Celebrate and support the Poughkeepsie Farm Project on October 23, from 3:30 – 6 p.m., during the Poughkeepsie Farm Party at 51 Vassar Farm Lane in Poughkeepsie. Attendees can take part in farm tours, a silent auction and listen to poet Cassandra D. Clarke. The making food justice sustainable in the local community event, formerly known as “The Soup-A-Bowl,” will be held rain or shine.
For tickets, go to <https://bit.ly/poughkeepsiefarmpartytickets>.
There will be local artisans, said Pam Porath, a member of the Poughkeepsie Farm Project Board of Directors.
“Weather permitting, there will be farm tours,” said Porath.

One can reserve a standard ticket for $10, or a ticket and handmade bowl for $40 (there are a limited number of bowls available). There is also the option for a standard ticket and to make a donation for $100. Also available are Solidarity tickets for $10 each, youth tickets for (ages 8-13) for $5 and the PFP Workshop and ticket for $70. For tickets, visit <https://pfpfarmstore.com/products/2022-poughkeepsie-farm-party-ticket>.
“A lot of our fall crops have been harvested and in storage,” noted Emily Eder, who is the farm director. Among some of the crops are fennel, sweet potatoes and green peppers, said Eder.
Eder remarked, “It’s a great opportunity to set the produce from the fields and is prepared by chefs and [it will be] a fun eating experience.”

Larissa “LaLa A” Alvarado is the herbologist on the farm.
“I’m a root educator. I do the herbal workshops and in charge of the herbal culinary and medicinal herbs,” explained Alvarado.
Some of the more than 70 herbs grown on the farm are tulsi, holy basil, lemon-grass, lemon verbena and chamomile, said Alvarado.
“The feedback is that people love the workshops. They are very hands-on. We Dutchess County has a rich history of producing local athletes who have gone on to professional careers in numerous sports, from baseball to football to basketball to boxing and more.

When it comes to soccer, however, Roy C. Ketcham High School graduate Tyler Adams might be one of the brightest of them all.
And he never forgot his roots.
The 23-year old star – who plays professionally for Leeds United in the English Premier League and, more importantly, is a member of the United States Men’s National Team that will compete in the quadrennial World Cup in Qatar starting next month – was back home in the area this past weekend to help open two new mini soccer pitches at Pulaski Park in the City of Poughkeepsie.
The mini-pitches were made possible through a personal contribution from Adams, as well as contributions from the U.S. Soccer Foundation, Target, the City of Poughkeepsie and Dutchess County. Adams, his family, U.S. Soccer officials, City of Poughkeepsie Mayor Rob Rolison, and various officials from the city and the county were on hand for the opening ceremonies.
“Building two new mini-pitches in Pulaski Park is such a unique way to give back to the game and to the community where I first started,” Adams said.
Adams rose to fame during his high school playing days, but his prodigious talent allowed him to become the youngest player ever drafted into the U.S.-based professional Major Soccer League with the New York Red Bulls.

End of an era – Cady family closes Masten Feed Store in Pleasant Valley

By Jim Donick

A long-standing landmark on the Pleasant Valley Main Street and, perhaps more importantly, a central example of Pleasant Valley’s traditionally welcoming culture, the Cady Family’s G. E. Masten Feed Store, closed this past Saturday, Oct. 15.
Owners Pam and Matt Cady made the announcement at the end of September, heralding the end of their family’s 41 years in the agricultural support business. “You know,” said Matt Cady, “there’s been a feed store at this location since the late 1800s. We’ve kept it going since I was in grade school.”
The Cadys note that the many aspects of a changing business climate - “the introduction of online suppliers, the change of individual shopping habits to more superstore/nationwide chains, the difficulty of finding employees, along with the increasing prices and difficulty in obtaining product has led us to make this decision.”

Adams said he was thrilled to be able to contribute to the sport’s further development, especially in the inner city.

“Through these pitches, more children in Poughkeepsie can learn values that they will take with them well beyond their playing careers – the same values that I learned through my support system,” he said. “Thanks to my family’s support and to all partners involved in this amazing process and creating an environment where kids can blossom.”

“We are pleased to see the opening of the mini-pitches, a collaborative project that went from concept to completion within a matter of months,” Rolison said. “The mini-pitches are part of a much broader, multimillion dollar initiative by the city to make upgrades to the park system, and it’s fulfilling to see these projects getting completed for our residents to enjoy.”

The Pulaski Park project is part of more than 100 mini-pitches the U.S. Soccer Foundation and Target have installed together since 2018. The goal is to install 1,000 by 2026.

County awards more than $200,000 in historical grant programs

Dutchess County Executive Marc Molinaro announced today $205,000 in funding has been awarded for 16 local programs, as part of the County’s Historical Sites & Museums Infrastructure grant program, which provides funding opportunities for local nonprofit historical societies and museums. The program supports local historical institutions through vital capital and operating infrastructure investments, ensuring the continued preservation of Dutchess County’s unique heritage.

County Executive Molinaro said, “Dutchess County’s history tells our community’s unique story and continues to resonate with us today – providing perspective on our past as we build toward our future. That’s why it’s so important to support various local organizations throughout the county that preserve our history. With these grants, Dutchess County’s distinguished history will be safeguarded for future generations to glean knowledge and take inspiration from, as they inherit this great legacy.”

Announced in June 2022, Dutchess County’s Historical Sites & Museums Infrastructure grant program addressed critical capital and operating funding gaps that impact the preservation of local historic and cultural institutions.

One-time grants were available between $5,000 and $30,000 per institution, with capital infrastructure projects limited to facilities owned by a non-profit organization. To be eligible, facilities must be a separate structure, and funds cannot be used for improvements to a room used for or by historical societies within a facility owned by another entity.

Projects funded through the Historical Site & Museums Infrastructure Grant Program include:

The following projects for Societies in southern Dutchess were announced.

do an herbal walk and talk about herbs in the wild, locally and regionally,” Alvarado stated.

Why should one attend the Farm Party? “So, they can see the space and they can share their stories in how they use their herbs,” replied Alvarado.

Operations Manager at the Poughkeepsie Farm Project Lydia Hatfield said she started at the farm as a member of the Community Supported Agriculture (CSA).

“We’re going to have some great entertainment,” remarked Hatfield. There will be Ray & Friends Band, D.J. Wisdom, Middknight & Nico at the event to perform. The Black Culinary Society will also be in attendance. A soup competition will also be taking place. Chefs from local restaurants will serve up ideas for what one can do with the produce and herbs and reconnect with food.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters may be edited for legal considerations, reader interest and length. Please include a telephone number and address for verification purposes. Deadline for letters is Friday at noon. Letters must be submitted by e-mail to be considered for publication. Letters can be e-mailed to newsplace@aol.com, and the phrase “Letter to the Editor” should be included in the subject line of the e-mail.

