Injured List. There have now been more than 20 roster moves involving the Renegades through the first two months of the season.
- HOME SWEET HOME I: Hudson Valley has a favorable second-half schedule, including a stretch where it plays 18 of 24 games at Heritage Financial Park at the end of July continuing through the third week of August.
- HOME, SWEET HOME II: Sebastian Keane continued his tremendous success at Heritage Financial Park on Wednesday night, tossing six scoreless innings while striking out five. The right-hander retired 17 of the last 19 batters he faced, earning his fourth quality start of the season. For the fifth consecutive time, Keane threw at least 5.2 frames at home. Keane has allowed just six combined earned runs in his last 30.2 innings at home, good for a 1.80 ERA.

- LIMITING HITS: Hudson Valley pitchers have allowed only 473 hits through 72 games. The Renegades have allowed the second-fewest hits in MiLB, trailing only the Carolina Mudcats (A, MIL). Incredibly, the Lansing Lugnuts (OAK, A+) have allowed a staggering 649 hits through 72 games, most among all non-AAA teams.
- LEFTY PUNCHOUTS: Ben Shields was dominant on Friday night, matching his career-high with nine strikeouts in 5.1 scoreless innings. The southpaw didn't allow a hit until the sixth inning, and only allowed two baserunners to reach safely in his entire outing. In his last two starts, Shields has struck out eighteen batters and allowed one run on five hits. Since joining the rotation in the middle of May, the 25-year-old has struck eight or more batters on four separate occasions. Shields has recorded 12.2 K/9 this season.

RENEGADES ROUNDUP

Renegades start 2nd half strong with four wins over Wilmington

By Rich Thomaselli

The Hudson Valley Renegades got off to a strong start for the second half of their season –after failing to catch the Greensboro Grasshoppers who won the first half title in the Northern Division of the South Atlantic League.

The Renegades, the Class A affiliate of the New York Yankees, won four of their first five games against the Wilmington Blue Rocks, a farm team of the Philadelphia Phillies, and are 5-3 on the season. Sunday’s game was postponed due to rain.

Hudson Valley is playing a home-home series against Brooklyn this week, with Tuesday and Wednesday games at Brooklyn and Thursday, Friday and Saturday games at Heritage Financial Park. Thursday night’s game will feature July 4th fireworks after the game.

The Renegades started the second half of the season last Tuesday when they received an excellent performance from their bullpen in a 3-2 win over the Blue Rocks. After 35 pitches for Baron Stuart in the first inning, he settled in nicely, retiring 10 of the last 13 batters he faced. Stuart struck out three in 4.1 innings.

The Renegades’ bullpen was tremendous behind Stuart. Trent Sellers was the winning pitcher, providing 2.2 scoreless innings while allowing just one hit and striking out three. Mason Vinyard relieved Sellers and got the last six outs without allowing a hit to earn the save.

In the first, Viandel Pena and Kevin Made reached on a pair of walks. Jared McKenzie doubled to score Pena and put Made at third. Made came home on a sacrifice fly by Gavin Dugas to make it 2-0 Wilmington.

Back-to-back doubles in the bottom of the first from Roc Riggio and Jared Serna cut the lead to 2-1. Garrett Martin led off the fourth with a double for the Renegades. He reached third on a Josh Moylan single, and scored on a Brenny Escanio sacrifice fly to tie the score at 2-2. In the fifth Serna reached on an infield single and got to third after a throwing error by pitcher Luke Farrell. An RBI single by Jace Avina put the Renegades in front 3-2.

On Wednesday, it was another brilliant pitching performance as Hudson Valley recorded a 5-0 win. Sebastian Keane was masterful, tossing six scoreless innings. After escaping a second-and-third, one out jam first inning, Keane (6-5) was outstanding the rest of the way as he retired 17 of the last 19 batters he faced. The right-hander tossed 6.0 scoreless innings and struck out five batters without issuing a walk, earning his fourth quality start of the season. For his fifth consecutive time at home, Keane threw at least 5.2 frames.