Policy on letters:

- Letters that contain statements that are libelous or slanderous will not be published.
- Letters that include personal attacks will not be published
- Letters written in response to other letter writers must address the issue at hand, rather than mentioning the writer by name and must refer to the headline and date the letter was published.
- Letters referring to news stories must mention the headline and date of publication.
- The Southern Dutchess News will not be used as a vehicle to place misinformation.
- Information must be attributed to a specific individual or published item (ie- tell us where or from whom you obtained the information)
- All letters must contain a name, hometown and phone number for verification.
- Letters appearing on the Viewpoints page are the views of the writers alone and do not necessarily reflect the views of the Southern Dutchess News.

GUIDELINES FOR POLITICAL LETTERS

- Maximum 300 words
- Must be sent via email
- Provide a phone number where we may reach you to confirm you have written the letter-writers
- We will run as many letters as possible, space permitting, in our Oct. 12, 19, 26 and Nov. 2 issues. Please note that we will NOT run negative letters against any candidate in the Nov. 2 issue; only letters endorsing candidates will be run in that issue.

EDITOR'S NOTE: We appreciate the passion that people feel for their candidates and their political parties, but encourage letter-writers to express support for their candidates in a positive and instructive manner. It is easy to criticize others, but at the local level, we know that great things can be accomplished through cooperation. We have faith that our readers, and our communities, can rise above the partisan fray in this election season, and emphasize the good that their candidates will do.

Former Beacon Mayor Steve Gold supports Shiroishi

To the Editor:

From my perspective as the former mayor of the City of Beacon and chief of staff for Assemblyman Frank Skartados, I experienced both city and state governance. With that in mind, I am voting for Julie Shiroishi.

The challenges of state government are different from the ones a mayor experiences at a city level. And while I know Julie’s opponent to be a fine person, the politics and issues he and his party represents at the state level do not resonate well for me and would be a harmful step backwards for New Yorkers.

Julie supports the state issues that are important to me. She will stand up for reproductive rights, affordable health insurance, housing security, mental and physical support services, equality in education, rebuilding our roads and bridges and strong environmental protections. Her positions were formed in Albany as the chief of staff for Assemblyman Jonathan Jacobson where together they worked on these issues firsthand.

Julie is a brilliant and personable individual who is going to work hard, smart and effectively for the Hudson Valley, and I believe will become a leader in Albany.

Remembering Claudio Coppola

Dear Claudio,

It hard to believe that it’s been 10 years. Ten years since your time ended here on earth and though to you those ten years are nothing more than a grain of sand on the beach of time, it feels like an eternity for us.

Even after 10 years we still miss you. There are good days and bad days. However, the good days are gratifying, and we find ourselves telling funny stories about you. Your family and friends have all grown up. Some are engaged, some are married. Some still live in the area while others have moved away. We enjoy whenever they come and visit and tell us a story that we hadn’t heard yet. Or give us a detail about your life that we hadn’t know. We look forward to you expressing yourself in our daily lives. A surprise blue Hydrangea bloom, a butterfly, your sports number 18 in an unusual place.

Your foundation, The Claudio Cares Foundation, is still in operation. Though the pandemic has slowed us down, we still find ways to let your legacy be known. We have built seven Claudio Coppola Memorial Computer Rooms. Your can drive has generated over 250,000 pounds of non-perishable food items that helped feed thousands of families in the Dutchess County area that was collected by kids, teenagers and adults and brought to us on your birthday December 17th. Rain, snow or shine, we are outside as people pull up with their cases and bags of canned goods. Out of ten years we have only had one day that it didn’t snow so we would really appreciate it if you could maybe ask the big guy to give us some good weather. Young people continue to collect through their teams, schools and clubs and bring us canned goods.

With the help of your family, friends, classmates, and strangers, we were able to fundraise and give away over $150,000 in the form of donations, scholarships and awards. Claudio’s Can Drive, Claudio’s Snowflake Gala, and the Claudio Coppola Memorial Golf Tournament also called “The Claude,” were major happenings and helped us raise all the funds that we donated and will continue to donate in the future. We hope that in the years to come we will be able to resume our fundraising once everyone has recovered from these tough times. Your mom wants to have at least one more Snowflake Gala and make one final donation to help with Mental Health in young people.

Claudio, all of this was done because of you! We delight in telling people of your generosity and selflessness. You encouraged both adults and young people throughout the Hudson Valley to give of themselves and help us to help others. We continue to receive calls and emails, from people far and wide asking how they can be a part of the Claudio Cares Foundation. Your inspiration knows no bounds.

Claudio, you have inspired us to do many good things. We wish you were physically here to help us and participate. We hear you speaking to us, encouraging us. We feel your presence and listen to your ideas.

Well Claudio, you told us how wonderful it is in heaven in a dream to your mother. We know we will be seeing you shortly because our time here on earth is short compared to time in paradise. Continue speaking to us. Continue inspiring us. Continue watching over us. We need you and appreciate that you have stayed with us.

Take care, Our Sweet Boy.

Love always,
Mom, Dad, Marcanthony, Geno, and Clara

Union Vale supervisor backs Schmitt for Congress

To the Editor:

Recently, Assemblyman Colin Schmitt who is the candidate for the NY18 congressional district attended a meet and greet breakfast in Union Vale to discuss his vision for the Hudson Valley. I was happy to hear that a lot of his platform focuses on the safety of Dutchess County residents. He supports the police and over 15 police organizations have endorsed him because of his track record in the state legislature of funding and supporting the police and introducing legislation to end the dangerous ramifications of cashless bail. We also discussed actionable items to ensure America’s economy is strong through pro-growth tax and deregulatory policies so that good-paying jobs can be created here in the Hudson Valley.

For these and many other bi-partisan legislative accomplishments as a member of the Local Government Committee, Colin Schmitt is a great fit for Dutchess County!

If something offends you, do not read it

To the Editor:

As many may have heard by now, there are groups around (one local group is particularly boisterous) wanting to have “offensive” books banned from our schools. “The Diary of Ann Frank” and the Bible (whose, I don’t know) should be banned according to this group. I say outrageous.

Ideas and facts, offensive or not, are meant to be shared and discussed; not hushed up. If you don’t like something -- then you don’t read it.

Rolison ‘does not believe in defunding the police’

To the Editor:

Democratic Assemblyman Jonathan Jacobson voted in 2019 to pass the bail reform laws that have led to record levels of violent crime throughout New York state in the past three years. Now, his chief of staff, Julie Shiroishi, is running for the state senate in the 39th district.

Thankfully, voters have a viable alternative. Rob Rolison has served as mayor in the city of Poughkeepsie since 2015. During that time, Mayor Rolison has turned Poughkeepsie around in many areas. As a retired detective from the Town of Poughkeepsie Police Department with 30 years experience in law enforcement, Rob has strengthened the police department and helped to curtail crime within its borders. He does not believe in “defunding the police.”

As a retired City of Poughkeepsie detective, I have known and worked with Rob Rolison for more than 30 years. It is not surprising to me that Rob has received the endorsement of many PBAs representing law enforcement in the Hudson Valley.

If you are concerned about the safety of your family and your community, I urge you to vote for the only candidate who opposes these misguided bail reform laws.

Elect Rob Rolison on November 8th!

New York League of Conservation Voters (NYLCV) endorses Beephan

To the Editor:

I chose your distinguished newspaper to announce that I have received the New York League of Conservation Voters (NYLCV) endorsement of my candidacy for New York State Assembly. I am extremely humbled and honored to have received this endorsement and I want to thank the membership of the NYCLV for their support. The NYLCV is a non-partisan non-profit organization that fights for environmental innovation across all regions of New York.

As a steadfast supporter of economic opportunity and growth, I believe climate investments are essential to creating jobs and providing New Yorkers the security they deserve. Necessary funding for restoration, flood risk reduction, water quality improvement, and resilient infrastructure has been lacking in New York for far too long. I look forward to strengthening our partnership in Albany where I pledge to advocate for farmland preservation and open space protection among other solutions to environmental challenges.

Together, we can ensure adequate budgetary remedies tailored to specific regions of our state and levels of government in order to safeguard New York’s diverse and vibrant ecosystem for all to enjoy.

Notes from the Town of Wappinger Supervisor

Wappinger budget process has started

On October 3rd, I delivered to the Town Board my 2023 Tentative Budget. On October 11th, the Town Board began its budget review (the remaining budget planning dates are found at: www.townofwappingerny.com). Unfortunately, deteriorating U.S. economic conditions pose a major challenge to the Tentative Budget. Those assumed conditions include:

- Inflation will remain very high and likely to continue well into 2023;
- Increasing interest rates at least into early 2023. Interest rates will remain high throughout 2023;
- Retail sales will continue to experience unusually higher costs because of inflation, rising interest rates, and worsening supply chain problems, etc.
- The labor market will face greater pressures as inflation continues and recession looms. I fear unemployment significant growth during the months ahead; and
- As a result of the above, household savings may be depleted at accelerating rates.

These conditions will place much heavier burdens on each of us, most especially our residents with limited, if any, discretionary spending capabilities because of rising costs of housing (especially mortgage rates), food, home heating resulting in depleted discretionary spending/ savings.

Because of these and other challenges, such as the NY State-mandated 2% tax levy cap for 2023, I prepared a conservative budget that keeps the 2023 tax rate basically flat year-to-year (in the Tentative Budget there is a very small decrease in the Village/Tons tax rates per $1k of assessed property value).

But, because assessed home values increased in 2022 (in part due to COVID-inflated 2021 property values), actual tax payments may increase for many in 2023. Because of this likely increase for many, I have tried to keep 2023 tax rates flat.

The 2023 Tentative Budget is based on a number of considerations, including:

- Limited Town departmental capital expenditures. We will discuss capital projects during a special Board meeting on Saturday, November 5th from 10 a.m. to noon at Town Hall. We may not be able to incur any significant capital expenses in 2023.
- A sharp decrease in mortgage tax revenues over 2021 and 2022 levels.
- I projected sales tax revenues to be higher than the minimum-guarantee level built into our 2022 budget. But I believe that sales tax revenue projections may be too high and, therefore, they may need to be reduced.
- Fully maxing out the 2% tax levy cap.
- No growth in Parkland Trust funds which have been used historically for improvements to our Town parks and park facilities. A limited drawdown may be required.
- Significant growth in costs for medical coverage, insurance and pensions for

Supervisor Richard Thurston

Town employees because of inflationary pressures.

- Growth in employee compensation at a level below the projected 2023 COLA.
- A $750,000 drawdown of the Town’s B Fund. Since we maintain a healthy B Fund, the drawdown will not weaken that fund balance. However, we cannot continue significant drawdowns of any fund balance in future years. If the Town Board were to reduce this drawdown without similar increases in revenues or operational cost reductions, then the tax levy rate may need to increase.
- No material revenue growth is projected for our principal operating fund – the A Fund. There is no drawdown of the A Fund-fund balance.
- No change in Highway DB Fund revenues and no drawdown of the DB Fund-fund balance. However, major winter storms may require some unplanned drawdown.
- No contingency funds reserved for any significant unanticipated costs.
- No use of the Federal ARPA-Covid funds beyond Sewer and Water infrastructure costs.
- No anticipated cost increases other than inflationary ones for our ambulance and police services. However, we may need to make upward adjustments.

While keeping tax rate growth down, below other neighboring communities, the most critical responsibility of our Town Board will be to ensure that we can provide continued services that meet local needs for the welfare, safety and security of our residents and businesses. All-the-while, the Board will continue to focus on a fair, open, and responsive budget that incorporates greater efficiencies and cost-effective programs.

During the remaining budget meetings/public hearing, the 4 other Town Board members will review my Tentative Budget and will likely make a number of adjustments as in past years.

Please do not hesitate to raise any questions or concerns to us.

Until soon, please stay safe and remain well.

Gala celebrates decade of I Am Beacon

By Kristine Coulter

Members of I Am Beacon, a nonprofit, celebrated its 10th anniversary at a gala recently. The gala took place at

“In 2011, I began a campaign to improve relations between city workers and the public. Through this effort, I uncovered a greater need to empower everyday citizens to get involved in addressing issues impacting our community. With the dedication of a small group of people who shared the same passion and love for our city, in 2012, I Am Beacon transformed into a formal 501(c)(3) non-profit organization,” said Reuben Simmons, founder of I Am Beacon.

Asked what has been the greatest accomplishment, in your opinion, in the past 10 years? Reuben replied, “When I think about the greatest accomplishment, it always comes back to the people! From the very beginning until now, the response of the community has made the difference! Everything we do has been a truly collaborative effort between organizations, businesses, leaders, and everyday citizens including our youth – I am proud to say that collectively, we have executed more than 50 community-wide events, provided 327 turkeys for families in need, distributed 800+ school supply kits, and awarded more than $30,000 in college scholarships to Beacon youth.”

Reuben said he proud to state that I Am Beacon’s entire board has been with the organization for the decade. There are volunteers who also have been with I Am Beacon for 10 years.

Brooke Simmons, with I Am Beacon, said about the next 10 years, “A critical next step for I Am Beacon is to establish a home to grow our programs, impact and reach.”

According to Brooke, “This dedicated space will not only provide our organization with a consistent location in which to record our podcast, host meetings, run programs, as well as house, store, and distribute the many supplies and donations we collect for our events— it will also serve as a hub and center for the entire Beacon community.”

I Am Beacon cofounder Reuben Simmons (center) congratulates Junior Dabashi (left) and Randy Casale, former City of Beacon mayor. The Dabashi family received the Yvonne McNair Award and Casale was presented with the Leadership Award.