After a loss on Thursday, Hudson Valley bounced right back with a 6-2 victory on Friday. Ben Shields continued his run of strong pitching, tossing 5.1 scoreless innings and carrying a no-hitter into the sixth. He struck out nine batters for his second straight start, matching his career-high set last Saturday at Greensboro. In three of his last four starts, Shields (3-2) has thrown 5.0-or-more innings and allowed one-or-fewer runs. The lone hit he allowed was a leadoff single by T.J. White in the sixth inning. The Renegades took the lead in the bottom of the second when Moylan singled and Garrett Martin walked against Luke Young (2-8). Christopher Familia then crushed a three-run homer to right-center to give the Renegades a 3-0 lead. In the bottom of the third Hudson Valley added to its lead on a two-run home run by Martin. The blast was his fourth home run in his last six games and came on his 24th birthday.

Friday night’s 4-3 victory was more exciting. In the bottom of the ninth, Moylan lined a walk-off single to left field off Marlon Perez to score Avina to give the Renegades a win. That was part of a 2-for-4 night for Moylan which also includes a double. The game was scoreless early, but the Renegades broke through against Seth Shuman in the bottom of the third when Avina lined a solo home run to right-center for the Gades’ first hit of the game. Later in the inning, Antonio Gomez tucked a two-run homer down the right field line to extend the lead to 3-0. Hudson Valley eventually tied the game, necessitating extra innings.

On Saturday, Josh Moylan lined a walk-off single to left field off Marlon Perez to score Jace Avina and give the Renegades a 4-3 walk-off win.

General Manager Q&A

Visiting with Yankees’ staff and working on improvements

The Hudson Valley Renegades have a first-year general manager in Zach Betkowski. He sits down with reporter Rich Thomaselli every week to express his thoughts on the Renegades in particular and on minor league baseball in general.

What are your impressions of the first half of the season, both on and off the field?

Of course, we would have liked to win the division, but we are happy with the team. A couple of weeks ago, we went to a Yankee game as a staff, and we had a chance to talk to Aaron Boone. He asked us if there was anybody he should keep an eye on. And it was fun to talk about some of the players on the Renegades. It’s exciting to see these guys develop and get better right in front of you. And I think they have a fantastic support system with our coaching staff.

It’s really cool to see the evolution of that through the first half of the season. As for off the field, the franchise has been super. All of the guys have been incredible. There is a lot that we ask of them. And between signings and community appearances and things like that, they have been fantastic. They have been tremendous. From a visitor’s standpoint, it’s been a great year. We are off to our best season of all time. We’re hoping to keep that pace going and from every indication things will be that way in the second half.

Do you feel like there is anything you have to concentrate on or improve upon?

We’re always trying to improve. I always tell the staff, the only way to get better is to first fail, as long as it’s not catastrophic. It’s quite literally the only way to learn. One of the things I learned from my mentors is to not answer a question with an answer, but answer a question with another question. That is what I tell the staff. Not everything is going to be a home run, pardon the pun, but we are willing to try.

Is July 4th just as big a holiday to the franchise as Mother’s Day or Father’s Day?

Based on early sales, it has a chance to be our largest crowd of all time. We want to give our fans a great and a positive experience. There’s no doubt it’s a challenge. There’s only so many points of sale and only so much real estate in our ballpark. But we love it when there’s 5,000 people in our building.

Yankees legend Bernie Williams sets return to Millbrook Winery for Summer Jazz Concert

Jazz musician,
wine enthusiast
to perform Aug. 3

Back by popular demand, Millbrook Vineyards & Winery (Millbrook Winery) announced it will host its annual jazz concert featuring a live performance by former New York Yankees centerfielder and jazz music icon, Bernie Williams and his Band of Friends with an opening act by renowned jazz pianist Larry Ham on Saturday, Aug. 3.

Building on past vintages of a custom wine blended by Williams and Millbrook Winery’s head winemaker, Ian Bearup, a third vintage of Bernie’s Blend red wine will debut the evening of the concert. The dynamic blend of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Cabernet Franc will once again be adorned by custom artwork created by Williams’ daughter, Brooklyn-based artist Beatriz Williams. The label artwork depicts a still-life of some of her father’s favorite things – baseball, music, and wine – and signed prints of the artwork will be for sale at the Winery the evening of the concert.

After retiring from the New York Yankees in 2006, Williams earned a Bachelor of Music degree in jazz performance from the Manhattan School of Music and has enjoyed a successful second act as a jazz musician. Passionate about giving back to the arts, a portion of all Bernie’s Blend wine sale proceeds will be donated to the National Association of Music Merchants (NAMM) Foundation’s SupportMusic Coalition, which unites non-profit organizations, schools and businesses, ensuring that music education is supported in communities everywhere. The NAMM Foundation, a cause near and dear to the Williams family, frequently supports local music programs and school districts throughout the Hudson Valley community.