County opens Housing Creation and Preservation Program process

The Dutchess County Department of Planning and Development last week opened its application process for the Housing Creation and Preservation (HCP) Program, an integral part of the newly established Dutchess County Housing Trust Fund (HTF), established to provide financial support for the creation of affordable housing distributed throughout the county.

Both private for-profit and non-profit developers are eligible to apply for funding through a competitive application process, with approximately $9 million available. Applications will be accepted via an online portal through Nov. 30th at 4 p.m.

This application round covers two eligible activities within the HCP Program:

- Housing Creation: The creation of new affordable rental housing via new construction, rehabilitation of existing housing stock, and adaptive reuse of non-residential structures. Funded projects may be fully affordable or mixed-income; single-room occupancy rental housing is eligible under this category.

- Housing Preservation: Acquisition and/or rehabilitation of occupied, naturally-occurring affordable rental housing with income-eligible tenants to secure long-term affordability with applicable compliance periods.

Developments awarded HCP funds may also receive additional funding from other sources, including private financing / bank loans. Developments where other funding is committed will receive a higher priority. Tax credits and HCP funds may be used together.

The Dutchess County Housing Trust Fund requires that a minimum of 80% of a project’s funding through the Housing Trust Fund be targeted to households with incomes up to 60% of the Area Median Income (AMI) for Dutchess County. The remainder of a project’s funding may support units targeted to households with incomes up to 80% the County’s AMI.

Once eligibility is determined, applications are reviewed jointly by Department of Planning and Development staff and the Dutchess County Housing Trust Fund’s Project Review Committee (PRC), with a particular focus on project underwriting and overall compliance with program parameters.

The creation of the HTF is an outgrowth of the 2022 Dutchess County Housing Needs Assessment, released in April. Recognizing both the importance of safe, affordable housing and the challenges that many of our residents continue to face with regard to housing, Dutchess County has moved swiftly to set up the Housing Trust Fund and launch this first round of funding.

County Executive Marc Molinaro said

“Countless communities throughout the nation, including Dutchess County, have faced housing availability and affordability challenges for a number of years. We know housing costs are outpacing incomes, and rental housing vacancy rates have been the lowest we’ve seen in over 40 years. In addition, the COVID-19 pandemic likely put additional strain on our market. We encourage developers looking to create affordable housing to apply for the Housing Creation and Preservation Program and help Dutchess County change local families’ lives.”

The HTF will provide a flexible and nimble funding source to aid in the implementation of a variety of affordable housing efforts throughout the County. The minimum amount of subsidy under the HCP is $10,000 per unit, and the maximum is $175,000 per unit.

Rental housing located in any Dutchess County municipality is eligible, but priority will be given to:

- Housing that helps a municipality meet its portion of the minimum recommended countywide Fair Share Distribution, outlined in the 2022 Dutchess County Housing Needs Assessment;
- Housing in communities or neighborhoods with limited affordable opportunities;
- Housing which is located in established or emerging town/village centers, along transit routes, and/or near employment and services including educational, recreational, health and municipal; and
- Housing that promotes greater choice of housing opportunities.

More detailed information on HCP priorities, requirements, regulations and guidance, is available in the program’s 2022 Policies and Procedures.

‘Thriving in Rhinebeck’ set for Oct. 22

Thriving in Rhinebeck: a Showcase of Services and Resources for Older Adults returns on Saturday, October 22, from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at the Rhinebeck High School, 45 North Park Rd. “Our target audience is Rhinebeck and our neighboring communities – not just older adults, but their families, their caregivers, and others who will at some point really need to know how and where to reach out,” said Nina Lynch, President of Rhinebeck at Home and a member of the organizing team. “We are trying to help build an age-friendly, resourceful community. Our 2019 event was widely praised, and we’re happy to be back.”

Featured speaker Dr. Peter Grant Jordan, President of Dutchess Community College, will talk in the auditorium about how DCC is gearing up to strengthen opportunities for learning across generations – from a college for kids (k-8), dual-credit high school programs, associate degree and certificate offerings, to adult workforce education, corporate training solutions, and senior education. The Alzheimer’s Association will encourage us all in “How to Think about Alzheimer’s”, and Hudson Valley Hospice will explain how their programs and services have changed and expanded.

Approximately 40 exhibitors will participate, including healthcare and in-home care services, adult day care programs, transportation options, food delivery and nutrition help, guidance on downsizing. Rhinebeck High School students from the Interact Club will be on hand to greet attendees and help them navigate the school spaces. With Medicare’s annual “open enrollment” season starting November 1, participants can be in the know with assistance from the Dutchess County Office for Aging’s staff; and attendees can also get OFA guidance on improving their balance and preventing falls. Nuvance Health’s Roufia Payman will talk about nutrition, and educational and advocacy groups will show what’s on our November ballots.

Participation is free for all. Informational tables will fill the lobby and gym of Rhinebeck High School. Printed programs for attendees with the names of all participating organizations will be available. In addition to Rhinebeck at Home, the organizing team includes Archcare at Ferncliff, Rhinebeck Central School District, and Rhinebeck Rotary Club.

For more information, please call Rhinebeck at Home at 845-379-1114 or email office@rhinebeckathome.org.

Shoe collection to fund DeKinder School

The First Reformed Church offFishkill is planning a drive-by drop-off event to collect gently used or new shoes (including boots, sneakers, sandals, flip-flops, Crocs, golf shoes and slippers). The shoe drive will help support DeKinder School, a 40-year-old non-sectarian preschool program, as well as individuals in developing nations like Haiti, Ghana, and Cambodia, where micro-entrepreneurs will resell the shoes to support their families.

All one needs to do is collect shoes, bag them and bring them to the parking lot of the Fishkill Food Pantry (on the corner of Main St. and Route 9) on October 30th, between noon and 3 p.m. Open the trunk, and volunteers will get the shoes.

The Shoe Drive ends on Nov.16th. If one cannot make it to the drive-thru, bring the donations to the DuBois House (next to the Food Pantry) and drop them in the box on the back porch anytime.

The shoes that we collect will be kept from landfills, help our preschool, and will help others in developing countries...as well as cleaning out one’s closets.

DBCH to host Monkeypox Vaccine Clinic Oct. 25 in East Fishkill

The Dutchess County Department of Behavioral & Community Health (DBCH) will be hosting an upcoming JYNNEOS/Monkeypox vaccine clinics for residents at the highest risk of monkeypox infection. Education, outreach and vaccinations have helped keep the number of reported monkeypox cases in Dutchess County very low, with no new cases reported since August 24th and no current active cases. An earlier clinic was held on Oct. 17th.

- October 25th from 1 to 4 p.m.
Sloop Brewery
755 East Dr., Suite 106
East Fishkill

Residents must meet current eligibility criteria set by New York State to register for an appointment. According to the NYSDOH, those eligible for monkeypox vaccine at this clinic include:

- Individuals with recent monkeypox exposure to a suspected or confirmed case of monkeypox in the past 14 days.
- Those at high risk of recent exposure to monkeypox, including members of the gay, bisexual, transgender, and gender non-conforming community and other communities of men who have sex with men and who have engaged in intimate or skin-to-skin contact with others in the past 14 days in areas where monkeypox is spreading.

- Individuals who have had skin-to-skin contact with someone in a social network experiencing monkeypox activity, including men who have sex with men who meet partners through an online website, digital app, or social event, such as a bar or party.
- Any individual that may be at risk of future exposure to infection with monkeypox, even though they are not at high risk of recent exposure to monkeypox.

The JYNNEOS monkeypox vaccine is given in a two-dose series, 28-35 days apart. Individuals are considered to be fully vaccinated two weeks after the second dose of vaccine.

DBCH Commissioner Dr. Livia Santiago-Rosado said, “When monkeypox cases were initially being reported, our public health team got right to work educating the public about monkeypox and offering vaccinations to those at the highest risk. Thankfully those efforts have been successful as there no active cases in our community. We encourage everyone, particularly those in high-risk populations, to be mindful about monkeypox and consider vaccination if eligible.”

The first case of monkeypox in Dutchess County was reported on July 21st. There have been a total of 10 cases, including the initial case, reported in Dutchess County, with no new reported cases since August 24th. DBCH Public Health Advisors worked in conjunction with local organizations and businesses, including Dutchess Pride, Sun River Health, Sloop Brewery in East Fishkill and the Roosevelt Bar in Beacon, on community outreach to inform and educate the public about Monkeypox and how to avoid spread. Several vaccination clinics have been held for eligible residents and to date more than 209 individuals have been vaccinated.

Monkeypox virus is part of the same family of viruses as variola virus, the virus that causes smallpox and is spread through close, physical contact between people and anyone can get it. However, based on the epidemiology, certain populations are being affected more than others, including men who have sex with men (MSM). The virus spreads through contact with an infected person’s rash, or potentially through respiratory droplets from prolonged face to face contact. The virus may also spread through contact with objects that were used by an infected person (clothing, bedding or towels). Children aged 8 or under, and pregnant or immunocompromised individuals have a higher risk of severe illness or complications, but these are rare.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends residents take the following steps to prevent getting monkeypox:

- Do not touch the rash or scabs of a person with monkeypox;
- Avoid close, skin-to-skin contact with people with a rash that looks like monkeypox, or who may have been exposed to monkeypox;
- Do not kiss, hug, cuddle or have sex with someone with monkeypox or someone suspected or known to have been exposed;
- Do not share eating utensils or cups with a person with monkeypox or someone suspected or known to have been exposed;
- Do not handle or touch the bedding, towels or clothing of a person with monkeypox or of someone suspected or known to have been exposed; and
- Wash your hands often with soap and water or use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer.

A person is considered contagious until all lesions have healed over with intact skin. The CDC advises those sick with monkeypox to isolate at home and stay in separate from others and pets, when possible.

Residents can call DBCH staff for education and guidance on Monkeypox at 845-486-3404. For more information on Monkeypox or to fill out the Monkeypox vaccine questionnaire visit dutchessny.gov/Departments/DBCH/emergent-health.htm.

Hear about the ‘Mothball Fleet’ during historical society presentation Oct. 27

The Wappingers Historical Society (WHS) will host a talk entitled “Mothball Fleet on the Hudson,” presented by local historian and author Anthony Musso. Musso will discuss the purpose and fate of the fabled “mothball fleet,” which many locals referred to as “the ghost ships” which were anchored in the Hudson River from 1946-1971.

In 1946, the National Naval Defense Reserve Fleet was established and eight sites around the nation were selected to store ships from World War II, and keep them ready for action in the event of a national emergency. One of the locations chosen was the Hudson River. Hudson River Defense Reserve Fleet (also known as the Mothball Fleet) remained active at Jones Point, just south of the Bear Mountain Bridge, from 1946 through 1971.

At its peak, 189 vessels were anchored there, side-by-side in neatly arranged rows that spanned the river for several miles south. Attendees will learn about the origins of this fleet and what became of it.

Musso’s presentation will take place on October 27th at 7 p.m. at the Town of Wappinger Town Hall, 20 Middlebush Road, Wappingers Falls. The presentation will begin immediately following a brief WHS business update. Wappingers Historical Society members and the general public are invited to attend. Light refreshments will be provided. Suggested donation of $5 for non-WHS members.

Masten Feed Store in Pleasant Valley closes

It's been an eventful time.

Pam recalls that when they first opened up, she was almost alone in the store six days a week as her late husband, Don, was still working at his day job. "Men would come in to get something and ask if my husband or one of the men was around. I grew up on a farm, so I knew about all of the products, but some of them weren't quite ready to trust a petite woman."

"We used to have some fun with that," Matt recalled. "One of these guys would come in and dad would be there. He'd say 'I'm not sure'. . . and then ask Mom for the answer. After awhile, these folks came to understand that she knew a lot more than they ever expected. In fact, when we went into pet foods, she did all the research, so when somebody would come in and ask what they should give their pet - dog, cat, rabbit, gerbil, anything - she always knew what to tell them because she made sure she had the best things available and studied them to be certain. Nothing got in here unless she knew it was the best."

After 41 years of greeting the public six days a week with her infectious smile and all-but-encyclopedic knowledge of local agriculture, Pam is starting to think about what comes next.

"My daughter and I are going to visit our Amish friends in Pennsylvania, first," she said. "Then maybe I'll help out at the food pantry or the library. I want to keep seeing people as much as I can." She remarks that some of her female friends are promising regular luncheon gatherings as well.

Talking about their lifetime's experiences at the feed store, Pam and Matt recall people and events with a warm tone.

"The people were the most important part," said Pam. "We have had several generations of the same families coming in. A mom would bring in one of the little ones when she came in and now that little one is bringing in his or her own little ones. I've loved watching that."

"We've had a lot of memorable times and regular events that we always enjoyed," said Matt. "The 'flea dip' was kind of an annual thing. We'd put out a kiddie pool filled with the dip and folks would bring down their dogs. They'd stick 'em in the pool and then we'd hose them down and wipe them with towels. It was such a production that Donnie Traver and a couple of folks from the "River Bank Banjo Band" would come down to play for the afternoon. They called themselves the "Flea Dippers Band."

One year a guy showed up at the fire hall up the street driving a real covered Connestoga Wagon. As Matt recounts the tale, "It must have been in the mid-'90s. He said he was going from Maine to California. He was carrying his food and stuff along with some chickens and rabbits. The fire guys told him he could find food for the horses and for the other livestock down here. That was the only time we had a Connestoga Wagon parked out front. I always wondered if he made it to California."