“Blending my passion for wine and jazz music, and my daughter’s artistic talent, makes our partnership with Millbrook Winery incredibly fulfilling,” said Williams. “And to do so while supporting the NAMM Foundation and its essential support of music education programs has been one of the most rewarding aspects of my career.”

During a visit to Millbrook Winery in 2021, Williams was captivated by the vineyards and the wine. A chance encounter with the winery’s Vice President and General Manager, David Bova, led to a conversation about Williams’ background with the New York Yankees and his affinity for jazz music and the artistry of winemaking, ultimately leading to the fruitful partnership. Each year since, Williams has worked closely with Ian Bearup, to taste-test each of the wine barrels and thoughtfully blend and craft each of the wines.

“Bernie and I share a respect for the craft of winemaking,” expressed Bearup. “Each year our collaboration deepens resulting in an exceptional and unique wine, which is reflected beautifully in this year’s vintage.”

“We are incredibly proud to continue our partnership with Bernie Williams and have him take the stage for the third year in a row at Millbrook Winery,” said Bova. “Each year, ‘Bernie’s Blend’ captivates our customers – thanks to the wine’s dynamic blend and Beatriz’s stunning label artwork – and we’re confident this year’s vintage will do the same.”

The concert will kick off at 6 p.m. with an opening act by local favorite and jazz pianist, Larry Ham. Tickets are on sale now on the Millbrook Winery website and offered on three tiers – VIP Deck or VIP Lawn ($250 each), which includes a meet and greet with Williams and an open wine bar, and General Admission ($60 each) at the lawn’s picnic tables for large groups. General admission ticket holders are also welcome to bring their own lawn chairs. The 2024 vintage of Bernie’s Blend wine will go on sale the evening of the concert. Bernie’s Blend is currently available via the Millbrook Winery website: www.millbrookwine.com. A rain date is scheduled for Sunday, August 4. The Bernie Williams concert is one of eleven in Millbrook Winery’s summer jazz concert series, running from June 22 through August 31. A full concert schedule can be found on their website.

Retired judge to read Declaration of Independence during annual 4th of July event in Village of Fishkill

By Kristine Coulter

Retired Chief Administrative Judge Albert M. Rosenblatt will read the Declaration of Independence during this year’s annual reading in the village of Fishkill. The reading will take place at 11 a.m. on July 4th at Van Wyck Village Hall, 1095 Main St.

“When asked, I was delighted to accept the invitation—a sort of repeat of my having done so several years ago,” Rosenblatt told Southern Dutchess News in a recent email.

He said, “People know of July and associate it with our history and independence, so it is important to remember that it is in a sense, our national birthday, when we changed our status as a British Colonies to American statehoods.”

Rosenblatt explained, “We soon officially became a state with our own state constitution in 1777—a full 10 years before the U.S. Constitution was drafted in Philadelphia in 1787. So, the fireworks are fun, and a good spectacle, but the historic importance should also be celebrated.”

By reading the Declaration, explained Rosenblatt, “we gain insight into why we wanted independence—based largely on the phrase “taxation without representation” in that we were taxed but had no presence in the Parliament of the Mother,” [which was England (as coined by a phrase from John Bright, a British politician who lived in the 1800s)].

DAV chapter donates to Building with Grace

By Kristine Coulter

A local DAV (Disabled American Veterans) Chapter donated $500 to Building with Grace at VA Hudson Valley Health Care System Castle Point campus recently.

“The co-founder, Peter DiNatale, spoke at my American Legion post in early 2024,” said 1st Vice Commander Rich Palazzo. “I asked him if he would be gracious enough to speak at my DAV meeting because his presentation so impressed me! He accepted my invitation immediately.”

DiNatale said, “Building with Grace supports veterans with cancer by building and gifting a home to the veteran and their families or renovating their current home to better suit their present and particular needs.”

“Our DAV Chapter 144 donates to any organization that benefits and helps veterans, especially in the local area. The DAV motto is, ‘Fulfilling our promise to those who served,’ meaning we will support our veterans in any way that we can through any means possible,” remarked Palazzo.

DiNatale noted the donation will be used to purchase building materials and supplies which will be installed in a veteran’s home.