Another favorite annual event has been the Photos with Santa Paws. Customers brought in their pets or maybe other livestock for a photo with Santa. "People always looked forward to this one," said Matt. "We will be working with the Salt Point Fire Company to continue the tradition."

Likely the biggest annual event the store supported all of these years has been the Dutchess County Fair. Matt notes that his mom began at the Fair when she was 8 years old. "I showed a Hereford cow," Pam recalled, "It might have been one of Cal Smith's cows." Then there was the year she showed up competing at the same time as FDR, Jr. Pam appears to have won that one, too.

The Cady family is well known throughout the county for their commitment to community service, whether through the volunteer fire departments, Trees for Troops - the Christmas trees for service military service personnel program and other veterans related projects. They've also made sure their business was giving back, too.

"I'm a fire investigator for the county," said Matt. "I wanted to do some more, though. So, we've provided the food to feed the sheriff's departments fire investigative K9s." In recalling that service, Cady recites the names of each of the dogs with a warm smile. "Great dogs," he said.

The Cady family of Pleasant Valley thanks residents for their support for 41 years, Below, Pam Cady works behind the counter. Bottom, in a historic photo, a resident known only as Mr. Sutherland visited the store with his horse-drawn carriage.

For the Cady family, the Feed Business has always been less about commerce than it has been about the people involved. "I can't tell you how many 4-H Clubs have come in here, or the kids we've encouraged and helped" said Matt. "Some of them even came to work for us. That was another way they learned and grew."

"It's the people I'll miss the most," said Pam. She and Matt finished their announcement with a thanks to the community. "We want to thank you for your continued support and loyalty over the years. We would not have been in business for as long as we have without that support. It has meant the world to us to have been chosen by you to take care of your most precious pets and animals over the years. Thank you."

They mean it most sincerely and the community spent much of the past week coming through their door to return that thanks with sincerity.

An era in Pleasant Valley has come to a close.

Joseph O. Celtruda

EAST FISHKILL - Joseph O. Celtruda (82), a longtime resident of Hopewell Junction NY, passed away peacefully on October 10th, with his sons at his side. Joe, fondly known as Papa to his grandchildren, was born January 30, 1940 in Ossining, NY the son of Joseph and Julia Celtruda. Joe received his bachelor’s degree from Clarkson University in Electrical Engineering on a ROTC scholarship and started his 32-year career with IBM in 1961, while also serving 11 years of active and reserve service as a Captain in the U.S. Army Signal Corps. While at IBM, Joe was a leader in advanced processor design for mainframe computing and was directly involved with major IBM product developments, as well as authoring two U.S. patents and multiple technical publications. Joe had many hobbies and interests in retirement, including: wine making, golfing, gardening, grilling, using his ingenuity and craftsmanship to solve a myriad of projects around the house. Most of all, he enjoyed spending time with his family and friends, especially his grandchildren. In his later years, much time was spent in his battle with cancer and caring for his wife, yet throughout he always maintained his infectious smile and optimistic attitude. Joe was predeceased by his parents Joseph and Julia Celtruda and by his sister Joan Gaeta. He is survived by his loving wife of 52 years Catherine Celtruda (Graf); his sister Mary Ellen Tanaka of Venice, FL; his sons Joseph (Patricia) Celtruda of Mechanicville, NY; and Michael (Desiree) Celtruda of Brookline, MA; and by his 5 grandchildren: Joseph, Nicholas, Matthew, Rafael, and Bianca, as well as many nieces and nephews. Calling hours were held on Sunday, October 16 at the McHoul Funeral Home, Inc., 895 Route 82, Hopewell Junction. A Mass of Christian Burial was offered on Monday, October 17 at St. Denis Church, 602 Beekman Road, Hopewell Junction, followed by internment at St. Denis Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made in Joe’s memory to the American Cancer Society. Please visit his Book of Memories at www.mchoulfuneralhome.com.

Walkway, Serino to host event for Breast Cancer Awareness Day

In recognition of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, Sen. Sue Serino is teaming up with the Walkway Over the Hudson to host a free Breast Cancer Awareness Day where residents will have the opportunity to connect directly with local community organizations who offer breast cancer related resources and services. This event will be held on Saturday, Oct. 22, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the Highland side of the Walkway Over the Hudson (87 Haviland Road, Highland).

Representatives from the following organizations will be in attendance:

- American Cancer Society Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Hudson Valley
 - HealthAlliance, a member of WMC Health
 - MidHudson Regional Hospital, a member of WMC Health
 - Miles of Hope Breast Cancer Foundation
 - New York State Cancer Services Program Sparrow’s Nest of the Hudson Valley
 - The Dyson Breast Center at Vassar Brothers Medical Center, part of the NuVance Health Cancer Institute
- Serino said, “Our community is home to so many great resources and organizations that are doing all that they can to empower our neighbors to be proactive when it comes to their breast health, and this Breast Cancer Awareness Month, I am thrilled to be able to partner with the Walkway Over the Hudson to bring them together in one place. As a breast cancer survivor myself, I know that early detection can make all the difference and save lives, which is why I want to ensure that our neighbors have the tools they need to put their health first and get screened regularly. I cannot thank our partners enough for working with us to make this happen, and I look forward to seeing our neighbors there!”

Diane Haight, Interim Executive Director of the Walkway Over the Hudson said, “We are looking forward to partnering with Senator Serino again this year for Breast Cancer Awareness Month. With over 10,000 visitors a day to the Walkway, the important information distributed at this outreach will connect with a wide audience.”

This event is free and open to the public, and an RSVP is not required. For more information, call Serino’s Hyde Park Office at 845-229-0106 or email serino@nysenate.gov.

Free Rabies Clinic at DCSPCA set for Oct. 23 in Hyde Park

The Dutchess County Department of Behavioral & Community Health (DBCH) is partnering with the Dutchess County SPCA to host a free rabies vaccination clinic for dogs, cats, and domestic ferrets three months of age and older on October 23, at the Dutchess County SPCA located at 636 Violet Ave in Hyde Park from 8 a.m. to noon. Pre-registration is required, and residents can register at DCSPCA.org or by calling the DCSPCA at 845-452-7722 extension 425.

There is no charge for Dutchess County residents; non-residents will be charged a fee of $10 per pet vaccinated. All dogs must be on leash and cats and domestic ferrets must be in carriers. Vaccinations will be good for three years for pets with proper proof of prior immunization. For those without proof, the vaccination will be good for one year.

In New York State, rabies shots are required for all cats, dogs, and domestic ferrets by the age of four months. Revaccination is then required on a regular schedule to keep the animal properly immunized against the rabies virus. Owners can be fined up to $200 if they fail to get their pets vaccinated and keep them up to date.

DBCH Commissioner Dr. Santiago-Rosado reminds pet owners of the importance of vaccinating all dogs, cats, and ferrets, even if they are considered “house pets” and remain indoors. If an animal has not had a rabies vaccine or is not up to date on the rabies vaccine and interacts with a rabid or suspect-rabid animal, the pet must be either promptly euthanized or placed in quarantine for six months to protect other animals and people in case the pet develops rabies. These mandates do not apply for a vaccinated pet in the same situation. In such cases, only a booster dose of rabies vaccine would be given within five days to treat the pet.

DBCH is available 24/7 to assist with any questions or concerns regarding potential rabies exposure to people or domestic animals. Pet owners should report to DCBH any incident in which their pet has been bitten by or has an open wound exposed to the saliva or nervous tissue of a domestic or wild animal. Staff will investigate and advise the pet owner of any necessary steps they should take to ensure the safety of their animal.

Residents who see an animal acting strangely are advised to contact their local police agency. If a person has been bitten, or a domestic pet is bitten or is in contact, with any animal, they’re to contact DBCH immediately at 845-486-3404 Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., or 845-431-6465 on nights and weekends.

To learn more about rabies please visit our Rabies and Other Zoonotics page or contact DCBH at HealthInfo@dutchessny.gov.

HISTORIC RED HOOK

CEMETERY CRAWL

SEPT. 17 - OCT. 30, 2022

Cemetery tours, crawls highlight county history

By Will Tatum

While it seems like we are receiving all of our overdue summer rain at one time, the changing leaves signal that fall has once again returned to the Hudson Valley.

Amidst harvest festivals, apple picking and corn mazes, a bevy of local history bounty is up for offer as historical societies roll out their customary annual events. There is a special slate of programming on offer this month for the spooky season: Cemetery tours.

Dutchess County now offers residents an expansive menu of options for all tastes, ranging from self-guided scavenger hunts in burial grounds to fully costumed dramatic interpretations. Ranging in location from Hyde Park to Pine Plains, connoisseurs of the county's buried past have a month's worth of opportunities to explore the personages of Dutchess past.

Historic Red Hook, the rookie on the list, returns for a second year of the Cemetery Crawl. Introduced in October 2021, this program combines self-guided tours of five local burial grounds with a scavenger hunt to encourage locals and visitors alike to probe the stories behind the tombstones.

For those with a competitive spirit, the scavenger hunt sheets (available online from historicredhook.org/cemetery crawl and in-person at the Elmendorph Inn) present a series of clues and questions that challenge participants to find key data recorded on monuments in each cemetery. Scavenger hunt sheets are due on Friday, October 21. On October 30 at 1 p.m., contestants are invited to gather at the Elmendorph Inn for an awards event. For individuals and groups more interested in stories of the past, the program presents biographies of 59 individuals, ranging from Civil War generals to local bootleggers and arsonists. Read their biographies and check out their monuments while enjoying the splendid fall weather.

For people who prefer graveyard drama, there are three programs featuring costumed interpretation. The Pine Plains crew returns this year to Evergreen Cemetery on the north side of the town center, on Main Street, to explore a cast of real-life rural Dutchess characters.

Attendees will hear documented information, delivered in first person, from the lives of Isabel Knickerbocker Jordan, a 1930s nurse in northern Dutchess; French Chef Charles Virion; Isaac Phineas Situated directly behind St. James Church is the burial monument for Morgan Lewis. The founder of Staatsburgh, a one-time New York Governor, and a local grandee, Lewis was also a veteran of the Revolutionary War. Lewis befriended Captain Isaac Russell during the war, who later relocated to Hyde Park and is buried adjacent to Lewis. Learn more about Russell at the St. James Graveyard Tour.

1812. The current chapel played host to the Roosevelts and their many influential guests, including European monarchs. Predictably, the cemetery features an equally illustrious, sometimes controversial, assembly of patrons. This year's characters include Captain Isaac Russell, a Revolutionary War veteran with close links to local notable Morgan Lewis (founder of Staatsburgh); Adelaid Roddy, an early 20th century theologian who died an untimely death; and Anna Roosevelt Halsted, FDR and ER's daughter and Kennedy presidential advisor. Tours run on October 15, 21 and 22 and last approximately an hour, rain or shine. Tickets and additional information are available online at stjameshydepark.org/graveyard-tours/ and stjamesgraveyardtours2022.eventbrite.com.

Focusing on authentic local experiences, these four cemetery programs offer something for every historical taste. Whether you are in the area to admire the leaves and gather some apples, or are a long-term resident looking to learn more about local history, you need to look no further. History is alive and hands-on in Dutchess County during the Spooky Season, thanks to our dedicated custodians of the local past.

William P. Tatum III has served as the Dutchess County Historian since 2012.

In case I need it

Luigi explains why he keeps certain items in his truck.

I remember when my son Marcanthony first started to drive to high school. My pickup truck was for work and gardening. Plants, shrubs, and gardening supplies for home; supplies, produce and plowing for work. As such, I kept certain things in the truck to help me with both. For the restaurant, I always kept a knife in the glove box as well as box of latex gloves and a rubber apron. For gardening, I always kept a machete and a shovel in the back of the truck, you know, in case “I need it.”

The kids in the neighborhood would see the machete and the shovel and ask my sons Marcanthony and Claudio why their father would have those in the back of the truck. Their answer was my answer: “In case we need it.”

The next-door neighbor would ask why I had a machete and a shovel in the back of the truck, and my answer was “In case I need it.”

My wife Lisa’s relatives would see the machete and shovel in the back of the truck and would ask why I kept them in the back of the truck and my answer was always “In case I need it.”

I would be at the grocery store and people would see the shovel and machete in the back of the truck and they would ask why I kept them in the back of the truck and my answer was always “In case I need it.”

One day Marcanthony drove my pick-up to school and our town police officer looked in the back of the truck and saw the machete and the shovel. He asked Marcanthony why there was a shovel and machete in the back of the truck and he answered, “In case I need it.”

So, officer Robert Benson called me at the restaurant and asked if I knew that there was a machete and a shovel in the back of the truck. I said yes, of course. He then asked me why I had the machete and the shovel in the back of the truck. And I said, “In case I need it.”

Now, I have known Bobby for years. He is a friend, and he has watched my children grow up. He knows how I am and he knows I do a lot of gardening. He knows I’m always trimming trees and always working. He then asked me if there is anything else in the truck. I said yeah sure there is a knife in the glove box with latex gloves and a rubber apron. He said why do I keep those things in the truck. And I answered ... “In case I need it.”

I could hear him slapping his forehead. After a long pause, he told me I had to take them out of the truck. I said why? He said machete, shovel and knife on school grounds was not allowed. I remember being a little confused until it hit me.

All the kids, the neighbors, strangers, Lisa’s relatives, all the times I was asked why I had a shovel and a machete. All the looks of horror when I answered, “In case I need them.” It all hit me and I immediately understood it all.

I apologized and said I would take them out as soon as Marcanthony got home. Bobby laughed because he knew that the thought of using my tools for anything other than I had intended them. You know, “In case I need them.”