DiNatale remarked, “On behalf of the DiNatale family and all of our Building with Grace teammates, we would like to thank DAV Chapter 144 for their generous donation and support.”

“It was an honor and privilege for DAV Chapter 144 to donate and support Building with Grace in memory of U.S. Marine Alex J. Dengler. The Building with Grace non-profit organization will honor Alex J. Dengler and all the men and women who made the ultimate sacrifice for our freedom and our way of life,” said Palazzo.

According to Building with Grace website, “Peter (DiNatale) and his wife Janice are the parents of USMC Lance Corporal Alex J. Dengler who served in combat in Iraq. Alex, while on active duty, was diagnosed with cancer and after bravely fighting multiple cancers for eleven years passed away in 2017. Two weeks before passing away, Alex requested that Building with Grace focus on helping Veterans with cancer.”

DiNatale has a statement on the organization’s site explaining about Dengler, who was from Cold Spring, Putnam County. “Alex lived his life as a true warrior and fought his cancer and the many relapses along the way with strength, grit, and determination. His journey was focused, and I witnessed early on how difficult and impractical it was for Alex to have a full-time job outside his now full-time occupation of battling cancer.

“I often thought how fortunate Alex was to have a large and loving family who welcomed him home with open arms. What if Alex had been married with young children and without an extended family to offer support? How would he have managed a mortgage or rent payment and other expenses required to maintain a home? How could any Veteran with cancer be able to focus on fighting this disease while supporting home and family?”

The Founder’s Story, written by DiNatale, continues: “Alex knew that I was committed to and often spoke of ways to help Veterans. Two weeks before passing away, he asked that the focus be on Veterans with cancer. At that moment, the concept of Building with Grace was born with real purpose. We are committed to devoting our time, talents, and energy to fulfilling the opportunity to make a difference in the lives of those who put themselves in harm’s way to protect our freedom.”

Palazzo added, “Words or money could never be enough for what they did so that we may live and enjoy our freedoms. We hope that this donation, in some small way, will help Building with Grace’s mission.” They also hope that other organizations that assist veterans and the public at large “will consider donating to this worthy cause.”

Dutchess Community College welcomed U.S. Secretary of Education Dr. Miguel Cardona and Congressman Pat Ryan for a Career Pathway Roundtable discussion featuring P-12, higher education, and industry leadership along with students with direct experience in career-focused education programs on June 20.

Ryan and Cardona met with local leaders and students from across NY-18 to discuss career and technical education pathways. The following were included on the panel of roundtable participants:

Dr. Peter Jordan – President, Dutchess Community College

Dr. Daisy Rodriguez – Assistant Superintendent of Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment, Arlington Central School District (CSD)

Terlyka Horton – Student, Arlington CSD

Leiyla Barthe– Student, Newburgh CSD, P-TECH

Dr. Jonah Schenker – District Superintendent, Ulster BOCES

Johnnieanne Hansen – Vice President of Workforce Development and Operations,

Council of Industries

Yelena Vaynberg – Workforce Policy Executive, Government and Regulatory Affairs, IBM

The three students included in the discussion shared their perspectives on the importance of making these career pathways known and accessible, advocating for apprenticeships, work-based learning opportunities, and education about the different choices available to students.

DCC student Mathew Canfield said, “I think it’s important to make sure that students are aware of how viable these career paths really are.”

Industry professionals and educators in the room agreed, sharing the benefits of paid apprenticeships and college-in-the-high school programs that create clear pathways for students, like the PTECH program in Newburgh or the one beginning in Poughkeepsie with Dutchess Community College this fall.

Cardona said, “The goal for the Department of Education is to help not only to unlock dollars, technical assistance, but also to help lift up examples, and that’s what I’m doing here today – lifting up an example of what we want to see across the country.”

love to cook

by vicki frank day

Salad days

It's so much more than lettuce, especially in summertime.

Sure, it's hot. But it's summer, so there you go. It happens every year and still we can't help but complain about the heat and that Hudson Valley humidity. But here's an idea: let's not! Let's cool off from the inside out instead and have fun doing it!