Grilled Eggplant Parmagiana

Ingredients

- 1 large eggplant peeled and sliced lengthwise approximately 1/4-inch thick
- 1 jar Coppola’s Roasted Garlic sauce
- 4 plumb tomatoes sliced
- Extra-virgin olive oil, for brushing
- Salt
- 6 ounces Mozzarella cheese, thinly sliced
- Crusty bread, for serving

Method:

- Preheat the oven to 450 degrees and heat a grill pan.
- Brush the eggplant and tomato slices with olive oil and season lightly with salt. Grill the eggplant until softened and lightly charred, about 4 minutes.
- Grill the tomatoes, turning once, until lightly charred but still intact, about 2 minutes.
- Lay the eggplant on the bottom of a pan. Add a thin layer of sauce then another layer of eggplant, then a layer of grilled tomatoes and finally a layer of mozzarella.
- Bake in the center of the oven for about 15 minutes, until bubbling and golden. Let stand for 10 minutes. Serve with crusty bread.

Luigi Coppola is one of five brothers born to Francesca and Antonio Coppola. The Coppola family came to America from Naples, Italy in 1954. Antonio and his brothers opened their first restaurant in Poughkeepsie in 1961. Luigi and his brothers Nick, John, Antonio and Vincent have carried on the family tradition in the way their parents taught them, using classic recipes taught to them at their apron strings. Walk to raise funds for Huntington’s Disease at Walkway Over the Hudson Oct. 23

The Huntington’s Disease Society of America’s (HDSA) Northeast Region will be hosting the Hudson Valley Team Hope Walk on October 23rd at 10 a.m. at Walkway Over the Hudson, 61 Parker Ave., in Poughkeepsie.

Team Hope is HDSA’s largest national grassroots fundraising event, which takes place in more than 100 cities across the U.S. and has raised more than $20 million for Huntington’s disease since its inception in 2007. Thousands of families, friends, co-workers, neighbors, and communities walk together each year to support HDSA’s mission to improve the lives of people affected by Huntington’s disease and their families.

Huntington’s disease is a fatal genetic disease that affects the nerve cells in the brain that is described as having ALS, Parkinson’s, and Alzheimer’s disease all at once. Today, there are approximately 41,000 symptomatic Americans and more than 200,000 at risk of inheriting the disease.

For more information, visit <https://northeast.hdsa.org/events/hudson-valley-team-hope-walk>.

‘All the Lonely People’ to be shown October 21

Dutchess County Office for the Aging is taking part in a special free screening of the new documentary “All the Lonely People” at Boardman Road Library, 141 Boardman Road in Poughkeepsie, on Oct. 21, at 1 p.m. Register in advance by contacting OFA during business hours at 845-486-2555.

“All The Lonely People” tells the stories of a handful of people from many different walks of life, offering intimate access to their struggles to overcome their own loneliness and isolation. Where are the sources of connection that can fight isolation and loneliness? Being involved in the community, through volunteering, physical activities, or connection through seniors’ houses of worship.

It’s part of a statewide screening tour organized by the New York State Office for the Aging (NYSOFA), and the Association on Aging in New York (AgingNY).

Opening reception at The Lofts in Beacon Oct. 23

Dolly Faibyshev is an American artist with a love for color, composition, and the human condition. She has photographed a wide range of subjects, from the primped and prodded models of New York Fashion Week to the overly groomed animals at the Dog Show, from Dolly Parton impersonators to the muscle-bound performers of Wrestlemania, from the 1950s time capsule of Palm Springs to the faux iconic people and structures of Las Vegas. An opening reception with the artist will be held on October 23rd, 3- 5 p.m. at The Lofts at Beacon Gallery, 18 Front St., Beacon. Born to Russian immigrants, the vicarious fantasy of America became ingrained in Faibyshev from an early age until she learned to define those experiences in pictures. She is a New York City based self-taught photographer exploring the meaning of the American Dream in all of its forms. For more information, call 845-202-7211.

Historical society to hold talk Oct. 25

Pianist, composer to perform Oct. 23 in Beacon

The Beacon Historical Society will hold a talk with its past president, Denise VanBuren, on October 25 at the Howland Cultural Center on Main St. in Beacon. She will discuss the Centennial of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

The Beacon Historical Society will hold its October history talk with Beacon Historical Society Past President Denise VanBuren as she discusses the Centennial of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier and her journey across France (as President General of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution) to recreate the 1921 events that resulted in the dedication of the Tomb at Arlington National Cemetery. You may be surprised to learn two Beacon connections to this memorial that honors our nation's unknown war dead.

The lecture will be presented at the Howland Cultural Center, 477 Main Street on October 25 at 7 p.m. This program will be recorded and live streamed.
For more information and the link to the Zoom presentation, visit www.beaconhistorical.org/events or email at beaconhistorical@gmail.com.

On October 23 continuing its Fall season, the Howland Chamber Music Circle will present longtime collaborators violinist Lara St. John and pianist/composer Martin Kennedy. The Canadian-born Lara St. John has been described as "something of a phenomenon" by The Strad and a "high-powered soloist" by the New York Times.
The concert will take place on Sunday, October 23, at 4 p.m., at the Howland Cultural Center, 477 Main Street, Beacon. For further information on this and other presentations by the Howland Chamber Music Circle, as well as Covid protocol please go to the Circle's website www.howlandmusic.org.
She has performed as a soloist with many major orchestras the world over as well as recitalist in New York, Boston, San Francisco, Ravinia, Wolf Trap, Washington, DC, Prague, Berlin, Toronto, Montreal and in the Forbidden City.

Her collaborator Martin Kennedy is a piano recitalist and soloist with an equally distinguished career. He is also a composer.
For their concert at the Howland Center, they have chosen to play the Violin Sonata in G Minor, L. 140 by Claude Debussy, the Sonata in A Major for Violin and Piano by Cesar Franck, the Rhapsody No.2 for Solo Violin by Jessie Montgomery, various Romanian, Klezmer, and Hungarian tunes arranged for violin and piano, and a piece by Martin Kennedy, the Czardashian Rhapsody.

Towne Crier Dance set October 20

The Towne Crier Dance Jam will be held on October 20 at 7 p.m. at the Towne Crier Caf , 379 Main St., in Beacon. Attendees may come in costumes or not, but no matter what one chooses, there will be a vibrant mix of music. Fine dining, snacks, desserts and a full cash bar will be available.

Anyone with any questions or song requests, please email title and artist to rhodaja@optonline.net or call 845-765-0667.

The heavy lines indicate areas, called cages, from one to five squares in size. Fill each cage with unique digits, counting up from 1. So for example a 2-square cage contains the numbers 1 and 2; and a 5-square cage contains the numbers from 1 to 5. Adjacent (touching) squares, even ones that touch diagonally, may never contain the same number.