It isn't that I can't relate. Extreme heat is not my friend. I sweat – a LOT – and it's uncomfortable and unattractive, but I've lived with it all my life and there's no getting around it. I don't have a pool and I can't stay inside in the air conditioning all the time when there are things to do. It's just one more thing to deal with and so I do. I drink tons of water and have a perpetual pitcher of iced tea always in the fridge, which helps. A lot. Oh, and sometimes when I'm watering the plants the hose "slips." What?

Of course, heat and humidity make things unpleasant. Everyday things, like cooking, can become more a chore to be dreaded than a creative outlet, but I think that makes it a challenge to be even more creative. Change the way you eat as well as what you eat, as suggested in my last article where I wrote about tapas and the delight that is small plates of various foods rather than a big, heavy meal. Make salads or sandwiches the main course, avoid the oven whenever possible and grill what you can. And don't forget all those good, fresh, local vegetables!

But let's talk salads. Think they're boring? They don't have to be. I've written about them before, but there are so many that I go to this time of year that I've only scratched the surface and have a lot more to share, like these three. Even if you don't think they're for you I urge you to keep an open mind because I think there's something here for everyone. At the very least, I think you can find some inspiration for your summer eating.

ARUGULA SALAD

Let's start simple, and I mean really simple. I love this one as a perfect side or very light meal. With few ingredients, all of which are healthy, the flavors both complement each other and shine through. You get the peppery notes of the greens, the bright tang of lemon, fruity notes form the olive oil and creamy saltiness from the cheese. It's just right!

INGREDIENTS

- Baby arugula (about 2 handfuls per person)
- Extra virgin olive oil (make it a good one!)
- Fresh lemon juice (start with half a lemon)
- Shaved parmesan (use a vegetable peeler and shave it fresh off a block of cheese for the best flavor)

METHOD

Place clean arugula in a bowl. Drizzle with olive oil. Toss to coat. Add lemon juice, shaved parmesan and a pinch of salt and pepper, if you like. Toss and serve immediately.

CHICKEN PASTA SALAD WITH FETA

If you like a little more substance in your salad, use pasta! This is a favorite I've made for years. It's a flavorful, well-balanced blend of sweet onion, cherry tomatoes (I love the on-the-vine variety, which are especially sweet), fresh basil, feta and grilled chicken tossed with penne pasta and a fruity olive oil for a light yet satisfying dinner.

- 1/2-1 lb cooked penne pasta
- 1/2 large sweet (Vidalia) onion, finely chopped
- Halved cherry tomatoes (about 2 cups)
- Fresh basil (12-14 leaves)
- Feta cheese
- Olive oil
- 1/2 cup mayonnaise
- Salt and pepper to taste
- Grilled chicken, cut into 1-inch pieces

METHOD

Place pasta in a large bowl. Add onion, tomatoes, olive oil and mayo and toss to coat. Stack several basil leaves on a cutting board and roll into tiny cigars, then slice into thin ribbons (chiffonade). Add to pasta. Season with salt and pepper. Mix in chicken and crumbled feta cheese. Serve warm or cold.

CHEF SALAD

This is great because you can build to suit. Especially good for a family, you can easily customize each one. Kids will also like assembling their own from different ingredients you provide and set out in bowls for them to add. Start with a bed of whatever greens you like. Mesclun is always a good, attractive and tasty choice; but for fussier tastes, mix chopped iceberg, romaine, leaf or Boston lettuce. Baby spinach and arugula are always good, too. What really makes this a (literally) cool meal is the inclusion of meat and cheese. The easiest way I know to do this (and kids love this, too!) is to lay out a few long slices of deli-sliced Swiss cheese, top each one with slices of roast beef, turkey and deli ham. Starting at one (long) end, roll each stack of meat and cheese into a cylinder, then slice each roll into 5 or 6 pieces. Fan the pieces on top of the lettuce, add fresh vegetables (grape tomatoes, cucumber slices, bell pepper, onion, shredded carrots, sliced mushrooms, radishes, peas, even grilled corn off the cob). I love to add croutons, too. Top with your favorite dressing and dig in.

Preparing and eating summer meals doesn't have to be a chore. I know it isn't realistic to think you can live on salad alone, but for those nights when you just can't bear the heat, salads can't be beat. Make a salad for dinner or take one along to your next get together without working up a sweat and everyone will thank you for it. Take advantage of all the local produce you can find and have some fun creating. Summertime should be playtime, after all. While you're at it, why not reward yourself for how good you're doing with a frozen cocktail before and, of course, a lovely bowl of ice cream after. Although, if you want to skip to ice cream, I won't tell! Whatever keeps you cool and happy, inside and out! Enjoy!

Titusville Farm

A LaGrange farm gets a new lease on life.

Leon Vehaba was looking for a challenge, as if managing the Poughkeepsie Farm Project for many years wasn't challenging enough. When a couple of angel investors with a strong interest in agriculture approached him about revitalizing Cornell Farm in LaGrange, Leon was all in. He was given free rein to wrestle the 170-acre farm into the 21st century. Cornell Farm, no relation to Cornell University that I know of, has been farmed continuously since 1788, but the last several decades of hay-making had exhausted the soil.

Leon's first challenge was to regenerate the soil by planting cover crops, adding manure and organic compost and letting 2,000 chickens loose on the property. That was in 2019. Now the soil of the new Titusville Farm is as rich as it had been for thousands of years, along the banks of the Wappingers Creek.

Sue and I got a chance to catch up with Leon at the farm last Tuesday. The operation is in full swing, growing every kind of vegetable imaginable, even eggplant. We saw four high tunnels, each 34 by 180 feet with roll-up sides and roof vents. These are for vegetables, especially tomatoes, that will extend the season through October. Four more plastic-covered high tunnels are planned for winter crops – lettuce, spinach, and maybe beets and carrots. The year-round production helps to retain the valuable crew. An apple orchard laid out in the modern high-density style will yield a crop for a future cidery. White plastic ground cover is ready for a pick-your-own organic strawberry patch.

Maybe the most impressive part of the operation, especially for Sue, is the extensive flower garden managed by Leslie Lewis, featuring varieties for cutting – snapdragons, cosmos, zinnias, and in the high tunnels – lisianthus and chrysanthemums. I asked Leslie if she grew up on a farm, and she said her ancestors were coal miners in southern Ohio. She's a coal miner's great-granddaughter.

The farm spans both sides of Titusville Road. The east side is home to 2,000+ chickens – novogens, pasture-raised and fed organic grain when they're not pecking food from the 70-acre pasture. Their outsized coops are moved around every day.

Titusville Farm is a member of three farmers markets – Cold Spring (Saturday mornings), Pelham in Westchester County (Sundays 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.) and Eastdale in Poughkeepsie (every first and third Sunday, 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.). I'm told that the Eastdale Market is the best for fresh eggs and flowers.

Leon has big plans for the future of Titusville Farm, and if his progress so far is any indication, he should be successful. According to the website, the year-round farm market and cafe will open this year, with the cidery and restaurant to follow in 2025. However, various permitting processes have thrown a spanner in the works. The farm market and cidery are "on hold," and the restaurant might never open. Meanwhile, the farm's backers have opened Kitchen & Coffee in Beacon and another restaurant, The Wild, is planned.

Sue and I asked Leon about biodiversity. He replied with a laugh, "This place is probably more biodiverse than it should be." And he is surrounded by beauty Goldilocks tried a lot of things looking for what was "just right." We're sure you may find something "just right" for you from our wide range of offerings at our CC Senior Center (55+) at 14 Abe's Way.

Imagination is a wonderful thing, and our Craft Room is a busy creative place. On Thursday mornings join Phyllis for Watercolor Painting. Loretta shares her wealth of ideas and knowledge with crafters who join her on Friday mornings. Come with a project from home, or work on something new using our supplies.

George will be happy to see you in his free Exercise Group on Tuesday mornings. Nikki offers Chair Yoga on Mondays and Wednesdays, and Mat Yoga on Wednesdays. People move with Demetra to the Zumba Gold rhythm on Fridays. Nancy oversees the Walking Club on Monday and Wednesday mornings. Weather/temperature permitting, they enjoy conversation as they walk the peaceful neighborhood around our SC. We also have the "4 B's" - Bocce, Bingo, Bridge, and Billiards.

July birthdays will be celebrated on July 11 at 12:30 p.m. Everyone (55+) is welcome to enjoy a piece of cake after a rousing chorus of "Happy Birthday to You."

Our next Club Classic Presents will take place on July 12 when John Beale will be here at noon to speak about The Center for Lifetime Learning and how you can join in on all that they offer Seniors.

No need to pack or have a passport when we "travel" to Belgium with John Keller (Fran's son) at our Lunch and Learn on July 18 at noon. John's presentations are always extraordinary. Participants are invited to a complimentary light lunch afterwards. We ask that you please sign up in advance either in person at our Senior Center or by calling our staff at 845-462-0265 during our regular hours Monday - Friday between 9 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

Around Our Town

Our free Summer Nights Concert Series is underway at Greenvale Park (2260 new Hackensack Road) on Tuesday evenings. Bring a lawn chair or a blanket and sit back, relax, and enjoy. And in case you get the "munchies," we will have a designated Food Truck at each concert selling their specialties.

July 9 - The Carrie Zazz Band – 7 p.m.
July 23 - Roadhouse 60s – 7 p.m.
July 30 - Chain Gang – 7 p.m.
August 6 - Raw Honey - 6:30 p.m.
August 13 - Noise In The basement - 6:30 p.m.

Attention Pickleball players! Our new pickleball courts at Crestwood Park are now open!

Local Girl Scout’s ‘Sew Kind’ project earns Gold Award

By Kristine Coulter

The Gold Award is the highest award a Girl Scout can earn. Beekman resident Gabriella Rado, 18, received her Gold Award recently during a ceremony held at Mount Saint Mary College in Newburgh, Orange County. She received her award two hours after receiving her high school diploma from John F. Kennedy Catholic Preparatory School in Somers, Westchester County.

“Receiving the Gold Award was a great honor, and the best part was learning about all the other wonderful Gold Award projects that my fellow Girl Scouts have put in place. Working on Sew Kind has been a tremendous amount of work, so it was wonderful to be recognized,” remarked Gabriella.

“Sew Kind was officially approved and recognized by the Girl Scout Gold Award Committee as an official Gold Award Project in September 2023. Its Founder, Gabriella Rado, is an Ambassador Girl Scout, who is pursuing this award. The Gold Award is the highest achievement for Girl Scouts in the United States, similar in status to that of Eagle Scout for Boy Scouts, although not as commonly known. Only about five percent of eligible Girl Scouts successfully earn this award. A Gold Award project must provide lasting solutions to issues and/or problems in the community. It must also prove to be sustainable and carry on long after the Girl Scout is no longer directly involved,” it was stated.

Gabriella is with the New Oaks Service Unit, which is part of Girl Scouts Heart of the Hudson.

“I am a senior Ambassador Girl Scout. My last troop dissolved during the pandemic, and I truly missed being a Girl Scout. That’s when I began Sew Kind and then it was suggested that I rejoin and use this project to pursue my Gold Award. I am a Juliette Girl Scout, which means I am working independently. My mom is my leader,” Gabriella explained.

Gabriella’s slogan is “Solving Problems One Stitch at a Time.”

The organization’s mission, it was noted, is to “foster an interest in the engineering of sewing by teaching children who might not otherwise have the opportunity to learn and to spread kindness by creating sustainable items that fill a local need.”

Children who attend the Boys and Girls Club in the City of Newburgh and in the City of Poughkeepsie during its Saturday night Star Drop-In program are learning how to sew from Gabriella. The gift of sewing, it was remarked, has been passed on to other students. Gabriella gifted at least 4 sewing machines so they can practice and teach others.

When Gabriella turned 13, back during the COVID pandemic, she sewed nearly 1,000 masks for Westchester Medical Center healthcare workers, and medically compromised individuals, with the effort and support of a local neighborhood.

“I would like to thank my mom first of all--she has been my leader since my earliest days of scouting and I could not have done this project without her. I would like to thank my friend and fellow leader, Mrs. Wilantewicz, for suggesting that I pursue my Gold Award. I would also like to thank my Gold Award advisor, Debbie Fela, who taught me to sew, my entire team of sewers, my supporters for their donations as well as the Knights of Columbus,” said Gabriella.

Jeanine Agnolet, Gabriella’s mother, said, “It was surreal to see my daughter on stage, getting her Gold Award after all these years of scouting and it was quite emotional for me to see this chapter of her life come to an end. Of course, I am so proud of her and all she has done for others. I was thrilled that Senator Rob Rolison and his staff were kind enough to take the time to sit down with her and learn more about her project. I hope she can keep the project going as she moves on to college.”

Gabriella will attend the University of Notre Dame in Indiana in the fall. She plans to major in Civil Engineering.

lects monetary donations, donations of sewing materials and “like new” machines, that will eventually be gifted to sewing students.
